TEXT AND NOTES--Where (1) two or more of the names shown on the statement are the same or so similar as to be likely to cause confusion, (2) the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(3A) applies in relation to each of the persons in question, and (3) the information mentioned in Sch 1 r 6(5)(b) (see PARA 263) is the same for each of them, the returning officer may cause any of their particulars to be shown on the statement with such amendments or additions as the officer thinks appropriate in order to reduce the likelihood of confusion: Sch 1 r 14(4A) (Sch 1 r 14(4A)-(4E) added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 24(6)). Where it is practicable to do so before the publication of the statement, the returning officer must consult any person whose particulars are to be amended or added to under Sch 1 r 14(4A): Sch 1 r 14(4B). The returning officer must give notice in writing to any person whose particulars are amended or added to under Sch 1 r 14(4A): Sch 1 r 14(4C). Anything done by a returning officer in pursuance of Sch 1 r 14(4A) must not be questioned in any proceedings other than proceedings on an election petition: Sch 1 r 14(4D). A returning officer must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission for the purposes of Sch 1 r 14(4A): Sch 1 r 14(4E).

273. Notice of disqualification.

If a candidate, who has been duly nominated¹ and who has not withdrawn², is disqualified to be a candidate³, and an opposing candidate desires that all votes given for the disqualified candidate should be treated as having been thrown away⁴, a notice of the disqualification should be published to the voters⁵. The notice should not be ambiguous⁶.

1 As to the requirements for a candidate to be validly nominated see PARA 262 et seq ante.

2 As to withdrawal see PARA 269 ante.

3 As to disqualification from being a candidate see generally para 231 et seq ante.

4 As to votes given for a disqualified candidate which may be regarded as not given at all or thrown away see PARA 843 post.

5 Although a notice is not essential in all cases to cause votes to be thrown away (see PARA 843 post), the publication of a notice is a wise precaution to take: see R v Tewkesbury Corp (1868) LR 3 QB 629, although the actual decision in this case was doubted in Re Launceston Case, Drinkwater v Deakin (1874) LR 9 CP 626 at 643 per Brett J, and in R v Bester (reported at (1861) 3 LT 667 but without reference to R v Tewkesbury Corp supra). Such a notice is not necessary when the candidate is manifestly disqualified: Hobbs v Morey [1904] 1 KB 74 at 78, DC. If the notice is defamatory, an action will lie in respect of it: Bendish v Lindsey (1708) 11 Mod Rep 193. As to whether such publication will be privileged see PARA 335 post. The notice may be published in the newspapers, or at the entrance to the polling stations or circularised to the voters: Tipperary County Case (1875) 3 O'M & H 19 at 20.

It is not essential that the notice should be given to each individual voter. Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/A. MEANING OF 'ELECTION EXPENSES'/274. Statutory definition of 'election expenses'.

(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required

A. MEANING OF 'ELECTION EXPENSES'

274. Statutory definition of 'election expenses'.

The following provisions have effect in relation to a parliamentary election, Authority election or election under the local government Act¹.

For the purposes of the statutory provisions which govern the conduct of election campaigns², 'election expenses', in relation to a candidate³ at an election, means any expenses incurred at any time in respect of any of the following matters and used for the purposes of the candidate's election⁴ after the date when he becomes a candidate at the election⁵. Those matters are:

- 316 (1) advertising of any nature (whatever the medium used), including agency fees, design costs and other costs in connection with preparing, producing, distributing or otherwise disseminating such advertising or anything incorporating such advertising and intended to be distributed for the purpose of disseminating it⁶;
- 317 (2) unsolicited material addressed to electors (whether addressed to them by name or intended for delivery to households within any particular area), including design costs and other costs in connection with preparing, producing or distributing such material (including the cost of postage)⁷;
- 318 (3) the transport (by any means) of persons to any place, including the costs of hiring a means of transport for a particular period⁸;
- 319 (4) public meetings (of any kind), including costs incurred in connection with the attendance of persons at such meetings, the hire of premises for the purposes of such meetings or the provision of goods, services or facilities at them⁹;
- 320 (5) the services of an election agent or any other person whose services are engaged in connection with the candidate's election¹⁰;
- 321 (6) accommodation and administrative costs¹¹.

Where: (a) property or goods is or are transferred to the candidate or his election agent¹²; or (b) property, goods, services or facilities is or are provided for the use or benefit of the candidate¹³, either free of charge or at a discount of more than 10 per cent¹⁴, and the property, goods, services or facilities is or are made use of by or on behalf of the candidate in circumstances such that, if any expenses were to be (or are) actually incurred by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of that use, they would be (or are) election expenses incurred by or on behalf of the candidate¹⁵, an amount of election expenses (the 'appropriate amount') is treated, for the purposes of the statutory provisions which govern the conduct of election campaigns, as incurred by the candidate¹⁶, and the candidate's election agent must make a declaration of that amount¹⁷, unless that amount is not more than £50¹⁸. Where head (a) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the market value of the property or goods (where the property or goods is or are transferred free of charge)¹⁹ or the difference between the market value of the property or goods and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of the property or goods (where the property or goods is or are transferred at a discount)²⁰, as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property or goods²¹. Where head (b) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the commercial rate for the use of the property or the provision of the goods, services or facilities (where the property, goods, services or facilities is or are provided free of charge)²² or the difference between that commercial rate and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of the use of the property or the provision of the services or facilities (where the property, goods, services or facilities is or are provided at a discount)²³, as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property, goods, services or facilities²⁴.

However, no election expenses are to be regarded as incurred²⁵ in respect of any of the following matters²⁶:

- 322 (i) the payment of any deposit required to be made by a candidate at an election²⁷;
- 323 (ii) the publication of any matter, other than an advertisement, relating to the election in a newspaper or periodical, a broadcast made by the British Broadcasting Corporation or by Sianel Pedwar Cymru, or a programme included in any service licensed under the Broadcasting Act 1990 or the Broadcasting Act 1996²⁸;
- 324 (iii) the provision of any facilities provided in pursuance of any right conferred on candidates at an election by the Representation of the People Act 1983 other than facilities in respect of which expenses fall to be defrayed by virtue of the provisions relating to the use of schools and rooms for election meetings²⁹;
- 325 (iv) the provision by an individual of his own services which he provides voluntarily in his own time and free of charge³⁰;
- 326 (v) accommodation which is the candidate's sole or main residence³¹ or the provision by any other individual of accommodation which is his sole or main residence if the provision is made free of charge³²;
- 327 (vi) transport by a means of transport which was acquired by the candidate principally for his own personal use³³ or transport provided free of charge by any other individual if the means of transport was acquired by him principally for his own personal use³⁴;
- 328 (vii) computing or printing equipment which was acquired by the candidate principally for his own personal use³⁵ or the provision by any other individual of computing or printing equipment which was acquired by the individual principally for his own personal use if the provision is made free of charge³⁶.

The Electoral Commission³⁷ may prepare, and from time to time revise, a code of practice giving guidance as to the matters which do, or do not, fall within the matters specified either in heads (1) to (6) above or in heads (i) to (vii) above³⁸. Once the Commission has prepared a draft of such a code, it must be submitted to the Secretary of State³⁹ for his approval⁴⁰; and he may approve a draft code either without modification or with such modifications as he may determine⁴¹. The Secretary of State may also by order made by statutory instrument make such amendments to the matters specified either in heads (1) to (6) above or in heads (i) to (vii) above as he considers appropriate⁴²; and he may make such an order either where the order gives effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission⁴³ or after consultation with the Electoral Commission⁴⁴.

The following provisions do not have effect in relation to a parliamentary or applicable local government election⁴⁵ but continue to have effect in relation to other elections⁴⁶.

For the purposes of the statutory provisions which govern the conduct of election campaigns⁴⁷, 'election expenses', in relation to a candidate⁴⁸ at an election, means any expenses incurred in respect of: (A) the acquisition or use of any property⁴⁹; or (B) the provision by any person of any goods, services or facilities⁵⁰, which is or are used for the purposes of the candidate's election⁵¹ after the date when he becomes a candidate at the election⁵², regardless of whether the expenses are incurred before or after that date⁵³.

The election expenses are the actual expenses incurred in respect of the acquisition or use of the property, or (as the case may be) the provision of the goods, services or facilities mentioned in heads (A) and (B) above⁵⁴; but where the property, goods, services or facilities is or are not used exclusively for the purposes of the candidate's election, the election expenses so incurred are such proportion of the expenses incurred in respect of their acquisition, use or provision (as the case may be) as is reasonably attributable to the use of the property or (as the case may be) the goods, services or facilities for the purposes of the candidate's election⁵⁵. Where: (aa) property or goods is or are transferred to the candidate or his election agent⁵⁶; or (bb) property, goods, services or facilities is or are provided for the use or benefit of the candidate⁵⁷, either free of charge or at a discount of more than 10 per cent⁵⁸, and the property, goods, services or facilities is or are made use of by or on behalf of the candidate in circumstances such that, if any expenses were to be (or are) actually incurred by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of that use, they would be (or are) election expenses incurred by or on behalf of the candidate⁵⁹, an amount of election expenses (the 'appropriate amount') is treated, for the purposes of the statutory provisions which govern the conduct of election campaigns, as incurred by the candidate⁶⁰, and the candidate's election agent must make a declaration of that amount⁶¹, unless that amount is not more than £50⁶². Where head (aa) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the market value of the property or goods (where the property or goods is or are transferred free of charge)⁶³ or the difference between the market value of the property or goods and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of the property or goods (where the property or goods is or are transferred at a discount)⁶⁴, as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property or goods⁶⁵. Where head (bb) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the commercial rate for the use of the property or the provision of the goods, services or facilities (where the property, goods, services or facilities is or are provided free of charge)⁶⁶ or the difference between that commercial rate and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of the use of the property or the provision of the services or facilities (where the property, goods, services or facilities is or are provided at a discount)⁶⁷, as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property, goods, services or facilities⁶⁸.

However, no election expenses are to be regarded as incurred⁶⁹ in respect of the payment of any deposit required to be made by a candidate at an election⁷⁰, the publication of any matter, other than an advertisement, relating to the election in a newspaper or periodical, a broadcast made by the British Broadcasting Corporation or by Sianel Pedwar Cymru, or a programme included in any service licensed under the Broadcasting Act 1990 or the Broadcasting Act 1996⁷¹, the provision of any facilities provided in pursuance of any right conferred on candidates at an election by the relevant statutory provisions which govern the conduct of that election⁷², other than facilities in respect of which expenses fall to be defrayed by virtue of the provisions relating to the use of schools and rooms for election meetings⁷³, and the provision by any individual of his own services which he provides voluntarily in his own time and free of charge⁷⁴.

1 The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA, Sch 4A are added, and ss 90A, 90B (as added) are repealed, by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 27(1)-(5); and the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 90C-90D (as added) and s 118 are amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 117-119, 133. Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 27 or Sch 1 paras 104, 116-119 has no effect in relation to a parliamentary by-election, an election under the Local Government Act 1972 s 89 (as amended) (ie an election to fill a casual vacancy: see PARA 209 ante) or an election under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 10 (filling a vacancy in an Assembly constituency: see PARA 211 ante) or s 16 (filling a vacancy in the office of Mayor: see PARA 211 ante) where the day of the poll is on or before 3 May 2007 (or, in the case of an uncontested election, would have been had the election been contested): see the

The elections referred to in the text and notes 2-44 infra may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election or an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante). The Representation of the People Act 1983 does not apply in relation to a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or to a European parliamentary election and the provisions set out in relation to such elections (as to which see the text and notes 45-74 infra) will continue to apply to those elections until such time as the amendments contained in the Electoral Administration Act 2006 are applied for those purposes. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante; for the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante; as to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended). In Pt II (as amended), unless the context otherwise requires, 'election expenses', in relation to an election, is to be construed in accordance with s 90ZA (as added) and ss 90C-90D (as added and amended): s 118 (definition substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 138, Sch 18 paras 1, 15(a); amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 119, 133)). As to the commencement of the amendments made by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 1 supra.

3 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

In relation to any candidates at an election of London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election who are included in a list of candidates submitted by a registered political party in connection with the election, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA (as added and amended) and s 90C (as added and amended) have effect but are subject to the following modifications in their application (s 90D(1), (2) (s 90D added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 134; and the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90D(1) amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 118(1), (3))): (1) references to anything done by or on behalf of, or in relation to, a candidate at the election are to be construed as a reference to any such thing done by or on behalf of, or in relation to, all or any of the candidates on the list (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90D(2)(a) (as so added)); (2) 'for the purposes of the candidate's election', instead of having the meaning given by s 90ZA(3) (as added) (see note 4 infra), is to be construed as meaning with a view to, or otherwise in connection with promoting or procuring electoral success for the party, that is to say, the return at the election of all or any of the candidates on the list (s 90D(2)(b) (as so added; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 118(1), (4))); and (3) any reference (in whatever form) to promoting or procuring a candidate's election at an election, or to promoting or procuring electoral success for a party (see note 4 infra), includes doing so by prejudicing the electoral prospects of other candidates or parties at the election (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA(6) (as added: see note 4 infra); modified by s 90D(3) (as so added; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 118(1), (5)). As to the commencement of the amendments made by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'registered political party' for these purposes see PARA 238 note 7 ante. As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante; and as to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

4 For these purposes, 'for the purposes of the candidate's election' means with a view to, or otherwise in connection with, promoting or procuring the candidate's election at the election: (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA(3) (s 90ZA added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 27(1), (2))); and any reference (in whatever terms) to promoting or procuring a candidate's election at an election includes doing so by prejudicing the electoral prospects of another candidate at the election (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA(6) (as so added)). In relation to candidates included in a list of candidates submitted by a registered political party in connection with an election of London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election see also note 3 supra.

5 Ibid s 90ZA(1) (as added: see note 4 supra).

The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000, by making the original amendments to the Representation of the People Act 1983, replaced the previous definition of 'election expenses' and accordingly superseded the extensive case law which had interpreted the previous statutory definition. As to the previous wording and for a summary of the relevant case law which has now been superseded see R v Jones, R v Whicher [1999] 2 Cr App Rep 253, CA.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA(1), (7) (as added: see note 4 supra), Sch 4A para 1 (Sch 4A added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 27(1), (5)). As to the control of advertising relating to a pending parliamentary, European Parliamentary, Welsh Assembly or local government election see PARA 338 et seq post.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 4A para 2 (as added: see note 6 supra). As to a candidate's right to send election addresses to electors generally see PARA 335 et seq post.

8 Ibid Sch 4A para 3 (as added: see note 6 supra).

9 Ibid Sch 4A para 4 (as added: see note 6 supra). As to public meetings at elections generally see PARA 339 et seq post.

10 Ibid Sch 4A para 5 (as added: see note 6 supra). As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

11 Ibid Sch 4A para 6 (as added: see note 6 supra).

12 Ibid s 90C(1)(a)(i) (s 90C added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 134). Any reference to property or goods being transferred to a candidate or his election agent includes a reference to their being transferred either directly or indirectly through any third person: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A para 2(6)(a) (s 71A, Sch 2A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 130(1)-(4)); applied by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90C(6) (as so added).

13 Ibid s 90C(1)(a)(ii) (as added: see note 12 supra).

14 Ibid s 90C(1)(a)(i), (ii) (as added: see note 12 supra). The discount referred to in the text is a discount of more than: (1) 10% of the market value of the property or goods, in the case of head (a) in the text; or (2) 10% of the commercial rate for the use of the property or for the provision of the goods, services or facilities, in the case of head (b) in the text. For these purposes, 'market value', in relation to any property or goods, means the price which might reasonably be expected to be paid for the property or goods on a sale in the open market: s 90C(6) (as so added). Where the services of an employee are made available by his employer for the use or benefit of a candidate, then for the purposes of determining election expenses, the commercial rate for the provision of those services is the amount of the remuneration and allowances payable to the employee by his employer in respect of the period for which his services are so made available (but do not include any amount in respect of any contributions or other payments for which the employer is liable in respect of the employee): s 90C(5) (as so added).

15 Ibid s 90C(1)(b) (as added: see note 12 supra).

For these purposes, election expenses are incurred by or on behalf of a candidate at an election if they are incurred: (1) by the candidate or his election agent (s 90ZA(4)(a) (as added: see note 4 supra)); or (2) by any person authorised by the candidate or his election agent to incur the expenses (s 90ZA(4)(b) (as so added)); and any reference to election expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate at an election includes expenses which are incurred as mentioned in s 90ZA(1) (as added) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) before the date when he becomes a candidate at the election (s 90ZA(5)(a) (as so added)) but which, by virtue of s 90ZA(1) (as added), fall to be regarded as election expenses (s 90ZA(5)(b) (as so added)). In relation to candidates included in a list of candidates submitted by a registered political party in connection with an election of London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election see also note 3 supra.

In relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, s 90ZA(4) (as added) and s 90C (as added and amended) have effect as if for the references to an election agent there were substituted references to any agent of the candidate: s 90(1)(a) (amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 138(1), Sch 18 paras 1, 11(a); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 116). As to the commencement of the amendments made by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 1 supra. See further PARA 298 et seq post. As to the election of parish or community councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante.

17 Ibid s 90C(2)(b) (as added: see note 12 supra).

18 Ibid s 90C(2) (as added: see note 12 supra). This provision has effect subject to Sch 4A paras 7-13 (as added) (see the text and notes 27-36 infra): s 90C(2) (as so added; amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 117, 133). 39 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

40 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 4A para 14(2) (as added: see note 6 supra).

41 Ibid Sch 4A para 14(3) (as added: see note 6 supra). For these purposes, references to a draft code include a revised draft code: Sch 4A para 14(10) (as so added). Once the Secretary of State has approved a draft code he must lay a copy of the draft, whether in its original form or in a form which incorporates any modifications determined under Sch 4A para 14(3) (as added), before each House of Parliament: Sch 4A para 14(4) (as so added). If the draft incorporates any such modifications, the Secretary of State must at the same time lay before each House a statement of his reasons for making them: Sch 4A para 14(5) (as so added). If, within the 40-day period, either House resolves not to approve the draft, the Secretary of State must take no further steps in relation to the draft code (Sch 4A para 14(6) (as so added)); but if no such resolution is made within the 40-day period, the Secretary of State must issue the code in the form of the draft laid before Parliament, and the code is to come into force on such date as the Secretary of State may by order appoint (Sch 4A para 14(7) (as so added)). The Commission must arrange for the code to be published in such manner as it thinks appropriate: Sch 4A para 14(7) (as so added). The prohibition from taking further action in relation to a draft code (see Sch 4A para 14(6) (as added)) does not prevent a new draft code from being laid before Parliament: Sch 4A para 14(8) (as so added). For these purposes, the '40-day period', in relation to a draft code, means, if the draft is laid before one House on a day later than the day on which it is laid before the other House, the period of 40 days beginning with the later of the two days, and, in any other case, the period of 40 days beginning with the day on which the draft is laid before each House: Sch 4A para 14(9) (as so added). In calculating this period, no account is taken of any period during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than 4 days: Sch 4A para 14(9) (as so added).

42 Ibid Sch 4A para 15(1) (as added: see note 6 supra). However, such an order must not be made unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: Sch 4A para 15(2) (as so added).

43 Ibid Sch 4A para 15(3)(a) (as added: see note 6 supra).

44 Ibid Sch 4A para 15(3)(b) (as added: see note 6 supra).

45 See note 1 supra.

46 The Representation of the People Act 1983 does not apply in relation to a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. The provisions set out in the text and notes 47-74 infra continue to apply to those elections until such time as the amendments contained in the Electoral Administration Act 2006 are applied for the purposes of those elections.

47 Ie for the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt III (arts 35-84) and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pt 2 (regs 31-81). In the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pt 2 (regs 31-81), unless the context otherwise requires, 'election expenses', in relation to a European parliamentary election, is to be construed in accordance with regs 60-62: reg 31(1).

48 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' at a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or at a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

For the purpose of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt III, sums paid or expenses incurred by, or in respect of, an individual candidate at a constituency election in respect of whom the constituency returning officer has received a certificate issued by the registered nominating officer of a registered political party under art 16(1), Sch 5 para 5(1) (see PARA 263 ante) are not to be regarded as having been paid or incurred by that party: art 40.

50 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 61(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 60(1)(b).

51 For these purposes, 'for the purposes of the candidate's election' means with a view to, or otherwise in connection with, promoting or procuring the candidate's election at the election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 61(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 60(4)); and any reference (in whatever terms) to promoting or procuring a candidate's election at an election includes doing so by prejudicing the electoral prospects of another candidate at the election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 61(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 60(6)).

54 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 62(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 61(1).

55 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 62(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 61(2).

56 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 63(1)(a)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 62(1)(a)(i). Any reference to property or goods being transferred to a candidate or his election agent includes a reference to their being transferred either directly or indirectly through any third person: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 para 2(6)(a) (applied by art 63(6)); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 2(6)(a) (applied by reg 62(6)).

57 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 63(1)(a)(ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 62(1)(a)(ii).

58 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 63(1)(a)(i), (ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 62(1)(a)(i), (ii). The discount referred to in the text is a discount of more than: (1) 10% of the market value of the property or goods, in the case of head (a) in the text; or (2) 10% of the commercial rate for the use of the property or for the provision of the goods, services or facilities, in the case of head (b) in the text. For these purposes, 'market value', in relation to any property or goods, means the price which might reasonably be expected to be paid for the property or goods on a sale in the open market: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 63(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 62(6). Where the services of an employee are made available by his employer for the use or benefit of a candidate, then for the purposes of determining election expenses, the commercial rate for the provision of those services is the amount of the remuneration and allowances payable to the employee by his employer in respect of the period for which his services are so made available (but do not include any amount in respect of any contributions or other payments for which the employer is liable in respect of the employee): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 63(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 62(5).

B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES

275. Restriction on payment of election expenses.

Subject to the exceptions listed in heads (1) to (7) below¹, no payment², of whatever nature, may be made either by a candidate³ at an election⁴ or by any other person⁵ in respect of election expenses⁶ incurred by or on behalf of the candidate⁷ unless it is made by or through the candidate's election agent⁸. A person who makes any payment in contravention of this prohibition is guilty of an illegal practice⁹. The argument that the payments referred to above are limited to those made by the election agent and not those made by persons (other than the election agent) of election expenses incurred by themselves has been rejected¹⁰. The intention of this prohibition is that the election agent, and he alone, is to be responsible for the payment of election expenses¹¹. If, therefore, the election agent hands a large sum of money to a person to be dispensed by him at his discretion, that falls foul of the prohibition¹². If, however, the election agent has made all arrangements for the particular expense, but hands over the money to a third person to make the actual payment, that may be permissible¹³.

Every payment made by an election agent in respect of any election expenses, except where less than £20, must be vouched for by a bill stating the particulars, or by a receipt¹⁴.

For these purposes¹⁵, an election agent may act by a sub-agent, at elections where a sub-agent has been appointed¹⁶. In the case of a European parliamentary election, an election agent may act also by a person authorised in writing by the election agent or sub-agent¹⁷.

The statutory provisions providing for election expenses to be paid by or through an election agent do not apply to: (1) any personal expenses incurred by the candidate in relation to the election and paid by him, subject to the statutory cap on such payments¹⁸; (2) election expenses which are paid by him before an election agent is appointed¹⁹; (3) any sum paid by the candidate in pursuance of an order of leave to pay a claim for any election expenses²⁰; (4) any sum paid by the candidate in pursuance of a judgment or order of the court in an action for a disputed claim²¹; (5) any necessary petty expenses which are paid by a person authorised by the candidate's election agent²²; (6) any expenses included in a declaration made by the election agent regarding expenses incurred otherwise than for the purposes of the candidate's election but which fall to be regarded as election expenses by reason of the property, services or facilities in respect of which they were incurred being used for the purposes of the candidate's election²³; (7) any expenses which fall to be regarded as election expenses even though they are incurred by the candidate or his election agent or by an authorised person before the date of candidature²⁴.

1 le subject to exceptions set out, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(5) (as substituted and amended), in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(4) and, in relation to a European parliamentary election, in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(5) (whichever is appropriate) (see the text and notes 18-24 infra).

2 In the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt III (arts 35-84) and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pt 2 (regs 31-81), unless the context otherwise requires, 'payment' includes any pecuniary or other reward; and 'pecuniary reward' and 'money' are deemed to include any office, place or employment, and any valuable security or other equivalent of money, and any valuable consideration, and expressions referring to money are to be construed accordingly: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118 (definition amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 138(1), Sch 18 paras 1, 15(b)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 83; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 31(1). However, these expressions do not apply for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A (as added) (control of donations to candidates at a parliamentary or local government election: see PARA 291 et seq post), s 113 (as amended) (bribery: see PARA 712 post), s 114 (treating: see PARA 724 post), Sch 2A (as added and amended) (control of donations to candidates: see PARA 292 et seq post), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 78 (bribery: see PARA 712 post) and art 79 (treating: see PARA 724 post) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42 (control of donations to individual candidates: see PARA 291 et seq post), reg 77 (bribery: see PARA 712 post), reg 78 (treating: see PARA 724 post) and Sch 6 (control of donations to individual candidates: see PARA 292 et seq post).

The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(1)(b).

6 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'election expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate' see PARA 274 note 15 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(1) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(1). In the case of a European parliamentary election, it is further specified that all money provided by any person other than the individual candidate for any election expenses, whether as gift, loan, advance or deposit, must be paid to the candidate or his election agent or sub-agent and not otherwise: reg 43(4). As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante; and as to the appointment of sub-agents generally see PARA 240 et seq ante. See also the text and notes 15-17 infra.

9 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(6) (as amended); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(5); the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(6); and PARA 677 post. The making of such a payment as is mentioned in the text remains an illegal practice even if the money is repaid (York County, East Riding, Buckrose Division, Case (1886) 4 O'M & H 110 at 116), but where a payment was made through a person other than the election agent by mistake and the money was returned and the transaction was genuine and honest, it was held that no offence had been committed (Monmouth Boroughs Case (1901) 5 O'M & H 166 at 170).

10 Ipswich Case, Packard v Collings and West (1886) 4 O'M & H 70 at 73; Hartlepool Case (1910) 6 O'M & H 1 at 10; Louth, Northern Division, Case (1911) 6 O'M & H 103 at 164; Oxford Borough Case (1924) 7 O'M & H 49 at 80.

11 West Bromwich Case (1911) 6 O'M & H 256 at 285. The effect of the prohibition set out in the text and notes 1-8 supra, when read together with the provisions relating to returns as to election expenses (see PARA 285 post), is that any election expense paid by the election agent will, if not shown on the return, constitute an illegal practice and that any election expenses not paid by the election agent will, subject to the statutory exceptions mentioned in PARA 276 et seq post, constitute an illegal practice; and in either case the candidate's election is liable to be avoided.

12 West Bromwich Case (1911) 6 O'M & H 256 at 285. The sum mentioned in this case was £10, a large sum at that time.

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(2) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 14(1); and the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 18 paras 1, 3(1), (3)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(2). As to references to an election agent see the text and notes 15-17 infra.

The Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument vary the sum for the time being specified in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(2) (as amended) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(2) (whichever is appropriate) where he considers that the variation is expedient in consequence of changes in the value of money or in order to give effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76A(1), (2)(a) (s 76A added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 14; and substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 133(1)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 46(1), (2). Such an order which gives effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76A(3) (as so added and substituted); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 46(3)); and an order may be made in relation to a Welsh Assembly election only after such consultation with the National Assembly for Wales as appears to the Secretary of State to be appropriate (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 46(1)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante; as to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

The text refers to any sum paid by the candidate or his election agent in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 78(5), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 47(6) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 48(6) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 281 post).

21 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(5)(a) (as substituted: see note 18 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(4)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(5)(a). The text refers to any sum paid by the candidate or his agent in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 79(2), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 48(2) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 49(2) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 280 post).

22 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(5)(b) (as substituted: see note 18 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(4)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(5)(b). The text refers to necessary petty expenses which are paid in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(3), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(5) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(4) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 276 post).

23 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(5)(c) (as substituted: see note 18 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(4)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(5)(c). The text refers to any expenses included in a declaration made by the election agent under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74A (as added and amended), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 43 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 45 (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 283 post).

24 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 73(5)(d) (as substituted (see note 18 supra); and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 111, 133); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 41(4)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 43(5)(d). The text refers to any expenses which are to be regarded as incurred by or on behalf of the candidate by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA(5) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 61(5)(b) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 60(5)(b) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 274 ante).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 111 has no effect in relation to a parliamentary by-election, an election under the Local Government Act 1972 s 89 (as amended) (ie an election to fill a casual vacancy: see PARA 209 ante) or an election under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 10 (filling a vacancy in an Assembly constituency: see PARA 211 ante) or s 16 (filling a vacancy in the office of London Mayor: see PARA 211 ante) where the day of the poll is on or before 3 May 2007 (or, in the case of an uncontested election, would have been had the election been contested): see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/1972, art 4, Sch 2 para 2.

UPDATE

275 Restriction on payment of election expenses

NOTE 24--SI 2004/293 reg 43(5)(d) amended: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/276. Election expenses which may be paid otherwise than by or through election agent.

276. Election expenses which may be paid otherwise than by or through election agent.

The candidate¹ at an election² may pay any personal expenses³ incurred by him on account of or in connection with or incidental to the election⁴; but the amount which he may pay must not exceed: (1) in the case of a candidate at a parliamentary election, £600⁵; (2) in the case of a candidate at an election of the Mayor of London, £5,000⁶; (3) in the case of a candidate at an election of a constituency member of the London Assembly, £600⁷; (4) in the case of a candidate to be a London member of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, £900⁸; (5) in the case of a candidate at a Welsh Assembly constituency election, £600⁹; (6) in the case of a candidate at a Welsh Assembly regional election, £900¹⁰; or (7) in the case of an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election, £900¹¹. Where any of heads (1) to (7) above applies, any further personal expenses so incurred by the candidate must be paid by his election agent¹². The candidate at an election may also pay any other election expenses¹³ which were incurred by him or on his behalf¹⁴ and in respect of which payment¹⁵ falls to be made before the date on which he appoints (or is deemed to have appointed) an election agent¹⁶. The candidate must send to his election agent within the time limited for sending in claims¹⁷ a written statement of the amount of personal or other expenses so paid by the candidate¹⁸. If so authorised in writing by the candidate's election agent¹⁹, any person may pay any necessary expenses for stationery, postage, telegrams or telephonic communication (or any similar means of communication) and other petty expenses, to a total amount not exceeding that named in the authority, but any excess above the total amount so named must be paid by the election agent²⁰. A statement of the particulars of payments made by any person so authorised must be sent to the election agent within the time limited for sending in claims²¹, and must be vouched for by a bill containing that person's receipt²².

The statutory provisions which provide for election expenses to be paid by or through an election agent²³ do not apply to certain election expenses which are paid otherwise in this way, namely personal expenses which are paid by the candidate²⁴ or election expenses which are paid by him before an election agent is appointed²⁵, or necessary petty expenses which are paid by a person authorised by the candidate's election agent²⁶. Similarly, the statutory provisions which provide for the paying of claims against a candidate or election agent in respect of election expenses²⁷ and for disputed claims²⁸ do not apply to any of the expenses which are in this way²⁹ paid otherwise than by the candidate's election agent³⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' for the purposes of: (1) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1)); or (2) European parliamentary elections (see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(1)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. The reference in the text to a candidate in the case of a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales may also include a party list candidate: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1). For the meaning of 'party list candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

2 The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

3 For these purposes, 'personal expenses' as used with respect to the expenditure of any candidate in relation to any election includes the reasonable travelling expenses of the candidate, and the reasonable expenses of his living at hotels or elsewhere for the purposes of and in relation to the election: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 83; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 31(1).

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(1).

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1)(a) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 14(2); and renumbered by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 18(1), (2)).

The Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument vary the sum for the time being specified in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1)(a)-(d) (as substituted and amended) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1), (2) (whichever is appropriate) where he considers that the variation is expedient in consequence of changes in the value of money or in order to give effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76A(1), (2)(b) (s 76A added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 14; and substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 133(1)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 46(1), (2). Such an order which gives effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76A(3) (as so added and substituted); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 46(3)); and an order may be made in relation to a Welsh Assembly election only after such consultation with the National Assembly for Wales as appears to the Secretary of State to be appropriate (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 46(1)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante; as to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1)(b) (s 74(1)(b)-(d) substituted by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 18(1), (2)). As to varying the sum mentioned in the text see note 5 supra. In the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1) (as amended) in relation to a person who is a candidate in two or more Authority elections, those elections are treated, if one of them is an election of the Mayor of London, as if they together constituted a single election falling within s 74(1)(b) (as substituted): s 74(1A)(a) (s 74(1A) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 18(1), (3)). As to elections for the return of an elected Mayor of London see PARA 206 et seq ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). As to varying the sum mentioned in the text see note 5 supra. In the application of s 74(1) (as amended) in relation to a person who is a candidate in two or more Authority elections, those elections are treated as if they together constituted a single election falling within s 74(1)(d) (as substituted): s 74(1A)(b) (as added: see note 6 supra). For the meaning of 'constituency member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 6 ante. As to ordinary elections of constituency members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante.

8 Ibid s 74(1)(d) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). As to varying the sum mentioned in the text see note 5 supra. See also note 7 supra. For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante. As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante.

9 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1)(a). Where, at an ordinary Welsh Assembly election, a person is a candidate at a constituency election and an individual or a party list candidate at a regional election, the amount of any such personal expenses paid by him in respect of both elections must not exceed £900, but the amount of any such personal expenses paid by him in respect of the constituency election must not exceed £600: art 42(2).

10 Ibid art 42(1)(b). See note 9 supra.

11 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(1).

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 18(1), (2)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(1). As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

13 Ie other than expenses falling within the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1) (as amended), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(1) (whichever applies) (see the text and notes 1-12 supra). For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante.

14 For the meaning of 'election expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate' see PARA 274 note 15 ante.

15 As to the meaning of 'payment' for these purposes see PARA 275 note 2 ante.

16 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(1B) (added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 18 paras 1, 4(1), (3)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(2).

17 As to the prescribed time for sending in claims against a candidate or his election agent in respect of election expenses see PARA 280 post.

18 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(2) (amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 18 paras 1, 4(1), (4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(3).

19 In the case of a European parliamentary election, it is specified that the authorisation in writing may be given by an election agent or a sub-agent: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(4). As to the nomination of sub-agents at a European parliamentary election see PARA 248 et seq ante.

20 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(4). In the case of a European parliamentary election, this provision refers any election expenses to a total amount not exceeding that named in the authority, rather than specifying 'necessary expenses' and 'other petty expenses': see reg 44(4).

21 As to the prescribed time for sending in claims against a candidate or his election agent in respect of election expenses see PARA 280 post.

22 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(5). In the case of a European parliamentary election, it is specified that, where the agent who authorised the payments mentioned in the text is the sub-agent, he must forward the statement, together with his authority, to the election agent: reg 44(5).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/277. Expenses incurred by outsiders in publicising a candidate or in promoting political debate at an election.

277. Expenses incurred by outsiders in publicising a candidate or in promoting political debate at an election.

Expenses with a view to¹ promoting or procuring² the election of a candidate³ at an election⁴ must not be incurred after he becomes a candidate at that election by any person other than the candidate, his election agent⁵ and persons authorised in writing by the election agent⁶ on account of:

- 329 (1) holding public meetings or organising any public display⁷; or
- 330 (2) issuing advertisements, circulars or publications⁸; or
- 331 (3) otherwise presenting to the electors the candidate or his views or the extent or nature of his backing or disparaging another candidate⁹; or
- 332 (4) otherwise presenting to the electors: (a) the candidate's registered political party (if any) or the views of that party or the extent or nature of that party's backing or disparaging any other registered political party, in the case of an election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election¹⁰; or (b) the candidate or his views or the extent or nature of his backing or disparaging another individual candidate or any or all of a group of party list candidates¹¹, in the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election¹²; or (c) that candidate or his views or the extent or nature of his backing or disparaging a registered party¹³ or its candidates or an independent candidate, in the case of a European parliamentary election¹⁴.

If any person not engaged for payment or promise of payment by the candidate or his election agent incurs any expenses required to be authorised by the election agent, he must make a return of the expenses and a declaration verifying the return¹⁵.

In relation to a constituency or regional Welsh Assembly election and a European parliamentary election¹⁶, neither head (3) nor head (4) above: (i) restricts the publication of any matter relating to the election in a newspaper or other periodical or in a broadcast made by the British Broadcasting Corporation or by Sianel Pedwar Cymru or in a programme included in any service licensed under the Broadcasting Act 1990 or the Broadcasting Act 1996¹⁷; or (ii) applies to any expenses, incurred by any person, which do not exceed in the aggregate the permitted sum¹⁸ (and are not incurred by that person as part of a concerted plan of action¹⁹), or to expenses incurred by any person in travelling or in living away from home or similar personal expenses²⁰. The provisions in heads (1) to (4) above do not apply to any expenses incurred in relation to a parliamentary or applicable local government election²¹ by any person which do not exceed in the aggregate the permitted sum²² (and are not incurred by that person as part of a concerted plan of action)²³, or to expenses incurred by any person in travelling or in living away from home or similar personal expenses²⁴; and the provisions in head (3) or head (4) above do not restrict the publication of any matter relating to the election in a newspaper or other periodical²⁵ or in a broadcast made by the British Broadcasting Corporation or by Sianel Pedwar Cymru²⁶ or in a programme included in any service licensed under the Broadcasting Act 1990 or the Broadcasting Act 1996²⁷. The insertion of an advertisement in a national newspaper which contained criticisms of one party's financial policy, and which might have been held to advance the prospects of the opposing party's cause at a pending general election, has been held not to constitute an offence under the foregoing provisions²⁸, but the distribution of pamphlets in three constituencies urging voters not to vote for the candidates of a certain political party in those constituencies has been held to constitute such an offence, as an intention to prevent the election of one candidate will involve also an intention to improve the collective chances of the remaining candidates²⁹. The expenses incurred in connection with a party political broadcast in the course of an election campaign have been held not to come within the statutory provisions³⁰.

If any person incurs, or aids, abets, counsels or procures any other person to incur, any expenses in contravention of these provisions, he is guilty of a corrupt practice³¹. Apart from the statutory restriction on expenses incurred by persons other than the candidate, his election agent and persons authorised by the election agent, there is nothing which prohibits election expenses being incurred before the election agent has been appointed³², although this is undesirable as it is the intention of the legislation that the election agent should be effectively responsible for all the acts done in procuring the election of the candidate³³. If, however, expenses have been so incurred they should be paid by the election agent³⁴. If election expenses have been incurred and paid before the election agent has been appointed, the election agent ought to ask the persons so paid to repay the money to the person who paid them in order that he may himself pay them³⁵. If any expense required to be authorised by the election agent is incurred by a person to promote or procure the election of a candidate at an election, but the expense is not authorised by the election agent, it will need to be returned by the election agent as an election expense if it was authorised by the candidate, although not otherwise³⁶. If it was authorised by the election agent, it will need to be returned by the election agent as an election expense³⁷.

1 The meaning of the words 'with a view to' was considered in DPP v Luft [1977] AC 962, [1976] 2 All ER 569, HL, in the context of the Representation of the People Act 1949 s 63(1) (repealed), which is re-enacted as the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1) (as amended). In the view of the House of Lords, there was no difference in meaning between the phrase 'with a view to promoting or procuring the election of a candidate' and 'for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of any candidate' which was used in the Representation of the People Act 1918 s 34(1) (repealed), in respect of an offence similar to that in the Representation of the People Act 1949 s 63(1) (repealed): see DPP v Luft supra at 982 and 573 per Lord Diplock. The decision in R v Hailwood and Ackroyd Ltd [1928] 2 KB 277, CCA, which concerned the offence in the Representation of the People Act 1918 s 34(1) (repealed) and in which it was held that if a person disparages one candidate and tries to induce the electors not to vote for that candidate, he is, in effect promoting the election of one of the other candidates, was applied. 'In my view the offence under section 63(1) to (5) is committed by the accused if his desire to promote or procure the election of a candidate was one of the reasons which played a part in inducing him to incur the expense': DPP v Luft supra at 983 and 574 per Lord Diplock.

2 'On a prosecution [for this offence] it is not necessary to prove that the expense was incurred with the intention of promoting or procuring the election of one particular candidate but it is sufficient to establish an intention on the part of the person incurring the expense to prevent the election of a particular candidate or particular candidates': DPP v Luft [1977] AC 962 at 984, [1976] 2 All ER 569 at 574, HL, per Lord Diplock. See also R v Hailwood and Ackroyd Ltd [1928] 2 KB 277, CCA.

3 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; and as to references to promoting or procuring a candidate's election at an election or to promoting or procuring electoral success for a party see PARA 274 note 4 ante.

In the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1) (as amended) in relation to an election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, any reference to the candidate includes a reference to all or any of the candidates of a registered political party; and, in the application of s 75(1ZA) (as added and amended) (see note 22 infra) in relation to such an election, the reference to the same candidate includes a reference to all or any of the candidates of the same registered political party: s 75(1A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 19(1), (3); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 131(1), (4)). For these purposes, in the case of an election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, a candidate's registered political party is the registered political party (if any) which submitted for the purposes of that election a list of candidates on which the candidate in question is included: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(7) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 19(1), (5)). For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'registered political party' for these purposes see PARA 238 note 7 ante. As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante; and as to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the reference in the text is to a constituency candidate (at a constituency election) or to an individual candidate (at a regional election): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1). For the meanings of 'Assembly election', 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

At a European parliamentary election, the reference is to an 'individual candidate': see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(1). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

4 The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (as amended; prospectively amended) and s 76A (as added and substituted) do not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead and s 76A (as added and substituted) is applied with modifications: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meaning of 'constituency election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

Section 75 (as amended; prospectively amended) and s 76A (as added and substituted) have been applied with modifications for the purposes of an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor: see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(2), Sch 2 Table 1. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante.

5 As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante. In relation to a European parliamentary election, references to an election agent include a sub-agent: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(7). As to the appointment of a sub-agent at a European parliamentary election see PARA 248 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 19(1), (2)(a); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 25(1), (2)(a), (b), 74(2), Sch 2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(1). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1) (as amended), expenditure incurred before the date when a person becomes a candidate at the election is to be treated as having been incurred after that date if it is incurred in connection with any thing which is used or takes place after that date: s 75(8) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 25(1), (5)). The amendments made by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 25(1), (2)(b), (3), (4) must be taken to have had effect from 16 February 2001 (ie the date of coming into force of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 131, which also made amendments to the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75): see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 25(6).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(1)(b).

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1)(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1)(c). 'Disparaging' is to be understood in its ordinary and natural meaning; a person may be disparaged by attacks on the political views he holds as well as by attacks on his personal conduct: DPP v Luft [1977] AC 962 at 984, [1976] 2 All ER 569 at 575, HL, per Lord Diplock.

In the context of a Welsh Assembly election, head (3) in the text applies in the case of a constituency election only: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1)(c). As to a regional election see head (4)(b) in the text.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1)(d) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 19(1), (2)(b)).

11 For the meanings of 'party list candidate' and as to references to groups of party list candidates at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

12 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1)(d).

13 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 237 note 30 ante.

14 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(1)(c).

15 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(2) (as amended); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(3); the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(3); and PARA 284 post. As to the meaning of 'payment' for these purposes see PARA 275 note 2 ante. The failure to send a declaration or return is an illegal practice (see PARA 680 post); and the making of a false declaration is a corrupt practice (see PARA 710 post). As to related offences, the liability of officers of associations or bodies which are guilty of an offence, the court's power to mitigate or remit any incapacity and the limitation of the liability of a candidate for an offence by an agent see PARA 690 et seq post.

16 The provisions set out in the text will continue to apply to a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and to a European parliamentary election until such time as the amendments contained in the Electoral Administration Act 2006 are applied for the purposes of those elections.

17 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(1)(i). See note 16 supra. The text refers to a service licensed under the Broadcasting Act 1990 Pt I (ss 3-71) (as amended) (independent television services: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 328 et seq) or Pt III (ss 85-126) (as amended) (independent radio services: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 439 et seq) or under the Broadcasting Act 1996 Pt I (ss 1-39) (as amended) (digital terrestrial television broadcasting: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 415 et seq) or Pt II (ss 40-72) (as amended) (digital terrestrial sound broadcasting: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 478 et seq). As to the BBC see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 306 et seq; and as to Sianel Pedwar Cymru see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 396.

18 In the case of a Welsh Assembly constituency election, the sum of £500 is specified for these purposes and, in the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, a sum of £1,000 is so specified: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1)(ii). For the purposes of a European parliamentary election, the 'permitted sum' means £5,000: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(2). See note 16 supra.

The National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, provides that the Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument vary the sum for the time being specified in art 44(2) where he considers that the variation is expedient in consequence of changes in the value of money or in order to give effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission: art 46(1), (2). However, no sum is specified in art 44(2) and it is submitted that the reference should be to the sum specified in art 44(1)(ii). Such an order which gives effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (art 46(3)); and an order may be made in relation to a Welsh Assembly election only after such consultation with the National Assembly for Wales as appears to the Secretary of State to be appropriate (art 46(1)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante; as to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. In Application 24839/94 Bowman v United Kingdom (1998) 26 EHRR 1, (1998) 4 BHRC 25, ECtHR (cited in PARA 7 ante), the low statutory limit on third party expenditure in individual election campaigns, set by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (as it stood then), was found to be disproportionate to the aim pursued of ensuring that political debate in any individual constituency was not dominated by third party issues.

19 For these purposes, expenses are regarded as incurred by a person 'as part of a concerted plan of action' if they are incurred by that person in pursuance of any plan or other arrangement whereby that person and one or more other persons are to incur, with a view to promoting or procuring the election of the same candidate, expenses which, disregarding head (ii) in the text, fall within heads (1) to (4) in the text: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(2). See note 16 supra.

20 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(1)(ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(1)(ii). See note 16 supra. For the meaning of 'personal expenses' see PARA 276 note 3 ante.

21 As to other types of election see note 16 supra.

22 For these purposes, the 'permitted sum' means, in respect of a candidate at a parliamentary election, £500, and, in respect of a candidate at a local government election, £50 together with an additional 0.5p for every entry in the register of local government electors for the electoral area in question as it has effect on the last day for publication of notice of the election: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1ZA) (added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 131(1), (3); and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 25(1), (4)). As to the effect of amendments made by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 25(1), (4) see note 6 supra.

The Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument vary the sum for the time being specified in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1ZA) (as added and amended) where he considers that the variation is expedient in consequence of changes in the value of money or in order to give effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission: s 76A(1), (2)(c) (s 76A added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 14; and substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 133(1)). Such an order which gives effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76A(3) (as so added and substituted).

23 For these purposes, expenses are regarded as incurred by a person as part of a concerted plan of action if they are incurred by that person in pursuance of any plan or other arrangement whereby that person and one or more other persons are to incur, with a view to promoting or procuring the election of the same candidate, expenses which, disregarding head (ii) in the text, fall within heads (1)-(4) in the text: ibid s 75(1ZA) (as added and amended: see note 22 supra).

24 Ibid s 75(1ZZB) (s 75(1ZZA), (1ZZB) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 25(1), (3)). As to the effect of amendments made by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 25(1), (3) see note 6 supra. For the meaning of 'personal expenses' see PARA 276 note 3 ante. See also R v Holding [2005] EWCA Crim 3185, [2006] 1 WLR 1040, in which the legislative history of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1) (as amended) was considered (before it was further amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006) and wherein it was held that there was an absolute bar on incurring unauthorised expenses in relation to the matters mentioned in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1)(a) and s 75(1)(b) as well as in s 75(1)(c) and s 75(1)(d) (as added).

28 R v Tronoh Mines Ltd [1952] 1 All ER 697, where the judge held that there was no case to go to the jury because the provision now re-enacted as the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(1)(b) (see head (2) in the text) was not intended to prohibit expenditure incurred on advertisements designed to support the interest of a particular party generally in all constituencies, at any rate at the time of a general election, and not supporting a particular candidate in a particular constituency. He accepted as a reasonable and possible construction of the Representation of the People Act 1949 s 63 (repealed) (see now the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (as amended)) that 'candidate' was intended to mean one candidate only, but this interpretation, though not the decision itself, was disapproved in DPP v Luft [1976] AC 962 at 985, [1976] 2 All ER 569 at 575, HL, per Lord Diplock. R v Tronoh Mines Ltd supra has been applied to local government elections in Scotland: see Walker v UNISON 1995 SLT 1226, OH (local government elections held throughout Scotland characterised as 'national elections').

The Representation of the People Act 1918 s 34(3) (repealed) provided that expenses mentioned in s 34 and authorised by the election agent must be duly returned as part of the candidate's election expenses. That provision has not been specifically reproduced in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (as amended). It is, however, provided that the return of election expenses made by the election agent must deal under a separate heading or sub-heading with any expenses included in it as respects which a return is required to be made under s 81(2)(a) (as substituted): see PARA 285 post.

UPDATE

277 Expenses incurred by outsiders in publicising a candidate or in promoting political debate at an election

TEXT AND NOTES 1-20--SI 2004/293 reg 46(1), (1A), (1B), (2), (2A) substituted for reg 46(1), (2): SI 2009/186.

NOTE 4--SI 2002/185 replaced: Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1024. Modifications to the 1983 Act ss 75, 76A not replicated.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/278. Limitation of election expenses for individual or party candidates.

278. Limitation of election expenses for individual or party candidates.

The election expenses¹ incurred by or on behalf of a candidate² at any of the elections mentioned below must not in the aggregate exceed the maximum amount specified³:

- 333 (1) for a candidate at a parliamentary general election⁴: (a) £7,150, together with an additional 7p for every entry in the register of electors⁵, at an election in a county constituency⁶; and (b) £7,150, together with an additional 5p for every entry in the register of electors, at an election in a borough constituency⁷;
- 334 (2) for a candidate at a parliamentary by-election⁸, £100,000⁹;
- 335 (3) for a candidate at a local government election¹⁰ other than an Authority election¹¹, £600 together with an additional 5p for every entry in the register of electors¹²;
- 336 (4) for candidates in an Authority election, namely: (a) a candidate in an election of the Mayor of London¹³; (b) a candidate in an election of constituency members of the London Assembly¹⁴; (c) an individual candidate in an election of London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election¹⁵; or (d) any of the candidates on a list of candidates submitted by a registered political party to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election¹⁶, the maximum amount is such as the Secretary of State may prescribe in an order made by statutory instrument¹⁷;
- 337 (5) for a candidate at a Welsh Assembly constituency election¹⁸: (a) at an ordinary election¹⁹, £5,761 together with an additional 6.5p for every entry in the register of electors for an Assembly constituency which is coterminous with a parliamentary constituency which is a county constituency²⁰, and £5,761 together with an additional 4.8p for every entry in the register of electors for an Assembly constituency which is coterminous with a parliamentary constituency which is a borough constituency²¹; (b) at an election to fill a casual vacancy²², £100,000 for an Assembly constituency which is coterminous with a parliamentary constituency which is either a county constituency²³ or a borough constituency²³;
- 338 (6) for an individual candidate at a Welsh Assembly regional election²⁵, the aggregate of the maximum amounts specified under head (5)(a) above that apply, or would apply, at that time at a constituency election in respect of each Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region for which the election is held²⁶;
- 339 (7) for an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election, £45,000 multiplied by the number of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') to be returned for the electoral region at that election²⁷.

Where, at an election mentioned in heads (1) to (5) above, a poll is countermanded or abandoned by reason of a candidate's death²⁸, the maximum amount of election expenses for any of the other candidates who then remain validly nominated is twice or, if there has been a previous such increase, three times what it would have been but for any such increase²⁹. However, the maximum amount mentioned for a candidate is not affected by the change in the timing of the election or of any step in the proceedings at the election³⁰. Where the date of the poll at a parliamentary election has been postponed under the provisions as to the effect of the demise of the Crown³¹, the provisions limiting election expenses³² have effect in relation to any candidate at the election as if the maximum amount specified in head (1) above were increased by one-half³³.

The maximum amount of election expenses allowed to a candidate³⁴ is not required to cover the candidate's personal expenses³⁵.

Where any election expenses are incurred in excess of the maximum amount, any candidate or election agent who incurred, or authorised the incurring of, the election expenses and knew or ought reasonably to have known that the expenses would be incurred in excess of that maximum amount is guilty of an illegal practice³⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to sums paid out and expenses incurred on behalf of an individual candidate at an election (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 47(1)); and such references include sums being paid and expenses being incurred by the election agent or by a person acting on the written authority of an election agent or sub-agent (see PARA 275 et seq ante) (reg 47(2)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante. As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante; and as to the appointment of a sub-agent at a European parliamentary election see PARA 248 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; and for the meaning of 'election expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate' see PARA 274 note 15 ante.

Where a registered political party submits a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, the limitation on election expenses specified in head (4) in the text applies to any of those candidates: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(1A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 20(1), (2); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 132(1), (3), (6)). For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'registered political party' in that context see PARA 233 note 16 ante. As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante; and as to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(1) (substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 132(1), (2), (6)); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(1A) (as added and amended: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 45(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 47(1).

The Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument vary the sum for the time being specified in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2) (as amended) (see heads (1)-(3) in the text) where he considers that the variation is expedient in consequence of changes in the value of money or in order to give effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission: s 76A(1), (2)(d) (s 76A added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 14; and substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 133(1)). Such an order which gives effect to a recommendation of the Electoral Commission is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76A(3) (as so added and substituted). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante; and as to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

4 Ibid s 76(2)(a) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1989 s 6(1)). For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 196 et seq ante.

5 For these purposes, the 'register of electors' means the register of parliamentary electors, or (as the case may be) local government electors, for the constituency, electoral area, Assembly constituency or Assembly electoral region in question as it has effect on the last day for publication of notice of the election: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(4) (substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 18(1), (3)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 45(3). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'electoral area' for the purpose of local government elections see PARA 10 ante; and for the meanings of 'Assembly constituency' and 'Assembly electoral region' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2)(a)(i) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 15(2), Sch 1 paras 1, 18(1), (2), Sch 7 Pt I; and by the Representation of the People (Variation of Limits of Candidates' Election Expenses) Order 2005, SI 2005/269, art 3(1)). As to variation of the sum mentioned in the text see note 3 supra.

8 As to parliamentary by-elections see PARA 198 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2)(aa) (added by the Representation of the People Act 1989 s 6(1); amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 1 paras 1, 18(1), (2), Sch 7 Pt I; and substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 132(1), (5), (6)). As to variation of the sum mentioned in the text see note 3 supra.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2)(b). For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to the limitation of election expenses for joint candidates at certain local government elections see PARA 279 post. The provisions of s 76 (as amended) and s 76A (as added and substituted) do not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post), although, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, s 76 (as amended) is applied, subject to a minor modification affecting s 76(1B) (as added and amended) (see PARA 676 post), and s 76A(2)(d) (as added and substituted) (see note 3 supra) continues to apply to s 76(2) (as amended): see s 90(1)(a), (b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. As to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2)(b) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 20(1), (3)). For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2)(b)(ii) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 1 paras 1, 18(1), (2), Sch 7 Pt I; and the Representation of the People (Variation of Limits of Candidates' Election Expenses) Order 2005, SI 2005/269, art 4). As to variation of the sum mentioned in the text see note 3 supra.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2A)(a) (s 76(2A), (2B) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 20(1), (4)). As to elections for the return of an elected Mayor of London see PARA 206 et seq ante.

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2A)(b) (as added: see note 13 supra). For the meaning of 'constituency member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 6 ante. As to ordinary elections of constituency members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante.

15 Ibid s 76(2A)(c) (as added: see note 13 supra). As to individual candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 99.

16 Ibid s 76(1A) (as added: see note 2 supra), s 76(2A)(d) (as added: see note 13 supra). As to the candidates mentioned in head (4) in the text see note 2 supra.

17 Ibid s 76(2A) (as added: see note 13 supra). Such an order may not be made unless a draft of the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 76(2B) (as added: see note 13 supra). As to the order so made see the Greater London Authority Elections (Expenses) Order 2000, SI 2000/789. As respects Authority elections, the maximum amounts of the sums which may be paid and the expenses which may be incurred by a candidate or his election agent are as follows: (1) £420,000 for a candidate in an election of the Mayor of London (art 3(a)); (2) £35,000 for a candidate in an election of a constituency member of the London Assembly (art 3(b)); (3) £330,000 for an individual candidate in an election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election (art 3(c)); (4) £330,000 for candidates to be London members of the London Assembly on a list submitted by a registered political party (art 3(d)). PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/279. Limitation of election expenses for joint candidates at certain local government elections.

279. Limitation of election expenses for joint candidates at certain local government elections.

Where there are two or more joint candidates¹ at a local government election other than a London Authority election², the maximum amount of expenses³ must, for each of such joint candidates, be reduced by one-quarter or, if there are more than two joint candidates, by one-third⁴.

Candidates are deemed to be joint candidates for these purposes where two or more candidates appoint the same election agent⁵ or where, by themselves or by any agent or agents⁶: (1) they employ or use the services of the same clerks or messengers at the election⁷; or (2) they hire or use the same committee rooms⁸ for the election⁹; or (3) they publish a joint address or joint circular or notice at the election¹⁰. However, the employment and use of the same clerk, messenger or committee room, if accidental or casual or of a trivial and unimportant character, is not to be deemed of itself to constitute persons joint candidates¹¹.

Where: (a) any excess of expenses above the maximum allowed for one of two or more joint candidates has arisen owing to his having ceased to be a joint candidate¹², or to his having become a joint candidate after having begun to conduct his election as a separate candidate¹³; and (b) the change was made in good faith¹⁴; and (c) the excess is not more than under the circumstances is reasonable¹⁵; and (d) the total election expenses of the candidate do not exceed the maximum amount allowed for a separate candidate¹⁶, the excess is to be deemed to have arisen from a reasonable cause for the purpose of the statutory provisions which allow the court to give relief¹⁷, excepting certain innocent acts from being illegal practices¹⁸.

Nothing in the provisions concerning joint candidates prevents the candidates ceasing to be joint candidates¹⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

2 For the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 77 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post), although s 77 (as amended) does apply in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. 8 For these purposes, 'committee room' does not include any house or room occupied by a candidate as a dwelling, by reason only of the candidate there transacting business with his agents in relation to the election, and no room or building is deemed to be a committee room by reason only of the candidate or any agent of his addressing in that room electors, committee men or others: ibid s 118. As to the meaning of 'dwelling' see PARA 132 note 19 ante.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/280. Claims against a candidate or his election agent in respect of election expenses.

280. Claims against a candidate or his election agent in respect of election expenses.

Every claim against a candidate¹ or his election agent² in respect of election expenses³ which is not sent in⁴ to the election agent⁵ not later than 21 days after the day on which the result of the election⁶ is declared⁷ is barred and must not be paid⁸. All election expenses must be paid not later than 28 days after the day on which the result of the election is declared⁹. An election agent who pays a claim which is statute-barred or makes a payment after the expiry of the 28 days is guilty of an illegal practice¹⁰.

If the election agent disputes any claim sent in to him within 21 days after the day on which the result of the election is declared or refuses or fails to pay the claim within 28 days after that day, the claim is deemed to be a 'disputed claim'¹¹. If he thinks fit, the claimant may bring an action for a disputed claim in any competent court, and any sum paid by the candidate or his agent¹² in pursuance of the court's judgment or order is not deemed to be in contravention of the provisions forbidding payment of election expenses otherwise than through the election agent¹³ or of the provision forbidding payment of election expenses after 28 days after the day on which the result of the election is declared¹⁴. In the case of a European parliamentary election, if the defendant in the action admits his liability but disputes the amount of the claim, then, unless the court on the application of the plaintiff otherwise directs, that amount must be forthwith referred for assessment to a nominated circuit judge¹⁵ or the master, registrar or other proper officer of the court and the amount found due on the assessment is the amount to be recovered in the action in respect of the claim¹⁶.

So far as circumstances admit, the relevant statutory provisions¹⁷ apply to an election agent's claim for his remuneration and to its payment in like manner as if he were any other creditor, and if any difference arises respecting the amount of the claim, the claim is a disputed claim¹⁸ and is to be dealt with accordingly¹⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; but see also note 2 infra.

2 As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reference is to a candidate or his election agent at a constituency election, or an individual candidate or his election agent at a regional election: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 47(1). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante. In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to an individual candidate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 48(1). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

3 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante.

4 It is not clear whether the claim must be in the possession of the person or merely have been dispatched within the time. However, to the extent that 'send' is synonymous with 'transmit', the latter construction is the correct one: see MacKinnon v Clark [1898] 2 QB 251 at 257, CA, per A L Smith LJ.

5 In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to the 'agent who incurred the expense' rather than to the election agent (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 48(1)); and references to the agent who incurred the expense are references to the election agent or sub-agent or an agent who did so on the written authority of such an agent (as to which see PARA 275 et seq ante) (reg 48(7)). Where the agent who incurred the expense is not the election agent, he must send to that agent, forthwith on payment of the expense, the bill and a record of the fact that he has paid it and, on receiving a receipt for that payment, must send that receipt to that agent: reg 48(3). As to the meaning of 'payment' for these purposes see PARA 275 note 2 ante. As to the appointment of a sub-agent at a European parliamentary election see PARA 248 et seq ante.

6 The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 78-80 (as amended) do not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

7 As to the declaration of the result of elections see PARA 478 et seq post.

Except in the case of a European parliamentary election, if the election court reports that it has been proved to the court by the candidate that any payment was made by an election agent without the candidate's sanction or connivance, the candidate's election is not void, nor is he subject to any incapacity by reason only of that payment having been made in contravention of the prohibition on the payment of a claim that is statute-barred or out of time: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 78(3); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 47(4); and PARA 678 post. As to the incapacities which may be suffered see PARA 899 et seq post.

UPDATE

280 Claims against a candidate or his election agent in respect of election expenses

NOTE 15--Appointed day is 1 October 2009: SI 2009/1604.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/281. Application for leave to pay claims in respect of election expenses.

281. Application for leave to pay claims in respect of election expenses.

The person making a claim against a candidate¹ or his election agent² for any election expenses³, or the candidate or his election agent themselves, may apply to the High Court or to the county court for leave to pay such a claim (even if it is sent in after the statutory period allowed of 21 days⁴ or if it is sent in to the candidate and not to the election agent⁵) or they may apply to the High Court or to the county court for leave to pay a disputed claim⁶. The court on cause shown to its satisfaction may by order grant the leave⁷. Any sum specified in such an order may be paid by the candidate or his election agent and when paid in pursuance of the leave is not deemed to be a contravention of the statutory provision⁸ by which election expenses must be paid within 28 days of the declaration of the result⁹. In relation to a claim made pursuant to a Welsh Assembly election, the jurisdiction vested in a county court to consider and to grant an application for leave may be exercised otherwise than in open court¹⁰; and an appeal lies to the High Court from any order of a county court granting the leave in relation to such a claim¹¹.

The following examples of applications for leave to pay a claim have been granted: an application to pay a claim after the prescribed time has been granted where the candidate was misled by a textbook on elections¹²; an application to pay a claim inadvertently omitted from the return of election expenses in consequence of the illness of an agent who had been unable to check the accounts has been granted¹³, as has a similar application by a candidate where the omission was due to the election agent¹⁴; an application by a candidate to pay the charges of sub-agents which he at first thought unreasonable and refused to pay, although later he changed his mind, was granted¹⁵; and an application for leave has also been given where an agent was instructed to prepare canvassing books for a general election but was not employed as election agent¹⁶.

However, the court has refused an application for leave made where the candidate was not liable to pay the claim¹⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; but see also note 2 infra.

2 As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reference is to a candidate or his election agent at a constituency election, or an individual candidate or his election agent at a regional election: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 47(5)(b), (c). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to an individual candidate who incurred the expense: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 48(5). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

3 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante. As to claims against a candidate or his election agent in respect of election expenses see PARA 280 ante.

4 As to this period see PARA 280 ante.

5 As to this restriction see PARA 280 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 78(4), 79(4) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 26); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, arts 47(5), 48(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, regs 48(5), 49(4). For the purposes of a European parliamentary election held in Gibraltar, the reference in the text to the High Court or a county court is a reference to the Gibraltar court: see reg 45(8). 'Disputed claim' has the meaning given by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 79(1) (as amended), as extended by s 80, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 48(1), as extended by art 49, or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 49(1), as extended by reg 50 (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 280 ante); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 83; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 31(1). As to disputed claims, including claims by election agents as disputed claims see PARA 280 ante; and as to returns required in respect of sums paid in pursuance of the leave see PARA 285 post.

The Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 78-79 (as amended) do not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1) (b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. Creditors' rights.

282. Creditors' rights.

The statutory provisions which place restrictions on the payment of election expenses¹, and which prohibit the payment or incurring of election expenses in excess of the maximum limit² and the incurring of expenses not authorised by the election agent³, do not affect the right of any creditor who, when the expense was incurred, was ignorant of that expense being in contravention of those provisions⁴.

Declaration of value of expenses incurred otherwise than for election purposes.

283. Declaration of value of expenses incurred otherwise than for election purposes.

The provisions which provide for election expenses¹ to be paid by or through an election agent², for the paying of claims against a candidate³ or election agent in respect of election expenses⁴ and for disputed claims⁵, do not apply to election expenses which⁶: (1) are incurred by or on behalf of a candidate⁷ otherwise than for the purposes of the candidate's election⁸; but (2) fall to be regarded⁹ as election expenses by reason of the property, services or facilities in respect of which they were incurred being used for the purposes of the candidate's election¹⁰.

The election agent of a candidate must make a declaration of the amount¹¹ of any election expenses which fall within heads (1) and (2) above¹².

1 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante.

The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 74A (as added and amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

3 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reference is to a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, arts 47(1), 48(2). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to an individual candidate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, regs 48(1), 49(2). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

284. Return and declarations of expenses authorised by election agent.

Where a person (other than any person engaged or employed for payment or promise of payment¹ by a candidate or his election agent²) incurs any expenses which are required, by the statutory provisions restricting unauthorised expenses³, to be authorised by the election agent⁴:

- 340 (1) that person must, within 21 days after the day on which the result of the election is declared⁵, deliver⁶: (a) to the appropriate officer⁷, a return of the amount of those expenses, stating the election⁸ at which and the candidate in whose support they were incurred⁹; or (b) in the case of a European parliamentary election, to the agent who authorised the expenses, a return of the amount of them¹⁰; and
- 341 (2) the return must be accompanied by a declaration made by that person (or in the case of an association or body of persons, by a director, general manager, secretary or other similar officer) verifying the return and giving particulars of the matters for which the expenses were incurred¹¹.

In relation to a parliamentary, local government or Welsh Assembly election, the return and declaration must be in the prescribed forms¹² and the authority received from the election agent must be annexed to, and is deemed to form part of, the return¹³. In relation to a European parliamentary election, no form is prescribed but the authority of the agent who authorised the incurring of the expenses must be annexed to and deemed to form part of the return¹⁴.

In relation to a parliamentary election, a copy of every such return and declaration must be sent also to the returning officer within 21 days after the day on which the result of the election is declared by the person making the return or declaration¹⁵. These copies must be retained and may be inspected as though they were documents forwarded to the relevant registration officer¹⁶ by a returning officer¹⁷. In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, a copy of every such return and declaration must be sent to the National Assembly for Wales within 21 days after the day on which the result of the election is declared by the person making the return or declaration¹⁸. These copies must be retained and may be inspected as though they were documents forwarded to the Assembly by a constituency returning officer¹⁹.

If any person incurs, or aids, abets, counsels or procures any other person to incur, any expenses in contravention of the provisions restricting unauthorised expenses²⁰, or knowingly makes the declaration falsely, he is guilty of a corrupt practice, and if a person fails to deliver or send any declaration or return a copy of it as required, he is guilty of an illegal practice²¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'payment' for these purposes see PARA 275 note 2 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reference is to a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(3). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante. In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to an individual candidate: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(3). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante. In relation to a European parliamentary election, references to an election agent include a sub-agent: reg 46(7). As to the appointment of a sub-agent at a European parliamentary election see PARA 248 et seq ante.

7 For the meaning of 'appropriate officer' in relation to a parliamentary or local government election see PARA 238 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of the 'appropriate officer' in relation to a European parliamentary election see PARA 246 note 16 ante. In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the 'appropriate returning officer' is specified: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(3)(a). For the meaning of 'appropriate returning officer' at a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 242 note 7 ante.

8 The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante) or a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1) (b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

12 As to the forms prescribed for use at parliamentary or local government elections see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 4, 10(1), Sch 3 Form C (return of expenses required by section 75 of the 1983 Act), Form D (declaration as to expenses required by section 75 of the 1983 Act). The forms set out in Sch 3 or forms substantially to the like effect may be used with such variations as the circumstances may require: reg 4(2). At a parliamentary election in Wales, the forms set out in the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, arts 6(g), (h), 7, Sch 2 Form 7, Form 9 are prescribed as the version partly in Welsh and partly in English to be used at a parliamentary election in Wales in place of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 Form C, Form D (although forms substantially to the like effect may be used with such variations as the circumstances may require).

As to the forms prescribed for use at elections to the National Assembly for Wales see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(4), Sch 7 Form of return referred to in article 44(4), Form of declaration referred to in article 44(4).

The returning officer must forward to the relevant registration officer (within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 55 (as amended): see PARA 494 note 3 post) every document sent to him in pursuance of s 75(4) (as substituted): s 75(4B) (as so added).

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 113 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

20 See note 3 supra.

21 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(5) (as amended); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(5); and PARAS 690, 710 post. Any incapacity imposed by virtue of such a conviction as is mentioned in the text may be mitigated or entirely remitted if the court before which a person is convicted thinks it just in the special circumstances of the case: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(5)(i); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(6)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(5); and PARAS 690, 710 post. A candidate at a parliamentary, local government or Welsh Assembly election is not liable, nor is his election avoided, for such a corrupt or illegal practice committed by an agent without his consent or connivance: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(5)(ii); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(6)(ii); and PARAS 690, 710 post. As to liability where any act or omission of an association or body of persons, corporate or unincorporate, is an offence declared to be a corrupt or illegal practice as is mentioned in the text see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75(6); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44(7); the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 46(6); and PARAS 690, 710 post.

UPDATE

284 Return and declarations of expenses authorised by election agent

NOTE 12--SI 2005/1105 replaced: Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2007, SI 2007/1014.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/285. Returns as to candidates' election expenses.

285. Returns as to candidates' election expenses.

Within 35 days¹ after the day on which the result of a parliamentary election², an Authority election³ or an election under the local government Act⁴ is declared⁵ (and within 70 days after the day on which the result is declared in relation to the election of the Mayor of London⁶ or an ordinary election of the London members of the London Assembly⁷), the election agent⁸ of every candidate⁹ at that election must deliver to the appropriate officer¹⁰ a true return¹¹ containing as respects that candidate¹²:

- 342 (1) a statement of all election expenses incurred by or on behalf of the candidate¹³;
- 343 (2) a statement of all payments¹⁴ made by the election agent, together with all bills or receipts relating to the payments¹⁵;
- 344 (3) a statement relating to such other expenses in connection with which provision is made¹⁶ as the Electoral Commission provides in regulations¹⁷;
- 345 (4) a statement relating to such claims (whether paid, unpaid or disputed) in connection with such election expenses or such other expenses mentioned in head (3) above as the Electoral Commission so provides¹⁸; and
- 346 (5) a statement relating to such other matters as is prescribed¹⁹.

Within 35 days²⁰ after the day on which the result or results of a Welsh Assembly election are declared²¹ and within 50 days²² after the day on which the result of a European parliamentary election is declared²³, the election agent of every candidate²⁴ at the election must deliver or cause to be delivered to the appropriate officer²⁵ a true return containing as respects that candidate²⁶:

- 347 (a) a statement of all election expenses incurred by or on behalf of the candidate²⁷;
- 348 (b) a statement of all payments made by the election agent, together with all bills or receipts relating to the payments²⁸;
- 349 (c) a statement of the amount of personal expenses paid by the candidate²⁹;
- 350 (d) a statement of the amount of necessary and other petty expenses paid by persons authorised in writing or by the candidate's election agent³⁰;
- 351 (e) a statement of all disputed claims of which the election agent is aware³¹;
- 352 (f) a statement of all the unpaid claims, if any, of which the election agent is aware, in respect of which application has been or is about to be made to the High Court or county court³²;
- 353 (g) any declarations of value falling to be made by the candidate's election agent of expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate otherwise than for the purposes of the candidate's election but which fall to be regarded³³ as election expenses, or of property, goods, services or facilities provided free of charge or at a discount of more than 10 per cent which are treated³⁴ as election expenses incurred by the candidate³⁵;

- 354 (h) a declaration of the amount of election expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate before the date when he becomes a candidate at the election but which fall to be regarded³⁶ as election expenses³⁷;
- 355 (i) a statement of donations recording the required particulars in relation to relevant donations³⁸ which were made by permissible donors³⁹ and impermissible donors⁴⁰ and accepted by the candidate or his election agent⁴¹;
- 356 (j) a statement of the amount, if any, of money provided by the candidate from his own resources for the purpose of meeting election expenses incurred by him or on his behalf⁴².

In all cases, such a return must specify the poll by virtue of which the return is required⁴³, specify the name of the candidate to whom the return relates and of the candidate's election agent⁴⁴, and deal under a separate heading with any expenses included in it regarding which a return is required to be made, by the person incurring them, under the provisions relating to expenses required to be authorised by the election agent⁴⁵.

If, subsequent to the delivery of the return, permission is given by the court for the payment of a statute-barred or disputed claim⁴⁶, the agent who incurred the expense (in the case of a European parliamentary election⁴⁷), or either the candidate or his election agent (otherwise), must within seven days after the payment deliver to the appropriate officer a return of the sums paid in pursuance of the permission, accompanied by a copy of the court's order giving the permission; in default he is deemed to have failed to comply with the statutory requirements as to returns without authorised excuse⁴⁸. Failure to comply with the requirements of the provisions governing returns as to election expenses constitutes an illegal practice⁴⁹.

It would appear that expenses ought to be returned as election expenses notwithstanding that they were incurred illegally⁵⁰.

1 As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 237 note 11 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; but see also the text and notes 6-7 infra.

4 As to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1) (b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(1). As to the declaration of the result of a parliamentary election, an Authority election or an election under the local government Act see PARA 478 et seq post.

6 Ibid s 81(1); applied and modified by s 81(1A)(a) (s 81(1A) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 23(1), (2)). As to elections for the return of an elected Mayor of London see PARA 206 et seq ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(1); applied and modified by s 81(1A)(b) (as added: see note 6 supra). In relation to the election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, the time limit of 70 days takes effect after the day on which the last of the successful candidates at the election is declared to be returned: see s 81(1A)(b) (as so added). For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante. As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante.

8 As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

9 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'appropriate officer' in relation to a parliamentary or local government election see PARA 238 note 5 ante.

11 If there are no expenses to be entered under any particular head, they should be returned as 'nil'; even if no election expenses were incurred at all, the delivery of a return and declaration is still required: see Ex p Pennington (1898) 46 WR 415, DC; Ex p Robson (1886) 18 QBD 336. In East Clare Case (1892) Day 161 at 166, it was unsuccessfully urged that the return was bad because it showed the receipt of £100 which had not been received at the time of making the return. The election agent is not responsible for the untruth of a statement made by the candidate as to his personal expenses: Cork, Eastern Division, Case (1911) 6 O'M & H 318 at 350.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 27; and the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 138, Sch 18 paras 1, 7(1), (2)). Where a registered political party submits a list of two or more candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, the return which the election agent is required to deliver must be in respect of all those candidates (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(6), (7)(a) (s 81(6)-(11) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 23(1), (3)); and the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(1)-(5) (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-11 supra, 13-19, 43-48 infra) has effect in relation to those candidates and their election agent with the following modifications (s 81(6) (as so added)): if any payments made by the election agent were in respect of two or more candidates, the return must deal under a separate heading or subsection with all such payments, and the expenses to which they relate, in respect of those candidates (s 81(8) (as so added)); the statements which the return is required to contain by virtue of heads (3)-(5) in the text in respect of the matters there mentioned must be a separate statement as respects each of the candidates in question (s 81(9) (as so added; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), (2), Sch 1 paras 104, 114, 133, Sch 2)); and if and to the extent that any such matter is referable to two or more candidates together, the return must contain a separate statement of that matter as respects those candidates (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(10) (as so added)). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 26 or Sch 1 paras 104, 114, Sch 2 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. For the meaning of 'registered political party' in relation to elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 233 note 16 ante; and as to references to party lists in that context see PARA 262 note 24 ante. As to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

In relation to parliamentary and applicable local government elections, the Electoral Commission may, by regulations, prescribe a form of return which may be used for the purposes of making any (or any description of) return required by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81 (as amended): s 81(10A) (added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 18 paras 1, 7(1), (7)). The form of the return as to election expenses was formerly contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81, Sch 3 (Form of return) (repealed), which provided examples of items regarded as constituting election expenses. Regulations made by the Electoral Commission are not statutory instruments and are not recorded in this work: see further PARA 42 ante. As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(1)(a) (s 81(1)(a), (b) added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 18 paras 1, 7(1), (2)). 24 In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reference is to a candidate at a constituency election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50(1)(a)) or to an individual candidate at a regional election (art 50(1)(b)). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to an individual candidate at the election: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51(1). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

25 For the meaning of 'appropriate officer' in relation to a European parliamentary election see PARA 246 note 16 ante. In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the 'appropriate returning officer' is specified: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50(1). For the meaning of 'appropriate returning officer' at a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 242 note 7 ante.

As to the content of returns and the election agent's liability for any untruths contained therein see note 11 supra. In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the return must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 7 (Form of return referred to in article 50(1)), or to the like effect: art 50(1).

29 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50(3)(a)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51(3)(a)(i). The text refers to the personal expenses paid by the candidate at a Welsh Assembly election in accordance with the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(1) or art 42(3) or by an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election in accordance with the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(1) or reg 44(2) (see PARA 276 ante); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50(3)(a)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51(3)(a)(i).

In the case of the candidate at a Welsh Assembly election, the statement must be accompanied by all bills or receipts relating to any such payments made in accordance with the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 42(3) or art 42(5) (see PARA 276 ante): art 50(3)(a). In the case of an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election, the statement must be accompanied by all bills or receipts relating to any such payments made in accordance with the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 44(2) or reg 44(4) (see PARA 276 ante): reg 51(3)(a). Within 50 days after the day on which the result of a European parliamentary election is declared, every candidate on the list of a registered party must also deliver or cause to be delivered to the appropriate officer a true return containing as respects that candidate a statement of all personal expenses incurred by him on account of or incidental to the election: reg 53(1). It is a corrupt practice for a candidate knowingly to make such a return falsely: see reg 53(2); and PARA 711 note 7 post. For the meanings of 'list' and 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 237 note 30 ante. As to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

UPDATE

285 Returns as to candidates' election expenses

NOTES 36, 37--SI 2004/293 reg 51(3)(e) amended: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/286. Declarations as to election expenses.

286. Declarations as to election expenses.

The return as to election expenses¹ as delivered must be accompanied by a declaration made by the election agent² in the appropriate form³. At the same time as the election agent delivers the return, or within seven days⁴ afterwards, the candidate⁵ must deliver to the appropriate officer⁶ a declaration made by him in the appropriate form⁷. Where the candidate is out of the United Kingdom⁸ at the time when the return is so delivered⁹, his declaration may be made within 14 days after his return to the United Kingdom¹⁰, and in that case must be forthwith delivered to the appropriate officer¹¹, but such delay in making his declaration will not exonerate the election agent from complying with the statutory provisions relating to the return and declaration as to election expenses¹².

In the case of a regional election to the National Assembly for Wales, at the same time as the treasurer of a registered political party¹³ delivers a return as to the party's campaign expenditure¹⁴ (or within seven days thereafter) each candidate on a regional list submitted by that registered party¹⁵ must deliver to the Assembly a declaration made by that candidate in the appropriate form¹⁶. Where any such candidate is out of the United Kingdom when the return is so delivered¹⁷, the declaration may be made by him within 14 days after his return to the United Kingdom¹⁸ and in that case the declaration must forthwith be delivered to the Assembly¹⁹, but the delay so authorised in making the declaration does not exonerate the treasurer of the registered party from complying with the statutory provisions relating to the return of party expenditure²⁰.

Failure to comply with the requirements of the provisions governing declarations as to election expenses constitutes an illegal practice²¹. If a candidate or election agent knowingly makes the required declaration falsely, he is guilty of a corrupt practice²².

1 'Return as to election expenses' means a return (including the bills and receipts to be delivered with it) to be made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81(1) (as amended) (or, as the case may be, s 90(1)(b), Sch 4 para 3 (both as amended) (expenses at elections where election agent not required: see PARA 300 post)) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50(1) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51(1) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 285 ante): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118 (definition amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 43); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 83; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 31(1). For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante.

The election referred to may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 51(2)) or a European parliamentary election (see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 52(1)). For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1) (b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 Sch 4 para 28; and the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 24(1), (2)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 51(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 52(1). If the declarant is aware of any payment of election expenses having been made which ought to have been, but was not, made by the election agent and which therefore constitutes an illegal practice (as to which see PARA 275 ante), the payment should be disclosed in the declaration: see Cork, Eastern Division, Case (1911) 6 O'M & H 318 at 351.

For these purposes, in relation to a parliamentary or appropriate local government election, the 'appropriate form' is: (1) in the case of the election agent for the candidates on a list submitted under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(6), Sch 2 para 5 (election of London members: see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 98) by a registered political party, the form set out for the purpose in rules under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(2A) (as added) (as to which see PARA 388 post) (s 82(2A)(a) (s 82(2A) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 24(1), (4))); and (2) in any other case, the form in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82, Sch 3 (s 82(2A)(c) (as so added)). For the meaning of 'registered political party' in relation to elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 233 note 16 ante; and as to references to party lists in that context see PARA 262 note 24 ante. In relation to head (1) supra, the form of the declaration required by s 82(1) (as amended) (declaration by agent) in the circumstances mentioned in s 82(2A)(a) (as added) is that set out in the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 4, Sch 5 Form 17 Pt I (form of declaration as to election expenses by election agent who was not also list candidate) (added by SI 2000/1040; and substituted by SI 2001/3789): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 2 r 60(1). Where one of the candidates included in a list mentioned in head (1) supra is the election agent for those candidates, the declaration required by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82(1) (as amended) is instead modified as specified in the form set out in the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 5 Form 17 Pt II (modifications to form of declaration set out in part I where a candidate included in a list is the election agent for candidates on that list) (as so added and substituted): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82(5A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 24(1), (6)); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 60(2). In relation to head (2) supra, see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 3 (Form of declarations) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 68(19); the Representation of the People Act 1985 Sch 4 para 88; and the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 138, 158(2), (3)(a), Sch 18 paras 1, 16(b), Sch 22). Where the candidate at a parliamentary or local government election is his own election agent (see PARAS 238-239 ante), the declaration by an election agent as to election expenses need not be made and the declaration by the candidate as to election expenses (see the text and notes 4-7 infra) is to be modified as specified in the form in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 3 (as amended): s 82(5).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the declaration must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 7 (Form of declaration referred to in article 51(1) and (2)): art 51(1). Where a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election is his own election agent, the declaration by the election agent as to the election expenses need not be made: art 51(4). See also notes 5, 7 infra. For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the 'appropriate form' is the form in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 52(3), Sch 7 (Form of declaration): reg 52(3). Where the candidate is his own election agent, the declaration by an election agent as to election expenses need not be made: reg 52(5). See also note 7 infra.

4 As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 237 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reference is to a candidate at a constituency election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 51(2)(a)) or an individual candidate at a regional election (art 51(2)(b)). As to party list candidates see the text and notes 13-20 infra. In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference is to an individual candidate: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51(1). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'appropriate officer' in relation to a parliamentary or local government election see PARA 238 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of the 'appropriate officer' in relation to a European parliamentary election see PARA 246 note 16 ante. In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the 'appropriate returning officer' is specified: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 51(2). For the meaning of 'appropriate returning officer' at a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 242 note 7 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82(2) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 Sch 4 para 28; and the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 24(1), (3)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 51(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 52(2). See also note 3 supra.

For these purposes, in relation to a parliamentary or appropriate local government election, the 'appropriate form': (1) in the case of any of the candidates included in a list submitted under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 5 (election of London members: see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 98) by a registered political party, the form set out for the purpose in rules under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(2A) (as added) (as to which see PARA 388 post) (s 82(2A)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra)); and (2) in any other case, is the form in Sch 3 (s 82(2A)(c) (as so added)). In relation to head (1) supra, the form of the declaration required by s 82(2) (as amended) in the circumstances mentioned in s 82(2A)(b) (as added) is that set out in the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 5 Form 18 Pt I (form of declaration as to election expenses by list candidate who was not also election agent) (added by SI 2000/1040; and substituted by SI 2001/3789): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 60(3). Where one of the candidates included in a list mentioned in head (1) supra is the election agent for those candidates, the declaration required by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82(2) (as amended) is instead modified as specified in the form set out in the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 5 Form 18 Pt II (modifications to form of declaration set out in part I where a candidate included in a list is the election agent for candidates on that list) (as so added and substituted): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82(5A) (as added: see note 3 supra); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 60(4). In relation to head (2) supra, see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 3 (Form of declarations) (as amended: see note 3 supra).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the declaration must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 7 (Form of declaration referred to in article 51(1) and (2)): art 51(2). Where a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election is his own election agent, the declaration by the candidate as to election expenses must be modified as specified in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 7: art 51(4). See also note 3 supra.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the 'appropriate form' is the form in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 52(3), Sch 7 (Form of declaration): reg 52(3). Where the candidate is his own election agent, the declaration by the candidate as to election expenses must be modified as specified in the form in Sch 7: reg 52(5). As to the version partly in Welsh and partly in English which must be used at a European parliamentary election in Wales see the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1373, art 6(j), Sch 2 (Form 13: declaration as to election expenses). See also note 3 supra.

8 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. In the case of an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election who is resident in Gibraltar standing for election in the combined region, Gibraltar is specified: see reg 52(4). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to the combined region see PARA 76 ante.

NOTES 3, 7--SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Elections Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

NOTE 7--SI 2004/1373 replaced: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2009, SI 2009/781, art 6(1)(s), Sch 2 (Form 19: declaration as to election expenses).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/287. Circumstances where returns or declarations as to election expenses not required.

287. Circumstances where returns or declarations as to election expenses not required.

No return¹ or declaration as to election expenses² is required in the case of a person who is a candidate³ at a parliamentary election⁴ or at a Welsh Assembly election⁵, but is so only because he has been declared by others to be a candidate⁶, and who has not consented to the declaration or taken any part as a candidate in the election⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'return as to election expenses' see PARA 286 note 1 ante.

2 'Declaration as to election expenses' means a declaration made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 82 (as amended) (or, as the case may be, s 90(1)(b), Sch 4 para 3 (both as amended): see PARA 298 post) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 51 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 52 (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 286 ante): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118 (definition amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 43); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 83; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 31(1).

3 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 83 does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 83(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 53(a).

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 83(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 53(b). As to a candidate's liability see PARAS 237, 265 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/B. PAYMENT OF ELECTION EXPENSES/288. Publication of time and place for inspection of returns and declarations as to election expenses.

288. Publication of time and place for inspection of returns and declarations as to election expenses.

At a parliamentary¹, Authority², Welsh Assembly³ or European parliamentary election⁴, the returning officer⁵ must, within ten days⁶ after the end of the time allowed for delivering to him returns as to election expenses⁷, publish in not less than two newspapers circulating in the constituency or electoral area⁸, or not less than three newspapers circulating in the Welsh Assembly electoral region⁹, or at least one newspaper circulating in the European parliamentary electoral region¹⁰, for which the election was held¹¹, and must send to each of the election agents¹², a notice of the time and place at which the returns and declarations¹³ (including the accompanying documents) can be inspected¹⁴.

At an Assembly ordinary election¹⁵ or at an Assembly regional election other than at an ordinary election, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶ must, within ten days after the end of the time allowed for delivering to it returns as to election expenses¹⁷: (1) in the case of an ordinary election, publish in not less than five newspapers circulating in Wales¹⁸; (2) in the case of a regional election other than at an ordinary election, publish in not less than three newspapers circulating in the Assembly electoral region for which the election was held¹⁹; and (3) send to each of the election agents for individual candidates, in the case of an ordinary election, at regional elections at the ordinary election or, in the case of a regional election other than at an ordinary election, at the regional election, a notice of the time and place at which the returns and declarations (including the accompanying documents) can be inspected²⁰.

However, if any return or declaration has not been received by the returning officer (or, alternatively, by the Assembly, in the case of Welsh Assembly elections) before the notice is dispatched for publication, the notice must so state, and a like notice about that return or declaration, if received afterwards, must within ten days after the receipt be published in like manner²¹ and sent to each of the persons to whom the first notice was sent other than an agent who is in default or an agent for a candidate who is in default²².

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 88 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 88 (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 27(1), (2)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 59(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 58(1). As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

5 As to returning officers for elections generally see PARA 355 et seq post.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the 'appropriate returning officer' is specified: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 59(1). For the meaning of 'appropriate returning officer' at a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 242 note 7 ante.

6 As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 237 ante.

Inspection of returns and declarations as to election expenses.

289. Inspection of returns and declarations as to election expenses.

Where the appropriate officer¹ receives any return² or declaration as to election expenses³ in respect of a parliamentary election⁴, a local government election⁵, a Welsh Assembly election⁶, or a European parliamentary election⁷, or (except in relation to a European parliamentary election) any return or declaration as to expenses required to be authorised by the election agent⁸: (1) he must, as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving the return or declaration, make a copy of it, and any accompanying documents, available for public inspection at his office or at some other convenient place chosen by him, for a period of two years (or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, 12 months) beginning with the date when the return is received by him⁹; and (2) if requested to do so by any person, he must supply that person with a copy of the return or declaration and any accompanying documents, on payment of the fee that is specified or prescribed¹⁰. After the expiry of those two years (or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, 12 months), the appropriate officer may cause those returns and declarations, including the accompanying documents, to be destroyed¹¹. Alternatively, at an election other than a European parliamentary election, if the candidate¹² or his election agent¹³ so requires, the appropriate officer may return the documents, in the case of returns and declarations as to election expenses, to the candidate¹⁴ and, in the case of returns and declarations by persons who have incurred expenses required to be authorised by the election agent¹⁵, to the person delivering them if he so requires¹⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'appropriate officer' in relation to a parliamentary or local government election see PARA 238 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of the 'appropriate officer' in relation to a European parliamentary election see PARA 246 note 16 ante. For the meaning of 'appropriate returning officer', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 242 note 7 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'return as to election expenses' see PARA 286 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante; and for the meaning of 'declaration as to election expenses' see PARA 287 note 2 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89 (as amended) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. As to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89(1) (s 89(1) substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 138, Sch 18 paras 1, 10); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 59(1). As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89(1) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(1). The text refers to a return or declaration under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (as amended) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 44 (see PARA 277 ante).

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 59(1)(a). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, a fee of £1.50 is payable for inspecting a return or declaration (including any accompanying documents) referred to in head (1) in the text: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(3). The National Assembly for Wales may by order made by statutory instrument vary the amount of any fee so payable: art 60(7).

If any such return contains a statement of donations in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A, Sch 2A para 10 (as added and amended) (see PARA 297 post) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50(3)(f) (see PARA 285 ante) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51(3)(f) (see PARA 285 ante), the appropriate officer must secure that the copy of the statement made available for public inspection under head (1) in the text or (as the case may be) supplied under head (2) in the text does not include, in the case of any donation by an individual, the donor's address: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89(1A) (added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 18 paras 1, 10; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 115); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 59(2).

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 115 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 59(1)(b).

If any such return contains a statement of donations in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A, Sch 2A para 10 (as added and amended) (see PARA 297 post) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50(3)(f) (see PARA 285 ante) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51(3)(f) (see PARA 285 ante), the appropriate officer must secure that the copy of the statement supplied under head (2) in the text does not include, in the case of any donation by an individual, the donor's address: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89(1A) (as added and amended: see note 9 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 59(2).

In relation to a parliamentary or local government election, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). Accordingly, the price of a copy of any such return, declaration or any accompanying document is at the rate of 20p for each side of each page: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 10(3) (amended by SI 2002/1871). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the fee payable for a copy of any such return, declaration or document referred to in head (2) in the text is at the rate of 15p for each side of each page: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(4). The National Assembly for Wales may by order made by statutory instrument vary the amount of any fee so payable: art 60(7).

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 89(2)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 60(5)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 59(3).

12 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

13 As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante.

Delivery of returns and declarations as to election expenses to the Electoral Commission.

290. Delivery of returns and declarations as to election expenses to the Electoral Commission.

Where the appropriate officer¹ receives any return² or declaration as to election expenses³, or any return or declaration as to expenses required to be authorised by the election agent⁴, in respect of a parliamentary election⁵, an election of the Mayor of London⁶, a Welsh Assembly election⁷, or a European parliamentary election⁸, he must as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving the return or declaration deliver a copy of it to the Electoral Commission⁹ and, if so requested by the Commission, he must also deliver to it a copy of any accompanying documents¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'appropriate officer' in relation to a parliamentary or local government election see PARA 238 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of the 'appropriate officer' in relation to a European parliamentary election see PARA 246 note 16 ante. In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the 'appropriate returning officer' is specified: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 58. For the meaning of 'appropriate returning officer' at a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 242 note 7 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'return as to election expenses' see PARA 286 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante; and for the meaning of 'declaration as to election expenses' see PARA 287 note 2 ante.

4 See under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (as amended) (see PARA 277 ante).

5 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

6 As to elections for the return of an elected Mayor of London see PARA 206 et seq ante. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 87A (as added) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

8 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

9 As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 87A(1) (s 87A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 138, Sch 18 paras 1, 9); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 58; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 57. Where the appropriate officer at a parliamentary election or an election of the Mayor of London receives any return or declaration in respect of any other election, he must, if so requested by the Electoral Commission, deliver to it a copy of the return and any accompanying documents: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 87A(2) (as so added).

UPDATE

290 Delivery of returns and declarations as to election expenses to the Electoral Commission

NOTE 6--1983 Act s 87A applied (with minor modification) for the purposes of local authority mayoral elections by the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1024, reg 3(2)-(5), Sch 2 Table 1.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/C. CONTROL OF DONATIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES DURING ELECTIONS/291. Restriction on contributions made to candidates for meeting election expenses.

C. CONTROL OF DONATIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES DURING ELECTIONS

291. Restriction on contributions made to candidates for meeting election expenses.

In the case of any candidate¹ at an election², any money or other property³ provided whether as a gift or loan⁴: (1) by any person other than the candidate or his election agent⁵; and (2) for the purpose of meeting election expenses incurred by or on behalf of the candidate⁶, must be provided to the candidate or his election agent⁷. However, this does not apply to any money or other property so provided for the purpose of meeting any such expenses which may be lawfully paid by a person other than the candidate, his election agent or any sub-agent (in the case of an election where sub-agents may be appointed)⁸. A person who provides any money or other property in contravention of these provisions is guilty of an illegal practice⁹.

The making of donations to candidates at elections is subject to restrictions¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' for the purposes of: (1) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(1)); or (2) European parliamentary elections (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(1)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

2 I.e. at a parliamentary election, Authority election or election under the local government Act (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1)) or a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A (as added) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

3 For these purposes, 'property' includes any description of property; and references to the provision of property accordingly include the supply of goods: ibid s 71A(5) (s 71A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 130(1), (2), (4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(5). As to the meaning of 'money' see PARA 275 note 2 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/C. CONTROL OF DONATIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES DURING ELECTIONS/292. Meaning of 'donation' in relation to candidates at an election.

292. Meaning of 'donation' in relation to candidates at an election.

For the purposes of controlling donations to candidates¹ at an election², 'donation' means, in relation to such a candidate at such an election³: (1) any gift⁴ to the candidate or his election agent⁵ of money or other property⁶; (2) any sponsorship provided in relation to the candidate⁷; (3) any money spent (otherwise than by the candidate, his election agent or any sub-agent⁸) in paying any election expenses⁹ incurred by or on behalf of the candidate¹⁰; (4) any money lent to the candidate or his election agent otherwise than on commercial terms¹¹; (5) the provision otherwise than on commercial terms of any property, services or facilities for the use or benefit of the candidate (including the services of any person)¹². Where anything would be a donation both by virtue of head (2) above and by virtue of any other provision mentioned in head (1) or heads (3) to (5) above, head (2) above applies in relation to that donation to the exclusion of the other provision¹³. Any donation whose value is not more than £50 is disregarded¹⁴; and none of the following is to be regarded as a donation: (a) the provision of any facilities provided in pursuance of any right conferred on a candidate at an election by the relevant statutory provisions¹⁵; (b) the provision by an individual of his own services which he provides voluntarily in his own time and free of charge¹⁶; (c) any interest accruing to a candidate or his election agent in respect of any donation which is sent back by the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent¹⁷.

For these purposes, 'sponsorship' is provided in relation to a candidate if any money or other property is transferred to the candidate or to any person for the benefit of the candidate¹⁸ and the purpose (or one of the purposes) of the transfer is, or must, having regard to all the circumstances, reasonably be assumed to be¹⁹ either to help the candidate with meeting, or to meet, to any extent any defined expenses²⁰ incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of the candidate²¹ or to secure that to any extent any such expenses are not so incurred²². However, for these purposes: (i) the making of any payment in respect of any charge for admission to any conference, meeting or other event²³ or in respect of the purchase price of, or any other charge for access to, any publication²⁴; or (ii) the making of any payment in respect of the inclusion of an advertisement in any publication where the payment is made at the commercial rate payable for the inclusion of such an advertisement in any such publication²⁵, do not constitute sponsorship²⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' for the purposes of: (1) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(1)); or (2) European parliamentary elections (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(3)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A para 1(1), (2) (s 71A, Sch 2A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 130(1)-(4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(1), (2).

For these purposes, 'donation' is to be construed in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A paras 2-4 (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI

2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 paras 2-4, or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 paras 2-4, as the case may be (see the text and notes 3-26 infra): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 1(5) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 1(6). The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A (as added) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

3 Ibid Sch 2A para 2(1) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1). This provision is subject to the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 4 (as added) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 4 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 4, as the case may be (see the text and notes 14-17 infra).

4 For these purposes, 'gift' includes a bequest or any other form of testamentary disposition: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(6)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(6)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(6)(b).

5 For these purposes, any reference to anything being given or transferred to a candidate or his election agent includes a reference to its being given or transferred either directly or indirectly through any third person: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(6)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(6)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(6)(a).

Any reference to a donation received by a candidate when he is (or is deemed to be) his own election agent includes a reference to a donation received by a candidate on a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election who is, or is deemed to be, the election agent of all the candidates on the list (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 1(9) (as so added)); and any donation which is received by such a candidate is regarded as received by him in his capacity as election agent (Sch 2A para 1(10) (as so added)). As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante; and as to the appointment of an election agent see PARA 238 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(a). Where: (1) any money or other property is transferred to a candidate or his election agent pursuant to any transaction or arrangement involving the provision by or on behalf of the candidate of any property, services or facilities or other consideration of monetary value (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(2)(a) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(2)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(2)(a)); and (2) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration so provided by or on behalf of the candidate is less than the value of the money or (as the case may be) the market value of the property transferred (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(2)(b) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(2)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(2)(b)), the transfer of the money or property constitute a gift to the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(a) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(a) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(a) (whichever is appropriate), but subject to the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(4) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(4) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(4) (see the text and note 13 infra) (whichever is appropriate) (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(2) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(2)).

The value of any donation falling within the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(a) (as added), other than money, must be taken to be the market value of the property in question: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(1) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(1). However, where the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(a) (as added) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(a) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(a) applies by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(2) (as added) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(2) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(2), the value of the donation must be taken to be the difference between: (a) the value of the money (or the market value of the property) in question (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(2)(a) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(2)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5(2)(a)); and (b) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration provided by or on behalf of the candidate or his election agent (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(2)(b) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(2)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5(2)(b)). For this purpose, 'market value', in relation to any property, means the price which might reasonably be expected to be paid for the property on a sale in the open market: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(6) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5(6). As to the meaning of 'property' for these purposes see PARA 291 note 3 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(b). For these purposes, sponsorship provided in relation to the candidate is defined by the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 3 (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 3 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 3 (see the text and notes 18-26 infra) (whichever is appropriate): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(b) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(b). The value of any donation falling within the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(b) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(b) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(b) (whichever is appropriate) is taken to be the value of the money or (as the case may be) the market value of the property, transferred as mentioned in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 3(1) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 3(1) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 3(1) (see the text and notes 18-22 infra); and accordingly any value in monetary terms of any benefit conferred on the person providing the sponsorship in question must be disregarded: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(3) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5(3).

8 A sub-agent may be appointed for a parliamentary election in a county constituency or for an Authority election (see PARA 240 ante), for elections to the National Assembly for Wales (see PARA 244 ante) or for European parliamentary elections (see PARA 248 ante).

9 For the meaning of 'election expenses' see PARA 274 ante.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(c). For the meaning of 'election expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate' see PARA 274 note 15 ante. The reference in the text to money spent is a reference to money so spent by a person, other than the candidate, his election agent or any sub-agent, out of his own resources, with no right to reimbursement out of the resources of any such other person; and where, by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(c) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(c) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(c) (whichever is appropriate), money so spent constitutes a donation to the candidate, the candidate is treated as receiving an equivalent amount on the date on which the money is paid to the creditor in respect of the expenses in question: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(5) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(5).

A donation to the candidate or his election agent for the purpose of meeting election expenses incurred by or on behalf of the candidate is referred to as a 'relevant donation' (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 1(3) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 1(4)), and includes a reference to a donation for the purpose of securing that any such expenses are not so incurred (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 1(4) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 1(5)); and a donation is taken to be a donation for either of those purposes if, having regard to all the circumstances, it must be reasonably assumed to be such a donation (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 1(4) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 1(5)).

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(d) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(d). In determining, for these purposes, whether any money lent to a candidate or his election agent is so lent otherwise than on commercial terms (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(3)(a) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(3)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(3)(a)), regard must be had to the total value in monetary terms of the consideration provided by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of the loan or the provision of the property, services or facilities (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(3) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(3)). The value of any donation falling within the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(d) (as added) or Sch 2A para 2(1)(e) (as added) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(d) or Sch 6 para 2(1)(e) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(e) (see head (5) in the text) is taken to be the amount representing the difference between: (1) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration that would have had to be provided by or on behalf of the candidate or his election agent in respect of the loan or the provision of the property, services or facilities if the loan had been made or the property, services or facilities had been provided, on commercial terms (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(4)(a) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(4)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5(4)(a)); and (2) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration, if any, actually so provided by or on behalf of the candidate or his election agent (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(4)(b) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(4)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5(4)(b)). Where such a donation confers an enduring benefit on the donee over a particular period, the value of the donation is determined at the time when it is made, but must be so determined by reference to the total benefit accruing to the donee over that period: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5(5) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5(5).

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(1)(e) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(1)(e); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(1)(e). In determining, for these purposes, whether any property, services or facilities provided for the use or benefit of a candidate is or are so provided otherwise than on commercial terms (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(3)(b) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(3)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(3)(b)), regard must be had to the total value in monetary terms of the consideration provided by or on behalf of the candidate in respect of the loan or the provision of the property, services or facilities (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(3) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(3)). See also note 11 supra.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(4) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(4). In the circumstances mentioned in the text, the general provisions as to sponsorship (see the text and notes 18-26 infra) apply as well as the provision mentioned in head (2) in the text: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 2(4) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 2(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 2(4).

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 4(2) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 4(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 4(2). The value is determined in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5 (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5 (see notes 6-7, 11 supra) (whichever is appropriate).

15 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 4(1)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 4(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 4(1)(a). The text refers to any right conferred on a candidate at an election by the Representation of the People Act 1983, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293 (whichever is appropriate).

16 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 4(1)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 4(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 4(1)(b).

17 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 4(1)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 4(1)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 4(1)(c). The text refers to a donation which is dealt with by the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent in accordance with the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 56(2)(a), (b), as applied by the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 7 (as added) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 7 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 7 (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 294 post).

18 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 3(1)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 3(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 3(1)(a).

19 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 3(1)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 3(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 3(1)(b).

20 For this purpose, 'defined expenses' means expenses in connection with: (1) any conference, meeting or other event organised by or on behalf of the candidate; (2) the preparation, production or dissemination of any publication by or on behalf of the candidate; or (3) any study or research organised by or on behalf of the candidate: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 3(2) (as added: see note 2 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 3(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 3(2). For this purpose, 'publication' means a publication made available in whatever form and by whatever means, whether or not to the public at large or any section of the public: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 3(6) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 3(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 3(4).

The Secretary of State may by order made on the recommendation of the Electoral Commission amend the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 3(2) (as added) or Sch 2A para 3(3) (as added) (see the text and notes 23-26 infra): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A paras 1(8), 3(4) (as so added). Any such order must be made by statutory instrument; but no such order is to be made unless a draft of the order has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: Sch 2A para 3(5) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante; and as to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/C. CONTROL OF DONATIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES DURING ELECTIONS/293. Restrictions on candidates at an election accepting certain donations.

293. Restrictions on candidates at an election accepting certain donations.

For the purposes of controlling donations¹ to candidates² at an election³, a relevant donation⁴ received by a candidate or his election agent⁵ must not be accepted⁶ if: (1) the person by whom the donation would be made is not, at the time of its receipt by the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent, a permissible donor⁷; or (2) the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent is, whether because the donation is given anonymously or by reason of any deception or concealment or otherwise, unable to ascertain the identity of the person offering the donation⁸. A 'permissible donor' referred to in head (1) above is any of the following: (a) an individual registered in an electoral register⁹; (b) a company registered under the Companies Act 1985 and incorporated within the United Kingdom¹⁰ or another member state which carries on business in the United Kingdom¹¹; (c) a registered party¹²; (d) a trade union entered in the list kept under the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992¹³; (e) a building society¹⁴; (f) a limited liability partnership registered under the Limited Liability Partnerships Act 2000 which carries on business in the United Kingdom¹⁵; (g) a friendly society registered under the Friendly Societies Act 1974¹⁶ or a society registered (or deemed to be registered) under the Industrial and Provident Societies Act 1965¹⁷; and (h) any unincorporated association of two or more persons which does not fall within any of the heads (a) to (g) above but which carries on business or other activities wholly or mainly in the United Kingdom and whose main office is there¹⁸.

For these purposes, where any person (the 'principal donor') causes an amount (the 'principal donation') to be received by a candidate or his election agent by way of a relevant donation either on behalf of himself and one or more other persons¹⁹ or on behalf of two or more other persons²⁰, then for the purposes of the provisions relating to the controls on donations received by candidates at an election²¹, each individual contribution by either such person of more than £50 is treated as if it were a separate donation received from that person²². Also, where any person (the 'agent') causes an amount to be received by a candidate or his election agent by way of a donation on behalf of another person (the 'donor')²³, and the amount of the donation is more than £50²⁴, the agent must ensure that, at the time when the donation is received by the candidate or his election agent, the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent is given all such details in respect of the donor as are required to be included in donation reports²⁵.

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with the provisions which impose controls on donations made through other persons or through agents²⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'donation' in relation to candidates at an election see PARA 292 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' for the purposes of: (1) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(1)); or (2) European parliamentary elections (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(3)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A para 1(1), (2) (s 71A, Sch 2A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 130(1)-(4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(1), (2).

The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A (as added) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante. As to the application of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6 to an individual candidate (or his election agent) at a European parliamentary election in the combined region see Sch 6 para 6(9). As to the combined region and Gibraltar see PARA 76 ante.

5 As to the appointment of an election agent see PARA 238 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(1) (as added: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 para 6(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(1).

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(1)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(1)(a). The text refers to a permissible donor falling within the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(2) (as amended) (see heads (a)-(h) in the text). For these purposes, any relevant donation received by a candidate or his election agent which is an exempt trust donation is regarded as a relevant donation received by the candidate or his election agent from such a permissible donor: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(2) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(2). However, any relevant donation received by a candidate or his election agent from a trustee of any property (in his capacity as such) is regarded as being from a person who is not such a permissible donor if that donation is not: (1) an exempt trust donation; or (2) a relevant donation transmitted by the trustee to the candidate or his election agent on behalf of beneficiaries under the trust who are either persons who, at the time of its receipt by the candidate or his election agent, are such permissible donors or the members of an unincorporated association which at that time is such a permissible donor: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(3) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(3).

The definition of 'exempt trust donation' in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 162 (as amended) applies for these purposes as it applies for the purposes of that Act: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(2) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(2). Accordingly, 'exempt trust donation' means: (a) any donation received from a trustee of any property in accordance with the terms of a trust which was created before 27 July 1999, to which no property has been transferred on or after that date, and whose terms have not been varied on or after that date, provided that, at or before the time of the receipt of the donation, the trustee gives the recipient of the donation the full name of the person who created the trust and of every other person by whom, or under whose will, property was transferred to the trust before that date (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 162(1)(a), (2) (as so applied)); (b) any donation received from a trustee of any property in accordance with the terms of a trust which was created by a person who was a permissible donor falling within s 54(2) (as amended) (see heads (a)-(h) in the text) at the time when the trust was created, or the will of a person who was, at any time within the period of five years ending with the date of his death, registered in an electoral register, and to which no property has been transferred otherwise than by a person who was a permissible donor falling within s 54(2) (as amended) at the time of the transfer, or under the will of a person who was, at any time within the period of five years ending with the date of his death, registered in an electoral register, provided that, at or before the time of the receipt of the donation, the trustee gives the recipient of the donation the relevant information (ss 54(3), 162(3) (as so applied)). However, the definition does not include a donation received from a trustee of any property pursuant to the exercise of any discretion vested by a trust in him or any other person: s 162(5) (as so applied). For these purposes, the 'relevant information' means the information which is required by virtue of ss 62, 63, Sch 6 para 2 (as amended) (identity of donors (quarterly reports): see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) to be given in respect of a recordable donation to which s 162(3) applies (s 162(4) (as so applied)); 'donation' means a donation for the purposes of the provisions of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 in which the relevant reference to an exempt trust donation occurs (s 162(6)(a) (as so applied)); 'property', in the context of the transfer of property to a trust, does not include any income of the trust (s 162(6)(b) (as so applied)); 'trust' includes a trust created by a will (s 162(6)(c) (as so applied)); and any reference to a donation received from a trustee is a reference to a donation received from a trustee in his capacity as such, other than a donation transmitted on behalf of a beneficiary under a trust (s 162(6)(d) (as so applied)).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(1)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(1)(b).

9 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(2)(a). For these purposes, 'electoral register' means any of the following: (1) a register of parliamentary or local government electors maintained under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9 (as substituted) (see PARA 156 ante) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(8)(a)); (2) a register of relevant citizens of the European Union prepared under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184 (see PARA 156 ante) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(8)(b) (amended by the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 11(b))); or (3) a register of peers prepared under regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 156 ante) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(8)(c)).

10 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

11 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(2)(b). As to the registration and incorporation of companies see COMPANIES vol 14 (2009) PARA 24 et seq; and as to the control of contributions and other donations made by companies to registered parties and other European Union political organisations, and European Union political expenditure incurred by companies, see the Companies Act 1985 Pt XA (ss 347A-347K) (as added); and COMPANIES vol 14 (2009) PARA 688 et seq.

12 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(2)(c) (amended by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Campaign Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 4(2), Schedule paras 1, 12(a)). For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante. The text refers to a registered party other than a Gibraltar party whose entry in the register includes a statement that it intends to contest one or more elections to the European Parliament in the combined region: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(2)(c) (as so amended). For these purposes, 'combined region' means the electoral region which includes Gibraltar, namely the South West electoral region: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 160(1) (definition added by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Campaign Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 4(2), Schedule paras 1, 31(a)(ii)). As to the establishment of electoral regions (including the combined region) for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 76 ante.

13 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(2)(d). As to the list referred to in the text see EMPLOYMENT vol 40 (2009) PARA 855. Unless certain conditions are met, the funds of a trade union may not be applied in the furtherance of certain political objects which include the expenditure of money in connection with the registration of electors, the candidature of any person, the selection of any candidate or the holding of any ballot by the union in connection with any election to a political office, or on the production, publication or distribution of any literature, document, film, sound recording or advertisement the main purpose of which is to persuade people to vote for a political party or candidate or to persuade them not to vote for a political party or candidate: see the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992 Pt I Ch VI (ss 71-96) (as amended); and EMPLOYMENT vol 40 (2009) PARA 924 et seq.

In relation to each such separate donation, the principal donor must ensure that, at the time when the principal donation is received by the candidate or his election agent, the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent is given, except in the case of a donation which the principal donor is treated as making, all such details in respect of the person treated as making the donation as are required by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 11(c) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 11(c) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 11(c) (see PARA 297 post) and, in any case, all such details in respect of the donation as are required by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 11(a) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 11(a) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 11(a) (see PARA 297 post): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(5) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(5).

UPDATE

293 Restrictions on candidates at an election accepting certain donations

NOTE 11--Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(2)(b) amended: SI 2009/1941.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/C. CONTROL OF DONATIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES DURING ELECTIONS/294. Acceptance or return of donations received by candidate at an election.

294. Acceptance or return of donations received by candidate at an election.

The provisions which require a registered party¹: (1) to take all reasonable steps to identify a donor in order to ascertain whether he is a permissible donor²; and (2) where a donor is unidentifiable or impermissible, to return the donation to its source or to send it to the Electoral Commission³ or to subject it to forfeiture on the application of the Commission⁴, apply, subject to minor modification, for the purposes of controlling donations⁵ to candidates⁶ at an election⁷ in relation to a relevant donation⁸ received by a candidate or his election agent⁹ and to the candidate or (as the case may be) the election agent¹⁰, as they apply in relation to a donation received by a registered party and in relation to the registered party¹¹.

Accordingly, where a donation is received by a registered party¹² and it is not immediately decided that the party should (for whatever reason) refuse the donation¹³, all reasonable steps must be taken forthwith by or on behalf of the party to verify (or, so far as any of the following is not apparent, ascertain) the identity of the donor, whether he is a permissible donor, and (if that appears to be the case) all such details in respect of the donor as are required to be included in donation reports¹⁴. If a registered party receives a donation which it is prohibited from accepting¹⁵, or which it is decided that the party should for any other reason refuse¹⁶, then the donation, or a payment of an equivalent amount, must be sent back to the person who made the donation or any person appearing to be acting on his behalf¹⁷ (unless the party is unable to ascertain the identity of the person by whom the donation would be made¹⁸, in which case the required steps¹⁹ must be taken in relation to the donation)²⁰, within the period of 30 days beginning with the date when the donation is received by the party²¹. Unless the donation is so returned (or such steps are taken in relation to the donation) within the period of 30 days so mentioned²², and unless a record can be produced of the receipt of the donation and of the return of the donation or the equivalent amount (or of the required steps being taken in relation to the donation, as the case may be)²³ then, for these purposes, a donation received by a registered party is taken to have been accepted by the party²⁴.

In England and Wales²⁵, a magistrates' court may, on an application made by the Commission, order the forfeiture by the party of an amount equal to the value of any donation²⁶ received by a registered party which²⁷ the party is prohibited from accepting²⁸ but which has been accepted by the party²⁹. The standard of proof in proceedings on such an application is that applicable to civil proceedings³⁰; and such an order may be made whether or not proceedings are brought against any person for an offence connected with the donation³¹. Where such an order (a 'forfeiture order') is made by a magistrates' court³², the registered party may, before the end of the period of 30 days beginning with the date on which any forfeiture order is made, appeal to the Crown Court³³. Such an appeal is by way of a rehearing; and the court hearing such an appeal may make such order as it considers appropriate³⁴. The standard of proof in relation to a rehearing on such an appeal remains that applicable to civil proceedings³⁵; and an appropriate order may be made whether or not proceedings are brought against any person for an offence connected with the donation³⁶. Any amount forfeited by an order made either on application or on appeal³⁷ must be paid into the Consolidated Fund³⁸, although this does not apply: (a) where an appeal is made³⁹, before the appeal is determined or otherwise disposed of⁴⁰; and (b) in any other case, before the end of the period of 30 days beginning with the date on which any forfeiture order is made⁴¹.

1 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante.

2 Ie the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 56 (see the text and notes 12-24 infra). Nothing in Pt IV (ss 50-71) (as amended) affects minor parties (as to which see PARA 260 ante). For the meaning of 'permissible donor' for these purposes see PARA 293 ante.

3 Ie ibid s 57 (see note 19 infra). See also note 2 supra. As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

4 Ie ibid s 58 (as amended) (see the text and notes 25-31 infra). The registered party may appeal against a forfeiture order (see s 59 (as amended); and the text and notes 32-36 infra); and rules of court under s 60 (as amended) (see note 29 infra) may provide for the procedure on application or appeal under ss 58, 59 (as amended). See also note 2 supra.

5 For the meaning of 'donation' in relation to candidates at an election see PARA 292 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' for the purposes of: (1) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(1)); or (2) European parliamentary elections (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(3)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A paras 1(1), (2), 7(1) (s 71A, Sch 2A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 130(1)-(4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 para 7(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 paras 1(1), (2), 7(1).

The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A (as added) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

8 For the meaning of 'relevant donation' in relation to candidates' election expenses see PARA 292 note 10 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 7(1)(a) (as added: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 7(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 7(1)(a). As to the appointment of an election agent see PARA 238 et seq ante.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 7(1)(b) (as added: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 7(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 7(1)(b).

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 7(1) (as added: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 7(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 7(1).

Accordingly, in the application of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 56-60 (as amended) for these purposes: (1) s 56(1) has effect as if the reference to the particulars relating to a donor which would be required to be included in a donation report by virtue of ss 62, 63, Sch 6 para 2 (as amended) (identity of donors (quarterly reports): see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), if the donation were a recordable donation within the meaning of Sch 6 (as amended) were construed as a reference to the particulars which are required to be included in a return by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 11(c) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch

6 para 11(c) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 11(c) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 297 post); (2) the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 56(3) has effect as if the reference to the party were omitted and the reference to the treasurer of the party were construed as a reference to the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent; and (3) s 56(4) has effect as if the reference to the treasurer of the party were construed as a reference to the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 7(2) (as added: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 7(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 7(2).

12 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 56(1)(a) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra).

13 Ibid s 56(1)(b) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra). Where a donation is received by a registered party in the form of an amount paid into any account held by the party with a financial institution, it is taken for these purposes to have been received by the party at the time when the party is notified in the usual way of the payment into the account: s 56(6) (as so applied).

14 Ibid s 56(1) (as applied and modified: see the text and notes 1-11 supra). The text refers to the details in respect of the donor that are required to be reported by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 11(c) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 11(c) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 11(c) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 297 post).

15 Ie by virtue of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 54(1), which is in similar terms to the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(1) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(1) and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(1) (see PARA 293 ante).

16 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 56(2) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra).

17 Ibid s 56(2)(a) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra). Where this provision applies in relation to a donation and the donation is not dealt with accordingly, the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent are each guilty of an offence: see s 56(3) (as applied and modified); and PARA 755 post.

18 Ie unless the donation falls within ibid s 54(1)(b), which is in similar terms to the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 6(1)(b) (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 6(1)(b) and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 6(1)(b) (see PARA 293 ante).

19 For these purpose, the required steps are as follows: (1) if the donation was transmitted by a person other than the donor, and the identity of that person is apparent, to return the donation to that person (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 57(1)(a) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra)); (2) if head (1) supra does not apply but it is apparent that the donor has, in connection with the donation, used any facility provided by an identifiable financial institution, to return the donation to that institution (s 57(1)(b) (as so applied)); and (3) in any other case, to send the donation to the Electoral Commission (ss 57(1)(c), 160(1) (s 57(1)(c) as so applied)). Any reference to returning or sending a donation to any person or body includes a reference to sending a payment of an equivalent amount to that person or body (s 57(2) (as so applied)); and any amount sent to the Electoral Commission in pursuance of head (3) supra must be paid by it into the Consolidated Fund (ss 57(3), 160(1) (s 57(3) as so applied)). As to the Consolidated Fund see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 711 et seq; PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 1028-1031.

20 Ibid s 56(2)(b) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra). Where this provision applies in relation to a donation and the donation is not dealt with accordingly, the candidate or (as the case may be) his election agent are each guilty of an offence: see s 56(4) (as applied and modified); and PARA 755 post.

22 Ibid s 56(5)(a) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra).

29 Ibid s 58(1)(b) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-11 supra).

In relation to courts in any part of the United Kingdom, and without prejudice to the generality of any existing power to make rules, provision may be made by rules of court with respect to applications or appeals to any court under s 58 (as applied) or s 59 (as applied) (see the text and notes 32-36 infra), for the giving of notice of such applications or appeals to persons affected, and generally with respect to the procedure under those provisions before any court: s 60(1), (2) (as so applied). In the case of a registered party which is not a body corporate: (1) proceedings under s 58 (as applied) or s 59 (as applied) must be brought against or by the party in its own name (and not in that of any of its members) (s 60(5)(a) (as so applied)); (2) for the purposes of any such proceedings any rules of court relating to the service of documents apply as if the party were a body corporate (s 60(5)(b) (as so applied)); and (3) any amount forfeited by an order under s 58 (as applied) or s 59 (as applied) must be paid out of the funds of the party (s 60(5)(c) (as so applied)). In Acts passed after 1889, in relation to any court, 'rules of court' means rules made by the authority having power to make rules or orders regulating the practice of that court: see the Interpretation Act 1978 Sch 1, Sch 2 para 4(1)(a); and STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1386.

294 Acceptance or return of donations received by candidate at an election

NOTE 26--See The Electoral Commission v City of Westminster Magistrates' Court [2009] EWHC 78 (Admin), [2009] All ER (D) 184 (Jan) (partial forfeiture) (affd on other grounds: [2009] EWCA Civ 1078, [2010] 1 All ER 1167).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/C. CONTROL OF DONATIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES DURING ELECTIONS/295. Transfer to election agent of donations received by candidate at an election.

295. Transfer to election agent of donations received by candidate at an election.

For the purposes of controlling donations¹ to candidates² at an election³, a candidate must, on receipt of any relevant donation⁴ received by him after the deadline for appointing an election agent⁵ (unless the candidate is, or is deemed to be, his own election agent at the time of receipt of the donation)⁶, forthwith deliver to his election agent⁷: (1) the donation⁸; (2) where the provisions which regulate the making of donations through other persons or through agents⁹ apply in relation to the donation, the information provided to the candidate in pursuance of those provisions¹⁰; and (3) any other information which the candidate has about the donation and its donor which might reasonably be expected to assist the election agent in the discharge of any duties imposed on him, in relation to the donation, either under the provisions which impose controls on such donations to candidates at an election¹¹ or under the provisions which require the reporting of such donations¹². Where a donation is delivered to an election agent in this way, the donation is treated for the purposes of the provisions which prohibit donations from impermissible donors¹³ and the provisions which regulate the acceptance or return of donations made to candidates at an election¹⁴ as if it had been originally received by the election agent¹⁵, and as if it had been so received by him on the date on which it was received by the candidate¹⁶.

For these purposes, where a candidate receives a relevant donation before the deadline for appointing an election agent but at a time when an appointment of a person (other than the candidate himself) as election agent is in force¹⁷, he must either: (a) forthwith deliver the donation and the information mentioned in heads (2) and (3) above to the agent¹⁸; or (b), if he fails to do so, deal with the donation in accordance with the provisions which regulate the acceptance or return of donations made to candidates at an election¹⁹. Where a donation is delivered to an election agent in accordance with head (a) above, the donation is treated for the purposes of the provisions which prohibit donations from impermissible donors²⁰ and the provisions which regulate the acceptance or return of donations made to candidates at an election²¹ as if it had been originally received by the election agent²², and as if it had been so received by him on the date on which it was received by the candidate²³.

For these purposes, where: (i) a relevant donation received by a candidate before the deadline for appointing an election agent has been dealt with by the candidate in accordance with the provisions which regulate the acceptance or return of donations made to candidates at an election²⁴, either because it was received by him at a time when no appointment of another person as his election agent was in force²⁵ or because, although such an appointment was in force, he was by virtue of head (b) above required to deal with the donation²⁶; and (ii) an appointment of a person (other than the candidate himself) as election agent is in force at, or at any time after²⁷, the deadline for appointing an election agent²⁸ or, if later, the time when the candidate has dealt with the donation in accordance with the provisions which regulate the acceptance or return of donations made to candidates at an election²⁹, the candidate must, as soon as reasonably practicable after the relevant time³⁰, deliver to the election agent³¹: (A) the donation (if it has been accepted by him)³²; and (B) any information which he has about the donation and the donor which might reasonably be expected to assist the election agent in the discharge of any duties imposed on him, in relation to the donation, under the provisions which require the reporting of such donations³³.

1 For the meaning of 'donation' in relation to candidates at an election see PARA 292 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' for the purposes of: (1) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(1)); or (2) European parliamentary elections (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(3)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A para 1(1), (2) (s 71A, Sch 2A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 130(1)-(4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(1), (2).

The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A (as added) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

4 For the meaning of 'relevant donation' in relation to candidates' election expenses see PARA 292 note 10 ante.

5 For these purposes, any reference to the deadline for appointing an election agent is a reference to the latest time by which, in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(1) or s 67(1A) (as added) (see PARA 238 ante) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 38(1) (appointment of election agent for individual candidate: see PARA 246 ante) (whichever is appropriate), an election agent may be named as election agent by the candidate (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 8(10)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 para 8(10)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 8(10)(a)), except in the case of a candidate on a list of candidates submitted by a registered political party to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election), when the reference is a reference to the latest time by which an election agent may be so named as election agent by the party (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 8(10)(a) (as so added)). Although the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 8(10)(a) states that any reference to the deadline for appointing an election agent is a reference to the latest time by which an election agent may, in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(1) or s 67(1A) (as added), be named as election agent by the candidate, proper provision is made for such appointment for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 35(1) (see PARA 242 ante). As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante.

296. Evasion of restrictions on donations to candidate at an election.

The provisions which create offences concerned with the evasion of restrictions on donations to a registered party¹ apply for the purposes of controlling donations to candidates at an election², subject to minor modification³.

1 Ie the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 61 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

2 Ie for the purposes of, in the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A (as added) or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 292 et seq ante).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(iii) Financial Controls on Candidates at Elections where Election Agent is required/C. CONTROL OF DONATIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES DURING ELECTIONS/297. Statement of relevant donations received by candidate at an election.

297. Statement of relevant donations received by candidate at an election.

For the purposes of controlling donations¹ to candidates² at an election³, the candidate's election agent⁴ must include, in any return required to be delivered in relation to his election expenses⁵, a statement of relevant donations⁶ which complies with the requirement to report any donations received from persons who are permissible donors as well as those received from persons who are not permissible donors⁷.

Accordingly, in relation to each relevant donation accepted by the candidate or his election agent, the statement must record⁸: (1) the amount of the donation (if a donation of money, in cash or otherwise) or the nature of the donation and its value (in any other case)⁹; (2) the date when the donation was accepted by the candidate or his election agent¹⁰; (3) the information about the donor which is, in connection with recordable donations to registered parties¹¹, required to be recorded in donation reports¹²; and (4) such other information as may be required by regulations made by the Electoral Commission¹³.

Where a relevant donation has been received from a person who is not a permissible donor (an 'impermissible donor')¹⁴, the statement must record: (a) the name and address of the donor¹⁵; (b) the amount of the donation (if a donation of money, in cash or otherwise) or the nature of the donation (in any other case)¹⁶; (c) the date when the donation was received, and the date when, and the manner in which, it was dealt with in accordance with the provisions which regulate the handling of relevant donations made by impermissible donors¹⁷; (d) such other information as is required by regulations made by the Commission¹⁸. Where a relevant donation has been received from a person whose identity cannot be ascertained¹⁹, the statement must record: (i) details of the manner in which the donation was made²⁰; (ii) the amount of the donation (if a donation of money, in cash or otherwise) or the nature of the donation and its value (in any other case)²¹; (iii) the date when the donation was received, and the date when and the manner in which it was dealt with in accordance with the provisions which regulate the handling of relevant donations made by persons whose identity cannot be ascertained²²; and (iv) such other information as is required by regulations made by the Commission²³.

1 For the meaning of 'donation' in relation to candidates at an election see PARA 292 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to an 'individual candidate' for the purposes of: (1) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(1)); or (2) European parliamentary elections (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(3)). For the meaning of 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A para 1(1), (2) (s 71A, Sch 2A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 130(1)-(4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 1(1), (2).

The election referred to in the text may be any of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and as to the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. However, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A (as added) does not apply at an election under the local government Act which is not a local government election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(2) (as amended); and PARA 302 post); and, in relation to an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, the provisions of s 90(1), Sch 4 (both as amended) apply instead: see s 90(1)(b) (as amended); and PARAS 298-301 post. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meaning of 'constituency election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

4 As to the appointment of an election agent see PARA 238 et seq ante.

5 In any return required to be delivered under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81 (as amended) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 51 (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 285 ante). Although the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 para 10 states that the return mentioned in the text is that required to be delivered under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 81 (as amended), such provision is made for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 50 (see PARA 285 ante).

6 For the meaning of 'relevant donation' in relation to candidates' election expenses see PARA 292 note 10 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 10(1) (Sch 2A as added (see note 3 supra); and Sch 2A para 10(1) numbered as such by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 16); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 10; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 10. The text refers to the requirement for a statement of relevant donations to comply with the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A paras 11-12 (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 paras 11-12 and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 paras 11-12 (whichever apply) (see the text and notes 8-23 infra). For the meaning of 'permissible donor' for these purposes see PARA 293 ante.

In relation to a parliamentary election, Authority election or election under the local government Act, if the statement of relevant donations states that the candidate's election agent has seen evidence, of such description as is prescribed by the Secretary of State in regulations, that an individual donor has an anonymous entry in an electoral register, the statement must be accompanied by a copy of the evidence: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 10(2), (3) (Sch 2A as so added; and Sch 2A para 10(2), (3) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 2, 16). The evidence prescribed for these purposes is a certificate of anonymous registration: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45H (added by SI 2006/2910). For the meaning of 'certificate of anonymous registration' see PARA 160 note 12 ante; and for the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 11 (as added: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 11; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 11.

The value of the donation is determined in accordance with, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 5 (as added), in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 5 or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 5 (see PARA 292 notes 6-7, 11 ante).

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 11(b) (as added: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 11(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 11(b). As to the acceptance of donations made to a candidate at an election see PARA 294 ante.

11 For the meaning of 'registered political party', in relation to parliamentary and local government elections, see PARA 238 note 7 ante; and, in relation to Welsh Assembly elections, see PARA 237 note 23 ante. For the meaning of 'registered party' in relation to European parliamentary elections see PARA 237 note 30 ante.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 2A para 11(c) (as added: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 6 para 11(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 6 para 11(c). The text refers to information about the donor which is required to be recorded in donation reports by virtue of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 62, 63, Sch 6 para 2 (as amended) (identity of donors (quarterly reports): see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

A. ELECTION OF PARISH COUNCILLORS IN ENGLAND OR OF COMMUNITY COUNCILLORS IN WALES

298. Election expenses at an election of parish or community councillors.

In relation to an election of parish councillors in England¹ or of community councillors in Wales², at which an election agent is not required³, the statutory provisions relating to election expenses⁴ generally do not apply⁵, except that the provisions limiting the amount of election expenses⁶, and the definition of 'election expenses'⁷, are applied with slight modifications⁸.

1 As to the election of parish councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

2 As to the election of community councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 See PARA 238 note 3 ante.

6 I.e the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76 (as amended) (limitation of election expenses: see PARA 278 ante) and s 77 (as amended) (limitation of election expenses for joint candidates at certain local government elections: see PARA 279 ante). As to the application of s 76A (as added and substituted) for these purposes see PARA 300 note 10 post.

7 See PARA 274 ante; and see note 8 infra.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(1)(a) (amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 138(1), Sch 18 paras 1, 11(a); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 116). The modification to the definition of 'election expenses' referred to in the text affects the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90ZA(4) (as added) and s 90C (as added and amended) (see PARA 274 ante): s 90(1)(a) (as so amended).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 116 has no effect in relation to a parliamentary by-election, an election under the Local Government Act 1972 s 89 (as amended) (i.e an election to fill a casual vacancy: see PARA 209 ante) or an election under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 10 (filling a vacancy in an Assembly constituency: see PARA 211 ante) or s 16 (filling a vacancy in the office of London Mayor: see PARA 211 ante) where the day of the poll is on or before 3 May 2007 (or, in the case of an uncontested election, would have been had the election been contested): see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/1972, art 4, Sch 2 para 2.

ELECTION OF PARISH COUNCILLORS IN ENGLAND OR OF COMMUNITY COUNCILLORS IN WALES/299. Claims in respect of election expenses at an election of parish or community councillors.

299. Claims in respect of election expenses at an election of parish or community councillors.

In relation to an election of parish councillors in England¹ or of community councillors in Wales², at which an election agent is not required³, any claim against any person in respect of any election expenses⁴ incurred by or on behalf of a candidate⁵ which is not sent in⁶ within 14 days after the day of election⁷ is barred and must not be paid, and all election expenses so incurred must be paid within 21 days after the day of election and not otherwise⁸. If any person makes a payment⁹ in contravention of this provision he is guilty of an illegal practice¹⁰.

1 As to the election of parish councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

2 As to the election of community councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 See PARA 238 note 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'election expenses' generally see PARA 274 ante; and in relation to an election of parish or community councillors specifically see PARA 298 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

6 It is not clear whether the claim must be in the possession of the person within the 14 days or merely have been dispatched within that time. However, to the extent that 'send' is synonymous with 'transmit', the latter construction is the correct one: see Mackinnon v Clark [1898] 2 QB 251 at 257, CA, per A L Smith LJ.

7 As to the day of election referred to in the text see PARA 213 et seq ante; and as to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 237 note 11 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(1)(b), Sch 4 para 1(1).

9 As to the meaning of 'payment' for these purposes see PARA 275 note 2 ante.

10 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 4 para 1(2); and PARA 678 post. A candidate is not liable nor is his election void for any such illegal practice as is mentioned in the text which is committed without his consent or connivance: see Sch 4 para 1(2); and PARA 678 post. As to the consequences of an illegal practice see PARA 886 et seq post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. ELECTION OF PARISH COUNCILLORS IN ENGLAND OR OF COMMUNITY COUNCILLORS IN WALES/300. Return and declaration as to election expenses.

300. Return and declaration as to election expenses.

At an election of parish councillors in England¹ or of community councillors in Wales², at which an election agent is not required³, every agent of a candidate⁴ at the election must, within 23 days after the day of election⁵, make a true return to the candidate in writing of all election expenses⁶ incurred by the agent, and if he fails to do so he is liable on summary conviction to a fine⁷.

Within 28 days after the day of election, every candidate must deliver to the proper officer⁸ of the authority for which the election is held, a return of all election expenses incurred by the candidate or his agents vouched (except in the case of sums under £10) by bills stating the particulars or by receipts and accompanied by a declaration by the candidate⁹ as to election expenses¹⁰. If, subsequent to the delivery of the return, leave is given by the court for the payment of a statute-barred claim, a return of any sum so paid must forthwith after payment be sent to the proper officer of the authority¹¹.

1 As to the election of parish councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

2 As to the election of community councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 See PARA 238 note 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

5 As to the day of election referred to in the text see PARA 213 et seq ante; and as to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 237 note 11 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'election expenses' generally see PARA 274 ante; and in relation to an election of parish or community councillors specifically see PARA 298 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(1)(b), Sch 4 para 2. The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: see Sch 4 para 2. As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post. Because this offence is not an illegal practice, the relief that can be obtained in respect of illegal practices generally (as to which see PARA 693 post) cannot be obtained in relation to this offence (but see Sch 4 para 7; and PARA 692 post).

8 For the meaning of 'proper officer' see PARA 155 note 2 ante.

9 The form of declaration as to election expenses is that prescribed by rules under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post) relating to the election of parish or, as the case may be, community councillors, or a form to the like effect: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 90(1)(b). See the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 7, Sch 4 (Declaration as to expenses); and, in relation to the election of community councillors, see also the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/561, art 2, Schedule (Declaration as to expenses, datganiad am dreuliau).

The Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument vary the sum of £10 where in his opinion there has been a change in the value of money since the last occasion on which that sum was fixed and the variation is such as in his opinion is justified by that change: Representation of the People Act

301. Public inspection of returns and declarations.

At an election of parish councillors in England¹ or of community councillors in Wales², at which an election agent is not required³, the return and declaration required to be made by the candidate⁴ as to election expenses⁵ must be kept at the office of the proper officer of the authority⁶, and must at all reasonable times during the 12 months next after they are received by him be open to inspection by any person on payment of the prescribed fee, and the proper officer must on demand provide copies of them, or of any part of them, at the prescribed price⁷. At the expiration of the 12 months, the proper officer may cause the return and declaration to be destroyed, or, if the candidate so requires, he may return them to him⁸.

1 As to the election of parish councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

B. ELECTION UNDER THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT WHICH IS NOT A LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTION

302. Disapplication of election expenses provisions.

At an election under the Local Government Act 1972¹ which is not a local government election², the general statutory provisions relating to election expenses³ have no application⁴. If a candidate at such an election or any person on his behalf knowingly pays any sum or incurs any expense, whether before, during or after that election, on account of or in respect of the conduct or management of the election, he is guilty of an illegal practice⁵.

1 As to the meaning 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante.

In the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended) to a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting, 'election under the local government Act' is deemed to include a reference to a poll consequent on a parish meeting (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante): Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 6(g).

A. CONTINUOUS FINANCIAL CONTROLS ON REGISTERED PARTIES

303. General accounting requirements for registered parties.

The treasurer of a registered party¹ must ensure that accounting records are kept with respect to the party which are sufficient to show and explain the party's transactions². He must also prepare a statement of accounts in respect of each financial year of the party³, and deliver that statement to the Electoral Commission⁴, along with a copy of the auditor's report (where the requirement for a party's accounts to be audited by a qualified auditor applies to that party)⁵. If a registered party fails to submit a proper statement of accounts, or fails to deliver any statement of accounts, notification or auditor's report before the end of the required period, the person who was the treasurer of the party for the relevant period is guilty of an offence⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante. As to the treasurer of a registered party see PARA 260 ante.

2 See the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 41; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to the application to ss 41-48 (as amended) where a registered party is a party with accounting units see s 49, Sch 5; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. For the meanings of 'accounting units' and 'party with accounting units' see PARA 260 note 15 ante.

3 See ibid s 42 (as amended); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. 'Financial year', in relation to a registered party, means such period as may be determined by the Electoral Commission (see note 4 infra), whether in relation to registered parties generally, any description of registered parties which includes the party, or the party itself: see ss 41(6), 160(1). Where a registered party's gross income or total expenditure in any financial year exceeds £250,000, the accounts of the party for that year must be audited by a qualified auditor: see ss 43, 44 (as amended); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

4 As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

5 See the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 45 (as amended); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. For these purposes, 'qualified auditor' means a person who is, in accordance with the Companies Act 1989 s 25 (eligibility for appointment: see COMPANIES vol 15 (2009) PARA 969), eligible for appointment as a company auditor: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 160(1) (definition amended by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Controlled Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 4(2), Schedule paras 1, 31(a)(i)). However, a person is not a qualified auditor in relation to any registered party or any other body or individual if he is either a member of the party or body or the individual himself or an officer or employee of the party, body or individual (for which purpose, 'officer or employee' does not include an auditor): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 160(2).

Where the Commission receives any statement of accounts under s 45 (as amended), it must make a copy of the statement available for public inspection and keep any such copy available for public inspection: see s 46; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. Provision is made for the treasurer of a registered party to revise a defective statement of accounts: see s 48 (as amended); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

6 See ibid s 47; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

303 General accounting requirements for registered parties

NOTE 5--Definition of 'qualified auditor' amended to take account of the coming into force of the Companies Act 2006: SI 2008/948.

B. CONTROLS AFFECTING CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURE BY REGISTERED PARTIES DURING ELECTION PERIODS

(A) IN GENERAL

304. Meaning of 'campaign expenditure'.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, 'campaign expenditure', in relation to a registered party², means expenses incurred by or on behalf of the party³ which are expenses incurred for election purposes⁴ in respect of any of the matters set out in the following list⁵:

- 357 (1) party political broadcasts, including agency fees, design costs and other costs in connection with preparing or producing such broadcasts⁶;
- 358 (2) advertising of any nature (whatever the medium used), including agency fees, design costs and other costs in connection with preparing, producing, distributing or otherwise disseminating such advertising or anything incorporating such advertising and intended to be distributed for the purpose of disseminating it⁷;
- 359 (3) unsolicited material addressed to electors (whether addressed to them by name or intended for delivery to households within any particular area or areas⁸), including design costs and other costs in connection with preparing, producing or distributing such material (including the cost of postage)⁹;
- 360 (4) any manifesto or other document setting out the party's policies, including design costs and other costs in connection with preparing or producing or distributing or otherwise disseminating any such document¹⁰;
- 361 (5) market research or canvassing conducted for the purpose of ascertaining polling intentions¹¹;
- 362 (6) the provision of any services or facilities in connection with press conferences or other dealings with the media¹²;
- 363 (7) the transport (by any means) of persons to any place or places with a view to obtaining publicity in connection with an election campaign¹³, including the costs of hiring a particular means of transport for the whole or part of the period during which the election campaign is being conducted¹⁴;
- 364 (8) rallies and other events, including public meetings (but not annual or other party conferences) organised so as to obtain publicity in connection with an election campaign or for other purposes connected with an election campaign, including costs incurred in connection with the attendance of persons at such events, the hire of premises for the purposes of such events or the provision of goods, services or facilities at them¹⁵.

'Campaign expenditure' does not include anything which, in accordance with any enactment¹⁶, falls to be included in a return as to election expenses¹⁷ in respect of a candidate or candidates at a particular election¹⁸. Nor should anything in heads (1) to (8) above to be taken as extending to any expenses:

- 365 (a) in respect of newsletters or similar publications issued by or on behalf of the party with a view to giving electors in a particular electoral area information about the opinions or activities of, or other personal information relating to, their elected representatives or existing or prospective candidates¹⁹;
- 366 (b) incurred in respect of unsolicited material addressed to party members²⁰;
- 367 (c) in respect of any property, services or facilities so far as those expenses fall to be met out of public funds²¹;
- 368 (d) incurred in respect of the remuneration or allowances payable to any member of the staff (whether permanent or otherwise) of the party²²; or
- 369 (e) incurred in respect of an individual by way of travelling expenses (by any means of transport) or in providing for his accommodation or other personal needs to the extent that the expenses are paid by the individual from his own resources and are not reimbursed to him²³.

Where, in the case of a registered party, either: (i) property is transferred to the party²⁴; or (ii) property, services or facilities is or are provided for the use or benefit of the party²⁵, either free of charge or at a discount of more than 10 per cent²⁶, and the property, services or facilities is or are made use of by or on behalf of the party²⁷ in circumstances such that, if any expenses were to be (or are) actually incurred by or on behalf of the party in respect of that use, they would be (or are) campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the party²⁸, an amount of campaign expenditure (the 'appropriate amount') is treated, for the purposes of the statutory provisions which govern the control of campaign expenditure, as incurred by the party during the period for which the property, services or facilities is or are made so use of²⁹. Where the whole or part of any such period falls within any period which is, in relation to the party, a relevant campaign period for the purposes of making returns as to campaign expenditure³⁰, then such proportion of the appropriate amount³¹ as reasonably represents the use made of the property, services or facilities during the relevant campaign period is treated as incurred by or on behalf of the party during the relevant campaign period³², and the treasurer³³ or a deputy treasurer³⁴ must make a declaration of that amount³⁵, unless that amount is not more than £200³⁶. Where head (i) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the market value of the property (where the property is transferred free of charge)³⁷ or the difference between the market value of the property and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the party in respect of the property (where the property is transferred at a discount)³⁸, as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property³⁹. Where head (ii) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the commercial rate for the use of the property or the provision of the services or facilities (where the property, services or facilities is or are provided free of charge)⁴⁰ or the difference between that commercial rate and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the party in respect of the use of the property or the provision of the services or facilities (where the property, services or facilities is or are provided at a discount)⁴¹, as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property, services or facilities⁴². However, no amount of campaign expenditure is to be regarded as so incurred in respect of: (A) the transmission by a broadcaster of a party political broadcast⁴³; (B) any facilities provided in accordance with any right conferred on candidates or a party at an election by any enactment⁴⁴; or (C) the provision by any individual of his own services which he provides voluntarily in his own time and free of charge⁴⁵.

The Electoral Commission may prepare, and from time to time revise, a code of practice giving guidance as to the kinds of expenses which do, or do not, fall within the matters specified either in heads (1) to (8) above or in heads (a) to (e) above⁴⁶. Once the Commission has prepared a draft of such a code, it must submit it to the Secretary of State for his approval⁴⁷; and he may approve a draft code either without modification or with such modifications as he may determine⁴⁸. The Secretary of State may also by order make such amendments to the matters specified either in heads (1) to (8) above or in heads (a) to (e) above as he considers appropriate⁴⁹; and he may make such an order either where the order gives effect to a recommendation of the Commission⁵⁰ or after consultation with the Commission⁵¹.

Nothing in Pt V (as amended) applies in relation to expenses incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of a minor party: s 72(10). For the meaning of 'minor party' see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante.

3 Where a registered party is a party with accounting units: (1) expenses incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of any accounting unit of the party are to be regarded as expenses incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of the party (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 72(8)(a)); and (2) references to campaign expenditure incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of a registered party accordingly extend, in relation to the party, to expenses which constitute such expenditure by virtue of head (1) supra (s 72(8)(b)). For the meanings of 'accounting units' and 'party with accounting units' see PARA 260 note 15 ante.

4 Ibid s 72(1), (2). In relation to a registered party, 'for election purposes' means for the purpose of or in connection with: (1) promoting or procuring electoral success for the party at any relevant election, that is to say, the return at any such election of candidates either standing in the name of the party or included in a list of candidates submitted by the party in connection with the election (s 72(4)(a)); or (2) otherwise enhancing the standing of the party, or of any such candidates, with the electorate in connection with future relevant elections, whether imminent or otherwise (s 72(4)(b)). For these purposes: (a) the reference to doing any of the things mentioned in head (1) supra or, as the case may be, head (2) supra includes doing so by prejudicing the electoral prospects at the election of other parties or candidates or, as the case may be, by prejudicing the standing with the electorate of other parties or candidates (s 72(5)(a)); (b) a course of conduct may constitute the doing of one of those things even though it does not involve any express mention being made of the name of any party or candidate (s 72(5)(b)); and (c) it is immaterial that any candidates standing in the name of the party also stand in the name of one or more other registered parties (s 72(5)(c)). The following elections are 'relevant elections' for these purposes: (i) parliamentary elections (s 22(5)(a); applied by s 72(6)); (ii) local government elections (s 22(5)(f); applied by s 72(6)); (iii) elections to the National Assembly for Wales (s 22(5)(d); applied by s 72(6)); and (iv) elections to the European Parliament (s 22(5)(b); applied by s 72(6)). As to the meaning of 'modification' for these purposes see PARA 39 note 9 ante. If the draft incorporates any such modifications, the Secretary of State must at the same time lay before each House a statement of his reasons for making them: Sch 8 para 3(5). If, within the 40-day period, either House resolves not to approve the draft, the Secretary of State must take no further steps in relation to the draft code (Sch 8 para 3(6)); but, if no such resolution is made within the 40-day period, the Secretary of State must issue the code in the form of the draft laid before Parliament, and the code is to come into force on such date as the Secretary of State may by order appoint (Sch 8 para 3(7)). The Commission must arrange for the code to be published in such manner as it thinks appropriate: Sch 8 para 3(7). The prohibition from taking further action in relation to a draft code (ie Sch 8 para 3(6)) does not prevent a new draft code from being laid before Parliament: Sch 8 para 3(8). For these purposes, the '40-day period', in relation to a draft code, means, if the draft is laid before one House on a day later than the day on which it is laid before the other House, the period of 40 days beginning with the later of the two days, and, in any other case, the period of 40 days beginning with the day on which the draft is laid before each House: Sch 8 para 3(8). In calculating this period, no account is taken of any period during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than four days: Sch 8 para 3(9).

NOTE 21--2000 Act s 160(4) amended: SI 2007/1388.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. CONTROLS AFFECTING CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURE BY REGISTERED PARTIES DURING ELECTION PERIODS/(A) In general/305. Officers of registered party with responsibility for campaign expenditure.

305. Officers of registered party with responsibility for campaign expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, the treasurer of a registered party² may appoint, on such terms as he may determine, one or more deputy treasurers of the party, but not more than 12 persons may hold such appointments at the same time³. The appointment of a person as deputy treasurer of a party is effective for those purposes once the treasurer has given the Electoral Commission⁴ a notification of the appointment⁵ which contains the name of the person so appointed and the address of his office⁶ and is accompanied by a declaration of acceptance of office signed by that person⁷. If, where the appointment of any deputy treasurer of a registered party has been so notified to the Commission, the deputy treasurer dies or his appointment terminates for any other reason⁸ or any change occurs in the address of his office⁹, the treasurer of the party must notify the Commission of that fact within the appropriate period¹⁰.

A person is not, however, eligible to be appointed as deputy treasurer of a registered party if, at any time within the last five years, he has been convicted of any offence under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000¹¹ or of any other offence committed in connection with a relevant election¹² or a referendum¹³.

1 For the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt V (ss 72-84) (as amended). For the meaning of 'campaign expenditure' see PARA 304 ante. Nothing in Pt V (as amended) applies in relation to expenses incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of a minor party: s 72(10). For the meaning of 'minor party' see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

5 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 74(2), 160(1). Any notification required to be given under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 must be in writing: s 157(1).

6 Ibid s 74(2)(a). The name of any deputy treasurer of a registered party and the address of his office, as so notified to the Commission, must be included in the party's entry in the Great Britain register (s 74(8)); and where the Commission receives a notification under s 74(6) (see the text and notes 8-10 infra), it must cause any change required as a consequence of the notification to be made in any such entry as soon as is reasonably practicable (s 74(9)). For these purposes, the address of any deputy treasurer of such a party is to be regarded as being the address for the time being registered in relation to him in accordance with s 74(8): s 74(10)(a). For the meaning of the 'Great Britain register' see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

For these purposes, the 'appropriate period' means either the period of 14 days beginning with the date of the deputy treasurer's death or the termination of his appointment or the period of 28 days beginning with the date when the change of address occurs, as the case may be: s 74(7).

Where the requirements of s 74(6) are not complied with in relation to any notification required to be given by the treasurer of a registered party then, in addition to any criminal liability imposed on any person, the relevant organisation is liable to a civil penalty: see s 147(1)(d), (2); and PARA 757 post.

(B) GENERAL RESTRICTIONS RELATING TO CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURE

306. Restriction on incurring campaign expenditure without authority.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, no campaign expenditure may be incurred by or on behalf of a registered party² unless it is incurred with the authority of: (1) the treasurer of the party³; (2) a deputy treasurer of the party⁴; or (3) a person authorised in writing by the treasurer or a deputy treasurer⁵. Where any expenses are incurred in contravention of this restriction, the expenses do not count as campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the party either for the purposes of the statutory provisions which impose financial limits on such expenditure⁶ or for the purposes of the statutory provisions which require returns as to such expenditure⁷.

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he incurs any expenses in contravention of the restriction on incurring campaign expenditure⁸.

307. Restriction on payments in respect of campaign expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, no payment (of whatever nature) may be made in respect of any campaign expenditure incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of a registered party² unless it is made by: (1) the treasurer of the party³; (2) a deputy treasurer of the party⁴; or (3) a person authorised in writing by the treasurer or a deputy treasurer⁵. Any payment made in respect of any such expenditure by a person within any of heads (1) to (3) above must be supported by an invoice or a receipt unless it is not more than £200⁶; and where any such payment is made by a person within head (2) or head (3) above, he must deliver to the treasurer both notification that he has made the payment⁷ and the supporting invoice or receipt⁸, as soon as possible after making the payment⁹.

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he makes any payment in contravention of the restriction on payments made in respect of campaign expenditure or if he is a person within head (2) or head (3) above who contravenes the requirements imposed on such a person regarding the delivery of notification and evidence¹⁰.

308. Claims against registered party in respect of campaign expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, a claim for payment in respect of campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party² during any period which is, in relation to the party, a relevant campaign period³ is not payable unless the claim is sent⁴ to the treasurer⁵ or a deputy treasurer of the party⁶ or any other person authorised⁷ to incur the expenditure⁸, not later than 30 days⁹ after the end of the relevant campaign period¹⁰. Any claim so sent must be paid not later than 60 days after the end of the relevant campaign period¹¹; but this is without prejudice to any rights of a creditor of a registered party to obtain payment before the end of the period so allowed¹².

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse he pays any claim for payment in respect of campaign expenditure which by virtue of being statute-barred¹³ is not payable or if he makes any payment in respect of a claim after the end of the period allowed for the payment of claims¹⁴.

If the treasurer or other person to whom a claim for payment in respect of campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party is sent fails or refuses to pay the claim within the period allowed¹⁵, where the claim is sent to the treasurer of the party¹⁶ or to any other person with whose authority it is alleged that the expenditure was incurred¹⁷, within the period allowed before such claims are barred¹⁸, the claim is deemed to be a disputed claim¹⁹. The person by whom the disputed claim is made may bring an action for a disputed claim, and any sum paid in pursuance of a court's judgment or order so made in the proceedings is not deemed to be in contravention of the statutory provision forbidding payment of campaign expenditure later than 42 days after the end of the relevant campaign period²⁰.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, the person making a claim for payment in respect of campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party², or the person with whose authority the expenditure in question was incurred³, may apply to the High Court or to the county court for leave to pay such a claim (even if it is sent in after the statutory period allowed of 30 days⁴) or may apply to the High Court or to the county court for leave to pay a disputed claim⁵. The court, if satisfied that for any special reason it is appropriate to do so, may by order grant the leave⁶. Any sum paid in pursuance of such an order of leave is not deemed to be a contravention of the provisions forbidding the making or payment of claims relating to campaign expenditure later than the statutory period allowed⁷.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(v) Financial Controls on Registered Political Parties at National Election Campaigns/B. CONTROLS AFFECTING CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURE BY REGISTERED PARTIES DURING ELECTION PERIODS/(C) Financial Limits on Campaign Expenditure/310. Limitation of campaign expenditure.

(C) FINANCIAL LIMITS ON CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURE

310. Limitation of campaign expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, the limit which applies in relation to campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party² contesting one or more constituencies³ at a parliamentary general election⁴ in the relevant period⁵ in England or Wales (as the case may be) is⁶:

- 370 (1) £30,000 multiplied by the number of constituencies contested by the party in England or Wales (as the case may be)⁷; or
- 371 (2) if greater, the appropriate amount specified⁸, being, in relation to England, £810,000⁹ and, in relation to Wales, £60,000¹⁰.

Where, at the election, a candidate stands for election in any constituency in the name of a registered party and one or more other registered parties¹¹, the amount applying to the party in respect of the constituency under head (1) above, instead of being the amount specified there, is that amount divided by the number of registered parties in whose name the candidate stands for election¹².

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods, the limit which applies in relation to campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party which contests one or more constituencies¹³ or regions¹⁴ at an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly¹⁵ in the relevant period¹⁶ in Wales is¹⁷: (a) £10,000 for each constituency contested by the party¹⁸; plus (b) £40,000 for each region contested by the party¹⁹.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods, the limit which applies in relation to campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party which stands for election or (as the case may be) in whose name candidates stand for election at a general election to the European Parliament²⁰ in the relevant period²¹ is²²:

- 372 (i) £45,000 multiplied by the number of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs')²³ to be returned for the electoral region²⁴ at an election where a registered party stands for election in only one electoral region in England (including the combined region)²⁵;
- 373 (ii) £45,000 multiplied by the total number of MEPs to be returned for the electoral regions taken together at an election where a registered party stands for election in two or more electoral regions in England (including the combined region)²⁶;
- 374 (iii) £45,000 multiplied by the number of MEPs to be returned for Wales at an election where a registered party stands for election in Wales²⁷.

Where, at any time before the beginning of any relevant campaign period²⁸, any expenses falling within the matters which qualify as campaign expenditure²⁹ are incurred by or on behalf of a registered party in respect of any property, services or facilities³⁰, but the property, services or facilities is or are made use of by or on behalf of the party during the relevant campaign period in circumstances such that, had any expenses been incurred in respect of that use during that period, they would have constituted³¹ campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the party during that period³², the appropriate proportion of those expenses³³ is treated for the purposes of the statutory provisions which impose financial limits on such expenditure³⁴ or for the purposes of the statutory provisions which require returns as to such expenditure³⁵, as campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the party during that period³⁶.

Special provision is made for limiting campaign expenditure where, in special circumstances, election campaigns are combined³⁷.

Where, during the period in relation to which any limitation of campaign expenditure applies in relation to a registered party, any campaign expenditure is incurred by or on behalf of the party in excess of that limit, the treasurer or any deputy treasurer of the party is guilty of an offence if he authorised the expenditure to be incurred by or on behalf of the party, and he knew or ought reasonably to have known that the expenditure would be incurred in excess of that limit; and the party is also guilty of an offence³⁸.

1 le for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt V (ss 72-84) (as amended). For the meaning of 'campaign expenditure' see PARA 304 ante. Nothing in Pt V (as amended) applies in relation to expenses incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of a minor party: s 72(10). For the meaning of 'minor party' see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante.

For these purposes, campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a party registered in the Great Britain register is attributed to each of England and Wales in proportion to the number of parliamentary constituencies for the time being situated in that part of Great Britain (ibid s 79(1), Sch 9 para 2(1)); and campaign expenditure whose effects are wholly or substantially confined to any particular parts or part of Great Britain is attributed to those parts in proportion to the number of parliamentary constituencies for the time being situated in those parts or are attributed solely to that part, as the case may be (Sch 9 para 2(2)). For this purpose, the effects of campaign expenditure are wholly or substantially confined to any particular parts or part of Great Britain if they have no significant effects in any other part or parts (so that, for example, expenditure on an advertisement in a newspaper circulating in Wales is to be attributed solely to Wales if the newspaper does not circulate to any significant extent in any other part of Great Britain): Sch 9 para 2(3). As respects campaign expenditure incurred in the period of four months ending with the date of the poll for an election to the European Parliament in the combined region, that region is to be regarded as part of England for the purposes of the references to a part or parts of Great Britain: see Sch 9 para 2(3A) (added by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Campaign Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 4(2), Schedule paras 1, 35(a)). References in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 (as amended) to campaign expenditure 'in' a particular part of the United Kingdom are accordingly to campaign expenditure which is to be attributed to that part in accordance with Sch 9 para 2 (as amended): Sch 9 para 2(4). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'England', 'Great Britain' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of the 'Great Britain register' see PARA 260 note 8 ante. As to the combined region see PARA 76 ante.

3 For these purposes, a registered party contests a constituency if any candidate stands for election for that constituency in the name of the party: ibid Sch 9 para 1(2)(a). For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. As to references to persons standing for election in the name of a registered party see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

4 As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 196 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

5 For these purposes, the relevant period is: (1) the period of 365 days ending with the date of the poll for the election (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 3(7)(a)); or (2) where the election (the 'election in question') follows another parliamentary general election held less than 365 days previously, the period beginning with the day after the date of the poll for the earlier election and ending with the date of the poll for the election in question (Sch 9 para 3(7)(b)). As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election see PARA 202 ante.

14 For these purposes, a registered party contests any region if the party is included in the statement of parties and candidates nominated for that region: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 1(2)(b). For the meaning of 'region' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

15 For these purposes, an 'ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly' means an election held under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see PARA 220 ante): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 1(1)(c). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies to the holding of ordinary elections after that date see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 3; and PARA 220 ante.

16 For these purposes, the relevant period is the period beginning with the appropriate date and ending with the date of the poll: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 6(3). The 'appropriate date' is the date which falls four months before the date of the poll where: (1) the date of the poll is that determined by the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2) (see PARA 220 ante) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 6(4)(a)); (2) no less than five months before the day on which the poll would have taken place under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2), the date of the poll is brought forward under s 3(3) (see PARA 220 ante) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 6(4)(b)); or (3) no less than four months before the day on which the poll would have taken place under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2), the date of the poll is postponed under s 3(3) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 6(4)(c)); but where the date of the poll is brought forward or postponed otherwise than as mentioned in head (2) or head (3) supra, the 'appropriate date' means the date which falls four months before the date when the poll would have taken place under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 9 para 6(4)). As to the date of the poll at ordinary elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 ante. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). 311. Limitation of campaign expenditure where campaigns are combined.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, special limits apply to campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party² in England³ or Wales⁴ at combined polls⁵ in circumstances:

- 375 (1) where separate limits would apply in relation to a general election to the European Parliament⁶ and in relation to an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly⁷ and any part of the period which would be the relevant period⁸ for the purposes of the general election to the European Parliament falls within any part of the period which would be the relevant period⁹ for the purposes of the ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly¹⁰;
- 376 (2) where separate limits would apply in relation to a parliamentary general election¹¹, and in relation to a general election to the European Parliament¹² or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly¹³ and the parliamentary general election is pending¹⁴ during any part of the period in relation to which the limit imposed in relation to the European Parliament or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly would apply¹⁵;
- 377 (3) where a limit under head (2) above would apply in relation to a relevant period for those purposes¹⁶ and another limit in relation to a general election to the European Parliament¹⁷ or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly¹⁸ applies in relation to a period which is not a period during which the parliamentary general election is pending but which either falls wholly within or ends at any time falling within the relevant period for the purposes of head (2) above¹⁹;
- 378 (4) where a limit would apply in relation to a parliamentary general election²⁰, and another limit applies in relation to a general election to the European Parliament²¹ or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly²² in relation to any period which either falls wholly within, or ends at any time falling within, the period which would be the relevant period in relation to the parliamentary general election, and where head (2) above does not apply in connection with that expenditure²³.

(D) RETURNS AS TO CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURE

312. Returns as to campaign expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, where any limit imposed² in relation to campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party³ applies during the relevant campaign period⁴ and that period ends⁵, the treasurer of the party⁶ must prepare a return in respect of campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the party during that period in any relevant part or parts of the United Kingdom⁷.

Such a return must specify the poll for the relevant election (or, as the case may be, the polls for the relevant elections) that took place during the relevant campaign period, and must contain⁸:

- 379 (1) a statement of all payments made in respect of campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the party during the relevant campaign period in the relevant part or parts of the United Kingdom⁹;
- 380 (2) a statement of all disputed claims¹⁰ of which the treasurer is aware¹¹; and
- 381 (3) a statement of all the unpaid claims (if any) of which the treasurer is aware in respect of which an application has been made, or is about to be made, to a court for leave to pay the claim¹².

Such a return must be accompanied by:

- 382 (a) all invoices or receipts relating to the payments mentioned in head (1) above¹³; and
- 383 (b) in the case of any expenditure in relation to which an appropriate amount is treated as campaign expenditure incurred by the party¹⁴, any declaration falling to be made with respect to that expenditure¹⁵.

Where, however, any payments or claims falling to be dealt with in such a return have already been dealt with in an earlier return¹⁶, it is sufficient for the later return to deal with those payments or claims by specifying overall amounts in respect of them¹⁷; and the requirement imposed by heads (a) and (b) above does not apply to any invoices, receipts or declarations which accompanied the earlier return and are specified as such in the later return¹⁸.

A report must be prepared by a qualified auditor¹⁹ on such a return in respect of campaign expenditure where, during a relevant campaign period, the campaign expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a registered party in the relevant part or parts of the United Kingdom exceeds £250,000²⁰.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, where any return as to campaign expenditure falls to be prepared², and an auditor's report on it falls to be prepared also³, the treasurer of the party⁴ must deliver the return to the Electoral Commission⁵, together with a copy of the auditor's report, within six months of the end of the relevant campaign period⁶. In the case of any other such return which falls to be prepared⁷, the treasurer of the party must deliver the return to the Commission within three months of the end of the relevant campaign period⁸.

Where, after the date on which a return is so delivered to the Commission, leave is given by a court for any claim to be paid⁹, the treasurer of the party in question must, within seven days after the payment, deliver to the Commission a return of any sums paid in pursuance of the leave accompanied by a copy of the order of the court giving the leave¹⁰.

The treasurer of a registered party commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with the requirements as to any return or auditor's report¹¹; and, notwithstanding any criminal liability of any person, the registered party is liable to a civil penalty¹².

314. Declaration as to campaign expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, each return as to campaign expenditure² must, when delivered to the Electoral Commission³, be accompanied by a declaration which is signed by the treasurer⁴ and which must state that the treasurer has examined the return in question⁵ and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief⁶, it is a complete and correct return as required by law⁷ and all expenses shown in it as paid have been paid by him or a deputy treasurer of the party⁸ or a duly authorised person⁹.

A person commits an offence if he knowingly or recklessly makes such a declaration falsely or if the requirements as to such a declaration are contravened at a time when he is treasurer of the registered party to which the return relates¹⁰.

315. Public inspection of returns as to campaign expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure incurred by registered parties during election periods¹, where the Electoral Commission² receives any return as to campaign expenditure³, it must⁴, as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving the return, make a copy of the return, and of any documents accompanying it, available for public inspection⁵ and keep any such copy available for public inspection for the period for which the return or other document is kept by it⁶. Where the Commission is for the time being required to make available for public inspection a copy of any document in this way, it must make the copy available for public inspection during ordinary office hours, either at the Commission's offices or at some convenient place appointed by it⁷, although the Commission may make other arrangements for members of the public to have access to the document's contents⁸. If requested to do so by any person, the Commission must supply him with a copy of the document or any part of it⁹; and the Commission may charge such reasonable fee as it may determine in respect of any inspection or access so allowed or any copy so supplied¹⁰. Where any such document is held by the Commission in electronic form, any copy so made available for public inspection or so supplied must be made available, or (as the case may be) supplied, in a legible form¹¹.

At the end of the period of two years beginning with the date when any such return or other document is received by the Commission¹², it may cause the return or other document to be destroyed¹³; but, if requested to do so by the treasurer of the party¹⁴ concerned, it must arrange for the return or other document to be returned to the treasurer¹⁵.

C. CONTROLS AFFECTING DONATIONS MADE TO REGISTERED PARTIES DURING ELECTION PERIODS

316. Weekly reporting of donations made to registered parties during election periods.

In the case of any parliamentary general election period¹, the treasurer of a registered party² must prepare a report in respect of each of the following periods³: (1) the period of seven days beginning with the first day of the general election period⁴; (2) each succeeding period of seven days falling within the general election period⁵; and (3) any final period of less than seven days falling within that period⁶. Such a report is known as a 'weekly report' and a 'reporting period', in relation to such a report, is the period mentioned in any of heads (1) to (3) above to which the report relates⁷. The weekly report for any reporting period must record each donation⁸ of more than £5,000 received during that period⁹ either by the party (if it is not a party with accounting units)¹⁰ or by the central organisation of the party¹¹ (if it is a party with accounting units)¹². If, during any reporting period, no such donations have been received as so mentioned, the weekly report for that period must contain a statement to that effect¹³. In relation to each recordable donation¹⁴, a weekly report must give: (a) all such details of the name and address of the donor as are for the time being known to the party¹⁵; (b) details about the donations¹⁶, specifically the amount of the donation (if the donation was a donation of money, in cash or otherwise)¹⁷ or the nature of the donation and its value (otherwise)¹⁸; (c) the relevant date for the donation¹⁹ and, if the donation was regarded as having been received from a permissible donor on the basis that its purpose was to meet costs in connection with a visit conducted outside the United Kingdom²⁰, the date or dates on or between which the visit to which the donation relates took place²¹ and the destination and purpose of the visit²²; and (d) such other information (if any) as is required by regulations made by the Electoral Commission²³.

The requirement to prepare a weekly report does not apply in relation to a registered party in respect of a general election period if the party has made an exemption declaration which covers the general election in question²⁴. A registered party is taken to have made an exemption declaration which covers a particular general election if:

- 384 (i) a declaration that the party does not intend to have any candidates at that election²⁵ is signed by the responsible officers of the party²⁶ and is sent to the Commission within the period of seven days beginning with the date on which Her Majesty's intention to dissolve Parliament is announced in connection with a forthcoming parliamentary general election²⁷; or
- 385 (ii) the party's application for registration²⁸ was accompanied by a declaration that the party was not intending to have candidates at parliamentary elections²⁹ and either the poll for the general election in question takes place within the period of 12 months beginning with the date of its registration³⁰ or the declaration has been confirmed in the party's most recent notification given to the Commission regarding confirmation of the party's registered particulars³¹ and the poll for the general election in question takes place within the period of 12 months beginning with the date when that notification was so given³².

However, an exemption declaration does not cover a particular general election if the party in question withdraws its declaration by a notice signed by the responsible officers of the party³³ and sent to the Commission³⁴, before the beginning of the general election period³⁵. Where a registered party has made an exemption declaration which otherwise would cover a particular general election³⁶, but the party has one or more candidates at that election³⁷, the exemption declaration is treated as if it had been withdrawn at the beginning of the general election period (and the requirement to prepare a weekly report accordingly applies retrospectively as from the beginning of that period)³⁸.

The Secretary of State may, after consulting the Electoral Commission and all registered parties, by order³⁹ make provision for the provisions relating to⁴⁰: (A) the weekly reporting of donations made to registered parties during election periods⁴¹; (B) the submission of those reports and the declaration required to be made by a treasurer in relation to such reports⁴²; and (c) the relevant civil penalties which apply in relation to the submission of those reports⁴³, to apply in relation to the specified election period⁴⁴, in the case of one or more relevant elections, with such modifications as are specified in the order⁴⁵.

1 For these purposes, 'general election period' means the period beginning with the date on which Her Majesty's intention to dissolve Parliament is announced in connection with a forthcoming parliamentary general election, and ending with the date of the poll: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 63(6). As to parliamentary general elections and the commanding of elections for a new parliament see PARA 196 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election see PARA 202 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante. As to the treasurer of a registered party see PARA 260 ante. Nothing in ibid Pt IV (ss 50-71) (as amended) affects minor parties: see s 50(9). For the meaning of 'minor party' see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

7 Ibid s 63(2).

8 For the meaning of 'donation' in this context see ibid s 50(2); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. Under Pt IV (as amended) generally, a donation received by a registered party must not be accepted unless it is made by a permissible donor; where a donor is unidentifiable or impermissible, the donation must be returned to its source or sent to the Electoral Commission: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. For the purposes of controlling donations to candidates at an election, ss 56-60 (as amended) have been applied by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 71A(4), Sch 2A para 7 (as added), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 39(4), Sch 6 para 7 and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 42(4), Sch 6 para 7: see PARA 294 ante. For the meaning of 'permissible donor' for these purposes see PARA 293 ante. As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

9 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 63(3). The mechanism for preparing and submitting weekly reports is the same as that required for quarterly reports prepared under s 62 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), and only the main differences which apply to weekly reports are specified in this title. As to the submission of weekly and quarterly donation reports to the Electoral Commission see s 65 (as amended); as to the declaration required to be made by a treasurer in relation to such reports see s 66; as to the register of all donations reported to the Electoral Commission see s 69 (as amended); and see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

14 For these purposes, 'recordable donation', in relation to a weekly report, means a donation required to be recorded in that report; and 'weekly report' means a report required to be prepared by virtue of ibid s 63: s 63(5), Sch 6 para 1.

15 Ibid Sch 6 para 3(1) (renumbered by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 24, 27). In the case of a donation by a person who has an anonymous entry in an electoral register (within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983: see PARA 174 ante), instead of giving details of the address of the donor the party must state that it has seen evidence of such description as is prescribed by the Secretary of State in regulations that the person has such an entry: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 6 para 3(2) (Sch 6 para 3(2), (3) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 24, 27). In the case of a donation in the form of a bequest by a person who either at the time of his death, or at any time in the period of five years ending at the date of his death, had such an entry, instead of giving details of the address of the donor, the party must state that it has seen evidence of such description as is prescribed by the Secretary of State in regulations that the person had, at that time, such an entry: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 6 para 3(3) (as so added). The evidence prescribed for the purposes of Sch 6 para 3(2), (3) (as added) is a certificate of anonymous registration issued pursuant to the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45G (as added) (see PARA 160 ante): Political Donations and Regulated Transactions (Anonymous Electors) (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2974, reg 3. This provision refers to 'a certificate of anonymous registration issued pursuant to the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45E', but that regulation provides for the supply of the record of anonymous entries to the security services (see PARA 182 ante) and reg 45G (as added) provides for the issue of a certificate of anonymous registration; accordingly, it is submitted that the reference should be to reg 45G (as added). 43 Ibid s 67(1)(c). The text refers to the provisions contained in s 147 so far as applying in relation to s 65(1), (2) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

44 For these purposes, 'specified election period', in relation to a relevant election, means such period ending with the date of the poll for the election as may be specified in an order under ibid s 67(1) (s 67(2)(a)); and 'relevant election' means an election to the European Parliament or an election to the National Assembly for Wales (s 67(2)(b)(i), (iii)). As to the date of the poll at ordinary elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

UPDATE

316 Weekly reporting of donations made to registered parties during election periods

NOTE 14--SI 2006/2974 replaced: Political Donations and Regulated Transactions (Anonymous Electors) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/2869.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(v) Financial Controls on Registered Political Parties at National Election Campaigns/D. CONTROLS AFFECTING REGULATED TRANSACTIONS DURING ELECTION PERIODS/317. Weekly reporting of regulated transactions involving registered parties during election periods.

D. CONTROLS AFFECTING REGULATED TRANSACTIONS DURING ELECTION PERIODS

317. Weekly reporting of regulated transactions involving registered parties during election periods.

The following provisions have effect except in relation to minor parties¹.

In the case of any parliamentary general election period², the treasurer of a registered party³ must prepare a report in respect of each of the following periods⁴: (1) the period of seven days beginning with the first day of the general election period⁵; (2) each succeeding period of seven days falling within the general election period⁶; and (3) any final period of less than seven days falling within that period⁷. Such a report is known as a 'weekly report' and a 'reporting period', in relation to such a report, is the period mentioned in any of heads (1) to (3) above to which the report relates⁸. The weekly report for any reporting period must record each regulated transaction⁹ of more than £5,000 entered into during that period¹⁰ either by the party (if it is not a party with accounting units)¹¹ or by the central organisation of the party¹² (if it is a party with accounting units)¹³. If, during any reporting period, no such transactions have been entered into as so mentioned, the weekly report for that period must contain a statement to that effect¹⁴.

In relation to each recordable transaction¹⁵, a weekly report must:

- 386 (a) give all such details of the name and address of each authorised participant (other than the registered party¹⁶ deriving the benefit of the transaction) as are for the time being known to the party¹⁷;
- 387 (b) give the name and address of each person who is not an authorised participant but who is a party to a recordable transaction¹⁸ and the date when, and the manner in which, the transaction was duly dealt with¹⁹;
- 388 (c) give the nature of the transaction (that is to say, whether it is a loan, a credit facility or an arrangement by which any form of security is given)²⁰, the value of the transaction²¹ or, in the case of a credit facility or security to which no limit is specified, a statement to that effect²², and the relevant date for the transaction²³;
- 389 (d) where each recordable transaction is an agreement between a registered party and another person by which the other person makes a loan of money to the party²⁴ or an agreement between a registered party and another person by which the other person provides a credit facility to the party²⁵: (i) give the date when the loan is to be repaid or the facility is to end (or a statement that the loan or facility is indefinite)²⁶ or, where that date is to be determined under the agreement, a statement of how it is to be so determined²⁷; (ii) give the rate of interest payable on the loan or on sums advanced under the facility (or a statement that no interest is payable)²⁸ or, where that rate is to be determined under the agreement, a statement of how it is to be so determined²⁹; (iii) state whether the agreement contains a provision which enables outstanding interest to be added to any sum for the time being owed in respect of the loan or credit facility³⁰; (iv) state whether any form of security is given in respect of the loan or the sums advanced under the facility³¹;

- 390 (e) where a registered party and another person (A) enter into a regulated transaction of a description mentioned in head (d) above or a transaction under which any property, services or facilities are provided for the use or benefit of the party (including the services of any person), and A also enters into an arrangement whereby another person (B) gives any form of security (whether real or personal) for a sum owed to A by the party under the transaction³²: (i) if the transaction³³ is a regulated transaction, identify that transaction by reference to the transaction report in which it is recorded³⁴ and, in any other case, give a description of the principal features of that transaction³⁵; (ii) where the security given consists in or includes rights over any property, state the nature of that property³⁶; (iii) if the person giving the security receives from the registered party any consideration for giving the security, give a statement of that consideration³⁷ or, in any other case, state that no such consideration is received³⁸.

The weekly report for any reporting period must also record any change³⁹ during that period to a regulated transaction recorded by the party (if it is not a party with accounting units)⁴⁰ or by the central organisation of the party (if it is a party with accounting units)⁴¹; and if during any reporting period there have been no such changes, the weekly report for that period must contain a statement to that effect⁴².

The requirement to prepare a weekly report does not apply in relation to a registered party in respect of a general election period if the party has made an exemption declaration which covers the general election in question⁴³.

The Secretary of State may, after consulting the Electoral Commission and all registered parties, by order⁴⁴ make provision for the provisions relating to⁴⁵: (A) the weekly reporting of regulated transactions involving registered parties during election periods⁴⁶; (B) the submission of those reports and the declaration required to be made by a treasurer in relation to such reports⁴⁷; and (C) the relevant civil penalties which apply in relation to the submission of those reports⁴⁸, to apply in relation to the specified election period⁴⁹, in the case of one or more relevant elections⁵⁰, with such modifications as are specified in the order⁵¹.

1 The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 71Q-71R, 71U, 71X and Sch 6A are added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 61(1), except in relation to minor parties within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 160(1) (as to which see PARA 260 ante): see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/1972, art 3, Sch 1 para 20(a) (amended by SI 2006/2268).

2 For the meaning of 'general election period' for these purposes see PARA 316 note 1 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 71Q(9) (as added: see note 1 supra).

3 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante. As to the treasurer of a registered party see PARA 260 ante.

4 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 71Q(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). This requirement is subject to s 71R (as added) (exemption declarations: see the text and note 43 infra).

5 Ibid s 71Q(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).

6 Ibid s 71Q(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

7 Ibid s 71Q(1)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra).

8 Ibid s 71Q(2) (as added: see note 1 supra).

9 For these purposes, 'regulated transaction' must be construed in accordance with ibid s 71F (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see s 71X(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). Under Pt 4A (ss 71F-71Y) (as added) generally, certain agreements or transactions between a registered party and another person (or between that person and another by which the registered party derives a benefit) may be entered into only if any of the other parties is an authorised participant, being a person who is a 'permissible donor' within the meaning of s 54(2) (as amended) (see PARA 293 ante); see ss 71F-71L (as added); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. Quarterly reports of regulated transactions have to be made by registered parties and submitted to the Electoral Commission on a continuous basis: see ss 71M-71P, 71S-71T (as added); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. The Secretary of State may by order make in relation to a relevant matter such provision as he thinks appropriate which corresponds to or is similar to any provision of Pt 4A (as added) or s 71Y, Sch 7A (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 62(1); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

10 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 71Q(3) (as added: see note 1 supra). The mechanism for preparing and submitting weekly reports is the same as that required for quarterly reports prepared under s 71M (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), and only the main differences which apply to weekly reports are specified in this title. As to the submission of weekly and quarterly transaction reports to the Electoral Commission see s 71S (as added); as to the declaration required to be made by a treasurer in relation to such reports see s 71T (as added); as to the register of recordable transactions reported to the Electoral Commission see s 71V (as added); and see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

11 Ibid s 71Q(3)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). For the meanings of 'accounting units' and 'party with accounting units' see PARA 260 note 15 ante.

12 For the meaning of 'central organisation' (in relation to a registered party) see PARA 260 note 15 ante.

13 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 71Q(3)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

14 Ibid s 71Q(4) (as added: see note 1 supra).

15 For these purposes, 'recordable transaction', in relation to a weekly report, means a transaction required to be recorded in that report; and 'weekly report' means a report required to be prepared by virtue of ibid s 71Q (as added): s 71Q(5), Sch 6A para 1(1) (as added: see note 1 supra).

The Secretary of State may by order amend Sch 6A paras 3-7 (as added) (see the text and notes 16-38 infra) so as to vary the details which a weekly report must give about a transaction: Sch 6A para 9(1) (as so added). However, the Secretary of State must not make such an order unless he first consults the Electoral Commission: s 160(1), Sch 6A para 9(2) (as added). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante; and as to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

16 For these purposes, references to a registered party must, in the case of a party with accounting units, be read as references to the central organisation of the party: ibid Sch 6A para 1(2) (as added: see note 1 supra).

17 Ibid Sch 6A para 3(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). In the case of a participant who is an individual having an anonymous entry in an electoral register (within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983: see PARA 174 ante) instead of giving details of the address of the individual the party must state that it has seen evidence of such description as is prescribed by the Secretary of State in regulations that the individual has such an entry: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 6A para 3(2) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. As to the making of regulations under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 generally see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

Schedule 6A para 3(2) (as added) does not have effect in relation to minor parties within the meaning of s 160(1) (see PARA 260 ante): see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 4.

18 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 6A para 4(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).

19 Ibid Sch 6A para 4(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). The text refers to transactions being dealt with in accordance with s 71I(3)-(5) (as added), or those provisions as applied by s 71I(6) (as added) or s 71J(2) (as added): see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

20 Ibid Sch 6A para 5(1), (2) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, 'credit facility' has the meaning given by s 71F(11) (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see s 71X(1) (as added: see note 1 supra).

21 Ie determined in accordance with ibid s 71G (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

22 Ibid Sch 6A para 5(1), (3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

23 Ibid Sch 6A para 5(1), (4) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, in relation to a weekly report, the relevant date for a transaction is the date when the transaction was received by the party or its central organisation as mentioned in s 71Q(3) (as added) (see the text and notes 9-13 supra): Sch 6A para 8(2) (as so added).

- 24 le a recordable transaction of a description mentioned in ibid s 71F(2) (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).
- 25 le a recordable transaction of a description mentioned in ibid s 71F(3) (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

317 Weekly reporting of regulated transactions involving registered parties during election periods

NOTES 9, 17, 21, 43, 51--Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 71GA, 71R(1A), 71U(3) added, Sch 6A para 3(2), Sch 7A amended: SI 2009/185.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. (vi) Financial Controls on Recognised Third Parties at National Election Campaigns

A. CONTROLS AFFECTING EXPENDITURE BY RECOGNISED THIRD PARTIES IN NATIONAL PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION CAMPAIGNS

(A) IN GENERAL

318. Meaning of 'controlled expenditure' in relation to third parties.

For the purposes of controls affecting the involvement of third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, 'controlled expenditure', in relation to a third party², means³ expenses incurred by or on behalf of the third party in connection with the production or publication of election material⁴ which is made available to the public at large or any section of the public (in whatever form and by whatever means)⁵.

Where, in the case of a third party, either: (1) property is transferred to the third party⁶; or (2) property, services or facilities is or are provided for the use or benefit of the third party⁷, either free of charge or at a discount of more than 10 per cent⁸, and the property, services or facilities is or are made use of by or on behalf of the third party in circumstances such that, if any expenses were to be (or are) actually incurred by or on behalf of the third party in respect of that use, they would be (or are) controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the third party⁹, an amount of controlled expenditure (the 'appropriate amount') is treated, for the purposes of the statutory provisions which govern the control of expenditure by third parties at a relevant election, as incurred by the third party during the period for which the property, services or facilities is or are made so use of¹⁰. Where an amount of controlled expenditure is treated in this way as incurred by or on behalf of a third party during any period the whole or part of which falls within any period which is a regulated period¹¹, then such proportion of the appropriate amount¹² as reasonably represents the use made of the property, services or facilities during the regulated period is treated as incurred by or on behalf of the third party during the regulated period¹³, and, if a return falls to be prepared¹⁴ in respect of controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the third party during that period, the responsible person¹⁵ must make a declaration of that amount¹⁶, unless that amount is not more than £200¹⁷. Where head (1) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the market value of the property (where the property is transferred free of charge)¹⁸ or the difference between the market value of the property and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the third party in respect of the property (where the property is transferred at a discount)¹⁹, as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property²⁰. Where head (2) above applies, the appropriate amount is determined as being such proportion of either the commercial rate for the use of the property or the provision of the services or facilities (where the property, services or facilities is or are provided free of charge)²¹ or the difference between that commercial rate and the amount of expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of the third party in respect of the use of the property or the provision of the services or facilities (where the property, services or facilities is or are provided at a discount)²², as is reasonably attributable to the use made of the property, services or facilities²³.

However, no amount of controlled expenditure is to be regarded as so incurred by a third party in respect of: (a) the publication of any matter relating to an election, other than an advertisement, in a newspaper or periodical, a broadcast made by the British Broadcasting Corporation or by Sianel Pedwar Cymru (or by the Gibraltar Broadcasting Corporation, in relation to the combined region²⁴), or a programme included in any service licensed under the Broadcasting Act 1990 or the Broadcasting Act 1996²⁵; (b) any reasonable personal expenses incurred by an individual in travelling or in providing for his accommodation or other personal needs²⁶; or (c) the provision by any individual of his own services which he provides voluntarily in his own time and free of charge²⁷; or (d) any property, services or facilities to the extent that the property, services or facilities is or are used in circumstances in which an amount of campaign expenditure is to be regarded as incurred by or on behalf of a registered party for the purposes of controlling campaign expenditure²⁸ or in which an amount of expenses falls, in accordance with any enactment²⁹, to be included in a return as to election expenses³⁰ in respect of a candidate or candidates at a particular election³¹, in respect of that use³².

1 le for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt VI (ss 85-100) (as amended).

2 In relation to any relevant election, 'third party', means any person or body other than a registered party or, subject to ibid s 85(9) (see note 4 infra), any registered party: s 85(8). For the meaning of 'relevant election' for these purposes see PARA 304 note 4 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 85(6). For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante.

3 le subject to ibid s 87 (as amended) (see the text and notes 24-32 infra).

4 'Election material' is material which can reasonably be regarded as intended to:

- 49 (1) promote or procure electoral success at any relevant election for one or more particular registered parties, one or more registered parties who advocate (or do not advocate) particular policies or who otherwise fall within a particular category of such parties, or candidates who hold (or do not hold) particular opinions or who advocate (or do not advocate) particular policies or who otherwise fall within a particular category of candidates (ibid s 85(3)(a)); or
- 50 (2) otherwise enhance the standing of any such party or parties or of any such candidates with the electorate in connection with future relevant elections (whether imminent or otherwise) (s 85(3)(b)), and any such material is election material even though it can reasonably be regarded as intended to achieve any other purpose as well (s 85(3)). For these purposes:

- 51 (a) the reference to electoral success at any relevant election is a reference, in relation to a registered party, to the return at any such election of candidates standing in the name of the party or included in a list of candidates submitted by the party in connection with the election and, in relation to candidates, to their return at any such election (s 85(4)(a)); and
- 52 (b) the reference to doing any of the things mentioned in head (1) supra or (as the case may be) head (2) supra includes doing so by prejudicing the electoral prospects at the election of other parties or candidates or (as the case may be) by prejudicing the standing with the electorate of other parties or candidates (s 85(4)(b)), and, for the purpose of determining whether any material is election material, it is immaterial that it does not expressly mention the name of any party or candidate (s 85(4)). For these purposes, 'candidates' includes future candidates, whether identifiable or not: s 85(10). For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. As to references to persons standing for election in the name of a registered party see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

In connection with the application of s 85(2) in relation to expenses incurred by or on behalf of a third party which is a registered party, any reference in s 85(3) to a registered party or registered parties or to any candidates does not include the party itself or any candidates standing in the name of the party at any relevant election or included in any list submitted by the party in connection with any such election, as the case may be: s 85(9).

6 Ibid s 86(1)(a)(i). Any property given or transferred to any officer, member, trustee or agent of a third party in his capacity as such (and not for his own use or benefit) is to be regarded as given or transferred to the third party (and references to donations received by a recognised party accordingly include donations so given or transferred) (s 95, Sch 11 para 2(5); applied by s 86(9)); and any reference to property being given or transferred to a recognised third party includes a reference to its being given or transferred either directly or indirectly through any third person (Sch 11 para 2(6)(a); applied by s 86(9)). As to the meaning of 'property' for these purposes see PARA 31 note 8 ante.

7 Ibid s 86(1)(a)(ii).

8 Ibid s 86(1)(a)(i), (ii). The discount referred to in the text is a discount of more than 10% of: (1) the market value of the property, in the case of head (1) in the text; or (2) the commercial rate for the use of the property or for the provision of the services or facilities, in the case of head (2) in the text. For the meaning of 'market value' see PARA 304 note 26 ante. Where the services of an employee are made available by his employer for the use or benefit of a third party, then for the purposes of determining controlled expenditure, the amount which is to be taken as constituting the commercial rate for the provision of those services is the amount of the remuneration or allowances payable to the employee by his employer in respect of the period for which his services are so made available (but do not include any amount in respect of any contributions or other payments for which the employer is liable in respect of the employee): s 86(5).

9 Ibid s 86(1)(b).

10 Ibid s 86(2). This provision has effect subject to s 87 (as amended) (see the text and notes 24-32 infra). The text refers to the use made of the property or goods as mentioned in s 86(1)(b) (see the text and note 9 supra).

11 Ie as defined by ibid s 94(10)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 324 note 17 post).

14 Ie under ibid s 96 (see PARA 326 post).

15 In relation to a recognised third party, 'responsible person', means: (1) if the third party is an individual, that individual (ibid s 85(7)(a)); or (2) if the third party is a registered party, the treasurer of the party or, in the case of a minor party, the person for the time being notified to the Electoral Commission by the party in accordance with s 88(3)(b)(iii) (see PARA 319 post) (s 85(7)(b)); and (3) otherwise, the person or officer for the time being notified to the Electoral Commission by the third party in accordance with s 88(3)(c)(ii) (see PARA 319 post) (ss 85(7)(c), 160(1)). 'Recognised third party' means a third party for the time being recognised under s 88 (as amended) (see PARA 319 post) for the purposes of Pt VI (as amended): s 85(5). For the meaning of 'minor party' see PARA 260 note 8 ante. As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to the treasurer of a registered party see PARA 260 ante.

16 Ibid s 86(6)(b). A person commits an offence if he knowingly or recklessly makes such a declaration which is false: see s 86(8); and PARA 754 post.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/ (vi) Financial Controls on Recognised Third Parties at National Election Campaigns/A. CONTROLS AFFECTING EXPENDITURE BY RECOGNISED THIRD PARTIES IN NATIONAL PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION CAMPAIGNS/(A) In general/319. Recognised third parties.

319. Recognised third parties.

For the purposes of controlling the expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, a third party² is recognised if the third party has given the Electoral Commission³ a notification⁴ which complies with the statutory requirements⁵ and if that notification is for the time being in force⁶. A third party may only give such a notification if the third party is:

- 391 (1) an individual resident in the United Kingdom⁷ or registered in an electoral register⁸;
 - 392 (2) a registered party⁹; or
 - 393 (3) a body¹⁰ falling within any of the following:
- 15
- 26. (a) a company registered under the Companies Act 1985 and incorporated within the United Kingdom or another member state which carries on business in the United Kingdom¹¹;
 - 27. (b) a trade union entered in the list kept under the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992¹²;
 - 28. (c) a building society¹³;
 - 29. (d) a limited liability partnership registered under the Limited Liability Partnerships Act 2000 which carries on business in the United Kingdom¹⁴;
 - 30. (e) a friendly society registered under the Friendly Societies Act 1974¹⁵ or a society registered (or deemed to be registered) under the Industrial and Provident Societies Act 1965¹⁶; and
 - 31. (f) any unincorporated association of two or more persons which does not fall within any of heads (a) to (e) above but which carries on business or other activities wholly or mainly in the United Kingdom and whose main office is there¹⁷.

Such a notification: (i) if given by an individual, must state his full name¹⁸ and his home address in the United Kingdom, or (if he has no such address in the United Kingdom) his home address elsewhere¹⁹, and must be signed by him²⁰; (ii) if given by a registered party, must state the party's registered name²¹, the address of its registered headquarters²², and (in the case of a minor party²³) the name of the person who will be responsible for compliance on the part of the party with the financial controls relating to third parties²⁴, and must be signed by the responsible officers of the party²⁵; and (iii) if given by a body falling within any of heads (a) to (f) above²⁶, must state all such details in respect of the body as are required²⁷ to be given in respect of such a body as the donor of a recordable donation²⁸ and the name of the person or officer who will be responsible for compliance on the part of the body with the financial controls relating to third parties²⁹, and must be signed by the body's secretary or a person who acts in a similar capacity in relation to the body³⁰.

The original notification³¹ is in force as from the date on which it is received by the Commission³² but lapses at the end of the period of three months beginning with any anniversary of that date unless the third party notifies the Commission that the third party wishes the original notification to continue in force³³. Where the original notification would otherwise lapse in this way at the end of any such period of three months³⁴ but the end of that period falls within any regulated period at the end of which a return will fall to be prepared³⁵ in respect of controlled expenditure³⁶ incurred by or on behalf of the third party during the regulated period³⁷, the original notification is treated, for all purposes connected with controlled expenditure so incurred during the regulated period, as lapsing at the end of that period instead³⁸. A renewal notification³⁹ must either confirm that all the statements contained in the original notification, as it has effect for the time being, are accurate⁴⁰ or indicate that any statement contained in that notification, as it so has effect, is replaced by some other statement conforming with the statutory requirements⁴¹; and it must be received by the Commission during the period beginning one month before the relevant anniversary⁴² and ending three months after it⁴³.

A third party may, at any time after giving the original notification, give the Commission a notification (a 'notification of alteration') indicating that any statement contained in the original notification, as it has effect for the time being, is replaced by some other statement contained in the notification of alteration⁴⁴ and conforming with the statutory requirements⁴⁵.

The Commission must maintain a register of all notifications given to it by third parties⁴⁶ which are for the time being in force⁴⁷. The register must be maintained by the Commission in such form as it may determine and must contain, in the case of each such notification, all the information contained in the notification as it has effect for the time being⁴⁸. Where any notification is given to the Commission⁴⁹, it must cause all the information contained in the notification, or (as the case may be) any new information contained in it, to be entered in the register as soon as is reasonably practicable⁵⁰; but the information to be so entered in the register in respect of a third party who is an individual must not include his home address⁵¹. The Commission must make a copy of the register so kept by it⁵² available for public inspection during ordinary office hours, either at the Commission's offices or at some convenient place appointed by it⁵³, although the Commission may make other arrangements for members of the public to have access to the register's contents⁵⁴. If requested to do so by any person, the Commission must supply him with a copy of the register or any part of it⁵⁵; and the Commission may charge such reasonable fee as it may determine in respect of any inspection or access so allowed or any copy so supplied⁵⁶. Where any such register is held by the Commission in electronic form, any copy so made available for public inspection or so supplied must be made available, or (as the case may be) supplied, in a legible form⁵⁷.

(B) GENERAL RESTRICTIONS ON CONTROLLED EXPENDITURE BY THIRD PARTIES

320. Restriction on incurring controlled expenditure without authority.

For the purposes of controlling the expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, no amount of controlled expenditure² may be incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party³ unless it is incurred with the authority of⁴: (1) the responsible person⁵; or (2) a person authorised in writing by the responsible person⁶. Where, in the case of a recognised third party that is a registered party⁷, any expenses are incurred in contravention of this restriction, the expenses do not count as controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the recognised third party either for the purposes of the statutory provisions which impose financial limits on such expenditure⁸ or for the purposes of the statutory provisions which require returns as to such expenditure⁹.

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he incurs any expenses in contravention of the restriction on incurring controlled expenditure by or on behalf of a recognised third party¹⁰.

1 Ie for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt VI (ss 85-100) (as amended). However, s 90 (as amended) does not apply in relation to a recognised Gibraltar third party except in relation to controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of that party during the period of four months ending with the date of the poll for a general election to the European Parliament: see s 90(4) (added by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Campaign Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 4(2), Schedule paras 1, 24). 321. Restriction on payments in respect of controlled expenditure incurred by third parties.

For the purposes of controlling the expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, no payment (of whatever nature), may be made in respect of any controlled expenditure² incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party³ unless it is made by⁴: (1) the responsible person⁵; or (2) a person authorised in writing by the responsible person⁶. Any payment made in respect of any such expenditure by a person within head (1) or head (2) above must be supported by an invoice or a receipt unless it is not more than £200⁷; and where any such payment is made by a person within head (2) above, he must deliver to the responsible person both notification that he has made the payment⁸ and the supporting invoice or receipt⁹, as soon as possible after making the payment¹⁰.

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he makes any payment in contravention of the restriction on payments made in respect of controlled expenditure or if he is a person within head (2) above who contravenes the requirements imposed on such a person regarding the delivery of notification and evidence¹¹.

Claims against third party in respect of controlled expenditure.

322. Claims against third party in respect of controlled expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling the expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, a claim for payment in respect of controlled expenditure² incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party³ during any period which is a regulated period⁴ is not payable unless the claim is sent⁵ to the responsible person⁶, or any other person authorised⁷ to incur the expenditure⁸, not later than 30⁹ days after the end of the regulated period¹⁰. Any claim so sent must be paid not later than 60 days after the end of the regulated period¹¹; but this is without prejudice to any rights of a creditor of a recognised third party to obtain payment before the end of the period so allowed¹².

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he pays any claim for payment in respect of controlled expenditure which by virtue of being statute-barred¹³ is not payable or if he makes any payment in respect of a claim after the end of the period allowed for the payment of claims¹⁴.

If the responsible person or other person to whom a claim for payment in respect of controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party is sent fails or refuses to pay the claim within the period allowed¹⁵, where the claim is sent to either the responsible person¹⁶ or to any other person with whose authority it is alleged that the expenditure was incurred¹⁷, within the period allowed before such claims are barred¹⁸, the claim is deemed to be a disputed claim¹⁹. The person by whom the disputed claim is made may bring an action for a disputed claim, and any sum paid in pursuance of a court's judgment or order made in the proceedings is not deemed to be in contravention of the statutory provision forbidding payment of controlled expenditure later than 42 days after the end of the regulated period²⁰.

323. Application for leave to pay claims in respect of controlled expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling the expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, the person making a claim for payment in respect of controlled expenditure² incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party³, or the person with whose authority the expenditure in question was incurred⁴, may apply to the High Court or to the county court for leave to pay such a claim (even if it is sent in after the statutory period allowed of 21 days⁵) or may apply to the High Court or to the county court for leave to pay a disputed claim⁶. The court, if satisfied that for any special reason it is appropriate to do so, may by order grant the leave⁷. Any sum paid in pursuance of such leave is not deemed to be a contravention of the provisions forbidding the making or payment of claims relating to controlled expenditure later than the statutory period allowed⁸.

Limitation of controlled expenditure incurred by third parties.

(C) FINANCIAL LIMITS ON CONTROLLED EXPENDITURE BY THIRD PARTIES

324. Limitation of controlled expenditure incurred by third parties.

For the purposes of controlling expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, the limit which applies in relation to controlled expenditure² incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party³:

- 394 (1) in relation to a parliamentary general election⁴ in the relevant period⁵ in England or Wales (as the case may be) is⁶, in relation to England, £793,500⁷ and, in relation to Wales, £60,000⁸;
- 395 (2) in relation to an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly⁹ in the relevant period¹⁰ in Wales is £30,000¹¹;
- 396 (3) in relation to a general election to the European parliament¹² in the relevant period¹³ in each of England or Wales (as the case may be) is¹⁴, in relation to England, £159,750¹⁵ and, in relation to Wales, £11,259¹⁶.

Where: (a) during a regulated period¹⁷, any controlled expenditure is incurred in a particular part of the United Kingdom¹⁸ by or on behalf of a third party¹⁹ (whether or not any of the third parties in question is a recognised third party)²⁰; and (b) the expenditure is so incurred in pursuance of a plan or other arrangement whereby controlled expenditure is to be incurred by or on behalf of²¹ that third party²² and one or more other third parties²³, in connection with the production or publication of election material which can reasonably be regarded as intended to achieve a common purpose falling within the definition of 'election material' for these purposes²⁴, the expenditure mentioned in head (a) above is treated for the purposes of the statutory provisions which impose financial limits on controlled expenditure²⁵ as having also been incurred, during the period and in the part of the United Kingdom concerned, by or on behalf of the other third party (or, as the case may be, each of the other third parties) mentioned in head (b) above²⁶.

Where: (i) at any time before the beginning of any regulated period, any expenses falling within the definition of 'controlled expenditure'²⁷ are incurred by or on behalf of a third party in respect of any property²⁸, services or facilities²⁹; but (ii) the property, services or facilities is or are made use of by or on behalf of the third party during the regulated period in circumstances such that, had any expenses been incurred in respect of that use during that period, they would have constituted³⁰ controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the third party during that period³¹, the appropriate proportion of the expenses mentioned in head (i) above³² is treated for the purposes of the statutory provisions which impose financial limits on controlled expenditure³³ or for the purposes of the statutory provisions which require returns as to such expenditure³⁴, as controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the third party during that period³⁵.

Special provision is made for limiting controlled expenditure where, in special circumstances, elections are combined³⁶.

Where, during a regulated period in relation to which any limitation of controlled expenditure applies in relation to a third party (whether or not a recognised third party), any controlled expenditure is incurred in the United Kingdom by or on behalf of the third party in excess of the limit that applies, the individual concerned (or the responsible person, if the third party is not an individual) is guilty of an offence if he knew or ought reasonably to have known that the expenditure would be incurred in excess of that limit; and, where the third party is not an individual, the third party is also guilty of an offence³⁷.

1 le for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt VI (ss 85-100) (as amended).

2 For the meaning of 'controlled expenditure' in relation to third parties see PARA 318 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'recognised third party' see PARA 318 note 15 ante.

For these purposes, controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of any recognised third party is attributed to each of England and Wales in proportion to the number of parliamentary constituencies for the time being situated in that part of United Kingdom (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 94(1), Sch 10 para 2(1)); and controlled expenditure whose effects are wholly or substantially confined to any particular parts or part of the United Kingdom are attributed to those parts in proportion to the number of parliamentary constituencies for the time being situated in those parts or are attributed solely to that part, as the case may be (Sch 10 para 2(2)). For this purpose, the effects of controlled expenditure are wholly or substantially confined to any particular parts or part of the United Kingdom if they have no significant effects in any other part or parts (so that, for example, expenditure on an advertisement in a newspaper circulating in Wales is to be attributed solely to Wales if the newspaper does not circulate to any significant extent in any other part of the United Kingdom): Sch 10 para 2(3). As respects controlled expenditure incurred in the period of four months ending with the date of the poll for an election to the European Parliament in the combined region, that region is to be regarded as part of England for the purposes of the references to a part or parts of the United Kingdom: see Sch 10 para 2(3A) (added by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Controlled Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 4(2), Schedule paras 1, 36(b)). References in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 (as amended) to controlled expenditure 'in' a particular part of the United Kingdom are accordingly to controlled expenditure which is to be attributed to that part in accordance with Sch 10 para 2 (as amended): Sch 10 para 2(3). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante; and for the meanings of 'England', 'United Kingdom' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the combined region see PARA 76 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

4 As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 196 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

5 For these purposes, the relevant period is: (1) the period of 365 days ending with the date of the poll for the election (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 3(3)(a)); or (2) where the election (the 'election in question') follows another parliamentary general election held less than 365 days previously, the period beginning with the day after the date of the poll for the earlier election and ending with the date of the poll for the election in question (Sch 10 para 3(3)(b)). As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election see PARA 202 ante.

7 Ibid Sch 10 para 3(2)(a).

8 Ibid Sch 10 para 3(2)(c).

9 For these purposes, an 'ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly' means an election held under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see PARA 220 ante): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 1(1)(c). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies to the holding of ordinary elections after that date see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 3; and PARA 220 ante.

10 For these purposes, the relevant period is the period beginning with the appropriate date and ending with the date of the poll: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 6(3). The 'appropriate date' is the date which falls four months before the date of the poll where:

- 56 (1) the date of the poll is that determined by the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2) (see PARA 220 ante) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 6(4)(a));
- 57 (2) no less than five months before the day on which the poll would have taken place under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2), the date of the poll is brought forward under s 3(3) (see PARA 220 ante) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 6(4)(b)); or
- 58 (3) no less than four months before the day on which the poll would have taken place under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2), the date of the poll is postponed under s 3(3) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 6(4)(c)), but where the date of the poll is brought forward or postponed otherwise than as mentioned in head (2) or head (3) supra, the 'appropriate date' means the date which falls four months before the date when the poll would have taken place under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(2) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 6(4)). As to the date of the poll at ordinary elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 ante. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies to the holding of ordinary elections after that date see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 3; and PARA 220 ante.

11 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 6(1), (2).

12 As to European parliamentary general elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

13 For these purposes, the relevant period is the period of four months ending with the date of the poll for the election: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 4(3). As to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

14 Ibid Sch 10 para 4(1), (2). As respects a recognised Gibraltar third party, Sch 10 para 4(2) has effect as if the limits were, in relation to England, £16,000 and, in relation to Wales, £5,000: see Sch 10 para 4(2A) (added by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Controlled Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, Schedule paras 1, 36(c)).

This is subject to s 94(11) (added by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Controlled Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, Schedule paras 1, 27(c)), which relates to a recognised Gibraltar third party: see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 94(10)(a) (amended by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Controlled Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, Schedule paras 1, 27(b)).

18 For these purposes, any reference to controlled expenditure being incurred in a part of the United Kingdom must be construed in accordance with the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 10 para 2 (as amended) (see note 3 supra): s 94(10)(d).

For the purposes of controlling expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, special limits apply to controlled expenditure² incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party³ in England⁴ or Wales⁵ at combined polls⁶ in circumstances where:

- 397 (1) separate limits would apply in relation to a general election to the European Parliament⁷ and in relation to an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly⁸ and any part of the period which would be the relevant period⁹ for the purposes of the general election to the European Parliament falls within any part of the period which would be the relevant period¹⁰ for the purposes of the ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly¹¹;
- 398 (2) separate limits would apply in relation to a parliamentary general election¹², and in relation to a general election to the European Parliament¹³ or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly¹⁴ and one or more parliamentary general elections is or are pending¹⁵ during any part of the period in relation to which the limit imposed in relation to the European Parliament or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly would apply¹⁶;
- 399 (3) a limit under head (2) above would apply in relation to a relevant period for those purposes¹⁷ and another limit in relation to a general election to the European Parliament¹⁸ or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly¹⁹ applies in relation to a period which is not a period during which the parliamentary general election is pending but which either falls wholly within or ends at any time falling within the relevant period for the purposes of head (2) above²⁰;
- 400 (4) a period which is the relevant period for the purposes of a general election to the European Parliament²¹ or an ordinary election to the Welsh Assembly²² either falls wholly within, or ends at any time falling within, the period which would be the relevant period in relation to the parliamentary general election²³, and where head (2) above does not apply in connection with the those elections²⁴.

(D) REQUIRED RETURNS IN RESPECT OF CONTROLLED EXPENDITURE BY THIRD PARTIES

326. Returns in respect of controlled expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, where, during any regulated period², any controlled expenditure³ is incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party⁴ in any relevant part or parts of the United Kingdom⁵ and that period ends⁶, the responsible person⁷ must prepare a return in respect of the controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the third party during that period in that part or those parts of the United Kingdom⁸.

Such a return must specify the poll for the relevant election⁹ (or, as the case may be, the polls for the relevant elections) that took place during the regulated period in question, and must contain¹⁰:

- 401 (1) a statement of all payments made in respect of controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the third party during that period in the relevant part or parts of the United Kingdom¹¹;
- 402 (2) a statement of all disputed claims¹² of which the responsible person is aware¹³;
- 403 (3) a statement of all the unpaid claims (if any) of which the responsible person is aware in respect of which an application has been made, or is about to be made, to a court for leave to pay the claim¹⁴;
- 404 (4) in a case where the third party either is not a registered party¹⁵ or is a minor party¹⁶, a statement of relevant donations¹⁷ received by the third party in respect of the relevant election or elections which complies with the requirement to report any donations received from persons who are permissible donors as well as those received from persons who are not permissible donors¹⁸.

Such a return must be accompanied by:

- 405 (a) all invoices or receipts relating to the payments mentioned in head (1) above¹⁹; and
- 406 (b) in the case of any controlled expenditure treated as incurred by the third party²⁰, any declaration falling to be made with respect to that expenditure²¹.

Where, however, any payments or claims falling to be dealt with in such a return have already been dealt with in an earlier return²², it is sufficient for the later return to deal with those payments or claims by specifying overall amounts in respect of them²³ and the requirement imposed by heads (a) and (b) above does not apply to any invoices, receipts or declarations which accompanied the earlier return and are specified as such in the later return²⁴.

The requirements as to what must be specified in such a return and what must accompany such a return²⁵ do not apply to any controlled expenditure incurred at any time before the third party became a recognised third party, but the return must be accompanied by a declaration made by the responsible person of the total amount of such expenditure incurred at any such time²⁶.

A report must be prepared by a qualified auditor²⁷ on such a return in respect of controlled expenditure where, during any regulated period, the controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party in the relevant part or parts of the United Kingdom exceeds £250,000²⁸.

For the purposes of controlling expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, where any return falls to be prepared² in respect of controlled expenditure³ incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party⁴ during a regulated period⁵, and an auditor's report on it also falls to be prepared⁶, the responsible person⁷ must deliver the return to the Electoral Commission⁸, together with a copy of the auditor's report, within six months of the end of the regulated period⁹. In the case of any other such return which falls to be prepared¹⁰, the responsible person must deliver the return to the Commission within three months of the end of the regulated period¹¹.

Where, after the date on which a return is so delivered to the Commission, leave is given by a court for any claim to be paid¹², the responsible person must, within seven days after the payment, deliver to the Commission a return of any sums paid in pursuance of the leave accompanied by a copy of the order of the court giving the leave¹³.

The responsible person in the case of a recognised third party commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with the requirements as to any return or auditor's report¹⁴; and, notwithstanding any criminal liability of any person, the recognised third party is liable to a civil penalty¹⁵.

For the purposes of controlling expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, each return in respect of controlled expenditure² incurred by or on behalf of a recognised third party³ during a regulated period⁴ must, when delivered to the Electoral Commission⁵, be accompanied by a declaration which is signed by the responsible person⁶ and which must state that the responsible person has examined the return in question⁷ and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief⁸, it is a complete and correct return as required by law⁹ and all expenses shown in it as paid have been paid by him or by a person authorised by him¹⁰. The declaration must also state, in a case where the third party either is not a registered party¹¹ or is a minor party¹², that all relevant donations¹³ recorded in the return as having been accepted by the third party are from permissible donors¹⁴, and that no other relevant donations have been accepted by the third party in respect of the relevant election or elections¹⁵ which took place during the regulated period¹⁶.

A person commits an offence if he knowingly or recklessly makes such a declaration falsely or if the requirements as to such a declaration are contravened at a time when he is the responsible person in the case of the recognised third party to which the return relates¹⁷.

329. Public inspection of returns in respect of controlled expenditure.

For the purposes of controlling expenditure incurred by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns¹, where the Electoral Commission² receives any return in respect of controlled expenditure³, it must⁴, as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving the return, make a copy of the return, and of any documents accompanying it, available for public inspection⁵ and keep any such copy available for public inspection for the period for which the return or other document is kept by it⁶. Where the Commission is for the time being required to make available for public inspection a copy of any document in this way, it must make the copy available for public inspection during ordinary office hours, either at the Commission's offices or at some convenient place appointed by it⁷, although the Commission may make other arrangements for members of the public to have access to the document's contents⁸. If requested to do so by any person, the Commission must supply him with a copy of the document or any part of it⁹; and the Commission may charge such reasonable fee as it may determine in respect of any inspection or access so allowed or any copy so supplied¹⁰. Where any such document is held by the Commission in electronic form, any copy so made available for public inspection or so supplied must be made available, or (as the case may be) supplied, in a legible form¹¹.

At the end of the period of two years beginning with the date when any such return or other document is received by the Commission¹², it may cause the return or other document to be destroyed¹³; but, if requested to do so by the responsible person¹⁴ in the case of the recognised third party¹⁵ concerned, it must arrange for the return or other document to be returned to that person¹⁶.

B. CONTROLS AFFECTING DONATIONS MADE TO RECOGNISED THIRD PARTIES IN NATIONAL PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION CAMPAIGNS

330. Meaning of 'donation' in relation to a recognised third party.

For the purposes of controlling donations to recognised third parties¹ which either are not registered parties² or are minor parties³, 'donation', in relation to such a recognised third party, means⁴: (1) any gift⁵ to the recognised third party of money or other property⁶; (2) any sponsorship provided in relation to the recognised third party⁷; (3) any money spent (otherwise than by or on behalf of the recognised third party) in paying any controlled expenditure⁸ incurred by or on behalf of the recognised third party⁹; (4) any money lent to the recognised third party otherwise than on commercial terms¹⁰; (5) the provision otherwise than on commercial terms of any property, services or facilities for the use or benefit of the recognised third party (including the services of any person)¹¹; (6) in the case of a recognised third party, other than an individual, any subscription or other fee paid for affiliation to, or membership of, the third party¹².

Where anything would be a donation both by virtue of head (2) above and by virtue of any other provision mentioned in head (1) or heads (3) to (6) above, head (2) above applies in relation to that donation to the exclusion of the other provision¹³. Any donation whose value is not more than £200 is disregarded¹⁴; and none of the following is to be regarded as a donation: (a) the provision by an individual of his own services which he provides voluntarily in his own time and free of charge¹⁵; (b) any interest accruing to a recognised third party in respect of any donation which is sent back by the responsible person¹⁶ in relation to the recognised third party¹⁷.

For these purposes, 'sponsorship' is provided in relation to a recognised third party if any money or other property is transferred to the recognised third party or to any person for the benefit of the recognised third party¹⁸ and the purpose (or one of the purposes) of the transfer is (or must, having regard to all the circumstances, reasonably be assumed to be)¹⁹ either to help the recognised third party with meeting, or to meet, to any extent any defined expenses²⁰ incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of the recognised third party²¹ or to secure that to any extent any such expenses are not so incurred²². However, for these purposes: (i) the making of any payment in respect of any charge for admission to any conference, meeting or other event²³ or in respect of the purchase price of, or any other charge for access to, any publication²⁴; or (ii) the making of any payment in respect of the inclusion of an advertisement in any publication where the payment is made at the commercial rate payable for the inclusion of such an advertisement in any such publication²⁵, do not constitute sponsorship for these purposes²⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'recognised third party' see PARA 318 note 15 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante.

3 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 95, Sch 11 para 1(1), (2). Accordingly, for the purposes of Sch 11 (as amended), 'recognised third party' does not include a recognised third party which is a registered party other than a minor party (Sch 11 para 1(3)); and 'donation' is to be construed in accordance with Sch 11 paras 2-4 (see the text and notes 4-26 infra): Sch 11 para 1(5). For the meaning of 'minor party' see PARA 260 note 8 ante.

4 Ibid Sch 11 para 2(1). This provision is subject to Sch 11 para 4 (see the text and notes 14-17 infra).

5 For these purposes, 'gift' includes bequest (and thus any form of testamentary disposition): ibid s 160(1), Sch 11 para 2(6)(b). For these purposes, any reference to anything being given or transferred to a recognised third party includes a reference to its being given or transferred either directly or indirectly through any third person: Sch 11 para 2(6)(a). Any property given or transferred to any officer, member, trustee or agent of a third party in his capacity as such (and not for his own use or benefit) is to be regarded as given or transferred to the third party (and references to donations received by a recognised party accordingly include donations so given or transferred): Sch 11 para 2(5). As to the meaning of 'property' for these purposes see PARA 31 note 8 ante.

6 Ibid Sch 11 para 2(1)(a). Where: (1) any money or other property is transferred to a recognised third party pursuant to any transaction or arrangement involving the provision by or on behalf of the recognised third party of any property, services or facilities or other consideration of monetary value (Sch 11 para 2(2)(a)); and (2) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration so provided by or on behalf of the recognised third party is less than the value of the money or (as the case may be) the market value of the property transferred (Sch 11 para 2(2)(b)), the transfer of the money or property constitute a gift to the recognised third party for the purposes of Sch 11 para 2(1)(a), but subject to Sch 11 para 2(4) (see the text and note 13 infra) (Sch 11 para 2(2)). The value of any donation falling within Sch 11 para 2(1)(a), other than money, must be taken to be the market value of the property in question: Sch 11 para 5(1). However, where Sch 11 para 2(1)(a) applies by virtue of Sch 11 para 2(2), the value of the donation must be taken to be the difference between: (a) the value of the money (or the market value of the property) in question (Sch 11 para 5(2)(a)); and (b) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration provided by or on behalf of the recognised third party (Sch 11 para 5(2)(b)). For the meaning of 'market value' see PARA 304 note 26 ante.

7 Ibid Sch 11 para 2(1)(b). For these purposes, sponsorship provided in relation to the recognised third party is defined by Sch 11 para 3 (see the text and notes 18-26 infra): Sch 11 para 2(1)(b). The value of any donation falling within Sch 11 para 2(1)(b) is taken to be the value of the money or (as the case may be) the market value of the property, transferred as mentioned in Sch 11 para 3(1) (see the text and notes 18-22 infra); and accordingly any value in monetary terms of any benefit conferred on the person providing the sponsorship in question must be disregarded: Sch 11 para 5(3).

8 For the meaning of 'controlled expenditure' in relation to third parties see PARA 318 ante.

9 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 11 para 2(1)(c). A donation to a recognised third party for the purpose of meeting controlled expenditure incurred by or on behalf of the recognised third party is referred to as a 'relevant donation': Sch 11 para 1(4).

10 Ibid Sch 11 para 2(1)(d). In determining, for these purposes, whether any money lent to a recognised third party is so lent otherwise than on commercial terms (Sch 11 para 2(3)(a)), regard must be had to the total value in monetary terms of the consideration provided by or on behalf of the recognised third party in respect of the loan or the provision of the property, services or facilities (Sch 11 para 2(3)). The value of any donation falling within Sch 11 para 2(1)(d) or Sch 11 para 2(1)(e) (see head (5) in the text) is taken to be the amount representing the difference between: (1) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration that would have had to be provided by or on behalf of the recognised third party in respect of the loan or the provision of the property, services or facilities if the loan had been made or the property, services or facilities had been provided, on commercial terms (Sch 11 para 5(4)(a)); and (2) the total value in monetary terms of the consideration, if any, actually so provided by or on behalf of the recognised third party (Sch 11 para 5(4)(b)). Where such a donation confers an enduring benefit on the donee over a particular period, the value of the donation is determined at the time when it is made, but must be so determined by reference to the total benefit accruing to the donee over that period: Sch 11 para 5(5).

11 Ibid Sch 11 para 2(1)(e). In determining, for these purposes, whether any property, services or facilities provided for the use or benefit of a recognised third party is or are so provided otherwise than on commercial terms (Sch 11 para 2(3)(b)), regard must be had to the total value in monetary terms of the consideration provided by or on behalf of the recognised third party in respect of the loan or the provision of the property, services or facilities (Sch 11 para 2(3)).

12 Ibid Sch 11 para 2(1)(f).

13 Ibid Sch 11 para 2(4). In the circumstances mentioned in the text, the general provisions as to sponsorship (see the text and notes 18-26 infra) apply as well as the provision mentioned in head (2) in the text: Sch 11 para 2(4).

14 Ibid Sch 11 para 4(2). The value is determined in accordance with Sch 11 para 5 (see notes 6-7, 10 supra). The Secretary of State may by order vary the sum for the time being specified in Sch 11 (as amended): see s 155; and PARA 304 note 36 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

15 Ibid Sch 11 para 4(1)(a).

16 For the meaning of 'responsible person' for these purposes see PARA 318 note 15 ante.

18 Ibid Sch 11 para 3(1)(a).

19 Ibid Sch 11 para 3(1)(b).

20 For this purpose, 'defined expenses' means expenses in connection with: (1) any conference, meeting or other event organised by or on behalf of the recognised third party (ibid Sch 11 para 3(2)(a)); (2) the preparation, production or dissemination of any publication by or on behalf of the recognised third party (Sch 11 para 3(2)(b)); or (3) any study or research organised by or on behalf of the recognised third party (Sch 11 para 3(2)(c)). The Secretary of State may by order made on the recommendation of the Electoral Commission amend Sch 11 para 3(2) or Sch 11 para 3(3) (see the text and notes 23-26 infra): s 160(1), Sch 11 para 3(4). For this purpose, 'publication' means a publication made available in whatever form and by whatever means, whether or not to the public at large or any section of the public: Sch 11 para 3(5). CONTROLS AFFECTING DONATIONS MADE TO RECOGNISED THIRD PARTIES IN NATIONAL PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION CAMPAIGNS/331. Restrictions on recognised third parties accepting certain donations.

331. Restrictions on recognised third parties accepting certain donations.

For the purposes of controlling donations to recognised third parties¹ which either are not registered parties² or are minor parties³, a relevant donation⁴ received by a recognised third party must not be accepted if: (1) the person by whom the donation would be made is not, at the time of its receipt by the recognised third party, a permissible donor⁶; or (2) the recognised third party is, whether because the donation is given anonymously or by reason of any deception or concealment or otherwise, unable to ascertain the identity of the person offering the donation⁷.

For these purposes, where any person (the 'principal donor') causes an amount (the 'principal donation') to be received by a recognised third party by way of a relevant donation either on behalf of himself and one or more other persons⁸ or on behalf of two or more other persons⁹, then for the purposes of the provisions relating to the controls on donations received by third parties¹⁰, each individual contribution by such person of more than £200 is treated as if it were a separate donation received from that person¹¹. Also, where any person (the 'agent') causes an amount to be received by a recognised third party by way of a donation on behalf of another person (the 'donor')¹², and the amount of the donation is more than £200¹³, the agent must ensure that, at the time when the donation is received by the recognised third party, the responsible person is given all such details in respect of the donor as are required to be included in donation reports in respect of a donation from a permissible donor¹⁴. A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with the provisions which impose controls on donations to recognised third parties made through other persons or through agents¹⁵.

6 Ibid Sch 11 para 6(1)(a). The text refers to a permissible donor falling within s 54(2) (as amended) (see PARA 293 ante). For these purposes, any relevant donation received by a recognised third party which is an exempt trust donation is regarded as a relevant donation received by the recognised third party from such a permissible donor: Sch 11 para 6(2). However, any relevant donation received by a recognised third party from a trustee of any property (in his capacity as such) is regarded as being from a person who is not such a permissible donor if that donation is not: (1) an exempt trust donation (Sch 11 para 6(3)(a)); or (2) a relevant donation transmitted by the trustee to the recognised third party on behalf of beneficiaries under the trust who are either persons who, at the time of its receipt by the recognised third party, are such permissible donors or the members of an unincorporated association which at that time is such a permissible donor (Sch 11 para 6(3)(b)). For the meaning of 'exempt trust donation' see PARA 293 note 7 ante.

In relation to each such separate donation, the principal donor must ensure that, at the time when the principal donation is received by the recognised third party, the responsible person in relation to the third party concerned is given: (1) except in the case of a donation which the principal donor is treated as making, all such details in respect of the person treated as making the donation as are required by virtue of Sch 11 para 10(1)(c) (see PARA 334 post) to be given in respect of the donor of a donation from a permissible donor (Sch 11 para 6(5)(a)); and (2) in any case, all such details in respect of the donation as are required by virtue of Sch 11 para 10(1)(a) (see PARA 334 post) (Sch 11 para 6(5)(b)). For the meaning of 'responsible person' for these purposes see PARA 318 note 15 ante. The Secretary of State may by order vary the sum for the time being specified in Sch 11 (as amended): see s 155; and PARA 304 note 36 ante. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/ (vi) Financial Controls on Recognised Third Parties at National Election Campaigns/B. CONTROLS AFFECTING DONATIONS MADE TO RECOGNISED THIRD PARTIES IN NATIONAL PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION CAMPAIGNS/332. Acceptance or return of donations made to a recognised third party.

332. Acceptance or return of donations made to a recognised third party.

The provisions which require a registered party¹ to: (1) take all reasonable steps to identify a donor in order to ascertain whether he is a permissible donor²; and (2) where a donor is unidentifiable or impermissible, to return the donation to its source or to send it to the Electoral Commission³ or subject it to forfeiture on the application of the Commission⁴, apply, subject to minor modification, for the purposes of controlling donations to recognised third parties⁵ in relation to any relevant donation⁶ received by a recognised third party and in relation to the recognised third party, as they apply in relation to any donation received by a registered party and in relation to the registered party⁷.

Accordingly, where a donation is received by a recognised third party⁸ and it is not immediately decided that the recognised third party should (for whatever reason) refuse the donation⁹, all reasonable steps must be taken forthwith by or on behalf of the third party to verify (or, so far as any of the following is not apparent, ascertain) the identity of the donor, whether he is a permissible donor, and (if that appears to be the case) all such details in respect of the donor as are required to be included in donation reports¹⁰. If a recognised third party receives a donation which it is prohibited from accepting¹¹, or which it is decided that the recognised third party should for any other reason refuse¹², then the donation, or a payment of an equivalent amount, must be sent back to the person who made the donation or any person appearing to be acting on his behalf¹³ (unless the third party is unable to ascertain the identity of the person by whom the donation would be made¹⁴, in which case the required steps¹⁵ must be taken in relation to the donation)¹⁶, within the period of 30 days beginning with the date when the donation is received by the party¹⁷. Unless the donation is so returned (or such steps are taken in relation to the donation) within the period of 30 days so mentioned¹⁸, and unless a record can be produced of the receipt of the donation and of the return of the donation or the equivalent amount (or of the required steps being taken in relation to the donation, as the case may be)¹⁹ then, for these purposes, a donation received by a recognised third party is taken to have been accepted by that third party²⁰.

In England and Wales²¹, a magistrates' court may, on an application made by the Electoral Commission, order the forfeiture by the recognised third party of an amount equal to the value of any donation²² received by a recognised third party which²³ the third party is prohibited from accepting²⁴ but which has been accepted by that third party²⁵. The standard of proof in proceedings on such an application is that applicable to civil proceedings²⁶; and such an order may be made whether or not proceedings are brought against any person for an offence connected with the donation²⁷. Where such an order (a 'forfeiture order') is made by a magistrates' court²⁸, the recognised third party may, before the end of the period of 30 days beginning with the date on which any forfeiture order is made, appeal to the Crown Court²⁹. Such an appeal is by way of a rehearing; and the court hearing such an appeal may make such order as it considers appropriate³⁰. The standard of proof in relation to a rehearing on such an appeal remains that applicable to civil proceedings³¹; and an appropriate order may be made whether or not proceedings are brought against any person for an offence connected with the donation³². Any amount forfeited by an order made either on application or on appeal³³ must be paid into the Consolidated Fund³⁴, although this does not apply: (a) where an appeal is made³⁵, before the appeal is determined or otherwise disposed of³⁶; and (b) in any other case, before the end of the period of 30 days beginning with the date on which any forfeiture order is made³⁷.

14 Ie unless the donation falls within ibid s 54(1)(b) (as applied), which is in similar terms to Sch 11 para 6(1) (b) (see PARA 331 ante).

15 For these purpose, the required steps are as follows: (1) if the donation was transmitted by a person other than the donor, and the identity of that person is apparent, to return the donation to that person (ibid s 57(1)(a) (as applied: see the text and notes 1-7 supra)); (2) if head (1) supra does not apply but it is apparent that the donor has, in connection with the donation, used any facility provided by an identifiable financial institution, to return the donation to that institution (s 57(1)(b) (as so applied)); and (3) in any other case, to send the donation to the Electoral Commission (s 57(1)(c) (as so applied), s 160(1)). Any reference to returning or sending a donation to any person or body includes a reference to sending a payment of an equivalent amount to that person or body (s 57(2) (as so applied)); and any amount sent to the Electoral Commission in pursuance of head (3) supra must be paid by it into the Consolidated Fund (s 57(3) (as so applied), s 160(1)). In the case of a registered party which is not a body corporate: (1) proceedings under s 58 (as applied) or s 59 (as applied) must be brought against or by the party in its own name (and not in that of any of its members) (s 60(5)(a) (as so applied)); for the purposes of any such proceedings any rules of court relating to the service of documents apply as if the party were a body corporate (s 60(5)(b) (as so applied)); and (3) any amount forfeited by an order under s 58 (as applied) or s 59 (as applied) must be paid out of the funds of the party (s 60(5)(c) (as so applied)). CONTROLS AFFECTING DONATIONS MADE TO RECOGNISED THIRD PARTIES IN NATIONAL PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION CAMPAIGNS/334. Statement of relevant donations received by a recognised third party.

334. Statement of relevant donations received by a recognised third party.

For the purposes of controlling donations to recognised third parties¹ which are not registered parties² or are minor parties³, the recognised third party must include, in any return required to be prepared in respect of controlled expenditure⁴, a statement of relevant donations⁵ received in respect of the relevant election or elections⁶ which complies with the requirement to report any donations received from persons who are permissible donors as well as those received from persons who are not permissible donors⁷.

Accordingly, in relation to each relevant donation accepted by the recognised third party where the value of the donation: (1) is more than £5,000⁸; or (2) when added to the value of any other donation or donations made by the same donor (whether or not falling within head (1) above), is more than that amount⁹, the statement must record¹⁰: (a) the amount of the donation (if a donation of money, in cash or otherwise) or (in any other case) the nature of the donation and its value¹¹; (b) the date when the donation was accepted by the recognised third party¹²; (c) the information about the donor which is, in connection with recordable donations to registered parties, required to be recorded in donation reports¹³; (d) the total value of any relevant donations, other than those falling within head (1) or head (2) above, which are accepted by the recognised third party¹⁴; and (e) such other information as may be required by regulations made by the Electoral Commission¹⁵.

Where a relevant donation has been received from a person who is not a permissible donor (an 'impermissible donor')¹⁶, the statement must record: (i) the name and address of the donor¹⁷; (ii) the amount of the donation (if a donation of money, in cash or otherwise) or (in any other case) the nature of the donation and its value¹⁸; (iii) the date when the donation was received, and the date when, and the manner in which, it was dealt with in accordance with the provisions which regulate the handling of relevant donations made by impermissible donors¹⁹; (iv) such other information as is required by regulations made by the Electoral Commission²⁰. Where a relevant donation has been received from a person whose identity cannot be ascertained²¹, the statement must record: (A) details of the manner in which the donation was made²²; (B) the amount of the donation (if a donation of money, in cash or otherwise) or (in any other case) the nature of the donation and its value²³; (C) the date when the donation was received, and the date when and the manner in which it was dealt with in accordance with the provisions which regulate the handling of relevant donations made by persons whose identity cannot be ascertained²⁴; and (D) such other information as is required by regulations made by the Electoral Commission²⁵.

The text refers to information about the donor which is required to be recorded in donation reports by virtue of ss 62, 63, Sch 6 para 2 (as amended) (identity of donors (quarterly reports): see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS). In the case of a donation made by an individual who has an anonymous entry in an electoral register (within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983: see PARA 174 ante), if the statement of relevant donations states that the recognised third party has seen evidence, of such description as is prescribed by the Secretary of State in regulations, that an individual donor has such an anonymous entry, the statement must be accompanied by a copy of the evidence: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 11 para 10(4) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 24, 29). Accordingly, the evidence prescribed for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 11 para 10(4) (as added) is a certificate of anonymous registration issued pursuant to the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45G (as added) (as to which see PARA 160 ante): Political Donations and Regulated Transactions (Anonymous Electors) (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2974, reg 3. Although the Queen's Printers copy refers to 'a certificate of anonymous registration issued pursuant to the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45E', that regulation provides for the supply of the record of anonymous entries to the security services (see PARA 182 ante) and reg 45G (as added) provides for the issue of a certificate of anonymous registration. Accordingly, a reference to reg 45G (as added) is preferred here. 334 Statement of relevant donations received by a recognised third party

NOTE 13--SI 2006/2974 replaced: Political Donations and Regulated Transactions (Anonymous Electors) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/2869.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(vii) Publicity at Elections/335. Right of candidates at election to send election address post free.

(vii) Publicity at Elections

335. Right of candidates at election to send election address post free.

Subject to such reasonable terms and conditions as the universal service provider¹ concerned may specify², a candidate³ at a parliamentary election⁴, an election to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ or a European parliamentary election⁶ is entitled to send free of any charge for postage which would otherwise be made by a universal service provider⁷ either: (1) one unaddressed postal communication, containing matter relating to the election only and not exceeding 60 grammes in weight, to each place⁸ which, in accordance with those terms and conditions, constitutes a delivery point for these purposes⁹; or (2) one such postal communication addressed to each elector¹⁰. He is also, subject as mentioned above, entitled to send free of any such charge for postage as mentioned above to each person entered in the list of proxies¹¹ for the election one such communication as mentioned above for each appointment in respect of which that person is so entered¹². A person is not deemed to be a candidate for this purpose unless he is shown as standing nominated in the statement of persons nominated¹³, but until the publication of that statement any person who declares himself to be a candidate¹⁴ is entitled to exercise this right of free postage if he gives such security as may be required by the universal service provider concerned for the payment of postage should he not be shown as standing nominated¹⁵.

Each candidate at a Greater London Authority ordinary election¹⁶ or at a local authority mayoral election¹⁷ is entitled to have an election address prepared on behalf of the candidate included in a booklet of election addresses prepared by the appropriate returning officer and delivered by that officer to each person entitled to vote at that election either at the expense of the Greater London Authority (in the case of an Authority election) or (otherwise) at the expense of the authority for whose electoral area the election is held¹⁸.

A defamatory statement published by or on behalf of a candidate in any election to a local government authority¹⁹ or to Parliament will not be deemed to be published on a privileged occasion on the ground that it is material to a question in issue in the election, whether or not the person by whom it is published is qualified to vote at the election²⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'universal service provider' has the same meaning as in the Postal Services Act 2000 (see POST OFFICE): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(5) (added by the Postal Services Act 2000 s 127(4), Sch 8 para 17(1), (5)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(6).

2 As to schemes as to terms and conditions for the provision of a universal postal service see the Postal Services Act 2000 s 89; and POST OFFICE.

3 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; and see further notes 5-6 infra.

4 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to parish and community elections see PARA 207 et seq ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

5 Ie at an ordinary election or at an Assembly election other than at an ordinary election: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(1). For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to ordinary elections to the Welsh Assembly see PARA 220 ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reference to a candidate is to each individual candidate or group of party list candidates: art 64(1). As to references to a group of party list candidates, and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election, see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

6 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante. In the case of such an election, this reference is to an individual candidate and the nominating officer of a registered party which is included in the statement of parties and individual candidates nominated for the election or a person authorised in writing by that officer: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(1). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to the nominating officer of a registered party see PARA 260 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(1) (substituted by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 34; and amended by the Postal Services Act 2000 Sch 8 para 17(1), (2)(a)-(c)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(1).

Where any postal services are provided without charge by a universal service provider in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1983 or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, the universal service provider is entitled to be remunerated for having provided the services at the rate fixed in relation to them by virtue of a scheme under the Postal Services Act 2000 s 89 (schemes as to terms and conditions for provision of a universal postal service: see POST OFFICE): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 200A(1), (2) (s 200A added by the Postal Services Act 2000 Sch 8 para 18); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(8); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 124(1), (2). A sum which a universal service provider is entitled to receive in this way is charged on and issued out of the Consolidated Fund in the case of a parliamentary or European parliamentary election or paid by the National Assembly for Wales in the case of an election to that Assembly: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 200A(3) (as so added); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(8); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 124(4). For these purposes, 'postal services' and 'universal service provider' have the same meanings as in the Postal Services Act 2000 (see POST OFFICE): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 200A(4) (as so added); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 124(5). See also note 1 supra. As to the Consolidated Fund see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 711 et seq; PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 1028-1031. In relation to a European parliamentary election held in the combined region see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 124(2)(b), (3). As to the combined region and Gibraltar see PARA 76 ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the regional returning officer is entitled to treat any purported exercise by a group of party list candidates of the right of free postage through their election agent as a valid exercise of that right: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(6). If, at a regional election, the area of the returning officer is situated in the area of more than one official designated by a universal postal service provider, the controlling designated official is determined by the regional returning officer: art 64(7). For the meaning of 'regional returning officer' for the purposes of elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

8 In the case of a parliamentary election, the place referred to must be in the constituency: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of a parliamentary election see PARA 9 ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the place referred to must be in the Assembly constituency or electoral region for which the election is being held at which the candidate or candidates in question are a candidate or candidates: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(1)(a). For the meanings of 'Assembly constituency' and 'Assembly electoral region' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the place referred to must be in the electoral region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(1)(a). As to electoral regions constituted for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(1)(a) (as substituted (see note 7 supra); and amended by the Postal Services Act 2000 Sch 8 para 17(1), (2)(d)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(1)(a).

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(1)(b). The candidate at a parliamentary election may require the returning officer to make arrangements with the universal service provider for communications under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(1)(b) (as substituted) to be sent to persons who have anonymous entries in the register; and such arrangements must be such as to ensure that it is not disclosed to any other person that the addressee of such a communication has an anonymous entry: s 91(2A), (2B) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 10(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante. As to returning officers for elections generally see PARA 355 et seq post.

For the purposes of a parliamentary election, 'elector': (1) means a person who is registered in the register of parliamentary electors for the constituency on the last day for publication of notice of the election (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(4)(a) (s 91(4) substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 19)); and (2) includes a person then shown in that register (or, in the case of a person who has an anonymous entry in the register, in the record of anonymous entries) as below voting age if (but only if) it appears from the register (or from the record) that he will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(4)(b) (as so substituted; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 2, 10(1), (3)(a), (b))).

For the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, 'elector': (a) means a person who is registered in the register of local government electors for the Assembly constituency or electoral region on the last day for publication of notice of the election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(5(a))); and (b) includes a person then shown in that register as below voting age if (but only if) it appears from the register that he will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll (art 64(5)(b)).

For the purposes of a European parliamentary election, 'elector' means a person: (i) who is registered in the register of electors to be used at the election in the electoral region on the last day for publication of notice of the election (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(5)(a)); and (ii) includes a person who is registered in such a register as below voting age if (but only if) it appears from the register that he will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll (reg 63(5)(b)).

'Voting age' is currently 18 years for all purposes: see PARAS 110 note 2, 112 note 14, 117 note 9 ante. As to entitlement to registration as an elector see PARA 128 et seq ante; and as to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq ante. As to publication of the notice of election, in relation to a parliamentary election, see PARA 203 ante; in relation to a local government election, see PARA 218 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 223 ante; and, in relation to a European parliamentary election, see PARA 230 ante.

11 For the meaning of 'list of proxies' see PARA 378 note 14 post.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(2) (amended by the Postal Services Act 2000 Sch 8 para 17(1), (3)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(2).

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(3), (4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(3). As to the statement of persons nominated see PARA 272 ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the person referred in the text to is a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(3)); but, in relation to a group of party list candidates at a regional election, the reference must be understood as being to those persons not being deemed to be candidates unless they are all shown as standing nominated in the statement of persons nominated (art 63(4)). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the nomination referred to in the text is that of an individual candidate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(3).

14 In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, this reference is to persons who declare themselves to be, and comprise all, such candidates: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(3).

In the case of a European parliamentary election, until the publication of the statement of parties and individual candidates nominated for the election in an electoral region, the nominating officer of a registered party or a person authorised in writing by him is entitled to exercise in that region the right of free postage if he gives such security as may be required by the universal service provider concerned for the payment of postage should that party not be included in that statement as standing nominated: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(4).

15 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 91(3) (amended by the Postal Services Act 2000 Sch 8 para 17(1), (4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 64(3), (4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 63(3).

16 For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante. As to ordinary Greater London Authority elections see PARA 206 et seq ante.

17 As to elections for the return of an elected mayor for a local authority see PARA 205 et seq ante.

18 See the Greater London Authority Act s 17A (added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 14(1), (2); and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 18; and the Postal Services Act 2000 (Consequential Modifications to Local Enactments No 1) Order 2001, SI 2001/648, art 4(1), Sch 1 para 14); and the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 7.

At an ordinary London Authority election, the Greater London returning officer ('GLRO') may, in addition to a statement by him in an election booklet, include in the booklet information for voters that has been agreed by him with the Electoral Commission: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1), Sch 1 r 23A(1) (Sch 1 r 23A added by SI 2004/227); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 2 r 24A(1) (Sch 2 r 24A added by SI 2004/227); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(3), Sch 3 r 24A(1) (Sch 3 r 24A added by SI 2004/227). The information for voters may be about the office of the Mayor of London and the London Assembly; the system of voting at each Greater London Authority election, or how to vote in a manner that will ensure a vote is regarded as validly cast: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23A(2), Sch 2 r 24A(2), Sch 3 r 24A(2) (all as so added). However, the information for voters must not contain any advertising material, any material referring to a candidate or a registered party (other than by reproduction of a ballot paper which refers equally to all candidates and parties at the ordinary election), or any material referring to the holder at any time of the office of Mayor of London or London Assembly member (other than by reproduction of a ballot paper which refers equally to all candidates and parties at the ordinary election): Sch 1 r 23A(3), Sch 2 r 24A(3), Sch 3 r 24A(3) (all as so added). Information so published in an election booklet must be printed on not more than two sides of A5 paper: Sch 1 r 23A(4), Sch 2 r 24A(4), Sch 3 r 24A(4) (all as so added). As to the content and delivery of the election addresses of mayoral candidates at an ordinary election of the Greater London Authority, where an election for the return of the Mayor of London is held with elections for London members and constituency members to the London Assembly, see further the Greater London Authority Elections (Election Addresses) Order 2003, SI 2003/1907. As to elections for the Mayor of London see further LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 89. For the meaning of the 'Greater London returning officer' see PARA 218 note 7 ante. As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

For the purposes of a local authority mayoral election, the election booklet is a document prepared by the returning officer which contains the election addresses of all candidates who desire their election addresses to be included in the booklet, and have submitted to the returning officer by such date as he may determine those addresses accompanied, where the address is to contain a photograph of the candidate, by two identical copies of the photograph, of which one is signed on the back by the candidate and, in any case, by such copies of anything contained in the address as the returning officer may reasonably require in connection with the reproduction of the address: Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 7, Sch 4 paras 4(4), 5(1). If it appears to the returning officer that any of the requirements has not been complied with in relation to an election address, or that a candidate fails to make the payment required in respect of an election address, the returning officer must decline to include the address in the election booklet: Sch 4 para 5(2). The election booklet may include, in addition to candidates' election addresses, a statement by the returning officer explaining the nature and purpose of the election booklet, listing, in alphabetical order, the names of all the candidates at the election (whether or not their election addresses are included in the booklet) and giving the date of the election and such other information about it as the returning officer may determine: Sch 4 para 6(2). The election booklet must contain a statement that it has been published by the returning officer and give the name and address of the returning officer and those of the printer of the booklet: Sch 4 para 6(3). Subject to these conditions (and subject to the candidates' election addresses appearing in the election booklet in an order determined by lot: see Sch 4 para 6(1)), the form of the election booklet must be determined by the returning officer: Sch 4 para 6(4). Copies of the election booklet must be delivered by the returning officer, in envelopes addressed to individual electors, at such time and by such means as the returning officer may determine (Sch 4 para 7(1)), although he may disseminate the contents of the election booklet by such other means as he may determine (Sch 4 para 7(2)). As to the form and content of the election address see further the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 4 paras 2-4. As to distribution of the election booklet and contributions towards charges see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 4 paras 8-9.

19 As to local government authorities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq.

20 Defamation Act 1952 s 10. The words of the Defamation Act 1952 s 10, given their natural meaning, do not preclude an election candidate from relying on the defence of qualified privilege if, like any other citizen, he might be able to establish that the ingredients of that defence, as recognised at common law, are present on the facts of the case; such a reading allows the provision to be read so as to comply with the rights of candidates under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969; Council of Europe, ETS no 5) arts 6, 10 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 134 et seq, 158-159), as required by the Human Rights Act 1998 s 3 (interpretation of legislation: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): Culnane v Morris [2005] EWHC 2438 (QB), [2006] 2 All ER 149. This decision does not follow Plummer v Charman [1962] 3 All ER 823, [1962] 1 WLR 1469, CA, in which the Defamation Act 1952 s 10 was given a narrow reading, imposing restrictions upon a candidate's scope for pleading privilege in respect of words published during an election period: see at 825-826 and 1472 per Lord Denning MR (in the ordinary way, the only defences open to a person who makes an election address and puts it out to the electors is either that the words were true or that they were fair comment on a matter of public interest) and at 827 and 1474 per Diplock LJ. However, in Culnane v Morris supra at [21]-[26], Eady J held: (1) that the Court of Appeal had been mistaken in its 'clear' opinion that the purpose of the legislature had been to reverse the effect of the decision in Braddock v Bevins [1948] 1 KB 580, [1948] 1 All ER 450, CA, in which it was held that statements contained in the election address of a candidate concerning an opposing candidate are entitled to qualified privilege if they are relevant to the matters which the electors will have to consider in deciding which way they will cast their votes; and (2) that an investigation of the legislative background to the Defamation Act 1952 s 10, within the terms of Pepper (Inspector of Taxes) v Hart [1993] AC 593, [1993] 1 All ER 42, HL, showed no intention by Parliament to deprive a candidate or agent of a privilege which would be available to other citizens, but rather only to ensure that such persons were not accorded a special privilege of their own. These findings, together with the requirements of the Human Rights Act 1998 s 3, explain the failure of Eady J in the (first instance) case of Culnane v Morris supra to follow the appellate authority of Plummer v Charman supra. See also Donnelly v Young (5 November 2001, unreported) (defendants wishing to rely upon form of privilege generally categorised as 'reply to an attack'); Reynolds v Times Newspapers Ltd [2001] 2 AC 127 at 197, [1999] 4 All ER 609 at 618, HL, per Lord Nicholls of Birkenhead (obiter) (whether the defence of comment on a matter of public interest can provide sufficient protection for election addresses when read with the Human Rights Act 1998). Certain old cases on qualified privilege may be relevant in the context of elections: see eg Dickeson v Hilliard (1874) LR 9 Exch 79; Duncombe v Daniell (1837) 8 C & P 222; Wilson v Reed (1860) 2 F & F 149. Immediately after the ordinary election under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see PARA 220 ante) held in 2007, the Defamation Act 1952 s 10 is amended so that it refers also to elections to the National Assembly for Wales: see s 10 (prospectively amended by the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 160(1), Sch 10 para 5). As to the commencement of this amendment see further s 161(1), (4), (5).

UPDATE

335 Right of candidates at election to send election address post free

TEXT AND NOTES 1-15--The individual candidate and the nominating officer of a registered party which are included in the statement of parties and individual candidates nominated for the election or a person authorised in writing by that officer may also require the local returning officer to make arrangements with the universal postal service provider for communications under SI 2004/293 reg 63(1)(b) to be sent to persons who have anonymous entries in the register: SI 2004/293 reg 63(2A) (reg 63(2A), (2B) added by SI 2009/186). Arrangements under SI 2004/293 reg 63(2A) must be such as to ensure that it is not disclosed to any other person that the addressee of such a communication has an anonymous entry: SI 2004/293 reg 63(2B).

NOTE 10--SI 2004/293 reg 63(5)(b) amended: SI 2009/186.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(vii) Publicity at Elections/337. Broadcasting of local items during parliamentary or local government election period.

337. Broadcasting of local items during parliamentary or local government election period.

Each broadcasting authority¹ must adopt a code of practice with respect to the participation of candidates² at a parliamentary³ or local government election⁴, a Welsh Assembly election⁵ or a European parliamentary election⁶ in items about the constituency⁷ or electoral area⁸ or electoral region⁹ in question which are included in relevant services¹⁰ during the election period¹¹. The code for the time being adopted by a broadcasting authority under these provisions must be either¹²: (1) a code drawn up by that authority, whether on its own or jointly with one or more other broadcasting authorities¹³; or (2) a code drawn up by one or more other such authorities¹⁴, and a broadcasting authority must from time to time consider whether the code for the time being so adopted by it should be replaced by a further code falling within head (1) or head (2) above¹⁵. Before drawing up such a code, a broadcasting authority must have regard to any views expressed by the Electoral Commission¹⁶; and any such code may make different provision for different cases¹⁷. The Office of Communications ('OFCOM') must do all that it can to secure that the code for the time being adopted by a broadcasting authority is observed in the provision of relevant services; and the British Broadcasting Corporation and Sianel Pedwar Cymru must each observe in the provision of relevant services the code so adopted by it¹⁸.

A broadcaster is prohibited from including in its broadcasting services any party political broadcast made on behalf of a party which is not a registered party under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000¹⁹.

1 For these purposes, 'broadcasting authority' means the British Broadcasting Corporation (the 'BBC'), the Office of Communications ('OFCOM') or Sianel Pedwar Cymru: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 93(6) (s 93 substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 144; and the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 93(6) amended by the Communications Act 2003 s 406(1), Sch 17 para 62(1), (3)(a)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 66(6) (by virtue of the Communications Act 2003 s 31(4)(b)); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 65(6). As to OFCOM see TELECOMMUNICATIONS vol 97 (2010) PARA 2 et seq; as to the BBC see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 306 et seq; and as to Sianel Pedwar Cymru see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 396. For these purposes, in relation to a European parliamentary election held in the combined region, the Gibraltar Regulatory Authority is also cited: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 65(6). As to the combined region and Gibraltar see PARA 76 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'candidate', in relation to an election, means a candidate standing nominated at the election or included in a list of candidates submitted in connection with it: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 93(6) (as substituted: see note 1 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 66(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 65(6). For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

There is case authority regarding the 'participation' of a candidate from the time when undue participation could constitute an offence: see Marshall v BBC [1979] 3 All ER 80 at 81-82, [1979] 1 WLR 1071 at 1073, CA, per Lord Denning MR ('A candidate who merely acquiesces in a film being taken or in a speech being taped does not participate. Nor does a candidate who co-operates by being filmed walking around the constituency'). See also R v Elections Court Commissioner, ex p Loveridge (14 January 1997, unreported) (candidate interviewed by the BBC in his electoral area on an environmental issue of local importance); revsd sub nom Re Local Government Election for Aberaman, County Borough of Rhondda Cynon Taff (24 April 1997, unreported), CA.

4 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to parish and community elections see PARA 207 et seq ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante.

6 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

7 For the meaning of 'constituency', for the purposes of a parliamentary election, see PARA 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'Assembly constituency', for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'electoral area' see PARA 10 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'Assembly electoral region', for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to electoral regions constituted for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante.

10 'Relevant services', in relation to the BBC or Sianel Pedwar Cymru, means services broadcast by that body; and, in relation to OFCOM, means services licensed under the Broadcasting Act 1990 Pt I (ss 3-71) (as amended) (independent television services: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 328 et seq) or Pt III (ss 85-126) (as amended) (independent radio services: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 439 et seq) or under the Broadcasting Act 1996 Pt I (ss 1-39) (as amended) (digital terrestrial television broadcasting: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 415 et seq) or Pt II (ss 40-72) (as amended) (digital terrestrial sound broadcasting: see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 478 et seq): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 93(6) (as substituted (see note 1 supra); and amended by the Communications Act 2003 Sch 17 para 62(3)(b)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 66(6) (by virtue of the Communications Act 2003 s 31(4)(b)); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 65(6). As to the combined region see also note 1 supra.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 93(1) (as substituted: see note 1 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 66(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 65(1). In relation to a parliamentary or local government election, the 'election period', for this purpose, means the period beginning:

59 (1) (if a parliamentary general election) with the date of the dissolution of Parliament or any earlier time at which Her Majesty's intention to dissolve Parliament is announced;

60 (2) (if a parliamentary by-election) with the date of the issue of the writ for the election or any earlier date on which a certificate of the vacancy is notified in the London Gazette in accordance with the Recess Elections Act 1975 (see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 1095); or

and ending with the close of the poll: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 93(5) (as so substituted). As to the dissolution of Parliament see PARA 196 ante; as to parliamentary by-elections see PARA 198 ante; and as to publication of the notice for a local government election see PARA 218 ante. In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the 'election period', for this purpose, means the period beginning with the last date for publication of notice of the election and ending with the close of the poll: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 66(5). As to publication of notice for a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 223 ante. In relation to a European parliamentary election, the 'election period', for this purpose, means the period beginning with the last date for publication of notice of the election and ending with the close of the poll: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 65(5). As to publication of notice of a European parliamentary election see PARA 230 ante.

Formerly, broadcasting authorities had the right freely to photograph or record the appearance or the words of candidates during an election (see McAliskey v BBC [1980] NI 44) but this freedom has been reduced (Marshall v BBC [1979] 3 All ER 80 at 82, [1979] 1 WLR 1071 at 1074, CA, per Cumming-Bruce LJ). The broadcasters duty of impartiality (see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 508) is achieved by even-handedness in providing airtime for party election broadcasts and, while a broadcaster may not deny such a broadcast to a qualifying party, it does have some discretion in determining the rules by which party election broadcasts are allocated: see R v BBC, ex p Referendum Party [1997] COD 459, 9 Admin LR 553, [1997] EMLR 605. See also R v BBC, ex p Pro-Life Alliance Party [1997] COD 457 (discretion entitled the BBC to require the removal of a sequence of shots of aborted fetuses from a party election broadcast); R (on the application of ProLife Alliance) v BBC [2003] UKHL 23, [2004] 1 AC 185, [2003] 2 All ER 977.

UPDATE

337 Broadcasting of local items during parliamentary or local government election period

TEXT AND NOTE 18--SI 2004/293 reg 65(4) amended: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(vii) Publicity at Elections/338. Control of advertisements.

338. Control of advertisements.

In general, the consent of the local planning authority or of the Secretary of State must be obtained before any advertisement may be displayed¹. However, an advertisement² relating specifically to a pending parliamentary, European parliamentary or local government election does not require³ either express consent or deemed consent⁴ provided that the advertisement is removed within 14 days after the close of the poll in the election to which it relates⁵. These provisions⁶ have effect in relation to the display on any site in Wales⁷ relating specifically to an Assembly election⁸ or Assembly elections as they have effect in relation to the display of an advertisement relating specifically to a parliamentary election⁹.

1 See the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666; and TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(2) (Reissue) PARA 769 et seq.

2 For the meaning of 'advertisement' see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(2) (Reissue) PARA 770.

3 It is provided that it complies with any conditions and limitations specified in the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 3(2), Sch 2 (as amended) (see the text and notes 4-5 infra) and all the standard conditions. As to the standard conditions see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(2) (Reissue) PARA 775.

4 For the meanings of 'express consent' and 'deemed consent' see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(2) (Reissue) PARA 777.

5 See the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, Sch 2 Class F para 1 (as amended); and TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(2) (Reissue) PARA 784.

6 It is the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666.

7 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

9 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 138.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(viii) Election Meetings/339. Schools and rooms for meetings at parliamentary elections.

(viii) Election Meetings

339. Schools and rooms for meetings at parliamentary elections.

On reasonable notice, a candidate¹ at a parliamentary election² or a Welsh Assembly election³ or a European parliamentary election⁴ is entitled, for the purpose of holding public meetings⁵, to the use free of charge of certain rooms at reasonable times⁶ between: (1) in the case of a parliamentary election, the receipt of the writ and the day preceding the date of the poll; or (2) in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, between the last date on which notice of election may be published and the day preceding the date of the poll⁷.

He is entitled to the use of a suitable room⁸ in the premises of a community, foundation or voluntary school⁹ situated in the constituency¹⁰ or an adjoining constituency¹¹. However, a candidate is not entitled to the use of a room in school premises outside the constituency if there is a suitable room in other premises in the constituency which are reasonably accessible from the same parts of it as those outside and are premises of such a school¹². In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election¹³ or a European parliamentary election, the candidate is entitled to use of a suitable room in the premises of a community, foundation or voluntary school situated in the electoral region for which the election is held¹⁴.

For the purposes and at the times described above, such a candidate is also entitled on reasonable notice to the use free of charge of any meeting room¹⁵, the expense of maintaining which is payable wholly or mainly out of public funds, or out of any rate, or by a body whose expenses are so payable¹⁶. For the purposes of determining rateable occupation, a hereditament¹⁷ is to be treated as unoccupied if it would otherwise be treated as occupied by reason only of the use of it for the holding of public meetings in furtherance of a person's candidature at a parliamentary election, for promoting a particular result at a Welsh Assembly election or in furtherance of a person's or a registered party's candidature at a European parliamentary election¹⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; and see note 5 infra.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante.

4 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

5 In the case of a candidate at a parliamentary election, the purpose of holding public meetings is in furtherance of his candidature: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(1).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the purpose of holding public meetings is to promote or procure the giving of votes at that election, in the case of an individual candidate, for himself or, in the case of a party list candidate, for the registered political party on whose list he is included: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(1). As to references to a group of party list candidates, and for the meaning of 'individual candidate', for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

In the case of a candidate at a European parliamentary election, the purpose of holding public meetings is in furtherance of his candidature or that of his party: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(1).

6 The candidate is not authorised to interfere with the normal hours of use of certain rooms: see PARA 340 post.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(1), (5) (s 95(1) amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 37(a)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(1), (5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(1). As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; as to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante. The right of a candidate to a suitable room is a private law right which can be enforced by action against the local education authority: see Ettridge v Morrell (1986) 85 LGR 100, CA (cited at para 342 text and note 14 post).

8 'Room' includes a hall, gallery or gymnasium: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(7)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(7)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(7)(b).

9 For this purpose, the premises of a school are not to be taken to include any private dwelling: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(7) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 15, Sch 6 paras 3, 7, Sch 7 Pt II); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(7); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(7). As to the meaning of 'dwelling' see PARA 132 note 19 ante. As to community, foundation and voluntary schools see EDUCATION vol 15(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 102 et seq.

10 For the meaning of 'constituency', for the purposes of a parliamentary election, see PARA 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'Assembly constituency', for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(1)(a), (2)(a) (s 95(2)(a) amended by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 paras 9, 10); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(1)(i), (2)(a).

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(2).

14 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(1)(i), (2)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(1)(a), (2)(a). For the meaning of 'Assembly electoral region' for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to electoral regions constituted for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante. In relation to a European parliamentary election held in the combined region see reg 67(1)(a), (2)(c). As to the combined region and Gibraltar see PARA 76 ante.

15 'Meeting room' means any room which it is the practice to let for public meetings: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(7)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(7)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(7)(a).

In the case of a parliamentary election, the meeting room referred to must be situated in the constituency: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(3).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the meeting room referred to must be situated, in the case of a constituency election, in the Assembly constituency for which the election is held or, in the case of a regional election, in the Assembly electoral region for which the election is held: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(3).

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the meeting room referred to must be situated in the electoral region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(1)(b).

16 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 95(1)(b), (3), (5); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 68(1)(ii), (3), (5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 67(1)(b), (3), (5).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(viii) Election Meetings/340. Arrangements for use of rooms for meetings at parliamentary elections.

340. Arrangements for use of rooms for meetings at parliamentary elections.

The person by whom, or on whose behalf, a public meeting is convened in a school room or meeting room¹ may be required to defray any expenses incurred in preparing, warming, lighting and cleaning the room and providing attendance for the meeting and restoring the room to its usual condition after the meeting². The person must also defray the cost of making good any damage done to the room or to the premises³ in which it is situated, or to the furniture, fittings or apparatus in the room or premises⁴.

A candidate is not entitled to exercise this right to use school rooms and meeting rooms for public meetings except on reasonable notice⁵; and the provisions entitling him to use such rooms do not authorise any interference with the hours during which a room in school premises is used for educational purposes or any interference with the use of a meeting room either for the purposes of the person maintaining it or under a prior agreement for its letting for any purpose⁶.

Arrangements for the use of a room in school premises must be made with the local education authority⁷ maintaining the school or, in the case of a room in the premises of a foundation or voluntary aided school⁸, with the governing body of the school⁹. Any question as to the rooms in school premises¹⁰ which a candidate is entitled to use, or as to the times at which he is entitled to use them, or as to the notice which is reasonable, is to be determined by the Secretary of State¹¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'room' for these purposes see PARA 339 note 8 ante; and for the meaning of 'meeting room' see PARA 339 note 15 ante. As to the entitlement to use such rooms see PARA 339 ante.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(viii) Election Meetings/341. Preparation of list of rooms for meetings at parliamentary elections.

341. Preparation of list of rooms for meetings at parliamentary elections.

Each local education authority¹ must prepare and revise for its area a list of the rooms in school premises² which candidates³ in any parliamentary or Welsh Assembly constituency⁴ or any Welsh Assembly electoral region⁵ are entitled to use⁶. With regard to any such constituency, the list must include the rooms in premises outside, as well as those in premises in, the constituency⁷. Every district and London borough council⁸ and every Welsh county and county borough council⁹ must prepare and revise for its area lists of the meeting rooms which candidates in any such constituency or electoral region (as the case may be) are entitled to use¹⁰. The list must indicate the person to whom applications for the use of the room are to be made in each case¹¹. The list must not include any room if the person maintaining it disputes the right of the candidates in the constituency or electoral region (as the case may be) to use it¹². The lists of rooms in school premises and of meeting rooms prepared for each such constituency or electoral region are to be kept by the registration officer¹³. Those lists and particulars of any change made on a revision of them must, where necessary, be forwarded to him accordingly¹⁴.

In the event of a dissolution of Parliament¹⁵, or of a vacancy occurring in the seat for the constituency¹⁶, any person stating himself to be, or to be authorised by, a candidate or his election agent¹⁷ is entitled at all reasonable hours to inspect the lists of rooms in school premises and of meeting rooms or a copy of them¹⁸. Those same lists (or a copy of them) may also be inspected at all reasonable hours by any person stating himself to be, or to be authorised by, a candidate at a European parliamentary election¹⁹ or the election agent of a registered party at such an election²⁰ or an individual candidate²¹ at such an election²². In the event of notice of a Welsh Assembly election being published²³, any person stating himself to be, or to be authorised by an individual candidate²⁴ or his election agent²⁵ or a party list candidate²⁶ or the election agent for a group of party list candidates²⁷, is entitled at all reasonable hours to inspect the lists of rooms in school premises and of meeting rooms prepared for each Assembly constituency and electoral region (or a copy of them)²⁸.

342. Rooms for meetings at a local government election.

A candidate¹ at a local government election² is entitled on reasonable notice, for the purpose of holding public meetings to promote or procure the giving of votes at that election³ for himself⁴ (or, if he is a candidate included in a list of candidates submitted by a registered political party at an election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election⁵, towards the return of candidates on that list⁶), to the use free of charge of certain rooms at reasonable times between the last day on which notice of the election may be published⁷ and the day preceding the day of election⁸. He is entitled to the use of a suitable room⁹ in the premises of a community, foundation or voluntary school¹⁰ situated in the electoral area¹¹ for which the candidate is standing (or, if there is no such school in the area, in any such school in an adjacent electoral area) or in a parish or community¹², as the case may be, in part comprised in that electoral area¹³. The right of a candidate to a suitable room is a private law right which can be enforced by action against the local education authority¹⁴. For the purposes and at the times described above, such a candidate is also entitled on reasonable notice to the use free of charge of any meeting room¹⁵ situated in the electoral area for which the candidate is standing or in a parish or community, as the case may be, in part comprised in that electoral area, the expense of maintaining which is payable wholly or mainly out of public funds or out of any rate, or by a body whose expenses are so payable¹⁶. For the purposes of determining rateable occupation, a hereditament¹⁷ is to be treated as unoccupied if it would otherwise be treated as occupied by reason only of the use of it for the holding of public meetings in furtherance of a person's candidature at a local government election¹⁸.

The statutory provisions relating to expenses, damage, notice and interference in respect of the use of rooms by candidates at parliamentary elections and the requirement as to the body with which arrangements must be made¹⁹ also apply for these purposes²⁰. Any person stating himself to be, or to be authorised by, a candidate at a local government election in respect of an electoral area which falls (or partly falls) within a constituency²¹, or his election agent²², is entitled to inspect the lists prepared²³ in relation to the constituency or a copy of them at all reasonable hours during the period beginning with the day on which notice of election is published and ending with the day preceding the day of election²⁴.

343. Disturbances at election meetings.

Any person who at certain lawful public meetings¹ acts, or incites others to act, in a disorderly manner for the purpose of preventing the transaction of the business for which the meeting was called together is guilty of an illegal practice². The meetings to which this prohibition applies are:

- 407 (1) political meetings held in a parliamentary constituency³ between the date of the issue of a writ for the return of a member of Parliament⁴ for the constituency and the date at which a return to the writ is made⁵;
- 408 (2) meetings held with reference to a local government election⁶ in the electoral area⁷ for that election in the period beginning with the last date on which notice of the election may be published in accordance with rules made under the Representation of the People Act 1983⁸, and ending with the day of election⁹;
- 409 (3) a political meeting held, in relation to a Welsh Assembly constituency election¹⁰, in the Assembly constituency¹¹ for which the election is held¹² and, in relation to a Welsh Assembly regional election¹³, in the Assembly electoral region¹⁴ for which the election is held¹⁵, during the period beginning with the last day on which notice of election may be published¹⁶ and ending with the day of election¹⁷;
- 410 (4) a political meeting held in a European parliamentary electoral region¹⁸ in connection with a European parliamentary election¹⁹ between the last date on which notice of election may be published in accordance with the elections rules²⁰ and the date of the poll²¹.

If a constable reasonably suspects any person of committing an offence under this provision, he may, if requested so to do by the chairman of the meeting, require that person to declare to him immediately his name and address²². If that person refuses or fails so to declare his name and address or gives a false name and address, he is liable on summary conviction to a fine²³.

(4) THE BALLOT

(i) The Voting Systems

344. Elections taking place in a constituency or electoral area.

Contested elections for the return of a member to represent a parliamentary constituency¹, a local government electoral area² (including a London Assembly constituency³) or a Welsh Assembly constituency⁴ take place under a voting system where the result is ascertained by counting the votes given to each candidate⁵ and the candidate to whom the majority of votes has been given is declared to have been elected⁶. Where, after the counting of the votes (including any recount) is completed, an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates, and the addition of a vote would entitle any of those candidates to be declared elected, the returning officer must forthwith decide between those candidates by lot, and proceed as if the candidate on whom the lot falls had received an additional vote⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election', and for the meaning of 'constituency' in the context of a parliamentary election, see PARA 9 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'local government election', and for the meaning of 'electoral area' in the context of a local government election, see PARA 10 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Assembly constituency' in the context of elections to the London Assembly see PARA 10 ante. As to elections for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante.

4 For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'Assembly constituency' in the context of a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. Note also the use of the term 'individual candidate' as it is used in the context of regional elections, where party lists operate, to indicate a person standing for election who is not included in the list of candidates of a registered party: see PARA 345 post.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly constituency election, the result is ascertained under the simple majority system in accordance with the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 6(2), (4) (see PARA 369 post); and, in the case of the election of an Assembly member for an Assembly constituency, the member is returned under the simple majority system in accordance with the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(1)(b), (4) (see PARA 368 post). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 supersede those of the Government of Wales Act 1998 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes before that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 4(2), (4); and PARA 369 post.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 18; Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1), Sch 1 r 14; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 22(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 15; Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 15. In the case of a local government election, the candidate or candidates to whom more votes have been given than to the other candidates, up to the number of councillors to be elected, is or are declared to have been elected: see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 15; and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 15.

This voting system is known variously as the 'simple majority', 'relative majority' or 'first past the post' system. In none of these terms is it to be implied that the successful candidate has to receive more than a certain number (or more than 50%) of the votes cast before he can be declared to be elected.

As to local government elections see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 49; and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 49 (cited in PARA 441 post). As to London Assembly constituency elections see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 44 (cited in PARA 447 post). As to Welsh Assembly constituency elections see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 6(2), (4); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 55 (cited in PARA 466 post); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 supersede those of the Government of Wales Act 1998 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes before that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 4(2), (4); and PARA 369 post.

UPDATE

344 Elections taking place in a constituency or electoral area

NOTES 6, 7--SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Elections Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (i) The Voting Systems/345. Elections taking place in an electoral region.

345. Elections taking place in an electoral region.

Where contested elections take place to return London members of the London Assembly¹, or members to represent Welsh Assembly electoral regions² or members to represent European parliamentary electoral regions³, votes are given for the candidates⁴ by ballot and the results are ascertained, after counting the votes given to each individual candidate or registered political party, using a 'corrective' system of calculation⁵ as follows:

- 411 (1) in the case of an 'additional member' system:
- 17
- 18
- 412 but, in the case of a 'regional list' system, the 'electoral region figure' is simply the number of votes cast for each registered party or candidate;
- 413 (2) the first of the seats for the electoral region is allocated to the party or individual candidate with the highest electoral region figure¹⁴;
- 414 (3) the second and subsequent seats for the electoral region are allocated to the party or individual candidate with the highest electoral region figure after any required recalculation¹⁵ has been carried out¹⁶.

An individual candidate already returned as a regional member (or, in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, as the Mayor of London) is disregarded for the purposes of the allocation of seats to regional members¹⁷. Electoral region seats allocated to a party are filled by the persons on the party's list in the order in which they appear on the list¹⁸, and once a party's list has been exhausted¹⁹ the party is disregarded²⁰. However, in the case of the last seat to be allocated, where two or more registered parties or individual candidates have an equal number of votes, and that number is greater than the number of votes of any other party or candidate, one vote must be added to the votes of each party or individual candidate having such an equal number and the operation in head (3) above is reapplied²¹. If, after that, the highest electoral region figure is still the electoral region figure of two or more parties or individual candidates, the appropriate returning officer²² must forthwith decide between the parties and individual candidates having such an equal number by lot, and allocate the seat to the party or candidate on whom the lot falls²³.

3 As to electoral regions constituted for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

4 In an election of London members of the London Assembly, of Welsh Assembly regional members or of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs'), electors may give a vote for: (1) a registered party which has submitted a list of candidates; or (2) an individual who is named on the ballot paper as a candidate: see the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(1)(c), (5) (cited in PARA 368 post; and see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 90); the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 6(3) (cited in PARA 369 post; and see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS); and the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(3), (4) (cited in PARA 370 post). As to individual candidates and the submission of lists of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly see PARA 233 ante; and as to references to party lists in elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 262 note 24 ante. For the meaning of 'registered political party' in this context see PARA 233 note 16 ante. As to individual candidates and the submission of lists of candidates to be members for a Welsh Assembly region see PARA 234 ante. For the meanings of 'individual candidate', 'party list candidate' and 'registered political party' in the context of a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante. As to individual candidates and the submission of lists of candidates to be members for a Welsh Assembly region see PARA 234 ante. As to the submission of lists of candidates to be MEPs see PARA 235 ante. For the meaning of 'list', in the context of a European parliamentary election, see PARA 237 note 30 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' see PARA 237 note 32 ante. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 supersede those of the Government of Wales Act 1998 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes before that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 4(3).

5 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 1 r 15; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 22(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 20.

The system is known as the 'additional member' system of proportional representation for the election of Welsh Assembly regional members (see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 6(5)) and as a 'regional list' system for the election of MEPs in a European parliamentary electoral region (see the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(1) (amended by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Controlled Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 3(1), (3)(b))). The 'regional list' system is similar to the 'additional member' system but the members elected from a European parliamentary electoral region are not 'additional' to constituency members because that element is absent in such elections. A form of the 'additional member' system is used for the election of London members of the London Assembly. The aim of the 'corrective' system of calculation is to allocate seats in proportion to the overall share of the vote of each party or each candidate in the electoral region. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 supersede those of the Government of Wales Act 1998 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes before that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 4(5).

6 See the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 8(5). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 6(3).

In the context of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, this figure is referred to as the 'London figure': see the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(6), Sch 2 para 6(3). To apply the prevailing terminology, London constitutes the 'electoral region' for a regional election in which there is only one region, so it can be named specifically.

7 le each registered political party by which a list of candidates has been submitted (see note 4 supra).

8 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 6(3)(a); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 8(5)(a). As to the date at which s 8 takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 6(3)(a).

9 In the context of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, these votes are referred to as 'London votes': see the Greater London Authority Act 1999 ss 4(1)(c), 29; and notes 4-5 supra.

10 Ibid Sch 2 para 6(1)(a); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 8(3)(a). As to the date at which s 8 takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 6(1)(a).

11 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 6(1)(b); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 8(3)(b). Accordingly, the persons who are to be returned as the constituency members for each constituency included in the electoral region (and, in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the person who is returned as the Mayor of London) must be determined before it is determined who are to be returned as the regional members for the electoral region: Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(7);

Government of Wales Act 2006 s 8(2). As to the date at which s 8 takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 ss 4(6), 6(1)(b). As to elections for the return of a Mayor of London see PARA 206 ante.

However, in the context of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, if the poll at the election of an Assembly member for an Assembly constituency is countermanded or abandoned for any reason, the persons who are to be returned as the London members must be determined without regard to the determination of the Assembly member for that Assembly constituency: Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(8). If a person who is a candidate of a registered political party in a London Assembly constituency is returned as the Assembly member for the constituency and is also returned as the Mayor of London, that person counts for the purposes of calculating the aggregate number in head (1)(a) in the text as a candidate of the party returned as a constituency member, notwithstanding that a vacancy arises in the Assembly constituency by virtue of s 4(10) (person returned as Mayor of London also returned as Assembly constituency member: see PARA 346 post): see Sch 2 para 6(4). Also, if the number of London votes for each registered political party arrived at in head (1)(a) in the text is not more than 5% of the total number of London votes polled by all the registered political parties and all the individual candidates at the election, none of the seats for London members is allocated to that party (Sch 2 para 7(1)(a)), and that party is accordingly left out of account for the purposes of heads (2) and (3) in the text (Sch 2 para 7(1)(a), (2)).

12 Ibid Sch 2 para 6(3)(b); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 8(5)(b). As to the date at which s 8 takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 6(3)(b).

13 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 6(2); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 8(4). As to the date at which s 8 takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 6(2).

In the context of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, if the number of London votes for an individual candidate arrived at under head (1)(b) in the text is not more than 5% of the total number of London votes polled by all the registered political parties and all the individual candidates at the election, none of the seats for London members is allocated to that individual candidate (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 7(1)(b)), and that candidate is accordingly left out of account for the purposes of heads (2) and (3) in the text (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 7(1)(b), (2)).

14 Ibid Sch 2 para 8(1); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(5); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(1). As to the date at which s 9(1) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(1).

In the case of an 'additional member' system, where the application of head (2) in the text results in two or more registered parties or individual candidates having an equal number of votes, and that number is greater than the number of votes of any other party or candidate, head (2) in the text applies to each of them: Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(7); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(7). As to the date at which s 9(7) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(7).

15 If the number of votes given to a party to which one or more seats have already been allocated are to be divided by the number of seats allocated plus one: Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(3); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(6); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(3). As to the date at which s 9(3) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(3).

16 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(2); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(6); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(2). As to the date at which s 9(2) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(2). In the case of a European parliamentary election, it is specified that fractions are to be taken into account for this purpose: see the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(9).

In the case of an 'additional member' system, where the application of head (3) in the text results in two or more registered parties or individual candidates having an equal number of votes, and that number is greater than the number of votes of any other party or candidate, head (3) in the text applies to each of them: Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(7); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(7). As to the date at which s 9(7) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(7).

17 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(4); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(7)(b); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(4). As to the date at which s 9(4) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(4).

18 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(5); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(8); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(5). As to the date at which s 9(5) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(5).

In the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly (including for the purpose of filling a vacancy: see PARA 211 ante), a person included on a list submitted by a registered political party who is returned as the Mayor of London or as a London Assembly member is treated as ceasing to be on the list (even if his return is void): Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(10).

19 le by the return of persons included on it as constituency members or by the previous application of head (2) or head (3) in the text.

20 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(6); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(7)(a); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(6). As to the date at which s 9(6) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(6).

21 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(8); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(8); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9, Sch 1 para 55(1). It is possible that the operation in head (2) in the text would result in more candidates having the same highest electoral region figure than there are seats to be allocated, in which case the same principle applies, with the operation in head (2) in the text being reapplied after a recalculation as mentioned in the text: see the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(8); and the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(8). As to the date at which s 9(8) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(8).

22 In the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the reference is to the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante). In relation to a Welsh Assembly regional election, the reference is to a regional returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante). As to returning officers for European parliamentary elections see PARA 365 et seq post.

23 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 8(9); Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(9); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 55(2). As to the date at which the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 9(9) takes effect see note 5 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 7(9). In the case of a European parliamentary election, it is specified that, where the lot falls on a party, the returning officer must allocate the seat according to the order in which the persons named on the party's list of candidates appear on that list: European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2(8); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 55(3).

346. Elections to the office of mayor.

An elected local authority mayor¹ or the Mayor of London ('an elected mayor') is returned² under the simple majority system, unless there are three or more candidates³, in which case the mayor must be returned under the supplementary vote system⁴ and a voter's mayoral vote⁵ will be a vote capable of being given to indicate the voter's first and second preferences from among the candidates⁶.

Where the supplementary vote system is applied, if one of the candidates to be the elected mayor receives more than half of all the first preference votes⁷ given in the election⁸, that candidate is returned as the elected mayor⁹. If none of the candidates receives more than half of all the first preference votes given in the election¹⁰, the two candidates who received the greatest number of such votes remain in the contest¹¹ (the other candidates being eliminated¹²), and the number of second preference votes¹³ given in the election for each of the remaining candidates by voters who did not give their first preference vote to any of those candidates is ascertained¹⁴ and added to the number of first preference votes given for that candidate, to give his total number of preference votes¹⁵. The person who is to be returned as the elected mayor is that one of the remaining candidates who has the greatest total number of preference votes¹⁶. If the person who is returned at an election as the elected mayor of a local authority is also returned as (or was already) a councillor of the authority, a vacancy arises in the office of councillor¹⁷. If the person who is returned as the Mayor of London is also returned as (or was already) a London Assembly member for an Assembly constituency¹⁸, a vacancy arises in the Assembly constituency¹⁹.

6 Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(3)(b), Sch 2 para 1; Local Government Act 2000 s 42(3). In such circumstances a voter's mayoral vote is known as a 'supplementary vote'.

7 For these purposes, 'first preference vote' means a mayoral vote to the extent that it is given so as to indicate a voter's first preference from among the candidates to be the elected mayor: Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 2; Local Government Act 2000 s 42(1)(a).

12 Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 4(4); Local Government Act 2000 Sch 2 para 3(4).

13 For these purposes, 'second preference vote' means a mayoral vote to the extent that it is given so as to indicate a voter's second preference from among the candidates to be the elected mayor: Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 2; Local Government Act 2000 s 42(1)(b).

If, by reason of an equality of total number of preference votes, two or more of the remaining candidates each have the greatest total number of preference votes, the returning officer must decide by lots which of them is returned as the elected mayor: Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 2 para 4(8); Local Government Act 2000 Sch 2 para 3(8). In the case of an election for the return of the Mayor of London, the reference is to the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante). 347. Polls consequent on a parish meeting taken on the question of appointment to any office.

In the case of a contested poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on the question of appointment to any office¹, the candidate or candidates to whom more votes have been given than to other candidates, up to the number of appointments to be made, are declared to be elected². Where, after the counting of the votes (including any recount) is completed, an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates and the addition of a vote would entitle any of those candidates to be declared elected or would decide the question, the returning officer must forthwith decide between those candidates or that question by lot, and proceed as if the candidate on whom or answer in favour of or against the question on which the lot falls had received an additional vote³.

(ii) Polling Districts and Polling Places

348. Polling districts at parliamentary elections.

Every parliamentary constituency¹ is to be divided into polling districts². A relevant authority³ must divide its area into polling districts for the purpose of parliamentary elections for so much of any constituency as is situated in its area⁴, and keep the polling districts under review⁵. The authority must seek to ensure that all electors in a constituency in its area have such reasonable facilities for voting as are practicable in the circumstances⁶; and, unless there are special circumstances⁷, in England each parish is to be a separate polling district⁸ and in Wales each community is to be a separate polling district⁹. If an alteration of polling districts in an area is made: (1) the registration officer who acts for the area¹⁰ must make such adaptations of his register of parliamentary electors¹¹ as are necessary to take account of the alteration¹²; and (2) the alteration is effective on the date on which the registration officer publishes a notice stating that any such adaptations have been made by him¹³.

No election is to be questioned by reason of any non-compliance with the provisions relating to the designation of parliamentary polling districts (including provision made for their review¹⁴) or any informality relative to polling districts¹⁵.

349. Polling places at parliamentary elections.

A polling place is to be designated for each polling district in a constituency¹, unless the size or other circumstances of a polling district are such that the situation of the polling stations does not materially affect the convenience of the electors or any body of them². A relevant authority³ must designate the polling places for the polling districts in its area⁴ and keep the polling places in its area under review⁵, in relation to which the following rules apply⁶: (1) the authority must seek to ensure that all electors in a constituency in its area have such reasonable facilities for voting as are practicable in the circumstances⁷; (2) the authority must seek to ensure that so far as is reasonable and practicable every polling place for which it is responsible is accessible to electors who are disabled⁸; (3) the authority must have regard to the accessibility to disabled persons of potential polling stations in any place which it is considering designating as a polling place or the designation of which as a polling place it is reviewing⁹; (4) the polling place for a polling district must be an area in the district, unless special circumstances make it desirable to designate an area wholly or partly outside the district¹⁰; (5) the polling place for a polling district must be small enough to indicate to electors in different parts of the district how they will be able to reach the polling station¹¹. If no polling place is designated for a polling district, the polling district is to be taken to be the polling place¹².

No election is to be questioned by reason of any non-compliance with the provisions relating to the designation of parliamentary polling places (including provision made for their review¹³) or any informality relative to polling places¹⁴.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(ii) Polling Districts and Polling Places/350. Review of parliamentary polling districts and polling places.

350. Review of parliamentary polling districts and polling places.

Each relevant authority¹ must complete a review, under the provisions relating to parliamentary polling districts and polling places at parliamentary elections², of all the polling districts and polling places in its area before the end of the period of 12 months starting with 1 January 2007³. However, this requirement does not apply in the case of a polling district or polling place (as the case may be) which is designated for the first time during that period⁴. In such a case, the first review of the polling district or polling place must be completed before the end of the period of four years starting with the date on which that designation is made⁵. The authority must complete a further review of each polling district and polling place in its area before the end of the period of four years starting with the completion of the previous such review⁶. These provisions do not prevent a relevant authority carrying out at any time a review of a particular polling district or polling place⁷.

The relevant authority must publish notice of the holding of a review⁸. The authority must consult the returning officer for every parliamentary election⁹ held in a constituency¹⁰ that is wholly or partly in its area¹¹; and every such returning officer must make to the authority representations¹², which must include information as to the location of polling stations (existing or proposed) within polling places (existing or proposed)¹³, and which must be published in such manner as is prescribed¹⁴. The authority must also seek representations from such persons as it thinks have particular expertise in relation to access to premises or facilities for persons who have different forms of disability¹⁵; and such persons must have an opportunity both to make representations¹⁶ and to comment on the returning officer's representations¹⁷. Any elector in a constituency situated in whole or in part in the authority's area may also make representations¹⁸. Representations made by any person in connection with a review of polling places may include proposals for specified alternative polling places¹⁹. On completion of a review, the authority must give reasons for its decisions in the review²⁰ and it must publish such other information as is prescribed²¹.

No election is to be questioned by reason of any non-compliance with the provisions relating to the review of parliamentary polling districts and polling places²² or any informality relative to polling districts or polling places²³.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(ii) Polling Districts and Polling Places/351. Representations made to the Electoral Commission regarding review of parliamentary polling districts and places.

351. Representations made to the Electoral Commission regarding review of parliamentary polling districts and places.

If, in relation to a constituency¹ in the area of a relevant authority², a relevant representation³ is made to the Electoral Commission⁴ by: (1) an interested authority in England and Wales⁵; (2) not less than 30 electors in the constituency⁶; (3) a person (other than the returning officer) who has made representations in relation to a review of parliamentary polling districts and polling places⁷; (4) a person who is not an elector in a constituency in the authority's area but who the Commission thinks has sufficient interest in the accessibility of disabled persons to polling places in the area or has particular expertise in relation to the access to premises or facilities of disabled persons⁸, the Commission must consider such representations (including any observations on the representations which may be made by the returning officer for the constituency) and may, if it thinks fit⁹, direct the relevant authority to make any alterations to the polling places designated by the review which the Commission thinks necessary in the circumstances¹⁰. If the authority fails to make those alterations before the end of the period of two months starting on the day the direction is given, the Commission may itself make the alterations¹¹; and any alterations so made by the Commission have effect as if they had been made by the relevant authority¹².

No election is to be questioned by reason of any non-compliance with the provisions relating to the review of parliamentary polling districts and polling places¹³ or any informality relative to polling districts or polling places¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'constituency' in the context of a parliamentary election see PARA 9 ante.

2 As to the relevant authorities for these purposes see PARA 350 note 3 ante.

3 A relevant representation is a representation that a review under the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 18A-18B (as added) (see PARAS 348-349 ante) has not been conducted by a relevant authority so as to meet the reasonable requirements of the electors in the constituency or any body of those electors (s 18D(2)(a) (ss 18D, 18E added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 16(1))), or so as to take sufficient account of the accessibility to disabled persons of polling stations within a designated polling place (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 18D(2)(b) (as so added)).

5 Ibid s 18D(1)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). An interested authority, in relation to a constituency in England, means the council of a parish or, where there is no such council, the parish meeting of a parish which is wholly or partly situated within the constituency (s 18D(6)(a) (as so added)); and, in relation to a constituency in Wales, it means the council of a community which is wholly or partly situated within the constituency (s 18D(6)(b) (as so added)). PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(ii) Polling Districts and Polling Places/352. Polling districts and polling stations at local government elections.

352. Polling districts and polling stations at local government elections.

For elections of county councillors in England¹, and of county or county borough councillors in Wales², the appropriate county or county borough council may divide an electoral division³ into polling districts, and may alter any polling district⁴. For elections of London borough or district councillors⁵, the London borough or district council may divide the London borough or district or any ward thereof into polling districts, and may alter any polling district⁶. For any London Authority elections⁷, a London borough council or the Common Council of the City of London⁸ may divide its area into polling districts and may alter any polling district⁹.

Any power to constitute polling districts for the purpose of local government elections¹⁰ must be exercised so that electors from any parliamentary polling district¹¹ wholly or partly within the electoral area can, in the absence of special circumstances, be allotted to a polling station within the parliamentary polling place for that district unless the parliamentary polling place is outside the electoral area¹².

353. Polling districts and polling places at elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

For the purpose of Welsh Assembly elections¹, every Assembly constituency² must be divided into polling districts and a polling place must be designated for each polling district³. The polling districts and polling places so designated to have effect at Assembly elections must generally be the districts and places that have effect at parliamentary elections⁴. However, where special circumstances make it desirable, the council of a county or county borough⁵ may determine that other polling districts or polling places are to have effect in its area at an Assembly election⁶.

A Welsh Assembly election cannot be questioned by reason of any non-compliance with these provisions⁷ or any informality relative to polling districts or polling places⁸.

354. Polling districts and polling places for European parliamentary elections.

Every European parliamentary electoral region¹ must be divided into polling districts and a polling place must be designated for each polling district². The polling district and polling places so designated must be the same as those used or designated for parliamentary elections³, except where it appears to those responsible for the designation of parliamentary polling districts and polling places that special circumstances make it desirable for some other polling district or polling place to be designated⁴.

A European parliamentary election cannot be questioned by reason of any non-compliance with these provisions⁵ or any informality relative to polling districts or polling places⁶.

354 Polling districts and polling places for European parliamentary elections

NOTE 4--SI 2004/293 reg 8(4) amended: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/A. PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/355. Returning officers for parliamentary elections.

(iii) Returning Officers

A. PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS

355. Returning officers for parliamentary elections.

In England and Wales¹, the returning officer for a parliamentary election² is:

- 415 (1) in the case of a county constituency³ in England which is coterminous with or wholly contained in a county⁴, the sheriff of the county⁵;
- 416 (2) in the case of a county constituency in Wales which is coterminous with or wholly contained in a preserved county⁶, the sheriff of the county⁷;
- 417 (3) in the case of a borough constituency in England which is coterminous with or wholly contained in a district⁸, the chairman of the district council⁹;
- 418 (4) in the case of a borough constituency in Wales which is coterminous with or wholly contained in a county or county borough¹⁰, the chairman of the county or county borough council¹¹;
- 419 (5) in the case of any other constituency in England wholly outside Greater London¹², such sheriff or chairman of a district council as the Secretary of State¹³ may designate in an order made by statutory instrument¹⁴;
- 420 (6) in the case of any other constituency in Wales, such sheriff or chairman of a county or county borough council as the Secretary of State may designate in an order made by statutory instrument¹⁵;
- 421 (7) in the case of a constituency which is coterminous with or wholly contained in a London borough¹⁶, the mayor of the borough¹⁷;
- 422 (8) in the case of a council of a London borough operating executive arrangements which involve a mayor and cabinet executive or a mayor and council manager executive¹⁸, the chairman of the borough¹⁹;
- 423 (9) in the case of a constituency wholly or partly in Greater London which is situated partly in one London borough²⁰ and partly in a district or any other London borough, the mayor of such London borough or the chairman of such district council as the Secretary of State may designate in an order made by statutory instrument²¹.

It is the general duty of the returning officer at a parliamentary election to do all such acts and things as may be necessary for effectively conducting the election in the manner provided by the parliamentary election rules²². No parliamentary election may be declared invalid by reason of any act or omission by the returning officer or any other person in breach of his official duty in connection with the election or otherwise of the parliamentary elections rules²³ if it appears to the tribunal having cognisance of the question²⁴: (a) that the election was so conducted as to be substantially in accordance with the law as to elections²⁵; and (b) that the act or omission did not affect its result²⁶. Nor is a parliamentary election liable to be questioned by reason of a defect in the title, or want of title, of the person presiding at or conducting the election, if that person was then in actual possession of, or acting in, the office giving the right to preside at or conduct the election²⁷. The execution of the writ for a parliamentary election²⁸ belongs to the returning officer as such, the office of returning officer being a distinct office from that by virtue of which he becomes returning officer²⁹; and where a person enters on an office by virtue of which he becomes returning officer, it belongs to him and not to the outgoing holder of that office to complete the execution of a writ for a parliamentary election previously issued and not yet returned³⁰.

A public notice which is required by or under the Representation of the People Act 1983 to be given by a returning officer for a parliamentary election must be given by posting the notice in some conspicuous place or places in the constituency and may also be given in such other manner as he thinks desirable for publicising it³¹.

A returning officer for a parliamentary election must take such steps as he thinks appropriate to encourage the participation by electors in the electoral process in the area for which he acts³². In so doing, he must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission³³.

1 For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 24(1). Any reference in any Act (whenever passed) to the returning officer for a parliamentary election or constituency must be taken as a reference to the returning officer appointed under the Representation of the People Act 1983: s 206, Sch 7 para 11. As to the discharge of the returning officer's functions for parliamentary elections see PARA 356 post. A person is not subject to any incapacity to vote at a parliamentary election by reason of being or acting as returning officer at that election: s 27(3). The provision as respects parliamentary elections is necessary because returning officers were formerly unable to vote at the election for which they acted as returning officers because they decided any equality of votes (which question is now determined by lot: see PARA 441 post). As to the returning officer's general duty at a parliamentary election to effectively conduct the election in the manner provided by the appropriate rules see PARA 388 post. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election', and for the meaning of 'constituency' in the context of a parliamentary election, see PARA 9 ante.

In the event of the death of a sheriff, the acting returning officer discharges all the duties of sheriff as returning officer at a parliamentary election until another sheriff is appointed and has made the declaration of office: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 28(6). The Sheriffs Act 1887 s 25 (duty of under-sheriff to act as high sheriff in certain cases: see SHERIFFS vol 42 (Reissue) PARA 1115) does not authorise the under-sheriff to discharge the duties of returning officer at a parliamentary election: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 28(6). As to the acting returning officer at a parliamentary election see PARA 356 post.

20 The City of London, the Inner Temple and the Middle Temple are, for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 24 (as amended), treated as if together they formed a London borough: s 24(1). As to the Temples see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 32 et seq. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

21 Ibid s 24(1)(e) (amended, in relation to England, by the Local Authorities (Executive Arrangements) (Modification of Enactments) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/1057, arts 2(f), 9(1)(b)). As to the order made see the Returning Officers (Parliamentary Constituencies) (England) Order 1995, SI 1995/2061, art 4, Sch 2 (Sch 2 amended by SI 2002/1057). See also note 14 supra.

22 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(2). For the meaning of 'parliamentary election rules' see PARA 388 post.

23 A returning officer for a parliamentary election may take such steps as he thinks appropriate to remedy any act or omission on his part, or on the part of a relevant person, which arises in connection with any function the returning officer or relevant person has in relation to the election, and is not in accordance with the rules or any other requirements applicable to the election: Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 46(1), (3)(a). However, a returning officer may not in exercise of this power recount the votes given at an election after the result has been declared: s 46(2). For these purposes, a 'relevant person' is an electoral registration officer, a presiding officer, a person providing goods or services to the returning officer or a deputy of any such person or a person appointed to assist, or in the course of his employment assisting, such a person in connection with any function he has in relation to the election: s 46(4). Section 46(1)-(4) must be construed as part of the Representation of the People Acts: Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 46(5). For the meaning of the 'Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

The provisions of the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 46 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

26 Ibid s 23(3)(b).

27 Ibid s 24(2).

28 As to the issue and execution of writs for a parliamentary election see PARA 199 et seq ante.

29 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 27(1). Since the only duty in connection with the execution of the writ which is to be performed by the returning officer rather than the acting returning officer is the declaration of the result of the poll, and then only if the returning officer by notice reserves that duty to himself (see PARA 356 post), this provision needs to be read with s 28(4), so that references to the returning officer include, as respects England and Wales, the acting returning officer (see PARA 356 post). On this interpretation the reference to execution of the writ means doing all the things that are required to elect a member of Parliament. An alternative construction would be to limit the meaning of the reference to the execution of the writ to the declaration of the result of the poll. But this construction presents difficulties when applied to the words 'execution of the writ' in s 27(2): see note 30 infra. The former construction is therefore to be preferred.

30 Ibid s 27(2). If this provision is applied, as respects England and Wales, to the returning officer, the reference to the completion of the execution of the writ for a parliamentary election can refer only to the declaration of the result of the poll since all other remaining duties are discharged by the acting returning officer: see PARA 356 post. However, those duties can only be discharged by the person who for the time being holds the office of returning officer (s 28(2)(b)) if he has given the notice required by s 28(3), not later than the day following that on which the writ is received (see PARA 356 post). Accordingly, if s 27(2) is construed as applying to the returning officer, it would produce a conflict with s 28(2)(b), (3) by purporting to allow a person who came into the office of returning officer and who had not given such a notice to make the declaration of the result of the poll. It is therefore submitted that, as respects England and Wales, the provision applies to the acting returning officer. Thus, where a person comes into the office of registration officer and the holder of that office is required by the provisions referred to in PARA 356 post to be the acting returning officer, it falls to that person and not the previous holder to complete the proceedings on the election.

32 Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 69(1), (8)(b), (9)(a). For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a parliamentary election, see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/A. PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/356. Discharge of returning officer's functions for parliamentary elections.

356. Discharge of returning officer's functions for parliamentary elections.

With certain exceptions¹, the duties of the returning officer at a parliamentary election² are discharged, as acting returning officer, by³:

- 424 (1) in the case of a constituency in England⁴ for which the chairman of a district council or the mayor or the chairman of a London borough is returning officer⁵, the registration officer⁶ appointed by that council⁷;
- 425 (2) in the case of a constituency in Wales⁸ for which the chairman of a county or county borough council is returning officer⁹, the registration officer appointed by that council¹⁰;
- 426 (3) in the case of any other constituency, such registration officer as may be designated in an order made by statutory instrument¹¹.

The exceptions are any duty imposed on a returning officer in connection with the delivery of the writ of election¹², and any duties in connection with the declaration of the result of the poll¹³ which the person, if any, who for the time being holds the office of returning officer reserves to himself and undertakes to perform in person¹⁴. The returning officer must give to the acting returning officer written notice of any duties which he reserves to himself in connection with the declaration of the result of the poll, and, in the case of any election, only those duties are reserved in relation to which such a notice is given not later than the day following that on which the writ is received¹⁵.

An acting returning officer at a parliamentary election in the discharge of his duties has all the powers, obligations, rights and liabilities of the returning officer under the Representation of the People Act 1983¹⁶, which Act has effect accordingly¹⁷. An acting returning officer has power to appoint deputies to discharge all or any of those duties¹⁸; and a district council, London borough council, Welsh county council or county borough council may assign officers to assist in carrying out all or any of those duties¹⁹. On the death of a sheriff, the acting returning officer discharges all the duties of sheriff as returning officer at a parliamentary election until another sheriff is appointed and has made the declaration of office²⁰.

NOTE 11--SI 1995/2061 replaced: Returning Officers (Parliamentary Constituencies) (England) Order 2007, SI 2007/2878.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/A. PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/357. Payments by and to returning officer for parliamentary elections.

357. Payments by and to returning officer for parliamentary elections.

No consideration is to be given by or to a returning officer at a parliamentary election¹ for the making out, receipt, delivery or return of the writ for a parliamentary election² or, subject to the provisions made³, otherwise in connection with its execution⁴. This prohibition, however, does not apply to any inclusive salary payable to a returning officer at a parliamentary election in respect of the office by virtue of which he becomes returning officer⁵.

A returning officer is entitled to recover his charges in respect of services properly rendered, or expenses properly incurred, for or in connection with a parliamentary election⁶; (1) if the services were necessarily rendered, or the expenses were necessarily incurred, for the efficient and effective conduct of the election⁷; and (2) if the total of his charges does not exceed the amount (the 'overall maximum recoverable amount') specified in, or determined in accordance with, an order made by the Secretary of State for these purposes⁸. In any order so made, the Secretary of State may specify, or make provision for determining in accordance with the order, a maximum recoverable amount for services or expenses of any specified description and the returning officer may not recover more than that amount in respect of any such services or expenses⁹. However, the Secretary of State may, in a particular case, authorise the payment of more than the overall maximum recoverable amount¹⁰ or of more than the specified maximum amount for any specified services or expenses¹¹ if satisfied¹² that it was reasonable for the returning officer concerned to render the services or incur the expenses¹³ and that the charges in question are reasonable¹⁴. On the returning officer's request for an advance on account of his charges, the Secretary of State may, on such terms as he thinks fit, make such an advance¹⁵. The amount of any charges recoverable in accordance with these provisions must be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund¹⁶ on an account being submitted to the Secretary of State, but he may if he thinks fit before payment, apply for a detailed assessment to be made of the account¹⁷. Where the superannuation contributions required to be paid by a local authority in respect of any person are increased by any fee paid under these provisions as part of a returning officer's charges at a parliamentary election, then on an account being submitted to the Secretary of State a sum equal to the increase will be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund to the authority¹⁸. Regulations may make provision as to the time when and the manner and form in which accounts are to be rendered to the Secretary of State for the purposes of the payment of a returning officer's charges¹⁹.

The Secretary of State may also reimburse a returning officer for a parliamentary election in respect of any expenditure incurred by the officer for the purposes of encouraging electoral participation²⁰. However, the amount so paid must not in any year exceed such amount as is determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State²¹.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to the designation of returning officers for a parliamentary election see PARA 355 ante.

The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 29 (as amended) is applied with modifications for the purposes of combined polls: see the Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 6; and PARA 18 ante.

2 As to the issue and execution of a writ for a parliamentary election see PARA 199 et seq ante.

4 Ibid s 29(1).

5 Ibid s 29(2). In practice, this provision applies to the acting returning officer since it is that officer who executes the writ at a parliamentary election. Such an officer is a registration officer and a salary is paid to him by the relevant local authority in respect of that office: see PARAS 154, 356 ante.

6 Ibid s 29(3) (s 29(3) substituted by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 68(1), (2)).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 68 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. The commencement of the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 68 has the effect that the prospective amendments made to the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 29 (as amended) by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 6(1), (3) and by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 107(1), (2) will not take effect: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 68(4).

Such regulations may make different provision for different purposes: s 69(7). The Encouraging Electoral Participation (Reimbursement of Expenses) (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2972, which are to come into force on 1 April 2007, provide that the total amount that may be paid to local electoral officers in England and Wales in pursuance of the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 69(4) in the year ending on 31 March 2008 and each successive year is £2,500,000: Encouraging Electoral Participation (Reimbursement of Expenses) (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2972, reg 2. For these purposes, 'year' means a period of 12 months ending on 31 March: reg 1(2). 'Local electoral officer' means a returning officer for parliamentary elections: Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 69(8)(b), (9)(a).

358. Detailed assessment of returning officer's account at parliamentary elections.

On a returning officer's account being submitted to the Secretary of State¹, he may if he thinks fit before payment, apply to the county court for a detailed assessment to be made of the account². Such an application is made by claim form and on issuing the claim form the court will fix a day for the hearing which is a day for proceeding with the detailed assessment if the application is granted³. On any such application the county court has jurisdiction to assess the account in such manner and at such time and place as the court thinks fit⁴. Such an application may be heard by the district judge⁵.

On any such application, the returning officer may apply to the county court to examine any claim made by any person against him in respect of matters charged in the account⁶. The application must be made in writing and filed, together with a copy of it, within seven days after service on the returning officer of the copy of the application for detailed assessment⁷. On the filing of the returning officer's application, the court officer must fix a day for the hearing and give notice of it to the returning officer⁸. A copy of the returning officer's application and of that notice must be served on the claimant in the manner prescribed⁹. If the county court thinks fit, the examination and the detailed assessment may take place on the same day¹⁰. The application for an examination may be heard and determined by the district judge¹¹. The examination must be determined before the detailed assessment is concluded¹². The court must give the claimant an opportunity to be heard and to tender any evidence¹³.

On the examination of a claim against the returning officer, the county court may allow, disallow or reduce the claim objected to with or without costs, and the court's determination on the examination is final for all purposes and as against all persons¹⁴. On the detailed assessment, the court has jurisdiction finally to determine the amount payable to the returning officer¹⁵. A copy of the order made on the application must be served on the Secretary of State and the returning officer and, in the case of an application for examination, on the claimant¹⁶.

TEXT AND NOTES 3, 5, 7-12, 16--CPR Sch 2 CCR Ord 45 revoked: SI 2007/2204.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/B. LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS/359. Designation of returning officer at local government elections.

B. LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS

359. Designation of returning officer at local government elections.

In England¹, every non-metropolitan county² council must appoint an officer of the council to be the returning officer for elections of councillors of the county³; and every district council⁴ must appoint an officer of the council to be the returning officer for the elections of councillors of the district, and an officer of the council to be the returning officer for elections of councillors of parishes within the district⁵. The returning officer at an election of London borough councillors⁶ is the proper officer of the borough⁷. The returning officer at an election of a constituency member of the London Assembly⁸ is such a person, or a person of such a description, as may be designated by the Secretary of State⁹ in an order made by statutory instrument¹⁰. The returning officer at any election of the Mayor of London¹¹, at the election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election¹², and for the purposes of the return of London members of the London Assembly otherwise than at an election¹³, is the proper officer of the Greater London Authority¹⁴. The council for any London borough must place the services of its officers at the disposal of any person acting as the returning officer at an Authority election¹⁵ for an electoral area¹⁶ situated wholly or partly in the borough¹⁷; and, at an ordinary election, it is the duty of returning officers for London Authority elections to co-operate with each other in the discharge of their functions¹⁸. In Wales¹⁹, the council of every county or county borough²⁰ must appoint an officer of the council to be the returning officer for elections of councillors of the county or county borough²¹ and an officer of the council to be the returning officer for elections of councillors of communities within the county or county borough²². In relation to an election for the return of a local authority mayor²³, the returning officer is either the proper officer of the London borough concerned or, as the case may be, the person appointed as the returning officer for a local election held in England and Wales²⁴ and any person appointed by such a person²⁵.

A returning officer at any election specified above may by writing under his hand appoint one or more persons to discharge all or any of his functions²⁶. No local government election²⁷ may be declared invalid by reason of any act or omission by the returning officer or any other person in breach of his official duty in connection with the election or otherwise of the elections rules²⁸ if it appears to the tribunal having cognisance of the question²⁹ that the election was so conducted as to be substantially in accordance with the law as to elections³⁰ and that the act or omission did not affect its result³¹. Nor is a local government election in England and Wales liable to be questioned³² by reason of a defect in the title, or want of title, of the person presiding at or conducting the election, if that person was then in actual possession of, or acting in, the office giving the right to preside at or conduct the election³³.

A person is not subject to any incapacity to vote at a local government election by reason of being or acting as returning officer at that election³⁴.

A public notice which is required by or under the Representation of the People Act 1983 to be given by the proper officer of a local authority at a local government election must be given by posting the notice in some conspicuous place or places in the local government area³⁵ and may also be given in such other manner as he thinks desirable for publicising it³⁶.

A returning officer for a local government election must take such steps as he thinks appropriate to encourage the participation by electors in the electoral process in the area for which he acts³⁷. In so doing, he must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission³⁸.

However, a returning officer may not in exercise of this power recount the votes given at an election after the result has been declared: s 46(2). For these purposes, a 'relevant person' is an electoral registration officer, a presiding officer, a person providing goods or services to the returning officer or a deputy of any such person or a person appointed to assist, or in the course of his employment assisting, such a person in connection with any function he has in relation to the election: s 46(4). 360. Returning officer's expenses for local elections.

All expenditure properly incurred by a returning officer¹ in relation to the holding of an election of a councillor for a principal area², or the election of an elected mayor of the council of such an area³, must be paid by that council in so far as such expenditure does not, in cases where there is a scale fixed for the purpose⁴ by the council for that area, exceed that scale⁵. All expenditure properly incurred by a returning officer in relation to the holding of an Authority election⁶, in so far as it does not, in cases where there is a scale fixed for the purpose⁷ by the Greater London Authority⁸, exceed that scale, must be paid by the Greater London Authority⁹. All expenditure properly incurred by a returning officer in relation to the holding of an election of a parish councillor¹⁰, in so far as it does not, in cases where there is a scale fixed for the purpose¹¹ by the council of the district in which the parish is situated, exceed that scale, must be paid by the district council, but any expenditure so incurred must, if the district council so requires, be repaid to that council by the council of the parish for which the election is held¹². All the expenditure properly incurred by a returning officer in relation to the holding of an election of a community councillor¹³, in so far as it does not, in cases where there is a scale fixed for this purpose¹⁴ by the council of the county or county borough in which the community is situated (the 'principal council'), exceed that scale, must be paid by the principal council, but any expenditure so incurred must, if the principal council so requires, be repaid to that council by the community council¹⁵.

Before a poll is taken at an election of a councillor for any local government area in England and Wales¹⁶, or at an election of an elected mayor of the council of any such area, the council of that area or, in the case of an election of a parish or community councillor, the council which appointed the returning officer must, at the request of the returning officer or of any person acting as returning officer, advance to him such reasonable sum in respect of his expenses at the election as he may require¹⁷; and before a poll is taken at an Authority election, the Greater London Authority must, at the request of the returning officer or of any person acting as returning officer, advance to him such reasonable sum in respect of his expenses at the election as he may require¹⁸.

The council which is required to pay the expenses properly incurred by a returning officer in relation to any local government election¹⁹ may treat those expenses as including all costs properly incurred by the returning officer in connection with or in contemplation of any legal proceedings arising out of the election (including any criminal proceedings against the returning officer), whether or not the proceedings are in fact instituted²⁰.

The Secretary of State²¹ may reimburse a returning officer for a local government election in England and Wales in respect of any expenditure incurred by the officer for the purposes of encouraging electoral participation²². However, the amount so paid must not in any year exceed such amount as is determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State²³.

361. Returning officer and appointment of office at a poll consequent on parish meeting.

If a poll consequent on a parish meeting is required to be taken in respect of any appointment to office¹, the chairman of the meeting must notify the district council² in which the parish³ is situated and the council must appoint an officer of the council to be returning officer⁴. The returning officer must appoint an office for the purpose of the poll⁵.

Any public notice required to be given by a returning officer for these purposes must be given by the notice being posted in some conspicuous place or places in the parish, and may also be given in such other manner as the returning officer thinks desirable for publicising it⁶.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/C. ELECTIONS TO THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR WALES/362. Designation of returning officers for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

C. ELECTIONS TO THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR WALES

362. Designation of returning officers for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

For the purpose of Welsh Assembly elections¹, there must be a constituency returning officer² for each Assembly constituency³ and a regional returning officer⁴ for each Assembly electoral region⁵. A constituency returning officer is a person appointed⁶ to be the returning officer for elections of councillors of a county or county borough⁷ situated wholly or partly in the Assembly constituency, and (in the case where there is more than one such person)⁸ who is for the time being designated by the Assembly as returning officer for the constituency⁹. A regional returning officer is a person appointed¹⁰ to be the returning officer for elections of councillors of a county or county borough situated wholly or partly in the Assembly electoral region¹¹ and who is for the time being designated by the Assembly as returning officer for the electoral region¹². Either such designation must be in writing¹³.

The council of each county or county borough must place the services of its officers at the disposal of any constituency returning officer for an Assembly constituency wholly or partly situated in its area¹⁴; and the services so placed at the disposal of a constituency returning officer may relate to the exercise of that officer's functions in connection with a constituency election, a regional election or to both such elections¹⁵. The council of each county or county borough must also place the services of its officers at the disposal of any regional returning officer for an Assembly electoral region partly situated in its area¹⁶.

A constituency returning officer at a constituency election and either a constituency returning officer or a regional returning officer at an Assembly regional election may, in writing, appoint one or more persons to discharge all or any of his functions¹⁷. In relation to an ordinary election¹⁸ and to a regional election other than at an ordinary election, it is the duty of each regional returning officer and each constituency returning officer for an Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region to co-operate with each other in the discharge of their functions¹⁹; and this duty applies as between constituency returning officers in an Assembly electoral region as well as between such officers and the regional returning officer for the electoral region²⁰.

In addition to the functions otherwise conferred or imposed on a constituency or regional returning officer at an Assembly election, it is the general duty of such an officer to do all such acts as may be necessary for effectively conducting the election²¹. No Assembly election may be declared invalid by reason of any act or omission by such a returning officer or any other person in breach of his official duty in connection with the election or otherwise in breach of the election rules²² if it appears to the election court having cognisance of the question that²³ the election was so conducted as to be substantially in accordance with the law as to Assembly elections²⁴ and the act or omission did not affect the result²⁵. Nor is an Assembly election liable to be questioned²⁶ by reason of a defect in the title, or want of title, of the person presiding at or conducting the election, if that person was then in actual possession of, or acting in, the office giving the right to preside at or conduct the election²⁷. A person is not subject to any incapacity to vote at an Assembly election by reason of being returning officer at that election²⁸.

A returning officer for an election to the National Assembly for Wales must take such steps as he thinks appropriate to encourage the participation by electors in the electoral process in the area for which he acts²⁹. In so doing, he must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission³⁰.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/C. ELECTIONS TO THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR WALES/363. Payments by and to returning officer for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

363. Payments by and to returning officer for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

A constituency returning officer¹ or a regional returning officer² is entitled to recover his charges in respect of services properly rendered, or expenses properly incurred, for, or in connection with, a Welsh Assembly election³ if the services or expenses are of a kind specified in an order made by the Assembly⁴ and the charges are reasonable⁵. In any order so made, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ may specify a maximum recoverable amount for services or expenses of any specified description and the returning officer may not recover more than that amount in respect of any such services or expenses⁷, except that the Assembly may, in a particular case, authorise the payment of more than the specified amount for any specified services or expenses if satisfied⁸ that it was reasonable for the returning officer concerned to render the services or incur the expenses⁹ and that the charges in question are reasonable¹⁰. Any order which specifies the maximum amount for services or expenses of a particular description¹¹ may provide for that amount to increase at such dates, or after such periods, by reference to such formula or other method of determination as may be specified in the order¹² and make such transitional provision in connection with any such increase as the Assembly considers appropriate¹³. On a returning officer's request for an advance on account of his charges, the Assembly may, on such terms as it thinks fit, make such an advance¹⁴.

The Assembly must pay the amount of any charges recoverable in accordance with these provisions on an account being submitted to it but the Assembly may if it thinks fit, before payment, apply for a detailed assessment of the account¹⁵. Where the superannuation contributions required to be paid by a local authority in respect of any person are increased by any fee paid under these provisions as part of a returning officer's charges at an Assembly election, then, on an account being submitted to the Assembly, a sum equal to the increase must be paid by the Assembly to the authority¹⁶. The Assembly by regulations may make provision as to the time when and the manner and form in which accounts are to be rendered to the Assembly for the purpose of the payment of a returning officer's charges; and such regulations may make different provision for constituency elections (on the one hand) and regional elections (on the other)¹⁷.

The Secretary of State may reimburse a returning officer for an election to the National Assembly for Wales in respect of any expenditure incurred by the officer for the purposes of encouraging electoral participation¹⁸. However, the amount so paid must not in any year exceed such amount as is determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State¹⁹.

364. Detailed assessment of returning officer's account at elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

On a returning officer's account being submitted to the National Assembly for Wales¹, the Assembly may if it thinks fit before payment, apply to the county court for a detailed assessment to be made of the account². Such an application is made by claim form and on issuing the claim form the court will fix a day for the hearing which is a day for proceeding with the detailed assessment if the application is granted³. On any such application the county court has jurisdiction to assess the account in such manner and at such time and place as the court thinks fit⁴. Such an application may be heard by the district judge⁵.

On any such application, the returning officer⁶ may apply to the county court to examine any claim made by any person against him in respect of matters charged in the account⁷. The application must be made in writing and filed, together with a copy of it, within seven days after service on the returning officer of the copy of the application for detailed assessment⁸. On the filing of the returning officer's application, the court officer must fix a day for the hearing and give notice of it to the returning officer⁹. A copy of the returning officer's application and of that notice must be served on the claimant in the manner prescribed¹⁰. If the county court thinks fit, the examination and the detailed assessment may take place on the same day¹¹. The application for an examination may be heard and determined by the district judge¹². The examination must be determined before the detailed assessment is concluded¹³. The court must give the claimant an opportunity to be heard and to tender any evidence¹⁴.

On the examination of a claim against the returning officer, the county court may allow, disallow or reduce the claim objected to with or without costs, and the court's determination on the examination is final for all purposes and as against all persons¹⁵. On the detailed assessment, the court has jurisdiction finally to determine the amount payable to the returning officer¹⁶. A copy of the order made on the application must be served on the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷ and the returning officer and, in the case of an application for examination, on the claimant¹⁸.

364 Detailed assessment of returning officer's account at elections to the National Assembly for Wales

TEXT AND NOTES 3, 5, 8-13, 17, 18--CPR Sch 2 CCR Ord 45 revoked: SI 2007/2204.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/D. EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/365. Designation of returning officers and local returning officers for European parliamentary elections.

D. EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS

365. Designation of returning officers and local returning officers for European parliamentary elections.

There must be a returning officer for each European parliamentary electoral region¹. For a region in England² and Wales³, the returning officer is to be a person who⁴ is, in relation to a parliamentary election⁵, an acting returning officer⁶ and is designated for these purposes by order of the Secretary of State⁷; and the local returning officer for a local counting area⁸ is the person who, in relation to a parliamentary election, is the acting returning officer for the parliamentary constituency which is coterminous with the local counting area⁹.

The Secretary of State may by regulations confer functions on the returning officers for the electoral regions and on local returning officers¹⁰. Accordingly, the local returning officer for each local counting area wholly or partly comprised in an electoral region is responsible for¹¹: (1) the conduct of the poll in that area¹²; (2) unless the returning officer otherwise directs, the printing of the ballot papers¹³; (3) the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers for electors in that area and their proxies¹⁴; (4) the verification of the ballot paper accounts¹⁵; and (5) the counting of the votes given in that area¹⁶.

Where such regulations confer functions on a person in relation to an electoral region other than the combined region¹⁷, the council of a district or London borough in England¹⁸ and a county or county borough in Wales¹⁹ falling wholly or partly within that region²⁰ must place the services of their officers at his disposal for the purpose of assisting him in the discharge of those functions²¹. A returning officer and a local returning officer may, in writing, appoint deputies to discharge all or any of the functions imposed on them²²; and a returning officer may appoint such clerks as may be necessary to assist him in his functions in relation to an election²³. The returning officer may give to any local returning officer for a local counting area in the electoral region for which he acts directions relating to the discharge of his functions, including directions requiring the provision to him of any information which that person has or is entitled to have²⁴; and it is the duty of any local returning officer to whom directions are so given to discharge his functions in accordance with the directions²⁵.

It is the general duty of a returning officer and the local returning officer at a European parliamentary election to do all such acts and things as may be necessary for effectively conducting the election in accordance with the European parliamentary elections rules²⁶. No European parliamentary election may be declared invalid by reason of any act or omission by the returning officer and the local returning officer or any other person in breach of his official duty in connection with the election or otherwise in breach of the election rules²⁷ if it appears to the tribunal having cognisance of the question that²⁸ the election was so conducted as to be substantially in accordance with the law as to European parliamentary elections²⁹ and the act or omission did not affect the result³⁰. Nor is a European parliamentary election liable to be questioned³¹ by reason of a defect in the title, or want of title, of the person presiding at or conducting the election, if that person was then in actual possession of, or acting in, the office giving the right to preside at or conduct the election³².

A returning officer for a European parliamentary election must take such steps as he thinks appropriate to encourage the participation by electors in the electoral process in the area for which he acts³³. In so doing, he must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission³⁴.

365 Designation of returning officers and local returning officers for European parliamentary elections

TEXT AND NOTES--A returning officer or a local returning officer for a European Parliamentary election may take such steps as he thinks appropriate to remedy any act or omission on his part, or on the part of a relevant person, which arises in connection with any function the returning officer or local returning officer or relevant person has in relation to the election, and which is not in accordance with the European Parliamentary elections rules or other requirements applicable to the election: SI 2004/293 reg 9(4A) (reg 9(4A)-(4E) added by SI 2009/186). The relevant persons are (1) a registration officer; (2) a presiding officer; (3) a person providing goods or services to the returning officer or local returning officer; and (4) a deputy of any person mentioned in heads (1)-(3) above or a person appointed to assist, or in the course of his employment assisting, such a person in connection with any function he has in relation to the European Parliamentary election: SI 2004/293 reg 9(4C). A returning officer or local returning officer may not under reg 9(4A) re-count the votes given at an election after the result has been declared: SI 2004/293 reg 9(4B). A returning officer or local returning officer for a European Parliamentary election must take such steps as he thinks appropriate to encourage the participation by electors in the electoral process in the area or region for which he acts (reg 9(4D)) and, for this purpose, must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission (reg 9(4E)).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/ (iii) Returning Officers/D. EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/366. Payments by and to returning officer for European parliamentary elections.

366. Payments by and to returning officer for European parliamentary elections.

A returning officer or local returning officer at a European parliamentary election¹ is entitled to recover his charges in respect of services properly rendered, or expenses properly incurred, for or in connection with such an election if² the services or expenses are of a kind specified in an order made by the Secretary of State³ and the charges are reasonable⁴. In any order so made the Secretary of State may specify a maximum recoverable amount for services or expenses of any specified description and the returning officer or local returning officer may not recover more than that amount in respect of any such services or expenses⁵, except that, in a particular case, he may authorise the payment of more than the specified maximum amount for any specified services or expenses if satisfied⁶ that it was reasonable for the returning officer or local returning officer concerned to render the services or incur the expenses⁷ and that the charges in question are reasonable⁸. Any order which specifies a maximum amount for services or expenses of a particular description may⁹ provide for that amount to increase at prescribed dates, or after prescribed periods, by reference to such formula or other method of determination as may be specified in the order¹⁰ and make such transitional provision in connection with any such increase as the Secretary of State considers appropriate¹¹. On the returning officer's or local returning officer's request for an advance on account of his charges, the Secretary of State may, on such terms as he thinks fit, make such an advance¹².

The amount of any charges so recoverable must be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund¹³ on an account being submitted to the Secretary of State, but the Secretary of State may, if he thinks fit, before payment apply for a detailed assessment of the account¹⁴. Where the superannuation contributions required to be paid by a local authority in respect of any person are increased by any fee paid as part of a returning officer's or local returning officer's charges at a European parliamentary election, then on an account being submitted to the Secretary of State a sum equal to the increase may be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund to the authority¹⁵. Regulations by the Secretary of State may make provision as to the time when and the manner and form in which accounts are to be rendered to the Secretary of State for the purposes of the payment of a returning officer's or local returning officer's charges, and may include different provision for different cases, circumstances or areas¹⁶.

The Secretary of State may also reimburse a returning officer for a European parliamentary election in respect of any expenditure incurred by the officer for the purposes of encouraging electoral participation¹⁷. However, the amount so paid must not in any year exceed such amount as is determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State¹⁸.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/A. VOTING OPTIONS/368. Manner of voting at a parliamentary or local government election.

(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections

A. VOTING OPTIONS

368. Manner of voting at a parliamentary or local government election.

A person entitled to vote as an elector at a parliamentary or local government election¹ may vote in person at the polling station allotted to him², unless he is entitled as an elector to an absent vote at the election³. If he is entitled as an elector to vote by post at the election, he may vote by post⁴. If he is entitled to vote by proxy at the election, he may so vote unless, before a ballot paper has been issued for him to vote by proxy, he applies at the polling station allotted to him under the appropriate rules for a ballot paper for the purpose of voting in person, in which case he may vote in person there⁵. If he is not entitled as an elector to an absent vote at the election⁶ but he cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to the polling station allotted to him under the appropriate rules by reason of the particular circumstances of his employment, either as a constable or by the returning officer, on the date of the poll for a purpose connected with the election⁷, he may vote in person at any polling station in the constituency or, as the case may be, electoral area⁸.

Subject to these provisions, a person is not entitled to vote as a parliamentary elector more than once in the same constituency at any parliamentary election or in more than one constituency at a general election⁹. At a local government election for any electoral area (except in relation to Authority elections¹⁰) no person as an elector and no person as proxy for any one elector¹¹ may give more than one vote for any one candidate¹² or give more votes in all than the total number of councillors to be elected for the electoral area¹³. Each person entitled to vote as an elector at a London Authority ordinary election¹⁴ has one vote (a 'mayoral vote') which may be given for a candidate to be the Mayor of London¹⁵, one vote (a 'constituency vote') which may be given for a candidate to be the Assembly member for the Assembly constituency¹⁶ and one vote (a 'London vote') which may be given for either a registered political party¹⁷ which has submitted a list of candidates to be London members¹⁸ or an individual who is a candidate to be a London member¹⁹. At an election for an elected local authority mayor²⁰, each person entitled to vote as an elector has one vote which may be given for the voter's first preference from among the candidates to be the elected mayor²¹ but a person is not entitled as an elector to cast more than one first preference vote (or, where it applies, more than one second preference vote) at an election for the return of an elected mayor²².

1 For the meaning of 'elector' in relation to a parliamentary or local government election see PARA 110 note 2 ante. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. 'Local government election' means a local government election in England or Wales: Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 1(1). For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of Sch 4 para 1(2).

However, nothing in Sch 4 para 2(1)-(5) (see the text and notes 2-8 infra) applies to a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7 (as substituted and amended) (deemed residence for persons in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand: see PARA 134 ante) applies and who is liable, by virtue of any enactment, to be detained in the mental hospital in question, whether he is registered by virtue of that provision or not: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2(5A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 35(1), (2), (4)). Such a person may vote either in person (where he is granted permission to be absent from the hospital and voting in person does not breach any condition attached to that permission) or by post or by proxy (where he is entitled as an elector to vote by post or, as the case may be, by proxy at the election): Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2(5A) (as so added). Nor does anything in Sch 4 para 2(1)-(5) apply to a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A (as added and amended) (deemed residence for persons on remand: see PARA 135 ante) applies (Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2(6)(b)), whether he is registered by virtue of that provision or not; and such a person may only vote by post or by proxy (where he is entitled as an elector to vote by post or, as the case may be, by proxy at the election) (Sch 4 para 2(6)). As to voting by proxy see PARA 379 et seq post.

2 le under the appropriate rules. For these purposes, the 'appropriate rules' means, in the case of a parliamentary election, the parliamentary elections rules and, in the case of a local government election, rules made (or having effect as if made) under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post): Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(1). For the meaning of 'parliamentary elections rules' see PARA 388 post; definition applied by virtue of Sch 4 para 1(2). As to the provision and allotment of polling stations see PARA 395 post.

3 Ibid Sch 4 para 2(1), (2). This provision does not prevent a person, at the polling station allotted to him, marking a tendered ballot paper in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 40(1ZC), (1ZE) (as added) (see PARA 408 post): Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2(6A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 38(6)(a)). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) and the Representation of the People Act 1983, so far as it has effect in relation to England and Wales, a person entitled to vote as an elector at a parliamentary or local government election is entitled as an elector to vote by post or is entitled to vote by proxy at the election if the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2(8) or Sch 4 para 2(9) (as added) applies to him in relation to the election: Sch 4 para 2(7) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 Pt 7 para 137(1), (3)(a)). The Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2(8) (as added) applies to a person who is shown in the postal voters list mentioned in Sch 4 para 5(2) (as amended) (see PARA 378 post) as entitled to vote by post at an election: Sch 4 para 2(8) (Sch 4 para 2(8), (9) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 137(1), (3)(b)). The Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2(9) (as added) applies to a person who is shown in the list of proxies mentioned in Sch 4 para 5(3) (see PARA 378 post) as entitled to vote by proxy at an election: Sch 4 para 2(9) (as so added). As to the postal voters list and the list of proxies see PARA 378 post.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 38 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

369. Manner of voting at an election to the National Assembly for Wales.

A person entitled to vote as an elector at a Welsh Assembly election¹ may vote in person at the polling station allotted to him², unless he is entitled as an elector to an absent vote at the Assembly election³. If he is entitled as an elector to vote by post at the Assembly election, he may vote by post⁴. If he is entitled to vote by proxy at the Assembly election, he may so vote unless, before a ballot paper has been issued for him to vote by proxy, he applies at the polling station allotted to him for a ballot paper for the purposes of voting in person, in which case he may vote in person there⁵. If he is not entitled as an elector to an absent vote at the Assembly election but cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to the polling station allotted to him, by reason of the particular circumstances of his employment as a constable, by a constituency returning officer⁶ (in the case of a constituency election⁷), by a regional returning officer⁸ (in the case of a regional election⁹) or by a constituency returning officer (in the case of a regional election where that officer is exercising functions in relation to the election), on the date of the poll for a purpose connected with the election, he may vote in person at any polling station in the Assembly constituency for which the election is being held, in the case of a constituency election, or in which he is entitled to give his vote, in the case of a regional election¹⁰. But if a person is employed at an ordinary election¹¹ for a purpose connected with only one of two elections at which he is entitled to give a vote, he is treated for these purposes as employed for a purpose connected with both elections; provided that, if a person is so treated, in exercising the right so conferred to vote in person at any polling station, those votes will be given at the same polling station¹².

Each person entitled to vote at a general election in an Assembly constituency¹³ has two votes¹⁴: one (a 'constituency vote') is a vote which may be given for a candidate to be the Assembly constituency member for the Assembly constituency¹⁵; the other (an 'electoral region vote') is a vote which may be given for either a registered political party¹⁶ which has submitted a list of candidates to be Assembly regional members for the Assembly electoral region¹⁷ in which the Assembly constituency is included¹⁸ or an individual who is a candidate to be an Assembly regional member¹⁹ for that Assembly electoral region²⁰. The Assembly constituency member for the Assembly constituency is to be returned under the simple majority system²¹; and the Assembly regional members for the Assembly electoral region are to be returned under the additional member system of proportional representation²².

However, a person is not entitled as an elector to cast more than one constituency vote or more than one electoral region vote in the same Assembly constituency at any general election²³, to vote in more than one Assembly constituency at any general election²⁴, or to cast more than one vote in any election held to fill a vacancy in a constituency seat²⁵.

1 For these purposes, a person entitled to vote as an elector at an Assembly election is entitled as an elector to vote by post or entitled to vote by proxy at the election if he is shown in the absent voters list for the election as so entitled; and references in those provisions to entitlement as an elector to an absent vote at an Assembly election are references to entitlement as an elector to vote by post or entitlement to vote by proxy at the election: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 7(8). As to elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to voting by proxy see PARA 379 et seq post.

However, nothing in art 7(1)-(6) (see the text and notes 2-12 infra) applies to: (1) a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7 (as substituted and amended) (deemed residence for persons in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand: see PARA 134 ante) applies and who is liable, by virtue of any enactment, to be detained in the mental hospital in question (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 7(7)(a)); or (2) a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A (as added and amended) (deemed residence for persons on remand: see PARA 135 post) applies (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 7(7)(b)), whether he is registered by virtue of that provision or not; and such a person may only vote by post or by proxy (where he is entitled as an elector to vote by post or, as the case may be, by proxy at the election) (art 7(7)).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/A. VOTING OPTIONS/370. Manner of voting at a European parliamentary election.

370. Manner of voting at a European parliamentary election.

A person entitled to vote as an elector at a European parliamentary election¹ may vote in person at the polling station allotted to him², unless he is entitled as an elector to an absent vote at the election³. If he is entitled as an elector to vote by post at the election, he may vote by post⁴. If he is entitled to vote by proxy at the election, he may so vote unless, before a ballot paper has been issued for him to vote by proxy, he applies at the polling station allotted to him under the European parliamentary elections rules for a ballot paper for the purpose of voting in person, in which case he may vote in person there⁵. If he is not entitled as an elector to an absent vote at the election⁶, but he cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to the polling station allotted to him under the European parliamentary elections rules by reason of the particular circumstances of his employment, either as a constable or by the local returning officer⁷, on the date of the poll for a purpose connected with the election⁸, he may vote in person at any polling station in the local counting area⁹.

At a European parliamentary election, a vote may be cast either for a registered party¹⁰ or for an individual candidate named on the ballot paper¹¹. If, on any occasion when elections to the European Parliament are held in all the member states, a person votes as an elector more than once in those elections, whether in the United Kingdom or elsewhere, he is guilty of an offence¹².

1 For the purposes of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, and the Representation of the People Act 1983, the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 and the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003, a person entitled to vote as an elector at a European parliamentary election is entitled as an elector to vote by post or entitled to vote by proxy at the election if he is shown in the absent voters list for the election as so entitled; and references in those provisions to entitlement as an elector to an absent vote at a European parliamentary election are references to entitlement as an elector to vote by post or entitlement to vote by proxy at the election: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 2(7). For the meaning of the 'absent voters list' see PARA 378 post. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante. As to voting by proxy see PARA 379 et seq post.

However, nothing in Sch 2 para 2(1)-(5) (see the text and notes 2-9 infra) applies to: (1) a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7 (as substituted and amended) (deemed residence for persons in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand: see PARA 134 ante) applies and who is liable, by virtue of any enactment, to be detained in the mental hospital in question (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 2(6)(a)); or (2) a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A (as added and amended) (deemed residence for persons on remand: see PARA 135 ante) applies (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 2(6)(b)), whether he is registered by virtue of that provision or not; and such a person may only vote by post or by proxy (where he is entitled as an elector to vote by post or, as the case may be, by proxy at the election) (Sch 2 para 2(6)).

2 Ie under the European parliamentary elections rules. For these purposes, 'European parliamentary elections rules' means the rules in ibid reg 9(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post): reg 2(1). For these purposes, 'allotted polling station' has the meaning set out in Sch 2 para 16(7) (see PARA 373 note 15 post): Sch 2 para 1(1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/A. VOTING OPTIONS/371. Absent voting.

371. Absent voting.

A person may vote by post if he is either an elector entitled to vote by post or a person who is entitled to vote by post as proxy on behalf of an elector¹. Alternatively, a person entitled to vote as proxy for an elector at an election may do so in person at the polling station allotted to the elector under the appropriate rules². Where a person is entitled to vote by post as proxy for the elector at any election, the elector may not apply for a ballot paper for the purpose of voting in person at the election³.

Provision is made for the procedure by which a person may apply to make an absent vote (for voting by post or by proxy either for a specified or indefinite period⁴ or at a particular election only⁵), and for the procedure by which a person is appointed to vote as proxy for an elector⁶.

The Secretary of State⁷ may by regulations⁸ make provision⁹: (1) enabling the registration officer¹⁰ to require an existing absent voter¹¹ to provide the registration officer with a signature and date of birth¹²; and (2) as to the consequences of an existing absent voter refusing or failing in such circumstances as are prescribed to provide a signature and date of birth¹³. Accordingly, the registration officer must every year by 31 January send every person who remains an absent voter¹⁴ (and whose signature held on the personal identifiers record¹⁵ is more than five years old) a notice in writing¹⁶ requiring him to provide a fresh signature¹⁷ and informing him of the date (six weeks from the date of sending the notice) on which he would cease to be entitled to vote by post or by proxy in the event of a failure or refusal to provide a fresh signature¹⁸. The notice must be sent by the registration officer to the current or last known address of the absent voter¹⁹. The registration officer must, if the absent voter has not responded to the notice within three weeks from the date on which the notice was sent, as soon as practicable send a copy of the notice to him²⁰. Upon the expiration of the period specified in the notice sent to the absent voter, the registration officer must determine whether the absent voter has failed or refused to provide a fresh signature²¹. Where the registration officer determines that the absent voter has refused or failed to provide a fresh signature within the specified period, he must remove that person's entry from the records kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections (either for a particular period or for an indefinite period)²² or of those entitled to vote by post as proxy at elections²³ and from the postal voters list²⁴, list of proxies²⁵ or proxy postal voters list²⁶, as the case may be²⁷. Where a registration officer removes an absent voter's entry in such circumstances²⁸: (a) the registration officer must inform the absent voter, where appropriate, of the location of the polling station allotted or likely to be allotted²⁹ to him³⁰; (b) the provisions governing the refusal of an application for absent voting³¹ and notice of appeal³² apply as if the registration officer were refusing an application for absent voting³³; and (c) in the case of an entry removed from the proxy postal voters list, the registration officer must also notify the elector who appointed the proxy whose entry has been removed³⁴.

The registration officer must maintain a record (the 'personal identifiers record'), apart from the other records and lists which he is required to keep in relation to applications made for absent voting³⁵, of the signatures and dates of birth provided by persons whose applications³⁶ were granted, until the expiry of 12 months from³⁷ either: (i) the date on which a person is removed from the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections either for a particular period or for an indefinite period³⁸ or from the record kept of those entitled to vote by post as proxy at elections³⁹; or (ii) the date of the poll for the purposes of which the person's application for an absent vote was granted⁴⁰. The personal identifiers record must contain, in respect of each absent voter on the postal voters list, list of proxies or proxy postal voters list, his name⁴¹, his date of birth⁴² and his signature, or a record of the waiver by the registration officer of the requirement for a signature⁴³. The registration officer may disclose information held in the personal identifiers records either: (A) to any candidate or agent attending proceedings⁴⁴ on receipt of postal ballot papers⁴⁵; or (B) to any person attending proceedings on receipt of postal ballot papers who is entitled to do so⁴⁵, but only to the extent required to permit them to observe the proceedings⁴⁷.

1 See PARA 383 et seq post. As to the mechanism by which postal ballots are issued and counted see PARA 411 et seq post.

2 See PARA 382 post.

3 See PARA 382 post.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(A) Applications relating to a Particular Period or an Indefinite Period/372. Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period.

B. ABSENT VOTING

(A) APPLICATIONS RELATING TO A PARTICULAR PERIOD OR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD

372. Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period.

Where a person applies to the registration officer¹ to vote by post at parliamentary² or local government elections³ (or at both) or at Welsh Assembly elections⁴ or at European parliamentary elections⁵ (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in his application), the registration officer must grant the application⁶ if he is satisfied that the applicant is or will be registered in the register of electors for the election⁷ and if the application meets the statutory requirements⁸.

Where a person applies to the registration officer to vote by proxy⁹ at such elections (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in his application), the registration officer must grant the application¹⁰ if he is satisfied that the applicant is eligible to vote by proxy at elections to which the application relates¹¹, if he is satisfied that the applicant is or will be registered in the relevant register of electors¹², and if the application meets the statutory requirements¹³. For these purposes, a person is eligible to vote by proxy at such elections:

- 427 (1) if he is or will be registered as a service voter¹⁴;
- 428 (2) if he cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to the polling station allotted or likely to be allotted to him¹⁵ or to vote unaided there¹⁶ (in the case of a parliamentary election) by reason of blindness or other disability or (otherwise) by reason of blindness or physical incapacity¹⁷;
- 429 (3) if he cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to that polling station by reason of the general nature of his occupation, service or employment or that of his spouse or civil partner, or by reason of his or his spouse's or his civil partner's attendance on a course provided by an educational institution¹⁸;
- 430 (4) if he cannot go in person from his qualifying address to that polling station without making a journey by air or sea¹⁹; or
- 431 (5) (in relation to parliamentary or local government elections) if he has an anonymous entry in the register of electors²⁰ for the election²¹.

A person is also eligible to vote by proxy at parliamentary elections or at European parliamentary elections if he is or will be registered in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (or further, in the case of a European parliamentary election, in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration)²².

Such an application²³ must state: (a) the full name of the applicant²⁴; (b) the address in respect of which the applicant is registered or has applied to be (or is treated as having applied to be) registered in the register²⁵; (c) in the case of a person applying to vote by post, the address to which the ballot paper should be sent²⁶; (d) in the case of an application to vote by proxy, the grounds on which the elector claims to be entitled to an absent vote²⁷; and (e) in relation to parliamentary or local government elections only: (i) in the case of a person who is unable to provide a signature, the reasons for his request for waiver of any requirement²⁸ to provide a signature and the name and address of any person who has assisted him to complete his application²⁹; and (ii) where the applicant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry, that fact³⁰.

The application must be made in writing and dated³¹. In relation to a parliamentary, local government or European parliamentary election, such an application which is made for an indefinite period or the period specified in the application must state that it is so made³² and must specify the election (or elections) in respect of which it is made³³. Where an application is made by an elector to vote by proxy, it must include an application for the appointment of a proxy which meets the statutory requirements³⁴.

Where the registration officer grants an application to vote by post, he must notify the applicant of his decision³⁵; and where he refuses an application, he must notify the applicant of his decision and of the reason for it³⁶. An appeal lies to the county court from any decision of the registration officer disallowing a person's application to vote by proxy or by post as elector in any case where the application is not made for a particular election only³⁷.

1 The registration officer must supply free of charge as many forms for use in connection with applications made under the provisions relating to absent voting as appear to that officer reasonable in the circumstances to any person who satisfies that officer of his intention to use the forms in connection with an election or elections: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 4(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 140; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 9(1). As to electoral registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

5 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(1). Such an application must be disregarded for the purposes of any particular election if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the eleventh day before the date of the poll at that election (or on the sixth such day, in the case of a European parliamentary election): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(1) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(2), Sch 2 para 6(1) (substituted by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(2). Where a registration officer disregards such an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(5) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4).

In computing a period of days for these purposes, Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday or a bank holiday is to be disregarded and, in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, Maundy Thursday is to be disregarded as well: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(6) (amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(6). 'Bank holiday' means, in relation to a parliamentary or European parliamentary general election, a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321) in any part of the United Kingdom: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(7); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(7). In relation to a parliamentary or European parliamentary by-election or a local government election or Welsh Assembly election or where, at a parliamentary general election, any proceedings are commenced afresh by reason of a candidate's death, 'bank holiday' means a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in the area in which the election is to take place: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(7); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(7). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante; as to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(1)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(1)(a). In the case of a parliamentary election, the register referred to in the text is the register of parliamentary electors and, in the case of a local government election, it is the register of local government electors (although an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) may relate to both types of election, in which case the requirement is for the applicant to be registered in both). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the requirement is for the applicant to be registered in the register of local government electors (as to which see PARA 156 et seq ante). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the 'register of electors' means any part of: (1) a register of parliamentary or, in the case of peers, local government electors; (2) a register under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (peers resident outside the United Kingdom registered as European parliamentary electors: see PARA 116 ante); (3) a register under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5(2) (see PARA 156 ante); and (4) (for the purposes of European parliamentary elections held in the combined region) the Gibraltar register (see PARA 131 note 2 ante), in force within an electoral region at the time of a European parliamentary election in that region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). As to electoral regions established for the purposes of European parliamentary elections (including the combined region) see PARA 76 ante; as to registration as an elector see PARA 128 et seq ante; and as to the registers of electors maintained by registration officers see PARA 156 et seq ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(1)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8(1)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(1)(b).

In the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the application referred to in the text must contain the applicant's signature and date of birth and meet the prescribed requirements: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(1)(b) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(1)(a), (8)). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2)); and, accordingly, the text refers to the requirements set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt IV (regs 50-63) (as amended). Where a person has made an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(1) (as amended) or Sch 4 para 3(2) (as amended) (see the text and notes 9-13 infra) prior to 31 December 2006 that has not been determined on or before that date, the registration officer must not grant the application unless the applicant has provided to the registration officer a specimen of his signature and his date of birth: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 3. As to the provisions made for the initial and continuing capture of the personal identifiers of those who are existing absent voters see PARA 371 ante.

The registration officer may dispense with the requirement under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(1)(b) (as amended) or Sch 4 para 3(2)(c) (as amended) (see the text and note 13 infra) for the applicant to provide a signature if he is satisfied that the applicant is unable to provide a signature because of any disability the applicant has or is unable to provide a signature because the applicant is unable to read or write or is unable to sign in a consistent and distinctive way because of any such disability or inability: Sch 4 para 3(8) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(1)(c), (8)). By virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2), 'disability', in relation to doing a thing, includes a short term inability to do it: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 76). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 76 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the application referred to in the text must meet the requirements of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 (as amended).

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the application referred to in the text must meet the requirements of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 (as amended).

9 As to applications made to vote by proxy see PARA 379 et seq post.

10 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(2). See note 8 supra. Such an application must be disregarded for the purposes of a particular election if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the sixth day before the date of the poll at that election: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(2) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(1A) (added by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(2). Where a registration officer disregards an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4). At a Welsh Assembly election, the officer must also give the reason for his decision and date such notification: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4). As to the computation of time for these purposes see note 6 supra.

11 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(2)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(2)(a).

In the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the application referred to in the text must contain the applicant's signature and date of birth and meet the prescribed requirements: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(2)(c) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(1)(b), (8)). As to the requirements so prescribed and as to the provision made for enabling the registration officer to require an absent voter to provide the registration officer with a signature and date of birth (including transitional provisions) see note 8 supra.

As to the appropriate rules referred to in the text, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 368 note 2 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 369 note 2 ante; and, in relation to a European parliamentary election, see PARA 370 note 2 ante.

17 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(3)(b) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 Pt 7 para 137(1), (4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8(2)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(3)(b).

18 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(3)(c) (amended by the Civil Partnership Act 2004 s 261(1), Sch 27 para 164(1), (2)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8(2)(c) (amended by SI 2005/2114); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(3)(c) (amended by SI 2005/2114). It is suggested that the test would be satisfied where the duties of a person's employment frequently required him to be away from home at night. Where, however, a person was away on rare occasions only, the 'general nature' test would appear not to be satisfied, but the person would be eligible for an absent vote for a particular election if his employment duties required him to be away from his qualifying address on polling day (as to which see PARA 376 post). In order for a person's spouse or partner to qualify under this category it would be necessary to show that the general nature of the person's occupation, service or employment required him to be frequently away from home at night with the other spouse or partner in accompaniment.

25 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(b) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(b) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(b).

In relation to Welsh Assembly elections, it is specified in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(2) (amended by SI 2006/884) that, for the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(b) (as amended), the address in respect of which the applicant is registered or has applied to be (or is treated as having applied to be) registered includes: (1) in the case of a service voter, the address given in the service declaration in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16(d) (amended) (see PARA 142 ante) (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(2)(a)); (2) in the case of a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7 (as substituted and amended) (deemed residence for persons in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand: see PARA 134 ante) applies, the address of the mental hospital or the address shown on the declaration of local connection in accordance with s 7B(3)(d) (as added) (see PARA 137 ante) (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(2)(b)); (3) in the case of a person to whom the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A (as added and amended) (deemed residence for persons on remand: see PARA 135 ante) applies, the address of the place at which he is detained or the address shown on the declaration of local connection in accordance with s 7B(3)(d) (as added) (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(2)(c)); and (4) in the case of a homeless person, the address shown on the declaration of local connection in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(3)(d) (as added) (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(2)(d)).

26 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(d).

In the case of an application to vote by post at parliamentary or local government elections under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3(1) (see the text and notes 1-8 supra) or Sch 4 para 3(7) (see PARA 375 post) where the addresses stated in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(b) (as amended) (see the text and note 25 supra) and reg 51(2)(d) are different, except where an applicant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry, the application must set out why the applicant's circumstances will be or are likely to be such that he requires the ballot paper to be sent to the address stated in accordance with reg 51(2)(d): reg 51AA(1)-(3) (added by SI 2006/2910).

27 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(e); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(e).

28 Ie under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3 (as amended): see the text and notes 1-22 supra.

29 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(f) (added by SI 2006/2910).

30 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(g) (added by SI 2006/2910).

31 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3) (substituted by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3). At a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the application must also be signed by the applicant: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3).

In relation to parliamentary or local government elections, where an application is required to contain a signature and date of birth (see note 8 supra), the information must be set out in a manner that is sufficiently clear and unambiguous as to be capable of electronic scanning into his record: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3A) (reg 51(3A), (3B) added by SI 2006/2910). This requirement is met by configuring the information as follows: (1) the signature must appear against a background of white unlined paper of at least five centimetres long and two centimetres high (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3A)(a) (as so added)); and (2) the applicant's date of birth must be set out numerically configured in the sequence of date, month and year, namely [d][d][m][m][y][y][y][y] (reg 51(3A)(b) (as so added)). Where the application contains a request that the registration officer waive the requirement for a signature (see note 8 supra), head (1) supra does not apply: reg 51(3B) (as so added). The registration officer may satisfy himself: (a) that an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) meets any requirements that it has been signed by the applicant and states his date of birth by referring to any signature and date of birth either previously provided by the applicant to the registration officer or to the returning officer or previously provided by the applicant to the authority referred to in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 35(2)(a) (ie the council which appointed him: see PARA 157 ante), which the registration officer is authorised to inspect for the purposes of his registration duties (reg 51A(a) (reg 51A added by SI 2006/752; and substituted by SI 2006/2910)); and (b) as to whether the applicant is unable to provide a signature or a consistent signature due to any disability or inability to read or write (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51A(b) (reg 51A as so added and substituted)).

At a Welsh Assembly election, the registration officer may satisfy himself that an application for an absent vote meets the requirement that it has been signed by the applicant by referring to any signature previously provided by the applicant to the registration officer or the returning officer: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1A (added by SI 2006/884). Any application or notice which is required by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended) to be made to a registration officer or a returning officer must be made in writing and sent by post or delivered to his office or to the address specified by him for the purpose: art 143.

32 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(4)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(4)(a).

33 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(4)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(4)(b).

34 See the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 51(6), 52; the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 paras 1(4), 5; the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 paras 14(6), 15; and PARA 380 post.

35 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(1) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(1) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(1). At a parliamentary or Welsh Assembly election where the registration officer is not the acting returning officer for any constituency (or at a European parliamentary election where the registration officer is not the local returning officer for any local counting area) or part of such area in the area for which he is the registration officer, he must send to that officer details of any application to vote by post which he has granted as soon as practicable after doing so: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(6); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(5). For the meaning of 'local counting area' see PARA 230 note 11 ante. As to local returning officers appointed for the purposes of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 365 ante.

In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, where a registration officer is required to notify any person, such notification must be in writing and may be sent by post: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 14. In the case of a person other than a service voter, the notification may be sent to the address provided by that person for the purpose of such notification or of any record or, if there is no such address, to the last known place of abode of that person: Sch 2 para 14(a). In the case of a service voter, the notification may be sent to any address provided by him for the purpose of such notification or of any record or to the address provided for the purpose by the appropriate government department (as defined by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 59(3) (see PARA 146 note 2 ante)) or, as the case may be, the British Council: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 14(b).

36 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(3). At a Welsh Assembly election, the officer must date such notification: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4).

NOTE 7--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(A) Applications relating to a Particular Period or an Indefinite Period/373. Additional requirements for applications for a proxy vote for a definite or indefinite period by reason of physical incapacity.

373. Additional requirements for applications for a proxy vote for a definite or indefinite period by reason of physical incapacity.

An application to vote by proxy for a particular or indefinite period by reason of blindness or other disability (or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, physical incapacity)¹ must specify the blindness or other disability (or the physical incapacity) by reason of which it is made². Such an application must be attested and signed³ by:

- 432 (1) a registered medical practitioner⁴;
- 433 (2) a nurse registered on the register maintained by the Nursing and Midwifery Council⁵ by virtue of qualifications in nursing⁶;
- 434 (3) a Christian Science practitioner⁷;
- 435 (4) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election) a registered dentist⁸, a registered dispensing optician or registered optometrist⁹, a registered pharmaceutical chemist¹⁰, a registered osteopath¹¹ or a registered chiropractor¹²;
- 436 (5) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election) a person for the time being listed in the British Psychological Society's Register of Chartered Psychologists¹³;
- 437 (6) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election) a person registered as a member of a profession to which the Health Professions Order 2001¹⁴ for the time being extends¹⁵;
- 438 (7) the person carrying on a care home registered under Part II of the Care Standards Act 2000¹⁶ (or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the person registered as carrying on a residential care home¹⁷, where the applicant states that he is resident in such a home)¹⁸;
- 439 (8) the warden of premises forming one of a group of premises provided for persons of pensionable age or disabled persons for which there is a resident warden, where the applicant states that he resides in such premises¹⁹;
- 440 (9) (in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election only) the matron or other person in charge of residential accommodation provided by a local authority²⁰, where the applicant states that he is resident in such accommodation²¹;
- 441 (10) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election) a manager within the meaning of the Mental Health Act 1983²², or on behalf of such a manager²³;
- 442 (11) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election) a person registered in the register for social workers²⁴.

A person who qualifies by virtue of any of heads (1) to (6) above may not attest an application for these purposes unless he is treating the applicant for the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application or unless the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or incapacity (as the case may be)²⁵. A person who qualifies by virtue of head (11) above may not attest an application for these purposes unless he is treating the applicant for the disability specified in the application or unless the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or unless he has arranged care or assistance for the person in respect of his disability²⁶. The person attesting the application must state: (a) his name and address and the qualification by virtue of which he attests the application²⁷; (b) where the person who attests the application is a person who qualifies by virtue of any of heads (1) to (6) above, that he is treating the applicant for the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application or that the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or incapacity (as the case may be)²⁸ and, where the person who attests the application is a person who qualifies by virtue of head (11) above, that he is treating the applicant for the disability specified in the application or that the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or that he has arranged care or assistance for the applicant in respect of that disability²⁹; (c) that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the applicant has the disability (or is suffering from the physical incapacity) specified in the application and that he cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to his allotted polling station³⁰ or to vote unaided there by reason of that disability or incapacity (as the case may be)³¹; and (d) that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application is likely to continue either indefinitely or for a period specified by the person attesting the application³².

However, the provisions as to attestation³³ do not apply where the application is based on the applicant's blindness and the applicant is registered as a blind person by the local authority³⁴ which is specified in the application³⁵ or where the application states that the applicant is in receipt of the higher rate of the mobility component of a disability living allowance³⁶ because of the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application³⁷.

For the purpose of determining whether there has been a material change of circumstances, the registration officer may, at such times as he thinks fit, make inquiries of a person³⁸ who is shown as voting by proxy³⁹ in the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections either for a particular period or for an indefinite period⁴⁰. The registration officer may treat the failure by a person of whom inquiries have been made to respond to such inquiries within one month of the date on which they were made as sufficient evidence of a material change in circumstances⁴¹.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(A) Applications relating to a Particular Period or an Indefinite Period/374. Additional requirements for applications for a proxy vote for a definite or indefinite period by reason of occupation, service or employment or attendance on a course.

374. Additional requirements for applications for a proxy vote for a definite or indefinite period by reason of occupation, service or employment or attendance on a course.

An application to vote by proxy for a particular or indefinite period by reason of occupation, service or employment or attendance on a course¹ must state²: (1) whether the occupation, service or employment in respect of which it is made is that of the applicant or his spouse or civil partner or, as the case may be, whether it is the applicant or his spouse or civil partner who is attending the course provided by an educational institution in respect of which the application is made³; (2) the nature of the occupation, service or employment or course provided by an educational institution giving rise to the application⁴; (3) where the person in respect of whose occupation, service or employment it is made (the 'employed person') is self employed, that fact and, in any other case, the name of that person's employer⁵; (4) the reason, relevant to the general nature of the employment, service or occupation in question or the course provided by an educational institution, why the applicant cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to his allotted polling station⁶.

Such an application must be attested and signed: (a) where the person is self-employed, by a person who is aged 18 years or over⁷, knows the self-employed person⁸ and is not related to him⁹; or (b) by the employer of the employed person or by another employee to whom this function is delegated by the employer¹⁰; or (c) in the case of a course provided by an educational institution, by the director or tutor of that course or by the principal or head of that institution or an employee to whom this function is delegated by the head or principal¹¹. The person attesting an application so made must, where the applicant is the employed person or the person attending the course, certify that the statements required by heads (1) to (4) above to be included in the application are true¹² or, where the applicant is the spouse or civil partner of the employed person or the person attending the course, certify that the statements included in the application in accordance with the requirements of heads (1) to (3) above are true¹³. The person so attesting an application must also state: (i) his name and address, that he is aged 18 years or over, that he knows the employed person, self-employed person or person attending a course provided by an educational institution but is not related to him¹⁴; and (ii) if he is attesting as or on behalf of the employer of the employed person, that he is the employer or the position he holds in the employment of that employer¹⁵; or (iii) if he is attesting an application made on the grounds of attendance at a course provided by an educational institution, the post he holds at that institution¹⁶.

For the purpose of determining whether there has been a material change of circumstances, the registration officer may, at such times as he thinks fit, make inquiries of a person¹⁷ who is shown as voting by proxy, in the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections either for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹⁸, by reason of occupation, service or employment or attendance on a course¹⁹; and where the grant of such an application was based on such grounds²⁰, the registration officer must make the inquiries referred to not later than three years after the granting of the application or the last such inquiries, as the case may be²¹. The registration officer may treat the failure by a person of whom inquiries have been made to respond to such inquiries within one month of the date on which they were made as sufficient evidence of a material change in circumstances²².

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(A) Applications relating to a Particular Period or an Indefinite Period/375. Record of those entitled to an absent vote at elections for a definite period or for an indefinite period.

375. Record of those entitled to an absent vote at elections for a definite period or for an indefinite period.

The registration officer¹ must keep a record of those whose applications for an absent vote at elections² for a definite period or for an indefinite period³ have been granted showing⁴: (1) whether their applications were to vote by post or proxy for an indefinite or a particular period (specifying that period)⁵; (2) in the case of applications made in respect of parliamentary or local government elections, whether their applications were in respect of parliamentary elections, local government elections or both⁶; (3) in the case of those who may vote by post, the addresses provided by them in their applications as the addresses to which their ballot papers are to be sent⁷; and (4) in the case of those who may vote by proxy, the names and addresses of those appointed as their proxies⁸. The registration officer at a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election must make available for inspection at his office a copy of the records so kept⁹ and, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, any person may make a copy (whether handwritten or by other means) of the whole or any part of them¹⁰.

A person who remains on the record of those entitled to an absent vote at parliamentary or local government elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹¹ may, at any time, provide the registration officer with a fresh signature¹²; and anything required or authorised to be done for the purposes of any enactment in relation to a signature required to be provided in pursuance of absent voting in Great Britain¹³ must be done in relation to a signature so provided instead of in relation to a signature provided on any earlier occasion¹⁴. Regulations may make provision as to circumstances in which a registration officer may require a person who remains on the record of those who are entitled to an absent vote at parliamentary or local government elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹⁵ to provide a fresh signature¹⁶ and as to the consequences of a person refusing or failing to comply with a requirement to provide a fresh signature¹⁷.

The registration officer must remove a person from the record: (a) if he applies to the registration officer to be removed¹⁸; (b) in the case of any registered person, if he ceases to be registered or registered at the same qualifying address or ceases to be, or becomes, registered in pursuance of¹⁹ a service declaration²⁰ or a declaration of local connection²¹ or (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election) an overseas elector's declaration²²; (c) in the case of any person shown in the record as voting by proxy, if the registration officer gives notice that he has reason to believe there has been a material change of circumstances²³; (d) in the case of a person who applied to vote by post or proxy for a particular period, once that period has expired²⁴; or (e) in the case of a person who is eligible to vote by proxy at parliamentary or local government elections by virtue of having an anonymous entry²⁵, if he ceases to have an anonymous entry²⁶. Where a person is removed from the record under any of heads (a) to (e) above, the registration officer must, where practicable, notify him of this and the reason for it²⁷.

A person shown in the record as voting by post may subsequently alter his choice by applying to the registration officer to vote by proxy instead (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in his application); and, if the registration officer would be required to grant that application to vote by proxy²⁸, the registration officer must amend the record accordingly²⁹. Equally, a person shown in the record as voting by proxy may subsequently alter his choice by applying to the registration officer to vote by post instead (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in his application); and, if the application meets the statutory requirements, the registration officer must amend the record accordingly³⁰.

The registration officer must also keep a record in relation to those whose applications for an absent vote at parliamentary or local government elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period have been granted showing their dates of birth³¹ and, except in cases where the registration officer³² has dispensed with the requirement to provide a signature, their signatures³³. This record must be retained by the registration officer for the prescribed period³⁴. The registration officer must either provide a copy of the information contained in records so kept by him³⁵ to the returning officer for an election in relation to electors at the election³⁶ or give the returning officer access to such information³⁷. Information contained in such records may be disclosed by a registration officer (subject to any prescribed conditions) to any other registration officer if he thinks that to do so will assist the other registration officer in the performance of his duties³⁸, or to any person exercising functions in relation to the preparation or conduct of legal proceedings under the Representation of the People Acts³⁹ or to such other persons for such other purposes relating to elections as may be prescribed⁴⁰.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(B) Applications relating to a Particular Election/376. Applications for an absent vote at a particular election.

(B) APPLICATIONS RELATING TO A PARTICULAR ELECTION

376. Applications for an absent vote at a particular election.

Where a person applies to the registration officer¹ to vote by post at a particular parliamentary², local government³, Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary election⁵, the registration officer must grant the application⁶ if he is satisfied that the applicant is or will be registered in the register of electors for the election⁷ and if the application meets the statutory requirements⁸. Where a person applies to the registration officer to vote by proxy⁹ at a particular such election, the registration officer must grant the application¹⁰ if: (1) he is satisfied that the applicant's circumstances on the date of the poll will be or are likely to be such that he cannot reasonably be expected to vote in person at the polling station allotted or likely to be allotted to him under the appropriate rules¹¹; (2) he is satisfied that the applicant is or will be registered in the register of electors for the election¹²; and (3) the application meets the statutory requirements¹³. Where a person who has an anonymous entry in the register of electors for the election¹⁴ applies to the registration officer to vote by proxy at a particular parliamentary or local government election, the registration officer must grant the application if it meets the prescribed requirements¹⁵.

A person who is included in the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote in respect of parliamentary, local government or Welsh Assembly elections, either for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹⁶, may, in respect of a particular such election, apply to the registration officer¹⁷ for his ballot paper to be sent to a different address from that shown in the record¹⁸ or to vote by proxy¹⁹, if he is shown in the record so kept as voting by post at elections of the kind in question²⁰; and the registration officer must grant such an application if²¹, in the case of any application, it meets the statutory requirements²² and, in the case of an application to vote by proxy, the registration officer is satisfied that the applicant's circumstances on the date of the poll will be or are likely to be such that he cannot reasonably be expected to vote in person at the polling station allotted or likely to be allotted to him under the appropriate rules²³.

Such an application²⁴ must state: (a) the full name of the applicant²⁵; (b) the address in respect of which the applicant is registered or has applied to be (or is treated as having applied to be) registered in the register²⁶; (c) in the case of a person applying to vote by post, the address to which the ballot paper should be sent²⁷; (d) in the case of an application to vote by proxy, the grounds on which the elector claims to be entitled to an absent vote²⁸; and (e) in relation to parliamentary or local government elections only: (i) in the case of a person who is unable to provide a signature, the reasons for his request for waiver of any requirement²⁹ to provide a signature and the name and address of any person who has assisted him to complete his application³⁰; and (ii) where the applicant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry, that fact³¹. Additionally, except in the case of a European parliamentary election, an application for a ballot paper to be sent to a different address from that shown in the record must set out why the applicant's circumstances will be or are likely to be such that he requires his ballot paper to be sent to that address³². Such an application which is made for a particular election must identify the election in question³³ and (except for a Welsh Assembly election) must state that it is made for a particular election³⁴. An application for a parliamentary or a local government election may be combined where the polls fall on the same day³⁵, and such an application (whether combined or not) may be used in combination with that for an absent vote at a particular European parliamentary election³⁶. The application must be made in writing and dated³⁷. Where an application is made by an elector to vote by proxy, it must include an application for the appointment of a proxy which meets the statutory requirements³⁸.

Where the registration officer grants an application to vote by post, he must notify the applicant of his decision³⁹; and where he refuses an application, he must notify the applicant of his decision⁴⁰. An appeal does not lie from any decision of the registration officer disallowing a person's application to vote by proxy or by post as elector made for a particular election only⁴¹.

1 The registration officer must supply free of charge as many forms for use in connection with applications made under the provisions relating to absent voting as appear to that officer reasonable in the circumstances to any person who satisfies that officer of his intention to use the forms in connection with an election or elections: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 4(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 140; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 9(1). As to electoral registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. For these purposes, 'particular election', where a person (whether as elector or as proxy) is entitled to give two votes at an ordinary election, refers to both elections at which he is entitled to so vote; and references to an absent vote at a particular Assembly election must be construed accordingly: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(5). As to ordinary general elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 12 et seq ante.

5 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(1). Such an application must be refused if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the eleventh day before the date of the poll at the election (or on the sixth such day, in the case of a European parliamentary election) for which it is made: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(4) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(2), Sch 2 para 6(1) (substituted by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(3). Where a registration officer disregards such an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(5) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4). As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 372 note 6 ante. As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante; as to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(1)(a).

In the case of a parliamentary election, the register referred to is the register of parliamentary electors and, in the case of a local government election, it is the register of local government electors (although an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) may relate to both types of election, in which case the requirement is to be registered in both). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the requirement is for the applicant to be registered in the register of local government electors (see PARA 160 ante). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the 'register of electors' means any part of: (1) a register of parliamentary or, in the case of peers, local government electors; (2) a register under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (peers resident outside the United Kingdom registered as European parliamentary electors: see PARA 116 ante); (3) a register under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5(2) (see PARA 156 ante); and (4) (for the purposes of European parliamentary elections held in the combined region) the Gibraltar register (see PARA 131 note 2 ante), in force within an electoral region at the time of a European parliamentary election in that region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). As to electoral regions established for the purposes of European parliamentary elections (including the combined region) see PARA 76 ante; as to registration as an elector see PARA 128 et seq ante; and as to the registers of electors maintained by registration officers see PARA 156 et seq ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(1)(b).

In the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the application referred to in the text must contain the applicant's signature and date of birth and meet the prescribed requirements: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1)(b) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(2)(a), (8)). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2)); and, accordingly, the text refers to the requirements set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt IV (regs 50-63) (as amended). Where a person has made an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1) (as amended) or Sch 4 para 4(2) (as amended) (see the text and notes 9-13 infra) prior to 31 December 2006 that has not been determined on or before that date, the registration officer must not grant the application unless the applicant has provided to the registration officer a specimen of his signature and his date of birth: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 3. As to the provisions made for the initial and continuing capture of the personal identifiers of those who are existing absent voters see PARA 371 ante.

The registration officer may dispense with the requirement under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1)(b) (as amended) or Sch 4 para 4(2)(c) (as amended) (see the text and note 13 infra) for the applicant to provide a signature if he is satisfied that the applicant is unable to provide a signature because of any disability the applicant has or is unable to provide a signature because the applicant is unable to read or write or is unable to sign in a consistent and distinctive way because of any such disability or inability: Sch 4 para 4(5) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(2)(c), (8)). By virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2), 'disability', in relation to doing a thing, includes a short term inability to do it: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 76).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the application referred to in the text must meet the requirements of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 (as amended).

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the application referred to in the text must meet the requirements of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 (as amended).

9 As to voting by proxy see PARA 379 et seq post.

10 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(2). Such an application must be refused if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the sixth day before the date of the poll at the election for which it is made: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(3) (substituted by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(1A) (added by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(3). Where an application is made, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2) (as amended) on the grounds of the applicant's disability and the applicant became disabled after 5 pm on the sixth day before the date of the poll at the election for which it is made or by a person to whom Sch 4 para 2(5A) (as added) applies (ie a person in a mental hospital who is not a detained offender or on remand but who is liable to be detained in the mental hospital in question: see PARA 368 ante), the application, or an application under Sch 4 para 6(8) (application for the appointment of a proxy to vote at a particular election: see PARA 380 post) made by virtue of that application, must be refused if it is received after 5 pm on the day of the poll at the election for which it is made: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(3A) (added by SI 2006/752; and substituted by SI 2006/2910). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, where such an application is made on the grounds of the applicant's physical incapacity, and the applicant became physically incapacitated after 5 pm on the sixth day before the date of the poll at the election for which it is made, the application must be refused if it is received after 5 pm on the day of the poll at the election for which it is made: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(1B) (added by SI 2006/884). Where a registration officer disregards such an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4). This restriction applies also to applications made under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 6(8), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 11(7) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 6(7) made by virtue of an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2) (as amended), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(2): see PARA 380 post.

11 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(2)(a). As to the appropriate rules referred to in the text, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 368 note 2 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 369 note 2 ante; and, in relation to a European parliamentary election, see PARA 370 note 2 ante.

12 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(2)(b).

13 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2)(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(2)(c).

In the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the application referred to in the text must contain the applicant's signature and date of birth and meet the prescribed requirements: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2)(c) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(2)(b), (8)). As to the requirements so prescribed and as to the provision made for enabling the registration officer to require an absent voter to provide the registration officer with a signature and date of birth (including transitional provisions) see note 8 supra.

As to the statutory requirements for Welsh Assembly elections and European parliamentary elections see note 8 supra.

As to additional requirements to be included in applications to vote by proxy at a particular election see PARA 377 post.

14 For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

15 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 19, 21). As to the prescribed requirements see note 8 supra.

16 Is the record kept for the purposes of a parliamentary or local government election under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3 (as amended) or for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8 (as amended) or for the purposes of a European parliamentary election under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3 (as amended) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 375 ante).

17 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(3).

18 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(3)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(2)(a) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(3)(a).

19 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(3)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(2)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(3)(b).

20 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(3). Such an application must be refused for the purposes of any particular election if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the eleventh day before the date of the poll at that election: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(1) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(1). Where a registration officer disregards such an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4).

21 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293,

Sch 2 para 4(4). Where the registration officer grants such an application made by a person shown as voting by post, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(4A) (added by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4A) (added by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(1).

22 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(4)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(3)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(4)(a). As to the statutory requirements see note 8 supra.

23 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(4)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(3)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(4)(b).

24 Applications relating to absent voting must comply with such requirements as are relevant to the application: in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(1); in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(5); and in relation to a European parliamentary election, see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(1).

25 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(a).

26 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(b) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(b) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(b). As to the address to be specified for the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(b) (as amended), in relation to Welsh Assembly elections, see PARA 372 note 25 ante.

27 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(d).

In the case of an application to vote by post at parliamentary or local government elections under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1) (see the text and notes 1-8 supra) where the addresses stated in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(b) (as amended) (see the text and note 26 supra) and reg 51(2)(d) are different, except where an applicant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry, the application must set out why the applicant's circumstances will be or are likely to be such that he requires the ballot paper to be sent to the address stated in accordance with reg 51(2)(d): reg 51AA(1)-(3) (added by SI 2006/2910).

28 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(e); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(e).

30 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(f) (added by SI 2006/2910).

31 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(g) (added by SI 2006/2910).

32 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51B(1) (added by SI 2006/752; and renumbered by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1B (added by SI 2006/884). The Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51B (as added and amended) does not apply where an applicant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry: reg 51B(2) (added by SI 2006/2910). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

33 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(5)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(5)(b).

34 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(5)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(5)(a).

35 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(5).

36 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(7).

37 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3) (substituted by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3). At a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the application must also be signed by the applicant: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3).

In relation to parliamentary or local government elections, where an application is required to contain a signature and date of birth (see note 8 supra), the information must be set out in a manner that is sufficiently clear and unambiguous as to be capable of electronic scanning into his record: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3A), (3B) added by SI 2006/2910). This requirement is met by configuring the information as follows: (1) the signature must appear against a background of white unlined paper of at least five centimetres long and two centimetres high (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3A)(a) (as so added)); and (2) the applicant's date of birth must be set out numerically configured in the sequence of date, month and year, namely [d][d][m][m][y][y][y][y] (reg 51(3A)(b) (as so added)). Where the application contains a request that the registration officer waive the requirement for a signature (see note 8 supra), head (1) supra does not apply: reg 51(3B) (as so added). The registration officer may satisfy himself: (a) that an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) meets any requirements that it has been signed by the applicant and states his date of birth by referring to any signature and date of birth either previously provided by the applicant to the registration officer or to the returning officer or previously provided by the applicant to the authority referred to in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 35(2)(a) (ie the council which appointed him: see PARA 157 ante), which the registration officer is authorised to inspect for the purposes of his registration duties (reg 51A(a) (reg 51A added by SI 2006/752; and substituted by SI 2006/2910)); and (b) as to whether the applicant is unable to provide a signature or a consistent signature due to any disability or inability to read or write (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51A(b) (reg 51A as so added and substituted)).

At a Welsh Assembly election, the application must be sent and delivered in accordance with the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 143 (see PARA 372 note 31 ante). The registration officer may satisfy himself that an application for an absent vote meets the requirement that it has been signed by the applicant by referring to any signature previously provided by the applicant to the registration officer or the returning officer: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1A (added by SI 2006/884).

38 See the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 51(6), 52; the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 paras 1(4), 5; the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 paras 14(6), 15; and PARA 380 post.

39 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(1) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(1) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(1). At a parliamentary or Welsh Assembly election where the registration officer is not the acting returning officer for any constituency (and at a European parliamentary election where the registration officer is not the local returning officer for any local counting area) or part of such area in the area for which he is the registration officer, he must send to that officer details of any application to vote by post which he has granted as soon as practicable after doing so: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(6); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(5). For the meaning of 'local counting area' see PARA 230 note 11 ante. As to local returning officers appointed for the purposes of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 365 ante. As to notification see PARA 372 note 35 ante.

40 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(3). In the case of a parliamentary, local government or European parliamentary election, the reason for the decision must also be given: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(3). At a Welsh Assembly election, the officer must date such notification: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4).

NOTE 7--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(B) Applications relating to a Particular Election/377. Additional requirements for applications for a proxy vote at a particular election.

377. Additional requirements for applications for a proxy vote at a particular election.

An application to vote by proxy at a particular election¹ must set out why the applicant's circumstances on the date of the poll for that election in respect of which it is made will be or are likely to be such that he cannot reasonably be expected to vote in person at his allotted polling station². Where such an application is made on the grounds of the applicant's disability (or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the applicant's physical incapacity)³ and is made after 5 pm on the sixth day before the date of the poll at the election for which it is made⁴, such an application must be attested and signed by⁵:

- 443 (1) a registered medical practitioner⁶;
- 444 (2) a nurse registered on the register maintained by the Nursing and Midwifery Council⁷ by virtue of qualifications in nursing⁸;
- 445 (3) a Christian Science practitioner⁹;
- 446 (4) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election) a registered dentist¹⁰, a registered dispensing optician or registered optometrist¹¹, a registered pharmaceutical chemist¹², a registered osteopath¹³ or a registered chiropractor¹⁴;
- 447 (5) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election) a person for the time being listed in the British Psychological Society's Register of Chartered Psychologists¹⁵;
- 448 (6) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election) a person registered as a member of a profession to which the Health Professions Order 2001¹⁶ for the time being extends¹⁷;
- 449 (7) the person carrying on a care home registered under Part II of the Care Standards Act 2000¹⁸ (or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the person registered as carrying on a residential care home¹⁹, where the applicant states that he is resident in such a home)²⁰;
- 450 (8) the warden of premises forming one of a group of premises provided for persons of pensionable age or disabled persons for which there is a resident warden, where the applicant states that he resides in such premises²¹;
- 451 (9) (in the case of a Welsh Assembly election only) the matron or other person in charge of residential accommodation provided by a local authority²², where the applicant states that he is resident in such accommodation²³;
- 452 (10) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election) a manager within the meaning of the Mental Health Act 1983²⁴, or on behalf of such a manager²⁵;
- 453 (11) (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election) a person registered in the register for social workers²⁶.

A person who qualifies by virtue of any of heads (1) to (6) above may not attest an application for these purposes unless he is treating the applicant for the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application or unless the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or incapacity (as the case may be)²⁷. A person who qualifies by virtue of head (11) above may not attest an application for these purposes unless he is treating the applicant for the disability specified in the application or unless the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or unless he has arranged care or assistance for the person in respect of his disability²⁸. The person attesting the application must state: (a) his name and address and the qualification by virtue of which he attests the application²⁹; (b) where the person who attests the application is a person who qualifies by virtue of any of heads (1) to (6) above, that he is treating the applicant for the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application or that the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or incapacity (as the case may be)³⁰ and, where the person who attests the application is a person who qualifies by virtue of head (11) above, that he is treating the applicant for the disability specified in the application or that the applicant is receiving care from him in respect of that disability or that he has arranged care or assistance for the applicant in respect of that disability³¹; (c) that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the applicant has the disability (or is suffering from the physical incapacity) specified in the application and that he cannot reasonably be expected to go in person to his allotted polling station³² or to vote unaided there by reason of that disability or incapacity (as the case may be)³³; and (d) that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application is likely to continue either indefinitely or for a period specified by the person attesting the application³⁴. In addition³⁵, the person who attests the application must state, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the date upon which the applicant became disabled (or physically incapacitated)³⁶.

However, the provisions as to attestation³⁷ do not apply where the application is based on the applicant's blindness and the applicant is registered as a blind person by the local authority³⁸ which is specified in the application³⁹ or where the application states that the applicant is in receipt of the higher rate of the mobility component of a disability living allowance⁴⁰ because of the disability (or the physical incapacity) specified in the application⁴¹.

1 ie at a particular parliamentary or local government election under the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 4(2) (as amended) or at a particular Welsh Assembly election under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9 (as amended) or at a particular European parliamentary election under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 4(2) (see PARA 376 ante). For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(B) Applications relating to a Particular Election/378. Lists of absent voters.

378. Lists of absent voters.

In respect of each parliamentary¹, local government², Welsh Assembly³ or European parliamentary election⁴, the registration officer⁵ must keep two special lists in respect of absent voters⁶. The first is a list⁷: (1) of those whose applications to vote by post at that particular election⁸ have been granted, together with the addresses provided by them in their applications as the addresses to which their ballot papers are to be sent⁹; and (2) of those who are for the time being shown in the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections either for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹⁰ as voting by post at particular elections of the kind in question¹¹, together with the addresses provided by them in their applications¹² as the addresses to which their ballot papers are to be sent¹³. The second list is of¹⁴: (a) those whose applications to vote by proxy at that particular election¹⁵ have been granted¹⁶; or (b) those who are for the time being shown in the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections either for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹⁷ as voting by proxy at particular elections of the kind in question¹⁸ together with (in each case) the names and addresses of those appointed as their proxies¹⁹.

The registration officer must also keep a record in relation to those whose applications for an absent vote at a particular parliamentary or local government election have been granted²⁰ showing their dates of birth²¹ and, except in cases where the registration officer²² has dispensed with the requirement to provide a signature, their signatures²³. This record must be retained by the registration officer for the prescribed period²⁴. The registration officer must either provide a copy of the information contained in records so kept by him²⁵ to the returning officer for an election in relation to electors at the election²⁶ or give the returning officer access to such information²⁷. Information contained in such records may be disclosed by a registration officer (subject to any prescribed conditions) to any other registration officer if he thinks that to do so will assist the other registration officer in the performance of his duties²⁸, or to any person exercising functions in relation to the preparation or conduct of legal proceedings under the Representation of the People Acts²⁹ or to such other persons for such other purposes relating to elections as may be prescribed³⁰.

Any person entitled to be supplied with copies of the full register³¹ is also a person entitled³² to request that the registration officer supply free of charge the relevant part³³ of a copy of any of the following information which he keeps³⁴, namely: (i) the current version of the information which would, in the event of a particular parliamentary or local government election, be included in the postal voters lists or the list of proxies³⁵; and (ii) the current or final version of the postal voters list or the list of proxies³⁶. The registration officer must supply a current copy of the information so requested as soon as practicable after receipt of a request that is duly made³⁷; and he must supply a final copy of the postal voters list as soon as practicable after 5 pm on the eleventh day before the day of the poll³⁸, in response to a request that has been duly made³⁹. As soon as practicable after 5 pm on the sixth day before the day of the poll the registration officer must⁴⁰: (A) make a copy of the postal voters list and the list of proxies available for inspection at his office, in response to a request that has been duly made⁴¹; and (B) at a parliamentary election, if he is not the acting returning officer for any constituency or part of a constituency in the area for which he is the registration officer, send to that officer a copy of those lists⁴²; (C) supply a final copy of the postal voters lists or the list of proxies in response to every request that has been duly made⁴³.

As soon as practicable after the sixth day⁴⁴ before the day of the poll⁴⁵ at a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the registration officer must publish the absent voters list by making a copy of it available for inspection at his office⁴⁶. The registration officer at a Welsh Assembly election must, on request, supply free of charge a copy of the absent voters list to each candidate at a constituency election or his election agent⁴⁷ or, in the case of a regional election⁴⁸, to each individual candidate⁴⁹ or group of party list candidates⁵⁰ (or to his or their election agent)⁵¹. The registration officer at a European parliamentary election must, on request, supply free of charge a copy of the absent voters list to the election agent of each registered party⁵² standing nominated and each individual candidate⁵³ or his election agent⁵⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

4 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

5 As to electoral registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(1) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 para 137(1), (5)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(1).

For the purposes of a parliamentary or local government election, the requirement under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(1) (as amended) is to keep the two special lists which are mentioned in Sch 4 para 5(2) (ie the list of persons whose applications to vote by post have been granted (the 'postal voters list'): see the text and note 7 infra) and in Sch 4 para 5(3) (ie the list of persons whose applications to vote as proxy have been granted (the 'list of proxies'): see the text and note 14 infra): Sch 4 para 5(1) (as so amended). In the case of a person who has an anonymous entry in a register, the postal voters list or list of proxies (as the case may be) must show in relation to the person only his electoral number and the period for which the anonymous entry has effect: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(4) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 19, 22). For the meaning of 'electoral number' see PARA 160 ante; and for the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

For the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, the two lists in respect of absent voters constitute a special list known as the 'absent voters list' which has the meaning given by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1): see art 2(1). Any list such as is mentioned in the text that is kept in relation to a Welsh Assembly election may be in such form as the registration officer thinks fit (art 14(2), Sch 2 para 11(1)); but where electors are entitled to give two votes at an ordinary election in an Assembly constituency, only one absent voters list is to be kept and that list has effect in relation to both elections (art 10(2)). Where a National Assembly for Wales constituency is not coterminous with, or wholly situated in, a county or county borough: (1) the registration officer for any part of the Assembly constituency must, if he is not the returning officer for the constituency, consult him concerning the form of so much of the absent voters list, including the list of proxies (see the text and notes 14-19 infra), as relates to the constituency in order to ensure that, so far as practicable, it is in a form similar to that in use elsewhere in the constituency; and (2) if the registration officer for any part of the Assembly constituency at an Assembly election is not the returning officer for the constituency, he must forthwith supply to the constituency returning officer a copy of the compiled absent voters list on completion of its compilation: art 139. For the meaning of 'Assembly constituency' see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'constituency returning officer' for these purposes see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to counties and county boroughs in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq. As to ordinary general elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante.

For the purposes of a European parliamentary election, the 'absent voters list' means, in relation to any election, the list kept under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5: reg 2(1). In relation to such an election, the registration officer must, forthwith on completion of the compilation of the special list, supply to the local returning officer for any local counting area wholly or partly within the area for which he acts so much of that list as relates to that constituency: Sch 2 para 5(4). For the meaning of 'local counting area' see PARA 230 note 11 ante. As to local returning officers appointed for the purposes of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 365 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(2) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 137(1), (6)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(2).

The list referred to in the text which is kept in relation to a parliamentary or local government election pursuant to the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(2) (ie the list of persons whose applications to vote by post have been granted) is known as the 'postal voters list': see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 128(1), (3)); and the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(2) (as so amended).

8 Ie applications made, in relation to a particular parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(1) (as amended) or made, in relation to a particular Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(1) (as amended) or made, in relation to a particular European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(1) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 376 ante). In relation to a particular Welsh Assembly election see also PARA 376 note 4 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(2)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(a)(ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(2)(a). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, in the first part of the absent voters list, the address to which a ballot paper (or, where a person is entitled to give two votes at an ordinary election, ballot papers) is to be sent to a person who is entitled to vote by post as an elector must be placed on the right hand side of his name and electoral number: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(2). For this purpose, 'electoral number' means a person's number in the register to be used at the election or, pending publication of the register, his number (if any) in the electors' lists for that register: Sch 2 para 11(9).

10 Ie the record kept for the purposes of a parliamentary or local government election under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3 (as amended) or for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8 (as amended) or for the purposes of a European parliamentary election under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3 (as amended) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 375 ante).

11 Ie excluding those so shown whose applications to vote by proxy at the election, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(3)(b) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9(2) (as amended) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(3)(b) (whichever is appropriate) have been granted (see PARA 376 ante).

12 Ie the applications made, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3 (as amended) or Sch 4 para 4(3)(a) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8 or art 9(2) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3 (as amended) or Sch 2 para 4(3)(a) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARAS 375-376 ante).

13 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(2)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(a)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(2)(b). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election see note 8 supra.

14 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(3).

The list referred to in the text which is kept in relation to a parliamentary or local government election under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(3) (ie the list of persons whose applications to vote as proxy have been granted) is known as the 'list of proxies': see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 4(5), 11, Sch 2 Pt I; and amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 15, Sch 6 paras 3, 9(b)); and the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(3).

For the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, the 'list of proxies' has the meaning given by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(b): art 2(1).

For the purposes of a European parliamentary election, the 'list of proxies' has, in relation to any European parliamentary election, the meaning given by the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3(4)(c) (see PARA 375 ante): reg 2(1).

15 Ie the applications made, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(2), (3) (as amended) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 9

(as amended) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(2), (3) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 376 ante).

16 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(3)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(3)(a).

17 See note 10 supra.

18 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(3)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(3)(b).

19 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 5(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5(3). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, in the list of proxies, the name and address of the proxy must be placed on the right hand side of the elector's name and electoral number (see note 9 supra): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(3).

20 Ie applications made under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4 (as amended) (see PARA 376 ante).

21 Ibid Sch 4 para 4(6)(a) (Sch 4 para 4(6), (7) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(2)(c), (8)).

22 Ie in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 4(5) (as added) (see PARA 376 ante).

23 Ibid Sch 4 para 4(6)(b) (as added: see note 21 supra).

24 Ibid Sch 4 para 4(7) (as added: see note 21 supra). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2). As to the retention of the records referred to in the text see PARA 503 et seq post.

25 Ie in pursuance of ibid Sch 4 para 4(6) (as added) (see the text and notes 20-23 supra).

26 Ibid Sch 4 para 7C(a) (Sch 4 paras 7C-7D added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(4), (8)).

27 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7C(b) (as added: see note 26 supra).

28 Ibid Sch 4 para 7D(a) (as added: see note 26 supra). As to the prescribed requirements see note 24 supra.

29 Ibid Sch 4 para 7D(b) (as added: see note 26 supra). For the meaning of 'the Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

30 Ibid Sch 4 para 7D(c) (as added: see note 26 supra). As to the prescribed requirements see note 24 supra.

31 Ie in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 103 (as added) (supply of full register to elected representatives for electoral purposes: see PARA 182 ante), reg 105 (as added) (supply of full register to local constituency parties: see PARA 182 ante), reg 106 (as added) (supply of full register to registered political parties: see PARA 182 ante) or reg 108 (as added) (supply of full register to certain candidates: see PARA 182 ante). For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 ante.

32 Ie subject to ibid reg 61 (as substituted) and reg 61A (as added) (see note 34 infra).

33 Ie within the meaning of the regulations specified in note 31 supra.

34 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(1) (reg 61 substituted by SI 2006/2910). A request such as is mentioned in the text must be made in writing and must specify the information (or the relevant parts of the information) requested, whether the request is made only in respect of the current lists or whether it includes a request for the supply of any final list and whether a printed copy of the records or lists is requested or a copy in data form: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(2) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. Subject to any direction by the Secretary of State under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (as amended) (discharge of registration duties: see PARA 156 ante), any duty on a registration officer to supply a copy under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61 (as substituted) imposes only a duty to provide that information in the form in which he holds it: reg 61(15) (as so substituted). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

A person who obtains any information under reg 61 (as substituted) may use it only for the permitted purposes specified in reg 61A (as added), and any restrictions specified in reg 61A (as added), or which would apply to the use of the full register under whichever of reg 103 (as added) (supply of full register to elected representatives for electoral purposes: see PARA 182 ante), reg 105 (as added) (supply of full register to local constituency parties: see PARA 182 ante), reg 106 (as added) (supply of full register to registered political parties: see PARA 182 ante) or reg 108 (as added) (supply of full register to certain candidates: see PARA 182 ante) entitled that person to obtain that information, apply to such use: reg 61(3) (as so substituted). Any person who has obtained or is entitled to obtain a copy of information covered by reg 61(1) (as substituted) (see heads (i) and (ii) in the text) may supply a copy of the information to a processor for the purpose of processing the information, or procure that a processor processes and supplies to him any copy of the information which the processor has obtained under reg 61 (as substituted), for use in respect of the purposes for which that person is entitled to obtain such information: reg 61(8) (as so substituted). The processor may not disclose the information so supplied except to the person who supplied it to the processor or an employee of that person or a person who is entitled to obtain a copy of the full register under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) or any employee of such a person: reg 92(9) (reg 92 added by SI 2002/1871); applied by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(9) (as so substituted). As to references to an employee of any person who has access to a copy of the full register see PARA 177 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'processor' see PARA 177 note 11 ante (definitions applied by virtue of reg 61(9) (as substituted)).

The restrictions on the supply, disclosure and use of the full register in reg 94 (as added) (restrictions on supply of full register and disclosure of information from it by the registration officer and his staff: see PARA 176 ante) and reg 96 (as added and amended) (restrictions on use of full register or information contained in it: see PARA 176 ante) apply to information covered by heads (i) and (ii) in the text as they apply to the full register, except that the permitted purpose (as to which see PARA 176 note 18 ante) means either research purposes within the meaning of that term in the Data Protection Act 1998 s 33 (see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 551) or electoral purposes: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61A (added by SI 2006/2910).

35 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 34 supra). The registration officer must ensure that where he supplies or discloses information covered by head (i) in the text in accordance with reg 61 (as substituted), he does not supply or disclose any record relating either to a person who has an anonymous entry or to the proxy of a person who has an anonymous entry: reg 61(17), (18) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

36 Ibid reg 61(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 34 supra).

37 Ibid reg 61(4) (as substituted: see note 34 supra). For these purposes, a 'current copy' of records or lists is a copy of the records or lists as kept by the registration officer at 9 am on the date it is supplied: reg 61(16) (a) (as so substituted).

38 For these purposes, any period of days must be calculated in accordance with ibid reg 56(6), (7) (s 56(6) as amended) (see PARA 372 note 6 ante): reg 61(16)(b) (as substituted: see note 34 supra). As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; and as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante.

39 Ibid reg 61(5) (as substituted: see note 34 supra). The text refers to a request that has been duly made under reg 61(1) (as substituted) (see the text and notes 31-36 supra).

40 Ibid reg 61(6) (as substituted: see note 34 supra).

41 Ibid reg 61(6)(a) (as substituted: see note 34 supra). The text refers to information made available for inspection in accordance with reg 61(10)-(15) (as substituted). Any person is entitled to request that the registration officer make available for inspection a copy of any of the information specified in heads (i) and (ii) in the text: reg 61(10) (as so substituted). Such a request must be made in writing and must specify: the information (or relevant parts of the information) requested, whether the request is made only in respect of the current lists or whether it includes a request for the inspection of any final list, who will inspect the information, the date on which they wish to inspect the information and whether they would prefer to inspect the information in a printed or data form: reg 61(11) (as so substituted). The registration officer must make a copy of the information available for inspection under supervision as soon as practicable after the date of receipt of a request that has been duly made: reg 61(12) (as so substituted). Where inspection takes place by providing a copy of the information on a computer screen or otherwise in data form, the registration officer must ensure that the manner in, and equipment on, which that copy is provided do not permit any person consulting that copy to search it by electronic means by reference to the name of any person or to copy or transmit any part of that copy by electronic or any other means: reg 61(13) (as so substituted). A person who inspects a copy of the information, whether a printed copy or in data form, may not make copies of any part of it, or record any particulars in it, otherwise than by means of handwritten notes: reg 61(14) (as so substituted). Subject to any direction by the Secretary of State under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (as amended) (discharge of registration duties: see PARA 156 ante), any duty on a registration officer to make information available for inspection under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61 (as substituted) imposes only a duty to provide that information in the form in which he holds it: reg 61(15) (as so substituted). The provision allowing copying that usually applies where a document is made available for inspection under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) does not apply to copies of information covered by heads (i) and (ii) in the text: reg 7(6) (added by SI 2006/2910).

42 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(6)(b) (as substituted: see note 34 supra).

43 Ibid reg 61(6)(c) (as substituted: see note 34 supra). The text refers to a request that has been duly made under reg 61(1) (as substituted) (see the text and notes 31-36 supra). The registration officer must supply a final copy of the proxy voters list, updated to include any additions to that list made in consequence of any applications granted in accordance with reg 56(3A) (as added and substituted) (see PARA 376 ante), as soon as practicable after 5 pm on the day of the poll, to every person who received that list in accordance with reg 61(6)(c) (as substituted): reg 61(7) (as so substituted).

44 As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 372 note 6 ante.

45 As to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

46 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 24(3)(a). At a European parliamentary election, if the registration officer is not the local returning officer for any local counting area or part of such area in the area for which he is the registration officer, he must send to that officer a copy of the lists referred to in the text: Sch 2 para 24(3)(b). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, it is stated that the registration officer must continue to make a copy of the list available until the date of the poll (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(6)); and any person may make a copy (whether handwritten or by other means) of the whole or any part of it (art 144(2)).

47 Ibid Sch 2 para 11(7)(a). If a request is made as mentioned in the text before any issue of postal ballot papers, the registration officer must before that issue supply a copy of those lists or so much of them as relates to that issue: Sch 2 para 11(8). For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; and for the meaning of 'constituency election' in relation to a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to the appointment of election agents see PARA 238 et seq ante.

48 For the meaning of 'regional election', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

49 For the meaning of 'individual candidate', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

50 For the meaning of references to a group of party list candidates for this purpose see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

51 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(7)(b). See note 47 supra.

52 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 237 note 30 ante. As to the submission by a registered party of lists of candidates to be members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') see PARA 235 ante.

NOTES 6, 14--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(C) Applications by Persons to Vote as Proxy for an Elector/(a) Appointment as Proxy/379. Capacity of person to act as proxy for an elector.

(C) APPLICATIONS BY PERSONS TO VOTE AS PROXY FOR AN ELECTOR

(a) Appointment as Proxy

379. Capacity of person to act as proxy for an elector.

Any person is capable of being appointed proxy to vote for another¹ at any parliamentary², local government³, Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary election⁵ and he may vote in pursuance of the appointment⁶. However, the elector⁷ cannot have more than one person at a time appointed as proxy to vote for him at parliamentary or Welsh Assembly elections (whether in the same constituency⁸ or elsewhere)⁹ or at local government elections in the same electoral area¹⁰. Nor can an elector have more than one person at a time appointed as proxy to vote for him at European parliamentary elections (whether in the same electoral region¹¹ or elsewhere)¹².

A person is not capable of being appointed to vote, or voting, as proxy if he is subject to any legal incapacity¹³ (age apart¹⁴) to vote at that election as elector¹⁵ or if:

- 454 (1) at a parliamentary election, he is neither a Commonwealth citizen¹⁶ nor a citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹⁷;
- 455 (2) at a local government election or at a Welsh Assembly election, he is neither a Commonwealth citizen nor a citizen of the Republic of Ireland nor a relevant citizen of the Union¹⁸; or
- 456 (3) at a European parliamentary election, he is neither a Commonwealth citizen nor a citizen of the Union¹⁹.

A person is not capable of voting as proxy at any such election unless on the date of the poll he has attained the age of 18²⁰. A person is not entitled to vote as proxy: (a) at the same parliamentary election in any constituency²¹; or (b) at the same local government election in any electoral area²²; or (c) at Welsh Assembly constituency or regional elections²³; or (d) at the same European parliamentary election in any electoral region²⁴, on behalf of more than two electors of whom that person is not the spouse, civil partner, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, child or grandchild²⁵.

1 le subject to the restrictions contained, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, in the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 6 (as amended) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 11 (as amended) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7 (as amended) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 376 ante). As to applications made by an elector to vote by proxy at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period see PARA 372 et seq ante; and as to such applications made in relation to a particular election see PARA 376 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

UPDATE

372-387 Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period ... Voting by post as proxy

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(C) Applications by Persons to Vote as Proxy for an Elector/(a) Appointment as Proxy/380. Applications for appointment to vote as proxy for an elector.

380. Applications for appointment to vote as proxy for an elector.

Where the elector¹ applies to the registration officer² for the appointment of a proxy to vote for him at parliamentary³ or local government elections⁴ (or at both) or at Welsh Assembly⁵ or European parliamentary elections⁶ (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in his application⁷), the registration officer must make the appointment if the application meets the statutory requirements⁸ and he is satisfied that the elector is or will be⁹ registered in the register of electors for the election in question¹⁰ and shown in the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections either for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹¹ as voting by proxy at such elections¹², and that the proxy is capable of being, and willing to be, appointed to vote as proxy at such elections¹³.

Where the elector applies to the registration officer for the appointment of a proxy to vote for him at a particular such election¹⁴, the registration officer must make the appointment if the application meets the statutory requirements¹⁵ and he is satisfied that the elector¹⁶ is or will be registered in the relevant register in relation to that election¹⁷ and is or will be entitled to vote by proxy at that election by virtue of that application¹⁸, and that the proxy is capable of being, and willing to be, appointed¹⁹.

Such an application²⁰ must state: (1) the full name of the applicant²¹; and (2) the address in respect of which the applicant is registered or has applied to be (or is treated as having applied to be) registered in the register²². The application must be made in writing and dated²³. Such an application which is made for an indefinite period or the period specified in the application must specify the election (or elections) in respect of which it is made²⁴ and (except in relation to Welsh Assembly elections) must state that it is made for an indefinite period or for a period specified in the application²⁵. An application which is made for a particular election must identify the election in question²⁶ and (except in relation to Welsh Assembly elections) must state that it is so made²⁷. An application for a parliamentary or a local government election may be combined where the polls fall on the same day²⁸, and such an application (whether combined or not) may be used in combination with that for an absent vote at a particular European parliamentary election²⁹. An application for the appointment of a proxy must state also the full name and address of the person whom the applicant wishes to appoint as his proxy, together with his family relationship, if any, with the applicant³⁰. If the application is signed only by the applicant, it must contain a statement by him that he has consulted the person so named and that the person is capable of being and willing to be appointed to vote as his proxy³¹. If the application is signed also by the person to be appointed, it must contain a statement by that person that he is capable of being and willing to be appointed to vote as the applicant's proxy³².

The appointment of a proxy is to be made by means of a proxy paper in the prescribed form issued by the registration officer³³.

Where the registration officer grants an application for the appointment of a proxy, he must confirm in writing to the elector that the proxy has been appointed, his name and address, and the duration of the appointment³⁴. Where he refuses an application, he must notify the applicant of his decision³⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'elector' for these purposes see PARA 379 note 7 ante.

2 As to electoral registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 et seq ante. The registration officer must supply free of charge as many forms for use in connection with applications made under the provisions relating to absent voting as appear to that officer reasonable in the circumstances to any person who satisfies that officer of his intention to use the forms in connection with an election or elections: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 4(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 140; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 9(1).

3 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

6 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

7 As to such applications see PARA 372 ante.

8 The text refers to the requirements set out, in the case of a parliamentary or local government election, in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt IV (regs 50-63) (as amended) or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 (as amended) or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 (as amended) (whichever is appropriate). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended), the requirements are as prescribed; and 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2)).

An application referred to in the text must be disregarded for the purposes of a particular election if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the sixth day before the date of the poll at that election: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(2) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(1A) (added by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(2). Where a registration officer disregards an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the officer must also date such notification: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4). As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 372 note 6 ante. As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante; as to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 6(7); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 11(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 6(6).

10 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 6(7)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 11(6)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 6(6)(a).

In the case of a parliamentary election, the register referred to is the register of parliamentary electors and, in the case of a local government election, it is the register of local government electors (although an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) may relate to both types of election, in which case the requirement is for the elector to be registered in both). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the requirement is for the elector to be registered in the register of local government electors (as to which see PARA 160 ante). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the 'register of electors' means any part of: (1) a register of parliamentary or, in the case of peers, local government electors; (2) a register under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (peers resident outside the United Kingdom registered as European parliamentary electors: see PARA 116 ante); (3) a register under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5(2) (see PARA 156 ante); and (4) (for the purposes of European parliamentary elections held in the combined region) the Gibraltar register (see PARA 131 note 2 ante), in force within an electoral region at the time of a European parliamentary election in that region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). As to electoral regions established for the purposes of European parliamentary elections (including the combined region) see PARA 76 ante; as to registration as an elector see PARA 128 et seq ante; and as to the registers of electors maintained by registration officers see PARA 156 et seq ante.

11 le the record kept for the purposes of a parliamentary or local government election under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 3 (as amended) or for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 8 (as amended) or for the purposes of a European parliamentary election under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 3 (as amended) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 375 ante).

13 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 6(7); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 11(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 6(6).

14 As to such applications see PARA 376 ante.

15 As to the statutory requirements see note 8 supra; and as to the requirements prescribed see PARA 376 ante. Such an application must be refused if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the sixth day before the date of the poll at the election for which it is made: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(3) (substituted by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(1A) (added by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(3). Where a registration officer disregards such an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4).

As to forms generally see note 2 supra. As to the prescribed form of proxy paper for the purposes of a parliamentary or local government election see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(3), Sch 3 (Form E: proxy paper) (amended by SI 2005/2114). The forms set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 (as amended) or forms substantially to the like effect may be used with such variations as the circumstances may require: reg 4(2). A version of the form partly in Welsh and partly in English must be used in Wales: see the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, art 6, Sch 2 (Form 9: proxy paper).

For the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, the proxy paper to be issued by the registration officer on the appointment of a proxy must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(3), Appendix of Forms (Form of proxy paper) (amended by SI 2005/2114), but this may be combined with another form of proxy paper if the registration officer is issuing a proxy paper appointing that person as proxy for the same elector in respect of another election or other elections: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(3).

For the purposes of a European parliamentary election, the appointment of a proxy is to be made by means of a proxy paper in the form set out in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 paras 1(2), 6(8), Appendix of Forms (Form A: proxy paper) (amended by SI 2005/2114). A version of the form partly in Welsh and partly in English must be used in Wales: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1373, art 6, Sch 2 (Form 6: proxy paper, papur dirprwy).

34 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(2) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(2).

35 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(3). Except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the reason for the decision must also be given: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(3). At a Welsh Assembly election, the officer must date the notification: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4). As to notification see PARA 372 note 35 ante. An appeal does not lie from any such decision of the registration officer: see PARA 189 et seq ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(C) Applications by Persons to Vote as Proxy for an Elector/(a) Appointment as Proxy/381. Duration of appointment to vote as proxy for an elector.

381. Duration of appointment to vote as proxy for an elector.

The appointment of a proxy¹ may be cancelled by the elector² giving notice to the registration officer³. The appointment also ceases to be in force⁴:

- 457 (1) where it related to a parliamentary election⁵ or elections, on the issue of a proxy paper⁶ appointing a different person to vote for him at such an election or elections (whether in the same constituency⁷ or elsewhere)⁸;
- 458 (2) where it related to a local government election⁹ or elections, on the issue of a proxy paper appointing a different person to vote for him at such an election or elections in the same electoral area¹⁰;
- 459 (3) where it related to a Welsh Assembly election¹¹, on the issue of a proxy paper appointing a different person to vote for him at an Assembly election or Assembly elections (whether in the same Assembly constituency¹² or elsewhere)¹³;
- 460 (4) where it related to a particular European parliamentary election or elections¹⁴, on the issue of a proxy paper appointing a different person to vote for him at a European parliamentary election or elections (whether in the same electoral region¹⁵ or elsewhere)¹⁶;
- 461 (5) where the appointment was for a particular period, once that period expires¹⁷.

The appointment otherwise remains in force for the particular election for which the appointment was made¹⁸ or, where the appointment was made for a particular period or for an indefinite period, while the elector is shown as voting by proxy in the record kept of those entitled to an absent vote at elections either for a particular period or for an indefinite period¹⁹, in pursuance of the same application²⁰ in respect of which he was included in that record²¹.

Except in relation to a European parliamentary election, where the appointment of a proxy is cancelled by the elector or otherwise ceases to be in force, the registration officer must, where practicable, notify the elector that the appointment has been cancelled or, as the case may be, notify him that the appointment has ceased and the reason for it²². Where the appointment of a proxy is cancelled by notice given to the registration officer or so ceases to be in force²³ or is no longer in force for a particular period or for an indefinite period²⁴, the registration officer²⁵ must notify the person whose appointment as proxy has been cancelled, expired, ceases to be or is no longer in force (unless the registration officer has previously been notified by that person that he no longer wishes to act as proxy)²⁶ and must remove his name from the record of names and addresses of those appointed as proxies²⁷.

372-387 Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period ... Voting by post as proxy

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

382. Voting in person where a proxy has been appointed.

A person entitled to vote as proxy for an elector¹ at a parliamentary², local government³, Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary election⁵ may do so in person at the polling station allotted to the elector under the appropriate rules⁶. Where a person is entitled to vote by post as proxy for the elector at any election⁷, the elector may not apply for a ballot paper for the purpose of voting in person at the election⁸. To indicate that an elector or his proxy is entitled to vote by post and is for that reason not entitled to vote in person, the letter 'A' is placed against the entry of that elector in any copy of the register, or part of it, provided for a polling station⁹.

UPDATE

372-387 Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period ... Voting by post as proxy

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

383. Application by person to vote by post as proxy.

Where a person applies to the registration officer¹ to vote by post either as proxy at parliamentary² or local government elections³ (or at both) or at Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary elections⁵ (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in his application)⁶ or as proxy at a particular such election⁷, the registration officer must grant the application if⁸: (1) the registration officer is satisfied that the elector⁹ is or will be registered in the relevant register of electors for the election¹⁰; and (2) there is in force an appointment of the applicant as the elector's proxy to vote for him at elections of the kind in question or, as the case may be, the election concerned¹¹; and (3) the application meets the statutory requirements¹².

Such an application¹³ must state: (a) the full name of the applicant¹⁴; (b) the proxy's address, together with the name of the elector for whom he will act as proxy and the elector's address in respect of which the elector is registered or has applied to be (or is treated as having applied to be) registered in the register¹⁵; (c) the address to which the ballot paper should be sent¹⁶; (d) the grounds on which the elector claims to be entitled to an absent vote¹⁷; and (e) in relation to parliamentary or local government elections only: (i) in the case of a person who is unable to provide a signature, the reasons for his request for waiver of any requirement¹⁸ to provide a signature and the name and address of any person who has assisted him to complete his application¹⁹; and (ii) where the applicant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry, that fact²⁰. The application must be made in writing and dated²¹. Except in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, such an application which is made for an indefinite period or the period specified in the application must state that it is so made²² and must specify the election in respect of which it is made²³. An application which is made for a particular election (other than a Welsh Assembly election) must state that it is so made²⁴ and must identify the election in question²⁵.

An application for a parliamentary or a local government election may be combined where the polls fall on the same day²⁶, and such an application (whether combined or not) may be used in combination with that for an absent vote at a particular European parliamentary election²⁷.

Where the registration officer grants an application to vote by post, he must notify the applicant of his decision²⁸; and where he refuses an application, he must notify the applicant of his decision and give the reason for it²⁹. An appeal lies to the county court from any decision of the registration officer disallowing a person's application to vote by post as proxy in any case where the application is not made for a particular election only³⁰.

Such an application must be disregarded for the purposes of any particular election if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the eleventh day before the date of the poll at that election (or the sixth day before such a date in the case of a European parliamentary election): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(1) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(2), Sch 2 para 6(1) (substituted by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(2). Where a registration officer disregards an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4). In the case of a parliamentary election, the register referred to is the register of parliamentary electors and, in the case of a local government election, it is the register of local government electors (although an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) may relate to both types of election, in which case the requirement is to be registered in both). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the requirement is to be registered in the register of local government electors (as to which see PARA 160 ante). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the 'register of electors' means any part of: (1) a register of parliamentary or, in the case of peers, local government electors; (2) a register under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (peers resident outside the United Kingdom registered as European parliamentary electors: see PARA 116 ante); (3) a register under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5(2) (see PARA 156 ante); and (4) (for the purposes of European parliamentary elections held in the combined region) the Gibraltar register (see PARA 131 note 2 ante), in force within an electoral region at the time of a European parliamentary election in that region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). As to electoral regions established for the purposes of European parliamentary elections (including the combined region) see PARA 76 ante; as to registration as an elector see PARA 128 et seq ante; and as to the registers of electors maintained by registration officers see PARA 156 et seq ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(5)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(5)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(5)(b). As to the appointment of a proxy see PARA 380 et seq ante.

12 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(5)(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(5)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(5)(c).

In the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the application referred to in the text must contain the applicant's signature and date of birth and meet the prescribed requirements: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(5)(c) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(3)(a), (8)). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2)); and, accordingly, the text refers to the requirements set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt IV (regs 50-63) (as amended). Where a person has made an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(4) (see the text and notes 1-8 supra) prior to 31 December 2006 that has not been determined on or before that date, the registration officer must not grant the application unless the applicant has provided to the registration officer a specimen of his signature and his date of birth: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 3. As to the provisions made for the initial and continuing capture of the personal identifiers of those who are existing absent voters see PARA 371 ante.

The registration officer may dispense with the requirement under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(5)(c) (as amended) for the applicant to provide a signature if he is satisfied that the applicant is unable to provide a signature because of any disability the applicant has or is unable to provide a signature because the applicant is unable to read or write or is unable to sign in a consistent and distinctive way because of any such disability or inability: Sch 4 para 7(11) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 14(3)(b), (8)). 'Disability', in relation to doing a thing, includes a short term inability to do it: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 76); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the application referred to in the text must meet the requirements of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 (as amended).

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the application referred to in the text must meet the requirements of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 (as amended).

13 Applications relating to absent voting must comply with such requirements as are relevant to the application: in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(1); in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(5); and in relation to a European parliamentary election, see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(1).

14 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(a).

15 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(b), (c) (reg 51(2)(b) amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(b), (c) (Sch 2 para 1(1)(b) amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(b), (c). As to the address to be specified for the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(b) (as amended) in relation to Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 372 note 25 ante.

16 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(d).

In the case of an application to vote by post at parliamentary or local government elections under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(4) (see the text and notes 1-8 supra) where the addresses stated in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(c) (ie the proxy's address and the elector's address for the purposes of reg 51(2)(b) (as amended): see the text and note 15 supra) and reg 51(2)(d) are different, except where an applicant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry, the application must set out why the applicant's circumstances will be or are likely to be such that he requires the ballot paper to be sent to the address stated in accordance with reg 51(2)(d): reg 51AA(1)-(3) (added by SI 2006/2910). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

17 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(e); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(2)(e).

18 Ie under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7 (as amended).

19 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(f) (added by SI 2006/2910).

20 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(2)(g) (added by SI 2006/2910).

21 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3) (substituted by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3). At a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the application must also be signed by the applicant: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3).

In relation to parliamentary or local government elections, where an application is required to contain a signature and date of birth (see note 12 supra), the information must be set out in a manner that is sufficiently clear and unambiguous as to be capable of electronic scanning into his record: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3A) (reg 51(3A), (3B) added by SI 2006/2910). This requirement is met by configuring the information as follows: (1) the signature must appear against a background of white unlined paper of at least five centimetres long and two centimetres high (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3A)(a) (as so added)); and (2) the applicant's date of birth must be set out numerically configured in the sequence of date, month and year, namely [d][d][m][m][y][y][y][y] (reg 51(3A)(b) (as so added)). Where the application contains a request that the registration officer waive the requirement for a signature (see note 12 supra), head (1) supra does not apply: reg 51(3B) (as so added). The registration officer may satisfy himself: (a) that an application under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended) meets any requirements that it has been signed by the applicant and states his date of birth by referring to any signature and date of birth either previously provided by the applicant to the registration officer or to the returning officer or previously provided by the applicant to the authority referred to in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 35(2)(a) (ie the council which appointed him: see PARA 157 ante), which the registration officer is authorised to inspect for the purposes of his registration duties (reg 51A(a) (reg 51A added by SI 2006/752; and substituted by SI 2006/2910)); and (b) as to whether the applicant is unable to provide a signature or a consistent signature due to any disability or inability to read or write (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51A(b) (as so added and substituted)).

At a Welsh Assembly election, the application must be sent and delivered in accordance with the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 143 (see PARA 372 note 31 ante). The registration officer may satisfy himself that an application for an absent vote meets the requirement that it has been signed by the applicant by referring to any signature previously provided by the applicant to the registration officer or the returning officer: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1A (added by SI 2006/884).

22 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(4)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(4)(a).

At a parliamentary or Welsh Assembly where the registration officer is not the acting returning officer for any constituency (or at a European parliamentary election where the registration officer is not the local returning officer for any local counting area) or part of such area in the area for which he is the registration officer, he must send to that officer details of any application to vote by post which he has granted as soon as practicable after doing so: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(6); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(5). For the meaning of 'local counting area' see PARA 230 note 11 ante. 372-387 Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period ... Voting by post as proxy

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

383 Application by person to vote by post as proxy

NOTE 10--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(C) Applications by Persons to Vote as Proxy for an Elector/ (c) Voting by Post as Proxy for an Elector/384. Record of persons entitled to vote by post as proxy.

384. Record of persons entitled to vote by post as proxy.

The registration officer¹ must keep a record of those whose applications to vote by post as proxy at parliamentary² or local government elections³ (or at both) or at Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary elections⁵ (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in the application)⁶ have been granted showing⁷: (1) whether their applications were to vote by post as proxy for an indefinite or a particular period (specifying that period)⁸; (2) where the applications were in respect of parliamentary or local government elections, whether they were in respect of parliamentary elections or local government elections or both⁹; and (3) the addresses provided by them in their applications as the addresses to which their ballot papers are to be sent¹⁰. The registration officer at a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election must make a copy of the records so kept available for inspection at his office¹¹ and, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, any person may make a copy (whether handwritten or by other means) of the whole or any part of them¹².

A person who remains on the record of persons entitled to vote by post as proxy at parliamentary or local government elections either for an indefinite period or for a particular period¹³ may, at any time, provide the registration officer with a fresh signature¹⁴; and anything required or authorised to be done for the purposes of any enactment in relation to a signature required to be provided in pursuance of absent voting in Great Britain¹⁵ must be done in relation to a signature so provided instead of in relation to a signature provided on any earlier occasion¹⁶. Regulations may make provision as to circumstances in which a registration officer may require a person who remains on the record of persons entitled to vote by post as proxy either for an indefinite period or for a particular period¹⁷ to provide a fresh signature¹⁸ and as to the consequences of a person refusing or failing to comply with a requirement to provide a fresh signature¹⁹.

The registration officer must remove a person from the record so kept²⁰: (a) if he applies to the registration officer to be removed²¹, (b) if the elector²² ceases to be registered in the appropriate register or registers (as the case may be)²³; (c) if the appointment of the person concerned as the elector's proxy ceases to be in force (whether or not he is re-appointed)²⁴; or (d) in the case of a person who applied to vote by post as proxy for a particular period, once that period expires²⁵. Where a person is removed from the record under any of heads (a) to (d) above, the registration officer must, where practicable, notify him of this and the reason for it²⁶.

The registration officer must also keep a record in relation to those whose applications to vote by post either as proxy at parliamentary elections, at local government elections or at both (whether for an indefinite period or for a particular period specified in the application)²⁷, or at a particular parliamentary or local government election²⁸, have been granted showing their dates of birth²⁹ and, except in cases where the registration officer³⁰ has dispensed with the requirement to provide a signature, their signatures³¹. The record so kept must be retained by the registration officer for the prescribed period³². The registration officer must either provide a copy of the information contained in records so kept by him³³ to the returning officer for an election in relation to electors at the election³⁴ or give the returning officer access to such information³⁵. Information contained in such records may be disclosed by a registration officer (subject to any prescribed conditions) to any other registration officer if he thinks that to do so will assist the other registration officer in the performance of his duties³⁶, or to any person exercising functions in relation to the preparation or conduct of legal proceedings under the Representation of the People Acts³⁷ or to such other persons for such other purposes relating to elections as may be prescribed³⁸.

372-387 Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period ... Voting by post as proxy

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(C) Applications by Persons to Vote as Proxy for an Elector/ (c) Voting by Post as Proxy for an Elector/385. Application in respect of a particular election by a proxy entitled to vote by post for an indefinite period or for a particular period.

385. Application in respect of a particular election by a proxy entitled to vote by post for an indefinite period or for a particular period.

Where a person who is included in the record kept of those entitled to vote by post as proxy either for an indefinite period or for a particular period¹ in respect of parliamentary², local government³, Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary elections⁵, applies to the registration officer⁶ for his ballot paper⁷ in relation to a particular such election to be sent to a different address from that shown in the record, the registration officer must grant the application if it meets the statutory requirements⁸.

Such an application⁹ must state: (1) the full name of the applicant¹⁰; and (2) the proxy's address, together with the name of the elector for whom he will act as proxy and the elector's address in respect of which the elector is registered or has applied to be (or is treated as having applied to be) registered in the register¹¹. Except in relation to a European parliamentary election, such an application must also set out why the applicant's circumstances will be or are likely to be such that he requires his ballot paper to be sent to a different address from that shown in the record¹². An application must identify the election in question¹³ and when it is made for a particular parliamentary, local government or European parliamentary election, it must state that it is so made¹⁴. The application must be made in writing and dated¹⁵.

An application for a parliamentary or a local government election may be combined where the polls fall on the same day¹⁶, and such an application (whether combined or not) may be used in combination with that for an absent vote at a particular European parliamentary election¹⁷.

Where the registration officer grants an application to vote by post, he must notify the applicant of his decision¹⁸; and where he refuses an application, he must notify the applicant of his decision¹⁹. An appeal does not lie from any decision of the registration officer disallowing a person's application to vote by post as proxy in any case where the application is made for a particular election only²⁰.

1 le a record kept, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 7(6) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(6) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(6) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 384 ante).

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

5 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

6 As to electoral registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 et seq ante.

7 Or ballot papers, in the case of an ordinary Welsh Assembly election where a person is entitled to give two votes: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(7). As to ordinary general elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(7); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(7) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(7). The text refers to the requirements set out, in the case of a parliamentary or local government election, in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt IV (regs 50-63) (as amended) or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 (as amended) or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 (as amended) (whichever is appropriate). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 (as amended), the requirements are as prescribed; and 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 1(2)). Such an application must be refused if it is received by the registration officer after 5 pm on the eleventh day before the date of the poll at the election for which it is made: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(4) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 6(2)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 19(4). Where a registration officer disregards such an application for the purposes of any particular election, he must notify the applicant of this: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(5) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(4). At a Welsh Assembly election, the officer must date such notification: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4). As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 372 note 6 ante. As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante; as to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

9 Applications relating to absent voting must comply with such requirements as are relevant to the application: in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(1); in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(5); and in relation to a European parliamentary election, see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(1).

15 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(3) (substituted by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3). At a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the application must also be signed by the applicant: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 1(1); and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 14(3).

At a Welsh Assembly election, the application must be sent and delivered in accordance with the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 143 (see PARA 372 note 31 ante).

16 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 51(5).

17 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 4(7).

18 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(4A) (added by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(4A) (added by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(1). At a parliamentary or Welsh Assembly where the registration officer is not the acting returning officer for any constituency (or at a European parliamentary election where the registration officer is not the local returning officer for any local counting area) or part of such area in the area for which he is the registration officer, he must send to that officer details of any application to vote by post which he has granted as soon as practicable after doing so: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 57(6); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 7(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 20(5). For the meaning of 'local counting area' see PARA 230 note 11 ante. 372-387 Application for absent vote at elections for a particular period or for an indefinite period ... Voting by post as proxy

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(iv) Manner of Voting at Elections/B. ABSENT VOTING/(C) Applications by Persons to Vote as Proxy for an Elector/ (c) Voting by Post as Proxy for an Elector/386. Proxy postal voters list.

386. Proxy postal voters list.

The registration officer¹ must, in respect of each parliamentary², local government³, Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary election⁵, keep a special list (the 'proxy postal voters list')⁶: (1) of those who are for the time being included in the record kept of persons entitled to vote by post as proxy either for an indefinite period or for a particular period⁷, together with the addresses provided by them in their applications⁸ as the addresses to which their ballot papers are to be sent⁹; and (2) of those whose applications to vote by post as proxy at a particular election¹⁰ have been granted in respect of the election concerned, together with the addresses provided by them in their applications as the addresses to which their ballot papers are to be sent¹¹.

Any person entitled to be supplied with copies of the full register¹² is also a person entitled¹³ to request that the registration officer supply free of charge the relevant part¹⁴ of a copy of any of the following information which he keeps¹⁵, namely: (a) the current version of the information which would, in the event of a particular parliamentary or local government election, be included in the proxy postal voters list¹⁶; and (b) the current or final version of the proxy postal voters list¹⁷. The registration officer must supply a current copy of the information so requested as soon as practicable after receipt of a request that is duly made¹⁸; and, as soon as practicable after 5 pm on the sixth day before the day of the poll¹⁹, he must²⁰: (i) make a copy of the proxy postal voters list available for inspection at his office, in response to a request that has been duly made²¹; and (ii) at a parliamentary election, if he is not the acting returning officer for any constituency or part of a constituency in the area for which he is the registration officer, send to that officer a copy of the list²².

As soon as practicable after the sixth day²³ before the day of the poll²⁴ at a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the registration officer must publish the list of postal proxy voters by making a copy of it available for inspection at his office²⁵. The registration officer at a Welsh Assembly election must, on request, supply free of charge a copy of the list to each candidate at a constituency election or his election agent²⁶ or, in the case of a regional election²⁷, to each individual candidate²⁸ or group of party list candidates²⁹ (or to his or their election agent)³⁰. The registration officer at a European parliamentary election must, on request, supply free of charge a copy of the list of postal proxy voters to the election agent of each registered party³¹ standing nominated and each individual candidate³² or his election agent³³.

1 As to electoral registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

5 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(8) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 Pt 7 para 137(1), (7)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(8); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(8).

The list of persons referred to in the text which is kept in relation to a parliamentary or local government election pursuant to the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(8) (ie the list of persons whose applications to vote by post as proxy have been granted) is known as the 'proxy postal voters list': Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 Pt 7 paras 104, 128(1), (3)); Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(8) (as so amended). In the case of a person who has an anonymous entry in a register, the list referred to in the text must contain only the person's electoral number and the period for which the anonymous entry has effect: Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(8A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 19, 23). For the meaning of 'electoral number' see PARA 160 ante; and for the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

Any list so kept as mentioned in the text which relates to a Welsh Assembly election may be in such form as the registration officer thinks fit (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(2), Sch 2 para 11(1)); but where electors are entitled to give two votes at an ordinary election in an Assembly constituency, only one list is to be kept and that list has effect in relation to both elections (art 12(8) proviso). Where a National Assembly for Wales constituency is not coterminous with, or wholly situated in, a county or county borough: (1) the registration officer for any part of the Assembly constituency must, if he is not the returning officer for the constituency, consult him concerning the form of so much of the list of postal proxies (see the text and notes 7-11 infra) as relates to the constituency in order to ensure that, so far as practicable, it is in a form similar to that in use elsewhere in the constituency; and (2) if the registration officer for any part of the Assembly constituency at an Assembly election is not the returning officer for the constituency, he must forthwith supply to the constituency returning officer a copy of the compiled list of postal proxies on completion of the compilation of them: art 139. For the meaning of 'Assembly constituency' in relation to a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'constituency returning officer' see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to counties and county boroughs in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq. As to ordinary general elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante.

At a European parliamentary election, the registration officer must, forthwith on completion of the compilation of the list of postal proxies, supply to the local returning officer for any local counting area wholly or partly within the area for which he acts so much of that list as relates to that constituency: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(8). For the meaning of 'local counting area' see PARA 230 note 11 ante. As to local returning officers appointed for the purposes of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 365 ante.

7 Ie a record kept, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(6) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(6) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(6) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 384 ante).

8 Ie applications made, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(4)(a) or, as the case may be, under Sch 4 para 7(7) or applications made, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(4)(a) or, as the case may be, under art 12(7) or applications made, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(4)(a) or, as the case may be, under Sch 7(7) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARAS 383, 385 ante).

9 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(8)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(8)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(8)(a). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, in the list kept of proxies who are entitled to vote by post, the name of the proxy, together with the address to which his ballot paper (or, where a person is entitled to give two votes at an ordinary election, ballot papers) must be sent is to be placed on the right hand side of the elector's name and electoral number: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(4). As to the meaning of 'electoral number' for this purpose see PARA 378 note 9 ante.

10 Ie a record of those whose applications have been granted, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(4)(b) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(4)(b) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(4)(b) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 383 ante).

11 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(8)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(8)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(8)(b). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election see note 9 supra.

12 le in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 103 (as added) (supply of full register to elected representatives for electoral purposes: see PARA 182 ante), reg 105 (as added) (supply of full register to local constituency parties: see PARA 182 ante), reg 106 (as added) (supply of full register to registered political parties: see PARA 182 ante) or reg 108 (as added) (supply of full register to certain candidates: see PARA 182 ante). For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 ante.

14 le within the meaning of the regulations specified in note 12 supra.

15 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(1) (reg 61 substituted by SI 2006/2910). A request such as is mentioned in the text must be made in writing and must specify the information (or the relevant parts of the information) requested, whether the request is made only in respect of the current list or whether it includes a request for the supply of any final list and whether a printed copy of the records or list is requested or a copy in data form: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(2) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. Subject to any direction by the Secretary of State under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (as amended) (discharge of registration duties: see PARA 156 ante), any duty on a registration officer to supply a copy under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61 (as substituted) imposes only a duty to provide that information in the form in which he holds it: reg 61(15) (as so substituted). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

A person who obtains any information under reg 61 (as substituted) may use it only for the permitted purposes specified in reg 61A (as added), and any restrictions specified in reg 61A (as added), or which would apply to the use of the full register under whichever of reg 103 (as added) (supply of full register to elected representatives for electoral purposes: see PARA 182 ante), reg 105 (as added) (supply of full register to local constituency parties: see PARA 182 ante), reg 106 (as added) (supply of full register to registered political parties: see PARA 182 ante) or reg 108 (as added) (supply of full register to certain candidates: see PARA 182 ante) entitled that person to obtain that information, apply to such use: reg 61(3) (as so substituted). Any person who has obtained or is entitled to obtain a copy of information covered by reg 61(1) (as substituted) (see heads (a) and (b) in the text) may supply a copy of the information to a processor for the purpose of processing the information, or procure that a processor processes and supplies to him any copy of the information which the processor has obtained under reg 61 (as substituted), for use in respect of the purposes for which that person is entitled to obtain such information: reg 61(8) (as so substituted). The processor may not disclose the information so supplied except to the person who supplied it to the processor or an employee of that person or a person who is entitled to obtain a copy of the full register under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) or any employee of such a person: reg 92(9) (reg 92 added by SI 2002/1871); applied by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(9) (as so substituted). As to references to an employee of any person who has access to a copy of the full register see PARA 177 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'processor' see PARA 177 note 11 ante (definitions applied by virtue of reg 61(9) (as substituted)).

The restrictions on the supply, disclosure and use of the full register in reg 94 (as added) (restrictions on supply of full register and disclosure of information from it by the registration officer and his staff: see PARA 176 ante) and reg 96 (as added and amended) (restrictions on use of full register or information contained in it: see PARA 176 ante) apply to information covered by heads (a) and (b) in the text as they apply to the full register, except that the permitted purpose (see PARA 176 note 18 ante) means either research purposes within the meaning of that term in the Data Protection Act 1998 s 33 (see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 551) or electoral purposes: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61A (added by SI 2006/2910).

16 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 15 supra). The registration officer must ensure that where he supplies or discloses information covered by head (a) in the text, in accordance with reg 61 (as substituted), he does not supply or disclose any record relating either to a person who has an anonymous entry or to the proxy of a person who has an anonymous entry: reg 61(17), (18) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

17 Ibid reg 61(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 15 supra).

18 Ibid reg 61(4) (as substituted: see note 15 supra). For these purposes, a 'current copy' of records or lists is a copy of the records or lists as kept by the registration officer at 9 am on the date it is supplied: reg 61(16) (a) (as so substituted).

19 For these purposes, any period of days must be calculated in accordance with ibid reg 56(6) (as amended) and reg 56(7) (see PARA 372 note 6 ante); reg 61(16)(b) (as substituted: see note 15 supra). As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; and as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante.

20 Ibid reg 61(6) (as substituted: see note 15 supra).

21 Ibid reg 61(6)(a) (as substituted: see note 15 supra). The text refers to information made available for inspection in accordance with reg 61(10)-(15) (as substituted). Any person is entitled to request that the registration officer make available for inspection a copy of any of the information specified in heads (a) and (b) in the text: reg 61(10) (as so substituted). Such a request must be made in writing and must specify the information (or relevant parts of the information) requested, whether the request is made only in respect of the current lists or whether it includes a request for the inspection of any final list, who will inspect the information, the date on which they wish to inspect the information and whether they would prefer to inspect the information in a printed or data form: reg 61(11) (as so substituted). The registration officer must make a copy of the information available for inspection under supervision as soon as practicable after the date of receipt of a request that has been duly made: reg 61(12) (as so substituted). Where inspection takes place by providing a copy of the information on a computer screen or otherwise in data form, the registration officer must ensure that the manner in, and equipment on, which that copy is provided do not permit any person consulting that copy to search it by electronic means by reference to the name of any person or to copy or transmit any part of that copy by electronic or any other means: reg 61(13) (as so substituted). A person who inspects a copy of the information, whether a printed copy or in data form, may not make copies of any part of it, or record any particulars in it, otherwise than by means of handwritten notes: reg 61(14) (as so substituted). Subject to any direction by the Secretary of State under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (as amended) (discharge of registration duties: see PARA 156 ante), any duty on a registration officer to make information available for inspection under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61 (as substituted) imposes only a duty to provide that information in the form in which he holds it: reg 61(15) (as so substituted). The provision allowing copying that usually applies where a document is made available for inspection under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) does not apply to copies of information covered by heads (a) and (b) in the text: reg 7(6) (added by SI 2006/2910).

22 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 61(6)(b) (as substituted: see note 15 supra).

23 As to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 372 note 6 ante.

24 As to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 ante; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 ante.

25 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 24(3)(a). At a European parliamentary election, if the registration officer is not the local returning officer for any local counting area or part of such area in the area for which he is the registration officer, he must send to that officer a copy of the lists referred to in the text: Sch 2 para 24(3)(b). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the registration officer must continue to make a copy of the list so available until the date of the poll (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(6)); and any person may make a copy (whether handwritten or by other means) of the whole or any part of it (art 144(2)).

26 Ibid Sch 2 para 11(7)(a). If a request is made as mentioned in the text before any issue of postal ballot papers, the registration officer must before that issue supply a copy of those lists or so much of them as relates to that issue: Sch 2 para 11(8). For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; and for the meaning of 'constituency election' in relation to a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to the appointment of election agents see PARA 238 et seq ante.

27 For the meaning of 'regional election', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

28 For the meaning of 'individual candidate', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

29 For the meaning of references to a group of party list candidates for this purpose see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

30 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 2 para 11(7)(b). See note 26 supra.

31 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 237 note 30 ante. As to the submission by a registered party of lists of candidates to be members of the European parliament ('MEPs') see PARA 235 ante.

32 For the meaning of 'individual candidate', in relation to a European parliamentary election, see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

ABSENT VOTING/(C) Applications by Persons to Vote as Proxy for an Elector/ (c) Voting by Post as Proxy for an Elector/387. Voting by post as proxy.

387. Voting by post as proxy.

If a person is entitled to vote as proxy for an elector¹ at a parliamentary², local government³, Welsh Assembly⁴ or European parliamentary election⁵ (by being included in the relevant list⁶ in respect of that election) he may vote by post⁷. Where a person is entitled to vote by post as proxy for an elector at such an election, the elector may not apply for a ballot paper for the purpose of voting in person at the election⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'elector' for these purposes see PARA 379 note 7 ante. As to applications to vote by post as a proxy see PARA 383 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 1(2). See also PARA 368 note 1 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

5 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

6 In the list kept, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, under the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(8) (as amended) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(8) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(8) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 386 ante).

7 Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 4 para 7(1), (3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(1), (3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(1), (3).

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(v) Rules for Conduct of Elections/388. Rules for the conduct of elections.

(v) Rules for Conduct of Elections

388. Rules for the conduct of elections.

The proceedings at a parliamentary election¹ must be conducted in accordance with the parliamentary elections rules². These rules are applied³ for the purpose of elections of councillors for local government areas⁴ in England and Wales⁵, which are also conducted in accordance with rules made by the Secretary of State⁶. As regards the Greater London Authority⁷, Authority elections⁸ and the return of London members of the London Assembly otherwise than at an election⁹ must be conducted in accordance with rules so made¹⁰. The Secretary of State must also make provision as to the conduct of elections for the return of elected mayors or elected executive members¹¹; and an election for the return of an elected mayor must be conducted in accordance with the mayoral elections rules so made¹².

In relation to elections to the National Assembly for Wales¹³, the Secretary of State may by order make provision as to the conduct of elections for the return of Assembly members¹⁴; and the proceedings at Assembly elections¹⁵ and the return of Assembly members must be conducted in accordance with the rules so provided¹⁶.

The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision as to the conduct of elections to the European Parliament¹⁷; and proceedings at a European parliamentary election must be conducted in accordance with the European parliamentary elections rules¹⁸.

It is the general duty of returning officers at an election to do all such acts and things as may be necessary for effectively conducting the election in accordance with these rules¹⁹ but no parliamentary election may be declared invalid by reason of any act or omission by the returning officer or any other person in breach of his official duty in connection with the election or otherwise of the elections rules if the election was so conducted as to be substantially in accordance with the law as to elections and the act or omission did not affect its result²⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to parliamentary elections see PARA 196 et seq ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1). For these purposes, 'parliamentary elections rules' means the parliamentary elections rules that are set out in Sch 1 (as amended): see s 202(1).

3 Ibid s 36(2). The parliamentary elections rules must be applied subject to such adaptations, alterations and exceptions as seem appropriate to the Secretary of State: s 36(2). See further note 6 infra. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante. As to the rules for combining the poll at such an election with that at another election or referendum see PARA 21 et seq ante.

4 For the meaning of 'local government area' see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to the election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante; as to the election of councillors for parish or community councils see PARA 207 et seq ante.

5 For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(1).

In the application of the parliamentary elections rules to the election of councillors of the council of a principal area where the poll at that election is not taken together with the poll at another election, adaptations, alterations and exceptions must be made to those rules so that the election is conducted in accordance with the rules set out in the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 (see PARA 218 et seq ante): r 3. For these purposes, 'principal area' means, in England, a county, district or London borough and, in Wales, a county or county borough: r 2(1). As to such areas and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq; LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 30, 35-39, 59 et seq.

In the application of the parliamentary elections rules to the election of councillors of the council of a parish or community where the poll at that election is not taken together with the poll at another election, adaptations, alterations and exceptions must be made to those rules so that the election is conducted in accordance with the rules set out in the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 (see PARA 218 et seq ante): r 3. A poll consequent on a parish meeting is taken by ballot in accordance with rules made by the Secretary of State; and the provisions of the rules with respect to the elections of parish councillors under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) and of the enactments mentioned in s 187(1) (as amended) (ie s 60, s 62A (as added) and s 66 (as amended), Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended), Pt III (ss 120-186) (as amended), and s 189), subject to any adaptations, alterations or exceptions made by the first-mentioned rules, apply in the case of a poll so taken as if it were a poll for the election of parish councillors: see the Local Government Act 1972 s 99, Sch 12 para 18(5), Sch 12 para 34(5); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 638. In the application of the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, by virtue of the Interpretation Act s 17(2)(b), to a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting, adaptations, alterations and exceptions must be made to those rules so that the poll is conducted in accordance with the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule (as amended) (see PARA 214 et seq ante): r 5. In the application of those provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 mentioned in s 187(1) (as amended), references to the proper officer of the authority for which the election was held must be taken as references to the returning officer (Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 6(b)); and references to an election under the local government Act are deemed to include a reference to a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting (r 6(g)). For the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to other modifications that apply in this case see r 6(c)-(f). As to a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting taken on a question other than any appointment to office see PARA 558 et seq post. As to parishes and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq; and as to communities and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

7 As to the Greater London Authority see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 79 et seq.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(2A)(a) (s 36(2A), (2B) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 4(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(2A)(b) (as added: see note 8 supra). For the meaning of 'London member' (of the London Assembly) see PARA 10 note 5 ante. As to filling vacancies in the offices of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 211 et seq ante.

10 Ibid s 36(2A) (as added: see note 8 supra). The rules so made need not comply with the requirements of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(2) (see the text and note 3 supra) (s 36(2A) (as so added)); and the provision that may be made by such rules as regards lists of candidates submitted under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(6), Sch 2 para 5(2) (election of London members of the London Assembly: see PARA 233 ante) includes provision for or in connection with the inclusion, withdrawal, addition or removal of persons and cases where a person included in such a list is or becomes, or seeks to become, an individual candidate to be a London member of the London Assembly (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(2B) (as so added)). As to the rules so made under s 36(2) (as amended) and s 36(2A), (2B) (as added) see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427. For these purposes, the 'constituency members election rules' means the rules set out in r 3(1), Sch 1 (as amended); the 'London members election rules' means the rules in r 3(2), Sch 2 (as amended); the 'mayoral election rules' means the rules in r 3(3), Sch 3 (as amended); and the 'ordinary elections rules' means the rules in r 3, Sch 4: r 2(1). To avoid confusion, in this work the mayoral elections rules are referred to as the London mayoral elections rules: cf the 'local authority mayoral elections rules'; and note 12 infra. An election held under one or more of the constituency members election rules, the London members election rules, the mayoral election rules and the ordinary elections rules is known as a 'GLA election': r 2(1).

The constituency members election rules have effect for the purposes of the election of constituency members of the London Assembly, whether at an ordinary election or in the circumstances mentioned in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 10 (filling a vacancy in an Assembly constituency: see PARA 211 ante); but where the election is an ordinary election, those rules have effect subject to the ordinary elections rules: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1). The London members election rules, with the exception of Pt VII (rr 54-58) (list candidates and the filling of vacancies: see PARA 211 ante), have effect for the purposes of the allocation of seats for London members of the London Assembly at any ordinary election; and Pt VII has effect for the purposes of the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11 (filling a vacancy among the London members: see PARA 211 ante); but where the election is an ordinary election, those rules have effect subject to the ordinary elections rules: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2). The mayoral election rules have effect for the purposes of: the election of the Mayor of London; and any election under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 16(2) (filling a vacancy in the office of Mayor: see PARA 211 ante), but where the election is an ordinary election, those rules have effect subject to the ordinary elections rules: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(3). Where some or all of the votes cast at an ordinary election or an election under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 16(2) are to be counted by electronic means, the constituency members election rules, the London members election rules and the mayoral election rules have effect subject to the modifications set out in the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 6(1), Sch 6: r 6(1). The rules are also modified where an election for the return of the Mayor of London or for the return of an Assembly member is taken together with the poll at a parliamentary election, European parliamentary election or local government election (other than a GLA election) under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15(1), (2) (see PARA 21 et seq ante) or the poll at a local authority mayoral election or referendum in accordance with regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44-45, 105 (as amended) (see the text and notes 11-12 infra): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 8 (substituted by SI 2004/227). As to the rules so modified see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3) (substituted by r 8 (as so substituted)), and Sch 8 (constituency members election rules where polls are combined), Sch 9 (London members election rules where polls are combined), Sch 10 (mayoral election rules where polls are combined), Sch 11 (electronic counting of votes where polls are combined); and PARA 22 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'constituency member' (of the London Assembly) see PARA 10 note 6 ante. As to ordinary elections of the Mayor of London and constituency members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante. As to party lists of candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 98; and as to individual candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 99.

11 See the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(1); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320. For the meanings of 'elected executive member' and 'elected mayor' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320. As to the regulations so made see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made in relation to the return of executive members in England and Wales. As to the rules for combining polls at such an election with that at another election or referendum see PARA 26 ante.

12 Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1). For these purposes, 'mayoral election' means an election for the return of an elected mayor; and 'mayoral elections rules' means the rules that are set out in Sch 1 (as amended): reg 2(1). To avoid confusion, in this work these rules are referred to as the 'local authority mayoral elections rules': cf the 'London mayoral elections rules'; and note 10 supra. The Representation of the People Act 1983, the Representation of the People Act 1985, the Representation of the People Act 2000, the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000, the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) and the Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, have effect, in relation to a mayoral election in England, as they have effect in relation to an election of councillors for any county electoral division or district or London borough ward and, in relation to a mayoral election in Wales, as they have effect in relation to an election of councillors for any county electoral division or county borough ward, subject to the modifications set out in the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 2: reg 3(2). However, for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 44(4), the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt III (ss 120-186) (as amended) (legal proceedings: see PARA 759 et seq post) has effect in relation to the questioning of an election for the return of an elected mayor as it has effect in relation to the questioning of an election under the local government Act: see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 6; and PARA 761 post. As to the establishment of electoral areas for the purpose of local government elections in England and Wales see PARA 73 ante; as to the election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 et seq ante.

13 As to ordinary general elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante.

14 See the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13(1); and PARA 12 ante. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 are to come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11(1). For the meaning of 'Assembly member' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 12 ante. As to the rules for combining polls at such an election with that at another election or referendum see PARA 28 ante.

15 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

16 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1). The text refers to the rules provided under art 16(1), Sch 5 (as amended).

17 See the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 7(1); and PARA 13 ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante. As to the rules for combining polls at such an election with that at another election or referendum see PARA 28 ante.

18 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1). For these purposes, 'European parliamentary elections rules' means the rules in reg 9(1), Sch 1 (as amended): reg 2(1).

(vi) Contested Elections

A. IN GENERAL

389. Method of election.

At a parliamentary¹ or Welsh Assembly constituency election², if the statement of persons nominated³ shows more than one person standing nominated, a poll must be taken in accordance with the appropriate election rules⁴. A poll must be taken in accordance with the appropriate rules⁵ at a local government election⁶ if the number of persons remaining validly nominated for the electoral area⁷ or London Assembly constituency⁸ after any withdrawals under the rules exceeds the number of councillors or London Assembly constituency members to be elected⁹. If the number of candidates remaining at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, after any withdrawals, exceeds the number of persons to be elected, the poll must be taken¹⁰.

If the number of persons remaining validly nominated at an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly or at a Welsh Assembly regional election¹¹ or at a European parliamentary election¹², after any withdrawals under the appropriate rules¹³, exceeds the number of seats available for allocation, then, unless all of those persons are named on the same party list¹⁴, a poll must be taken in accordance with the rules¹⁵.

If, after any withdrawals under the appropriate rules at a local authority or London mayoral election¹⁶, two or more candidates remain validly nominated, a poll must be taken in accordance with the rules¹⁷.

If the number of persons remaining validly nominated after any withdrawals under the appropriate rules does not exceed the number of offices available to be filled in the election, such person or persons must be declared to be elected in accordance with the appropriate rules¹⁸.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/A. IN GENERAL/390. Poll to be taken by secret ballot.

390. Poll to be taken by secret ballot.

Polling takes place between the hours of seven in the morning and ten at night on the day of election¹, except in the case of a local authority mayoral election, when polling takes place between the hours of eight in the morning and nine at night on the day of election². At a poll consequent on a parish meeting, polling takes place between the hours of four in the afternoon and nine at night on the day fixed for the poll³. The votes at the poll at any such election⁴ must be given by ballot⁵.

The register of electors is conclusive as to certain questions in connection with a person's entitlement to vote⁶; and a person entitled to vote as an elector is entitled to vote by post or by proxy at the election if he is shown in the absent voters list for the election as so entitled⁷. A person registered as an elector or entered in the list of proxies must not be excluded from voting on the ground of legal incapacity⁸. If, however, an entry in the register shows that the person named will attain voting age on a given date and the date fixed for the poll falls before the date, the entry is conclusive that he is not entitled to be treated as an elector until the date given, and accordingly a ballot paper must not be delivered to him⁹. No misnomer or inaccurate description of any person or place named in the register affects the full operation of it with respect to that person or place in any case where the description of the person or place is such as to be commonly understood¹⁰.

No inquiry is permitted as to the right of any person to vote except so far as the voter may be asked the prescribed questions¹¹. No person who has voted at such an election may, in any legal proceeding to question the election, be required to state for whom he has voted¹². Nor may a person who has voted at a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting, in any legal proceedings to question such a poll, be required to say how or for whom he has voted¹³. It is an offence to obtain or attempt to obtain in a polling station information as to the candidate for whom a voter votes or to communicate information so obtained¹⁴. The returning officer¹⁵ must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that: (1) every person attending at a polling station (otherwise than for the purpose of voting or assisting a voter with disabilities (or a blind voter) to vote¹⁶ or as a constable on duty there)¹⁷; and (2) every person attending at the counting of the votes including those attending at the verification of ballot paper accounts at a European parliamentary election (otherwise than as a constable on duty at the counting or at any verification)¹⁸, has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to attendance at a polling station or at the counting of votes (as the case may be)¹⁹.

Votes which are given by post must also reach either the returning officer or the polling station by the close of poll: see PARA 425 post.

The provision set out in the text applies to a parliamentary election, an Authority election or an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. 391. Form and printing of ballot papers.

The ballot of every voter at an election¹ consists of a ballot paper² which must be in the prescribed form and must be printed in accordance with the prescribed directions³.

Those entitled to have their names inserted in the ballot paper are: (1) at a parliamentary, London Assembly constituency or Welsh Assembly constituency election, those persons shown in the statement of persons nominated as standing nominated for the constituency, and no others⁴; (2) at a local government election, those persons remaining validly nominated for the electoral area, after any withdrawals, and no others⁵; (3) at an election for the return of a local authority mayor or Mayor of London, those persons remaining validly nominated for election to the office of mayor, after any withdrawals, and no others⁶; (4) at a London Assembly London members election, after any withdrawals, each registered party whose party list includes persons who remain validly nominated as list candidates⁷ and the persons remaining validly nominated as individual candidates at that election⁸; (5) at a Welsh Assembly regional election, those persons shown in the statement of persons nominated as standing nominated (whether as individual or party list candidates), and no others⁹, and the registered political parties which have submitted a party list shown in the statement of persons nominated, and no others¹⁰; and (6) at a European parliamentary election, the registered parties, together with their candidates shown in the statement of parties and individual candidates nominated and the individual candidates so shown as standing nominated, and no others¹¹. There is authority to the effect that where the name of a candidate who had withdrawn was retained on a ballot paper, the election was avoided¹².

The ballot paper at an election¹³ must contain: (a) the names and other particulars¹⁴ of the individual candidates as shown in the statement of persons nominated, with the names in the order as shown in that statement¹⁵; and (b) in the case of a London Assembly London members election, a Welsh Assembly regional election or a European parliamentary election, the names (or descriptions) of the registered political parties together with the names of the candidates included on those parties' lists, with the descriptions (and, in respect of each such description of a registered political party, the names of the party list candidates) in the same order as in the statement of persons nominated¹⁶. At a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office, the ballot paper must contain full names, home addresses and, if required, descriptions of the candidates arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames and, if there are two or more of them with the same surname, of their other names¹⁷.

¹ ie at a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. In the case of a parliamentary election, the Secretary of State may in regulations prescribe a different form of ballot paper from that in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 Appendix, amend or replace the directions as to printing the ballot paper in the Appendix and, in consequence of anything done for those purposes, amend or replace in the Appendix the form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting: Sch 1 r 19(4) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 30(1), (2)). Provision is made also for the Secretary of State to make a pilot order for the purposes of enabling ballot papers issued at such local government elections as are specified in the order to contain photographs of the candidates and for any such scheme to be evaluated and to be applied on a permanent basis in relation to specified elections: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 32-34; and PARAS 516-518 post. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

Any amendment effected by ss 30, 31(1) or by Sch 1 paras 69, 93(1), (2), Sch 2 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

13 As to a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office see the text and note 17 infra.

14 In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election and a European parliamentary election, the descriptions of the individual candidates (rather than their particulars) are specified: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 24(3)(a); and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 21(2)(a).

If a request is duly made, the ballot paper must contain, against the particulars of a candidate who is the subject of a party's authorisation (see PARA 263 ante), the party's registered emblem (or, as the case may be, one of the party's registered emblems): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19(2A) (Sch 1 r 19(2A), (2B) added by the Registration of Political Parties Act 1998 s 13, Sch 2 para 4); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 15(3), Sch 2 r 16(5), Sch 3 r 16(4); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 16(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 23(5); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 16(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 16(3). Except in the case of a Welsh Assembly constituency election, such a request must be made in writing to the returning officer and be received by him during the period for delivery of nomination papers (as to which see PARA 267 ante): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19(2B) (as so added); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 15(4), Sch 2 r 16(6), Sch 3 r 16(5); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 16(5); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 16(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 16(4).

In the case of a London Assembly London members election, it is specified that, after the names of the registered parties alphabetically arranged, the names of the individual candidates must be arranged in order of their surnames and, if there are two or more of them with the same surname, of their other names: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 16(7). This reiterates the arrangement that is specified for the statement of persons nominated: see PARA 272 ante. In the case of an election of a local authority elected mayor or of the Mayor of London, it is specified that the names of the candidates must be arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames and, if there are two or more of them with the same surname, of their other names: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 16(6); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 16(6).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/A. IN GENERAL/392. Security measures associated with the ballot paper.

392. Security measures associated with the ballot paper.

The ballot paper to be used at a parliamentary election¹, or at local government elections for principal areas, parishes and communities², must have a number and other unique identifying mark printed on the back³ and the returning officer⁴ must prepare a list (the 'corresponding number list')⁵ containing the numbers and other unique identifying marks of all of the ballot papers which either are to be issued by him to those entitled to vote by post⁶ or are to be provided by him to each presiding officer for use at polling stations⁷. The ballot paper to be used at any other election⁸ must have a number printed on the back⁹ and must have attached a counterfoil with the same number printed on it¹⁰. At elections where voters may cast more than one vote, the ballot paper must have such other distinguishing features as may be specified¹¹.

The ballot paper to be used at any election must be capable of being folded up¹².

Every ballot paper to be used at a parliamentary election, or at local government elections for principal areas, parishes and communities, must contain an appropriate security marking (the official mark)¹³; at any other election, every ballot paper must be marked with an official mark which must perforate the ballot paper¹⁴. The official mark must be kept secret and the same mark may be used only subject to the following constraints¹⁵: (1) at a parliamentary election, an interval of not less than seven years must intervene between the use of the same official mark at elections for the same constituency¹⁶; (2) at a local government election or at a local authority mayoral election, an interval of not less than five years must intervene between the use of the same official mark for elections in the same county, county borough district, London borough, parish or community, or between the use of the same official mark at any Authority election, as the case may be¹⁷; (3) at a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office, the same official mark must not be used at consecutive polls in the same parish¹⁸; (4) at a Welsh Assembly election, an interval of not less than seven years must intervene between the use of the same official mark at elections for the same Assembly constituency or, in relation to the same Assembly constituency, at elections in the same Assembly electoral region¹⁹; and (5) at a European parliamentary election, an interval of not less than seven years must intervene between the use of the same official mark at elections for the same local counting area²⁰. The returning officer at a parliamentary election, or at local government elections for principal areas, parishes and communities, may use a different official mark for different purposes at the same election²¹; at any other election, it is specified that the official mark used for ballot papers issued for the purpose of voting by post must not be used at the same election for ballot papers issued for the purpose of voting in person²².

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to the form and printing of ballot papers see PARA 391 ante.

2 As to the ordinary election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante; and as to ordinary elections of councillors for parishes or communities see PARA 207 et seq ante. As to London Authority elections see the text and notes 8-11 infra. For the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 19(2)(c) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 87); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 16(2)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 16(2)(c).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 31 or Sch 1 paras 69, 87 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

4 As to the returning officer at parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; and as to the returning officer appointed for the purposes of local government elections see PARA 359 et seq ante.

5 For the purposes of a parliamentary election, the list must be in such form as the Secretary of State in regulations prescribes: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19A(2) (Sch 1 r 19A added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 31(1), (2)). As to the commencement of this provision see note 3 supra. Accordingly, the form of the corresponding number list to be prepared by a returning officer under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19A (as added) must be in the form set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 (Form L1: corresponding number list for use at parliamentary election taken alone) (added by SI 2006/2910): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 63A(1) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante. When a parliamentary election is combined with another poll under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15 (as amended) (see PARAS 21-22 ante) or under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2) (provision for the combination of polls at elections for the return of elected mayors and at elections for the return of elected executive members: see PARA 26 ante) or under s 45(6) (provision for the combination of polls at referendums with polls at any elections: see PARA 27 ante), the corresponding number list to be prepared by a returning officer under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19A (as added) must be in the form set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 (Form M1: corresponding number list for use when parliamentary election combined with a relevant election or referendum) (added by SI 2006/2910): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 63A(3) (added by SI 2006/2910). The regulation refers to polls that are combined under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2) or s 44(6), but it is submitted that a reference to s 45(6) is intended.

For the purposes of local government elections for principal areas, the corresponding number list must be in the appropriate form, or a form to like effect (see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 17(2), Appendix of Forms (Form L1: corresponding number list to be used at a local government election taken alone)); and where such elections are taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form M1: corresponding number list to be used when a local government election is combined with another election/referendum). For the purposes of local government elections for parishes and communities, the corresponding number list must be in the appropriate form, or a form to like effect (see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 17(2), Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form L1: corresponding number list to be used at a parish or community election taken alone)); and where such elections are taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form M1: corresponding number list to be used when a parish or community election is combined with another election/referendum).

The amendments effected by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, do not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

6 I.e., in relation to a parliamentary election, in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(1) (as substituted) or, in relation to a local government election for a principal area, in pursuance of the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(1) or, in relation to a local government election for a parish or community council, in pursuance of the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(1) (see PARA 411 post).

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19A(1) (as added: see note 5 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 17(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 17(1). See note 3 supra. The text refers to ballot papers to be provided by the returning officer to each presiding officer, in relation to a parliamentary election, in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(1) or, in relation to a local government election for a principal area, in pursuance of the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(1) or, in relation to a local government election for a parish or community council, in pursuance of the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(1) (see PARA 396 post). As to presiding officers at an election see PARA 398 post.

8 I.e. at an Authority election or an election under the local government Act (see ibid s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered. For the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

11 Generally, where the polls at elections are taken together, the ballot papers must be of a different colour for each election: see the rules cited at para 16 et seq ante.

The ballot papers at an ordinary London Authority election must be of different colours according to whether the election is to be held under the constituency member election rules, the London member election rules or the mayoral election rules: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 4 r 2(1). Where, at an ordinary election at which two (or more) polls are to be taken together, the votes are to be counted electronically, the Greater London returning officer may determine that two or more ballot papers are to appear on the same sheet of paper: Sch 4 r 2(2). As to the wording of headings of ballot papers at ordinary elections see Sch 4 r 2(3), (4). For the meaning of the 'Greater London returning officer' see PARA 218 note 7 ante; and for the meanings of 'constituency member election rules', 'London member election rules' and 'mayoral election rules' see PARA 388 ante. In the case of an election of the Mayor of London, it is specified that the ballot paper must be of a different colour from that of any ballot papers used at any other election for which the poll is taken together with that at the election: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 16(3)(a).

Where a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting on the question of appointment to any office and a poll on any other question (as to which see PARA 558 et seq post) are taken together, ballot papers of a different colour must be used for each poll: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 4(3).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly ordinary election, where a voter is entitled to give two votes, the ballot paper for each vote must be of a different colour: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 25. At a Welsh Assembly regional election, the ballot paper must also bear a mark or other distinguishing feature by which the Assembly constituency can be identified in which the vote is to be given in relation to the ballot paper: Sch 5 para 24(3)(d).

Any amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 88 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

As to voting by post see PARA 411 et seq post. The restriction set out in the text does not apply at a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office (where no provision is made for postal voting). At a Welsh Assembly election, the restriction applies both at a constituency election and at a regional election (in relation to an Assembly constituency within the Assembly electoral region): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 26(3). At a regional election, a different official mark may be used in Assembly constituencies in an Assembly electoral region but only one such mark may be used in an Assembly constituency at a regional election (Sch 5 para 26(4)); and at an ordinary election the same official mark may be used at a constituency election and a regional election in relation to regional votes given in the same Assembly constituency (Sch 5 para 26(5)).

NOTE 5--The regulation now refers to polls that are combined under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44 or s 45: SI 2001/341 reg 63A(3) (amended by SI 2007/1025).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/A. IN GENERAL/393. Notice of poll.

393. Notice of poll.

In the statement of persons nominated¹ at an election², except a local government election³, the appropriate returning officer⁴ must include a notice of the poll, stating the day on which and hours during which the poll will be taken⁵.

At a local government election (but including, of the Authority elections, only a London Assembly constituency election), the returning officer must publish the notice of poll not later than the sixth day before the day of election⁶ and such notice must state not only the day and hours fixed for the poll⁷ but also the particulars of each candidate remaining validly nominated (the names and other particulars of the candidates, and the order of the names of the candidates, being the same as in the statement of persons nominated)⁸, and (except for London Assembly constituency elections) the number of councillors to be elected⁹ and the names of all persons signing a candidate's nomination paper¹⁰. In the case of a London Assembly London members election, the Greater London returning officer must publish the notice of poll not later than the sixth day before the day of election¹¹ and such notice must state the day and hours fixed for the poll¹², the number of seats for London members available for allocation at that election¹³, the names of each registered party whose party list includes persons who remain validly nominated as list candidates¹⁴, and particulars of each individual candidate remaining validly nominated¹⁵, with the names of the registered parties alphabetically arranged, followed by the names of the individual candidates arranged in order of their surnames and, if there are two or more of them with the same surname, of their other names¹⁶. The returning officer at a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office must, not later than the fifth day before the day of the poll¹⁷, give public notice of the poll which refers to the parish or meeting at which a poll was demanded¹⁸. Such notice must state the day and hours fixed for the poll¹⁹, the name of the office, the number of vacancies and the particulars of each candidate who has not withdrawn (the order of the candidates and the particulars being the same as in the ballot papers) and the name of the proposer of each candidate²⁰. At a local authority or London mayoral election, the returning officer must publish notice of the poll not later than the sixth day before the day of election²¹ stating the day and hours fixed for the poll and the particulars of each candidate remaining validly nominated²², with the names of the candidates arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames and, if there are two or more of them with the same surname, of their other names²³.

At any election, the returning officer must also give public notice of the situation of each polling station and the description of voters entitled to vote at that station²⁴ and (at elections where election agents are appointed) he must as soon as practicable after giving such a notice give a copy of it to each of the election agents²⁵.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for giving the notice of poll²⁶.

1 As to the statement of persons nominated see PARA 272 ante.

2 I.e. at a parliamentary election or an Authority election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. At a parliamentary election, the notice referred to in the text may be combined with the statement of persons nominated: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 23(2). In the case of a local government election (including London Authority elections) or a local authority mayoral election, the notice must be given not later than the time of the publication of the notice of the poll: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 19(2), Sch 2 r 20(2), Sch 3 r 20(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 20(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 21(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 21(3). In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, the constituency returning officer for each Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region must prepare and publish the notice of poll (which may be combined with the statement of persons nominated) setting out the situation of each polling station in the Assembly constituency for which he is returning officer and the description of voters entitled to vote there: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 29(3). At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election, the notices so prepared by a constituency returning officer for the purposes of a constituency election and a regional election may be combined: Sch 5 para 29(4). At a European parliamentary election, the notice referred to in the text is given by the local returning officer and in respect of each local counting area or part of an area contained in the electoral region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 25(2). For the meaning of 'local counting area' see PARA 230 note 11 ante. As to local returning officers appointed for the purposes of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 365 ante.

25 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 23(2) (as amended: see note 24 supra); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 19(2), Sch 2 r 20(2), Sch 3 r 20(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 20(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 29(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 25(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 21(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 21(3). In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, the constituency returning officer for each Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region must, as soon as practicable after publishing the notice of poll, give a copy of it to each of the election agents and deliver, or cause to be delivered, a copy of it to the regional returning officer: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 29(3).

NOTES--SI 2002/185 reg 3(1), Sch 1 rr 3, 16, 20 now Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1024, reg 3(1), Sch 1 rr 3, 18, 23.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/A. IN GENERAL/394. Issue of official poll cards.

394. Issue of official poll cards.

The returning officer at a parliamentary election¹, a local government election², a local authority mayoral election³, a Welsh Assembly election⁴ or a European parliamentary election⁵ must, as soon as practicable⁶, send an official poll card to electors and their proxies⁷. However, except at parliamentary elections or at local government elections for principal areas, parishes and communities, such a card need not be sent to any person as an elector if he is placed on the absent voters list⁸ for the election or to any person as a proxy if he is entitled to vote by post as proxy⁹ at the election¹⁰. In relation to a parliamentary or European parliamentary election, a card must not be sent to any person registered, or to be registered, in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration¹¹.

An elector's official poll card must be sent or delivered to his qualifying address and a proxy's card to his address as shown in the list of proxies¹². The official poll card must set out the name of the electoral division to which it relates (and/or, as the case may be, the election to which it relates)¹³, the elector's name, qualifying address and number on the register¹⁴, and the date and hours of the poll and situation of the elector's polling station¹⁵. In relation to a parliamentary election, the official poll card must also set out such other information as is prescribed¹⁶ and, in relation to such an election and a local government election for a principal area, parish or community, it must set out such other information as the returning officer thinks appropriate¹⁷; and different information may be so provided to different electors or descriptions of elector¹⁸.

The official poll card must be in the prescribed form or a form to the like effect¹⁹. In circumstances when the polls at elections or referendums are taken together, the official poll card may be combined²⁰.

The issue of any poll card, or any document so closely resembling an official poll card as to be calculated to deceive, is an offence at certain elections and an illegal practice²¹.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to returning officers for local government elections (including local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante. In relation to a London Authority election, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante). There is no provision for poll cards to be issued for the purposes of a poll consequent on a parish meeting (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante).

3 As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante; and as to returning officers for such elections see PARA 359 et seq ante.

4 I.e. the constituency returning officer at an ordinary election where an elector is entitled to give two votes, or at an Assembly election (other than an ordinary election where an elector is entitled to give two votes): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 33(1). For the meaning of 'constituency returning officer' in this context see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

5 I.e. the local returning officer for the European parliamentary election (see PARA 365 et seq ante). As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

6 I.e. in the case of a parliamentary election or local government election, as soon as practicable after the publication of notice of the election: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(1) (substituted by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 70(1), (2)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 25(1). As to publication of notice of the election at a parliamentary election see PARA 203 ante; and as to publication of the notice for a local government election see PARA 218 ante.

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 70 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(1) (as substituted: see note 6 supra); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 23(1), Sch 2 r 24(1), Sch 3 r 24(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 24(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 25(2). Where the poll at a parish or community election is not to be taken together with the poll at some other election, the returning officer acts only after receiving a request to issue official poll cards for that election from the council of the parish or community, such a request having to be made not later than noon on the nineteenth day before the day of election: Sch 2 r 25(1). In the case of an elector with an anonymous entry, the returning officer must issue an official poll card in the appropriate form (as to which see note 19 infra) to every such elector or to his proxy (if appointed) whether or not the local council of the parish or community makes such a request (Sch 2 r 25(5)(a)); and in the case of such an elector the official poll card must be sent in an envelope or other form of covering so as not to disclose that the elector has an anonymous entry in the register (Sch 2 r 25(5)(c)). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

For the meaning of 'elector' by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 28(4) see PARA 262 note 5 ante; by virtue of the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(5) and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 25(6) see PARA 262 note 14 ante; and by virtue of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(4) see PARA 335 note 10 ante.

For these purposes, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, 'elector' means a person who is registered as a local government elector, in relation to a constituency election, in the Assembly constituency in a register to be used at the election or, in relation to a regional election, in the Assembly electoral region in a register to be used at the election, or who, pending publication of the register, appears from the electors' lists for that register, as corrected by the registration officer, to be entitled to be so registered: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 r 33(8). Accordingly, for these purposes, the definition includes a person shown in the register of electors' lists as below voting age if it appears from it that he will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll, but not otherwise: Sch 5 r 33(8). 'Electoral number' means a person's number in the register to be used at the election except that before publication of the register his number (if any) in the electors' lists for that register must be used instead: Sch 5 r 33(8).

8 As to the absent voters list see PARA 378 ante.

9 As to proxies entitled to vote by post see PARA 387 ante.

10 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23(1), Sch 2 r 24(1), Sch 3 r 24(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 24(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(1)(i), (ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(1).

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(1A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 70(1), (2)); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(1). As to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration and a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration see PARA 129 et seq ante.

As to the commencement of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(1A) (as added) see note 6 supra. Until the commencement of that provision, the wording set out in the text and note 11 is cited under Sch 1 r 28(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 4, 11, Sch 2 Pt I para 6).

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23(2), Sch 2 r 24(2), Sch 3 r 24(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 24(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 25(3).

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3)(a); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23(3)(a), Sch 2 r 24(3)(a), Sch 3 r 24(3)(a); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 24(3)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(3)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(3)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(3)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 25(4)(a).

In relation to a parliamentary election, the name of the constituency is set out: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3)(a). In relation to a local government election, the name of the council and (where appropriate) the name of the electoral division or ward to which councillors are to be elected are set out: Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(3)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 25(4)(a). In relation to a London Assembly constituency election, the name of the Assembly constituency for which a constituency member is to be elected is set out (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23(3)(a)); but, in relation to an election of London members of the London Assembly or of the London Mayor (which apply to the London Assembly area as a whole) the poll card must set out that the election is of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election (Sch 2 r 24(3)(a)) or that the election is a mayoral election, as the case may be (Sch 3 r 24(3)(a)). In relation to a local authority mayoral election, the name of the local authority to which the election relates must be set out together with the fact that the election is a mayoral election: Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 24(3)(a), (b). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the name of the Assembly constituency or electoral region for which the election is to be held, or, in the case of an ordinary election where there are contested elections for an Assembly constituency and electoral region, both such areas, are set out: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(3)(a). In relation to a European parliamentary election, the name of the electoral region must be set out: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(3)(a).

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23(3)(b), Sch 2 r 24(3)(b), Sch 3 r 24(3)(b); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 24(3)(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(3)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(3)(b); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(3)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 25(4)(b).

In the case of an elector at a parliamentary election with an anonymous entry, instead of containing the elector's name, qualifying address and number on the register, as mentioned in the text, the polling card must contain such matter as is prescribed: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 14(1), (3)). For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

In the case of an elector with an anonymous entry at a local government election for a principal area, instead of containing the elector's name, qualifying address and number on the register, as mentioned in the text, the polling card must contain such matter as is specified in the appropriate form (as to which see note 19 infra): Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(4). In the case of an elector with an anonymous entry at a local government election for a parish or community council, instead of containing the elector's name and qualifying address, as mentioned in the text, the polling card must contain the elector's number and such other matter as is specified in the appropriate form (as to which see note 19 infra): Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 25(5) (b).

15 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3)(c); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23(3)(c), Sch 2 r 24(3)(c), Sch 3 r 24(3)(c); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 24(3)(d); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(3)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(3)(c); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(3)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 25(4)(c). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the official poll card must set such other information, not relating to any candidate or registered political party, as the constituency returning officer considers appropriate: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(3)(d).

16 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3)(d) (Sch 1 r 28(3)(d), (e) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 70(1), (3)). As to the commencement of this provision see note 6 supra. For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made.

17 Ibid Sch 1 r 28(3)(e) (as added: see note 16 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(3)(d); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 25(4)(d). See note 6 supra.

18 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 70(1), (3)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 25(4). See note 6 supra.

19 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 28(3); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 23(3), Sch 2 r 24(3), Sch 3 r 24(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 24(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(4)-(7); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 29(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 25(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 25(4).

For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). As to the regulations made see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 9(1), (2), Sch 3 (Form A: official poll card (to be sent to an elector voting in person)) (reg 9(1), (2), Sch 3 (Form A) substituted by SI 2006/2910); the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 9(1), (3), Sch 3 (Form A1: official postal poll card (to be sent to an elector voting by post)) (reg 9(1), (3) substituted, and Sch 3 (Form A1) added, by SI 2006/2910); the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 9(1), (4), Sch 3 (Form B: official proxy poll card (to be sent to an appointed proxy voting in person)) (reg 9(1), Sch 3 (Form B) substituted, and reg 9(4) added, by SI 2006/2910); and the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 9(1), (5), Sch 3 (Form B1: official proxy postal poll card (to be sent to an appointed proxy voting by post)) (reg 9(1) substituted, and reg 9(5), Sch 3 (Form B1) added, by SI 2006/2910).

In relation to a local government election see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (official poll card, official postal poll card, official proxy poll card, official proxy postal poll card), and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (official poll card, official postal poll card, official proxy poll card, official proxy postal poll card) (where such a poll is taken together with another relevant election or referendum); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (official poll card, official postal poll card, official proxy poll card, official proxy postal poll card), and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (official poll card, official postal poll card, official proxy poll card, official proxy postal poll card) (where such a poll is taken together with another relevant election or referendum). Combined poll cards for London Authority ordinary elections must be issued in the appropriate form: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 4 r 5. As to the forms in use for such elections and for the purposes of other constituency member and mayoral elections see r 4, Sch 5 (Form 10: elector's official poll card) (amended by SI 2001/3789); and the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 5 (Form 11: proxy's official poll card) (amended by SI 2001/3789; SI 2005/2114). As to the filling of vacancies in London member seats see PARA 206 ante.

In relation to a local authority mayoral election, see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (Form 6: elector's official poll card); and the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (Form 7: proxy's official poll card) (Form 7 amended by SI 2005/2114).

In relation to a Welsh Assembly election:

- 62 (1) at an ordinary election where an elector is entitled to give two votes, the official poll card issued to an elector must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 Appendix of Forms (Form of elector's pollcard referred to in PARAGRAPH 33(4)) (Sch 5 para 33(4));
- 63 (2) where head (1) supra does not apply, the official poll card issued to an elector must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 5 Appendix of Forms (Form of elector's pollcard referred to in PARAGRAPH 33(5)) (Sch 5 para 33(5));
- 64 (3) at an ordinary election where an elector is entitled to give two votes, the official poll card issued to the proxy of an elector must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 5 Appendix of Forms (Form of elector's pollcard referred to in PARAGRAPH 33(6)) (amended by SI 2005/2114) (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(6)); and
- 65 (4) at an Assembly election where head (3) supra does not apply, the official poll card issued to the proxy of an elector must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 5 Appendix of Forms (Form of elector's pollcard referred to in PARAGRAPH 33(7)) (amended by SI 2005/2114)

(National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 33(7)).

In relation to a European parliamentary election, see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (elector's official poll card); and Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (proxy's official poll card) (amended by SI 2005/2114).

Where such elections take place in Wales see also the forms issued partly in English and partly in Welsh in the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/562, art 2, Schedule Pt III (elector's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol yr etholwr; proxy's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol y dirprwy) (amended by SI 1995/830; SI 2005/2114); and the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/561, art 2, Schedule Pt III (elector's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol yr etholwr; proxy's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol y dirprwy) (amended by SI 1995/830; SI 2005/2114).

Where such an election is held together with another election or referendum, see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233, art 3, Schedule Pt 2 (elector's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol yr etholwr; proxy's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol y dirprwy) (amended by SI 2005/2114); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234, art 3, Schedule Pt 2 (elector's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol yr etholwr; proxy's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol y dirprwy) (amended by SI 2005/2114). See also the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1373, art 6, Sch 2 (Form 2: elector's official poll card; Form 3: proxy's official poll card); the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, art 6, Sch 2 (Form 5: elector's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol yr etholwr); and the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, Sch 2 (Form 6: proxy's official poll card, cerdyn pleidleisio swyddogol y dirprwy) (amended by SI 2005/3470).

20 As to polls at elections or referendums which are taken together see PARA 16 et seq ante.

B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION

395. Provision and allotment of polling stations.

At any election¹, the appropriate returning officer² must provide a sufficient number of polling stations and allot the electors³ to the polling stations in such manner as he thinks most convenient, subject to the following requirements⁴.

At a parliamentary, Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the polling station allotted to the electors from any polling district must be in the polling place for that district⁵. At a local government or local authority mayoral election, the polling station allotted to electors from any parliamentary polling district wholly or partly within the electoral area⁶ (or, as the case may be, London Assembly constituency⁷) must, in the absence of special circumstances, be in the parliamentary polling place for that district unless the polling place is outside the electoral area (or, as the case may be, London Assembly constituency)⁸. At a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office, the polling station allotted to electors from any parliamentary polling district wholly or partly within the parish must, in the absence of special circumstances, be in the parliamentary polling place for that district, unless the polling place is outside the parish⁹.

One or more polling stations may be provided in the same room¹⁰. The returning officer must provide each polling station with such number of compartments as may be necessary in which the voters can mark their votes screened from observation¹¹.

The returning officer may use free of charge for the purpose of taking the poll: (1) a room in a school maintained or assisted by a local education authority¹² or a school in respect of which grants are made out of money provided by Parliament (or by the National Assembly for Wales, as the case may be) to the person or body of persons responsible for the management of the school¹³; or (2) a room the expense of maintaining which is payable out of any rate¹⁴. At a local government election or at a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office or at a local authority mayoral election, such a room may also be used for the purpose of counting the votes¹⁵. The returning officer must make good any damage done to, and defray any expense incurred by the persons having control over, any such room by reason of its being used for such purpose (or purposes, as the case may be)¹⁶.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made as to which polling stations are to be used¹⁷.

1 le at a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purpose, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; as to returning officers for local government elections (including local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante; and as to the returning officer at a poll consequent on parish meeting see PARA 361 ante. In the case of European parliamentary elections, the appropriate returning officer is the local returning officer: see PARA 365 et seq ante. In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante). For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the appropriate returning officer is, in relation to both a constituency and regional election, a constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante).

3 For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 124 note 4 ante; and, in relation to European parliamentary election, see PARA 125 note 5 ante.

In relation to a local authority mayoral election, and any London Authority election, the provision set out in head (2) in the text applies to a room the expense of maintaining which is met by any local authority: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 18(1)(b), Sch 2 r 19(1)(b), Sch 3 r 19(1)(b); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 19(1)(b). At a Welsh Assembly election, the provision set out in head (2) in the text applies to a room the expense of maintaining which is payable wholly or mainly out of public funds: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 28(1)(b).

For the purposes of determining rateable occupation, a hereditament is to be treated as unoccupied if it would otherwise be treated as occupied by reason only, if it is a house, of the use of a room in it by a returning officer for the purpose of taking the poll in a parliamentary or local government election: see the Local Government Finance Act 1988 s 65(6); and RATING AND COUNCIL TAX vol 39(1B) (Reissue) PARA 13. For the meaning of 'hereditament' in this context see RATING AND COUNCIL TAX vol 39(1B) (Reissue) PARA 33 et seq. The Local Government Finance Act 1988 s 65(6) has been applied with slight modification for the purposes of both a Welsh Assembly election (see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 146) and a European parliamentary election (see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 125). At a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to any office, the use of a room in an unoccupied house for such purpose or purposes as are mentioned in the text does not render a person liable to be rated or to pay any rate for the house (Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 7(3)); and, in relation to a local authority mayoral election and any London Authority election, the use of a room in an unoccupied heridament for such purpose or purposes as are mentioned in the text does not render a person liable to any payment by way of council tax or non-domestic rate in respect of that heridament and any day on which it is so used (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 18(3), Sch 2 r 19(3), Sch 3 r 19(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 19(2)).

At a London Authority election, the provision set out in the text applies only in the case of an election to fill a vacancy in the office of London Mayor: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 19(3).

NOTES--SI 2002/185 reg 3(1), Sch 1 rr 19, 22 now Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1024, reg 3(1), Sch 1 rr 22, 25.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/396. Equipment of polling stations.

396. Equipment of polling stations.

At any election¹, the appropriate returning officer² must provide each presiding officer³ with such number of ballot boxes and ballot papers as in the returning officer's opinion may be necessary⁴. Every ballot box must be so constructed that the ballot papers can be put in it, but cannot be withdrawn from it, without the box being unlocked (or, where the box has no lock, without the seal being broken)⁵.

The returning officer also must provide each polling station⁶ with:

- 462 (1) materials to enable voters to mark the ballot papers⁷;
- 463 (2) in relation to a parliamentary election or a local government election for a principal area, parish or community, a list consisting of that part of the corresponding number list⁸ which contains the numbers (but not the other unique identifying marks) corresponding to those on the ballot papers provided to the presiding officer of the polling station⁹;
- 464 (3) in relation to any election except an election that is mentioned in head (2) above, instruments for stamping on the ballot papers the official mark¹⁰;
- 465 (4) copies of the relevant register of electors or such part of it as contains the names of (or, in the case of a parliamentary election, the entries relating to) the electors allotted to the station¹¹; and
- 466 (5) the parts of any special lists prepared for the election corresponding to the relevant register of electors or the part of it provided under head (4) above¹².

The following notices must be displayed or exhibited:

- 467 (a) a notice in the specified form, giving directions for the guidance of the voters in voting¹³, must be printed in conspicuous characters and exhibited inside and outside every polling station¹⁴;
- 468 (b) in every compartment of every polling station¹⁵, there must be exhibited the statutory notice which instructs voters how many votes they may give at the election¹⁶; and
- 469 (c) (except at polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office) the returning officer must also provide each polling station with at least one large version of the ballot paper which must be displayed inside the polling station for the assistance of voters who are partially-sighted¹⁷.

In the case of a London Assembly London members election or European parliamentary election, notice of the death of a candidate must also be displayed¹⁸; and, at a Welsh Assembly election, the statement of persons nominated must also be printed in conspicuous characters and exhibited inside and outside every polling station¹⁹.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made as to the equipment of polling stations²⁰.

¹ In the case of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purpose, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; as to returning officers for local government elections (including local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante; and as to the returning officer at a poll consequent on parish meeting see PARA 361 ante. In the case of European parliamentary elections, the appropriate returning officer is the local returning officer: see PARA 365 et seq ante. In the case of a London Authority election, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante), although the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante) also has duties where specified. For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the appropriate returning officer in this context is, in relation to both a constituency and regional election, a constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante).

3 As to the appointment of presiding officers and their clerks see PARA 398 post.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 29(1); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 11(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 24(1), Sch 2 r 25(1), Sch 3 r 25(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 25(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 34(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 30(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 26(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 26(1).

At a London Authority ordinary election, the ballot papers must, as the Greater London returning officer may decide, be placed either in a single ballot box or in separate ballot boxes according to whether the votes given on them are cast in the election under the constituency members election rules, the London members election rules or the mayoral election rules (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 4 r 6(1)), although it is specified in the mayoral election rules that the same ballot box is to be used at an ordinary election for the ballot papers containing the constituency vote, the London vote and the mayoral vote (Sch 3 r 25(2)). As to the constituency members election rules, the London members election rules and the mayoral election rules see PARA 388 ante.

At a Welsh Assembly election, the constituency returning officer is responsible for equipping the polling stations: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(1); and note 2 supra. Where at an ordinary election electors are entitled to give two votes the same ballot box must be used for the receipt of ballot papers in respect of votes given at each election: Sch 5 para 34(2).

6 As to the provision and allotment of polling stations see PARA 395 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(a); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 11(3)(a); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(3)(a), Sch 2 r 25(3)(a), Sch 3 r 25(4)(a); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(3)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(4)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(3)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(3)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(3)(a).

Except at polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, the returning officer must also provide each polling station with a device (or devices, for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election) of such description as may be prescribed for enabling voters who are blind or partially-sighted to vote without any need for assistance from the presiding officer or any companion: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3A)(b) (r 29(3A) added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 13(1), (2)); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(4)(b) (Sch 1 r 24(4) substituted by SI 2004/227); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 25(4)(b) (Sch 2 r 25(4) substituted by SI 2004/227); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 25(5)(b) (Sch 3 r 25(5) substituted by SI 2004/227); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(4)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(5)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(4)(b); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(5)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(5)(b). Under the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: 202(1). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

The device must be capable of allowing a ballot paper to be inserted into and removed from it (or attached to and detached from it) easily and without damage to the paper: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 12(1), (2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(5)(a) (Sch 1 r 24(5) added by SI 2004/227); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 25(5)(a) (Sch 2 r 25(5) added by SI 2004/227); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 25(6)(a) (Sch 3 r 25(6) added by SI 2004/227); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(5); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(9)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(9)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(9)(a).

Except in the case of a local government or European parliamentary election, it is specified that on the right-hand side of the device there must be tabs of equal size which:

- 66 (1) must all be capable of being positioned on the ballot paper so that each one is above one of the spaces to the right of the particulars of the candidates on which the vote is to be marked (the 'relevant space') (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 12(1), (3), (4); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(6), (7); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(7), (8));
- 67 (2) must each be numbered, with each number on a tab being in raised form and capable of being clearly identified by touch, so that, when the device is positioned over a ballot paper, the number of each tab corresponds to that of the candidate whose particulars are to the left of the relevant space covered by the tab in question (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 12(1), (3), (5), (6); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(6), (8), (9); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(7), (9), (10)); and
- 68 (3) must each be capable of being lifted so as to reveal the relevant space and so that there is sufficient room to allow a voter to mark a cross on that space (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 12(1), (3), (7); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(6), (10); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(7), (11)).

At a Welsh Assembly election, under head (1) supra, the tabs must be capable of being positioned on the ballot paper so that each one is above one of the spaces, in the case of a constituency election, to the right of the particulars of the candidates or, in the case of a regional election, above the descriptions of the registered political parties or, as the case may be, the particulars of individual candidates, on which the vote is to be marked (the 'relevant space'): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(8).

At a local government or European parliamentary election, instead of heads (1)-(3) supra, it is specified merely that the device must also: (a) keep the ballot paper firmly in place during use (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(9)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(5)(b) (as so added), Sch 2 r 25(5)(b) (as so added), Sch 3 r 25(6)(b) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(9)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(9)(b)); and (b) provide suitable means for the voter to: (i) identify the spaces on the ballot paper on which he may mark his vote (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(9)(c)(i); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(5)(c)(i) (as so added), Sch 2 r 25(5)(c)(i) (as so added), Sch 3 r 25(6)(c)(i) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(9)(c)(i); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(9)(c)(i); (ii) identify the individual candidate (or, as the case may be, registered party) to which each such space refers (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(9)(c)(ii); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(5)(c)(ii) (as so added), Sch 2 r 25(5)(c)(ii) (as so added), Sch 3 r 25(6)(c)(ii) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(9)(c)(ii); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(9)(c)(ii); and (iii) mark his vote on the space he has chosen (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(9)(c)(iii); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(5)(c)(iii) (as so added), Sch 2 r 25(5)(c)(iii) (as so added), Sch 3 r 25(6)(c)(iii) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(9)(c)(iii); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(9)(c)(iii)).

8 le the list prepared, in relation to a parliamentary election, under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19A (as added) or, in relation to a local government election for a principal area, under the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 17 or, in relation to a local government election for a parish or community council, under the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 17 (see PARA 392 ante).

In relation to a parliamentary election, the form of the corresponding number list to be prepared by a returning officer for these purposes must be in the form set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 (Form L2: corresponding number list for use in polling station at parliamentary election taken alone) (added by SI 2006/2910): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 63A(2) (added by SI 2006/2910). When a parliamentary election is combined with another poll under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15 (as amended) (see PARAS 21-22 ante) or under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2) (provision for the combination of polls at elections for the return of elected mayors and at elections for the return of elected executive members: see PARA 26 ante) or under s 45(6) (provision for the combination of polls at referendums with polls at any elections: see PARA 27 ante), the corresponding number list to be prepared by a returning officer for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(e) (as added) must be in the form set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 (Form M2: corresponding number list for use in polling station when parliamentary election combined with a relevant election or referendum) (added by SI 2006/2910): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 63A(4) (added by SI 2006/2910). The regulation refers to polls that are combined under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2) or s 44(6), but it is submitted that a reference to s 45(6) is intended. The amendments effected by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, do not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

For the purposes of local government elections for principal areas, the corresponding number list must be in the appropriate form, or a form to like effect: see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 17(2), Appendix of Forms (Form L2: corresponding number list to be used in polling stations at a local government election taken alone); and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form M2: corresponding number list to be used in polling stations when a local government election is combined with another election/referendum). For the purposes of local government elections for parishes and communities, the corresponding number list must be in the appropriate form, or a form to like effect: see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 17(2), Appendix of Forms (Form L2: corresponding number list to be used in polling stations at a parish or community election taken alone); and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form M2: corresponding number list to be used in polling stations when a parish or community election is combined with another election/referendum).

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(e) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 31(1), (3)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(3)(d); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(3)(d). As to security measures associated with the ballot paper see PARA 392 ante; and as to presiding officers at an election see PARA 398 post.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 31 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

10 Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 11(3)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(3)(b), Sch 2 r 25(3)(b), Sch 3 r 25(4)(b); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(3)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(4)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(3)(b). As to the official mark see PARA 392 ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(c) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 14(1), (4)); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 11(3)(c); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(3)(c), Sch 2 r 25(3)(c), Sch 3 r 25(4)(c); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(3)(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(4)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(3)(c); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(3)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(3)(b).

For the purposes of a parliamentary election or a local government election for a principal area, parish or community, the reference in head (4) in the text to the copies of the registers of electors includes a reference to copies of any notices issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante), specifying appropriate alterations to the register: Sch 1 r 29(6) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(6), Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 34); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(4).

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 34 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(d); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24(3)(d), Sch 2 r 25(3)(d), Sch 3 r 25(4)(d); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(3)(d); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 34(4)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(3)(d); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(3)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(3)(c). The provision set out in head (4) in the text does not apply to polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office. As to the preparation of special lists as mentioned in the text see PARAS 378, 386 ante.

Any amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 93 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

In the case of a local government election, see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting where the poll is on a question of appointment to an office) (amended by SI 1987/262); the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting) and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting) (where a poll is taken together with another relevant election or referendum); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting) and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting) (where a poll is taken together with another relevant election or referendum).

In the case of a London Authority election, notices for the guidance of voters must be prepared by the Greater London returning officer, complying with the requirements of the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 9, Sch 12 (added by SI 2004/227), and he must provide the notices to the constituency returning officer to be exhibited outside every polling station and inside every polling station: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24A(1)(a), (b), (2), (3) (Sch 1 r 24A added by SI 2004/227), Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 25A(1)(a), (b), (2), (3) (Sch 2 r 25A added by SI 2004/227), Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 25A(1)(a), (b), (2), (3) (Sch 3 r 25A added by SI 2004/227). The Greater London returning officer may, in addition, also prepare versions in Braille or languages other than English that are accurate translations of any such notice and provide any such notice upon request to a constituency returning officer, at whose discretion they may be exhibited either outside the polling station or inside the polling station: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24A(4), (5), (6)(a), (b) (as so added), Sch 2 r 25A(4), (5), (6)(a), (b) (as so added), Sch 3 r 25A(4), (5), (6)(a), (b) (as so added). At a London Authority ordinary election, it is specified that all notices must be in the appropriate form: see Sch 4 r 6(2). Accordingly, see Sch 5 (Form 13: Notices for guidance of voters at ordinary elections (where there are more than two candidates for the office of Mayor); Notice C--for display inside polling stations).

In relation to a local authority mayoral election, see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 25(11)(a), Appendix of Forms (Form 8: Notice for guidance of voters).

At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election where there are contested elections for an Assembly constituency and for the Assembly electoral region in which the constituency is situated, the notice must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for guidance of the voters in voting referred to in PARAGRAPH 34(12)): Sch 5 para 34(12). Where there is a contested election for an Assembly constituency but there is no such election for the Assembly electoral region in which the constituency is situated, or where there is a contested election for an Assembly electoral region but there is no such election for an Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region, the notice must be in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 5 Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for guidance of the voters in voting referred to in PARAGRAPH 34(13) and (14)): Sch 5 para 34(13), (14).

At a European parliamentary election, the notice must in the form specified in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (Form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting).

In relation to elections taking place in Wales, see the forms prescribed for use in the appropriate language (or languages) in the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/561, art 2, Schedule Pt I (directions for the guidance of the voters in voting, cyfarwyddyd i bleidleiswyr wrth bleidleisio); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/562, art 2, Schedule Pt I (directions for the guidance of the voters in voting, cyfarwyddyd i bleidleiswyr wrth bleidleisio). Where such an election is held together with another election or referendum, see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233, art 3, Schedule Pt 2 (Ffurf cyfarwyddiadau i arwain pleidleiswyr wrth bleidleisio, form of directions for guidance of the voters in voting); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234, art 3, Schedule Pt 2 (Ffurf cyfarwyddiadau i arwain pleidleiswyr wrth bleidleisio, form of directions for guidance of the voters in voting). See also the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1373, art 6, Sch 2 (Form 4: Form of directions for the guidance of the voters in voting; Form 5); and the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, art 6, Sch 2 (Form 2: Form of directions for guidance of the voters in voting; Form 3: Form of directions for guidance of the voters in voting at combined polls).

As to the grounds on which a ballot paper may be rejected during the count see PARA 434 et seq post; and as to the treatment of rejected votes see PARA 438 et seq post.

The person who is required or authorised to give or display any document, which under or by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 is required or authorised to be given to voters or displayed in any place for the purposes of a parliamentary or local government election, must, as he thinks appropriate, give or display or otherwise make available in such form as he thinks appropriate the document in Braille or in languages other than English, graphical representations of the information contained in the document and other means of making the information contained in the document accessible to persons who might not otherwise have reasonable access to the information: s 199B(1), (2) (s 199B added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 36). Such a person must also, as he thinks appropriate, make available the information contained in the document in such audible form as he thinks appropriate: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 199B(3) (as so added). Although these provisions do not apply to either the nomination paper or the ballot paper (s 199B(4) (as so added)), the returning officer at a parliamentary election or a local government election may cause to be displayed at every polling station in the election an enlarged sample copy of the ballot paper (s 199B(5) (as so added)); and he must provide at every polling station in the election an enlarged handheld sample copy of the ballot paper for the assistance of voters who are partially sighted (s 199B(7) (as so added)). As to the form of the sample copies see s 199B(6), (8) (as so added). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 36 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

At a local government election for a principal area, parish or community, the returning officer, and at a European parliamentary election, the local returning officer, may also provide copies in Braille or in languages other than English as he considers appropriate, that are an accurate translation or reproduction of the notice referred to in head (a) in the text: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para

30(6); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(7); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(7).

In the case of a London Authority election, notices for the guidance of voters must be prepared by the Greater London returning officer ('GLRO'), complying with the requirements of the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 9, Sch 12 (added by SI 2004/227), and he must provide the notices to the constituency returning officer ('CRO') to be exhibited in every compartment of the polling station: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24A(1)(c), (2), (3) (as so added), Sch 2 r 25A(1)(c), (2), (3) (as so added), Sch 3 r 25A(1)(c), (2), (3) (as so added). The GLRO may, in addition, also prepare versions in Braille or languages other than English that are accurate translations of any such notice and provide any such notice upon request to a CRO, at whose discretion they may be exhibited in every compartment of the polling station: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 24A(4), (5), (6)(c) (as so added), Sch 2 r 25A(4), (5), (6)(c) (as so added), Sch 3 r 25A(4), (5), (6)(c) (as so added).

18 At a London members election, if, before the date appointed for the poll, proof is given to the satisfaction of the GLRO (see note 16 supra) that one of the persons named or to be named as an individual candidate in the ballot papers, or whose name appears on a party list, has died, then the GLRO must inform each CRO (see note 16 supra) of that fact (see PARA 270 ante) and the CRO must provide each polling station with a notice of the death of any such person: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 rr 13(3), 25(3)(e). In the case of a European parliamentary election, where proof has been given to the returning officer's satisfaction of the death of a candidate on a registered party's list or an individual candidate, he must request each local returning officer to provide each presiding officer with a sufficient number of notices to this effect for display in every compartment of every polling station: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 30(8).

UPDATE

389-411 Method of election ... Returning officer's duty to issue postal ballot papers, etc

SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Elections Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/398. Appointment of presiding officers and their clerks by returning officer.

398. Appointment of presiding officers and their clerks by returning officer.

At an election¹, the appropriate returning officer² must appoint and pay³ a presiding officer to attend at each polling station⁴. The returning officer must also appoint and pay such clerks as may be necessary⁵ for the purposes of the election⁶. However, the returning officer may not appoint a person who has been employed by, or on behalf of, a candidate in or about the election⁷. The returning officer may, if he thinks fit, preside at a polling station⁸.

A presiding officer may do, by the clerks appointed to assist him, any act (including the asking of questions) which he is required or authorised to do at a polling station except order the arrest, exclusion or removal of any person from the polling station⁹.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for the appointment of presiding officers and their clerks¹⁰.

1 le at a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purposes, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; as to returning officers for local government elections (including local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante; and as to the returning officer at a poll consequent on parish meeting see PARA 361 ante. In the case of European parliamentary elections, the appropriate returning officer is the local returning officer: see PARA 365 et seq ante. In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante). For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, 'appropriate returning officer' means, in relation to a constituency election, a constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante) and, in relation to a regional election, a regional returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1); and PARA 242 note 7 ante.

3 At a poll consequent on a parish meeting, the remuneration of a presiding officer and clerks is discretionary: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 10(1).

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 26(1); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 10(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 22(1), Sch 2 r 23(1), Sch 3 r 23(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 23(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 32(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 28(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 24(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 24(1).

For the purposes only of a Welsh Assembly regional election, a presiding officer is not appointed to attend at each polling station because votes are cast at the same time and place as a constituency election; however, clerks may be appointed to assist the regional returning officer in his duties (see the text and notes 5-6 infra): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 32(2).

An oral appointment of a presiding officer is apparently sufficient: R v Garvey (1887) 16 Cox CC 252.

5 Appointments are made of clerks as mentioned in the text to assist the presiding officer and to assist in counting the votes. In practice the limits set of maximum charges, to which a returning officer is subject in claiming his expenses, restrict the number of clerks who are appointed: see PARA 357 et seq ante.

In the case of a London mayoral election, the constituency returning officer may also employ such technical assistants as may be necessary for the purposes of the election: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 23(1).

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 26(1); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 10(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 22(1), Sch 2 r 23(1), Sch 3 r 23(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 23(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 32(1), (2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 28(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 24(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 24(1).

In the case of a London Assembly London members election, the restriction as mentioned in the text applies to any person who has been employed in or about the election by or on behalf of a candidate or a registered party which has submitted a party list: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 23(1). In the case of a Welsh Assembly constituency or regional election, the restriction applies to any person who has been employed either by, or on behalf of, an individual or party list candidate, or by a registered political party, in or about the election: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 32(1), (2). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the restriction applies to any person who has been employed by or on behalf of a registered party or individual candidate in or about the election: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 28(1).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 26(2); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 10(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 22(2), Sch 2 r 23(2), Sch 3 r 23(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 23(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 32(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 28(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 24(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 24(2). The provisions of the appropriate elections rules relating to a presiding officer apply to an appropriate returning officer presiding as mentioned in the text, with the necessary modifications as to things to be done by the appropriate returning officer to the presiding officer or by the presiding officer to the appropriate returning officer: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 26(2); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 10(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 22(2), Sch 2 r 23(2), Sch 3 r 23(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 23(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 28(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 24(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 24(2). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, it is the constituency returning officer who may, if he thinks fit, preside at a polling station; and the provisions of the appropriate elections rules relating to a presiding officer apply to a constituency returning officer so presiding with the necessary modifications as to things to be done by the constituency returning officer to the presiding officer or by the presiding officer to the constituency returning officer: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 32(3).

399. Appointment of polling and counting agents by candidate or election agent.

Before the commencement of the poll at an election¹, each candidate² (or, as the case may be, election agent)³ may appoint: (1) polling agents to attend at polling stations for the purpose of detecting personation⁴; and (2) counting agents to attend at the counting of the votes (or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, at the verification of the ballot paper accounts)⁵. However, the number of counting agents to attend at the counting of the votes may be limited by the appropriate returning officer⁶ so that the number is the same in the case of each candidate and the number allowed to a candidate is not (except in special circumstances) less than the number obtained by dividing the number of clerks employed on the counting by the number of candidates⁷.

Written notice of the appointment of polling or counting agents, stating the names and addresses of the persons appointed, must be given by the candidate (or, as the case may be, the election agent) to the returning officer⁸: (a) in the case of a parliamentary or Welsh Assembly election, not later than the second day before the day of the poll⁹; (b) in the case of a local government election, local authority mayoral election or European parliamentary election, not later than the fifth day before the day of the poll¹⁰; or (c) in the case of a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, not later than the third day before the day of the poll¹¹. If an agent dies or becomes incapable of acting, the candidate may appoint another agent in his place and must forthwith give to the returning officer written notice of the name and address of the agent so appointed¹².

A candidate may do any act or thing which any polling or counting agent of his, if appointed, would have been authorised to do or may assist any such agent in doing any such act or thing¹³. At elections where election agents may be appointed, a candidate's election agent may do or assist in doing anything which a polling or counting agent of his is authorised to do, and anything required or authorised to be done in the presence of the polling or counting agents may be done in the presence of any candidate's election agent instead of the polling agent or counting agents¹⁴.

Where any act or thing is required or authorised to be done by the appropriate rules in the presence of the polling or counting agents, the non-attendance of any agent or agents at the time and place appointed for the purpose does not, if the act or thing is otherwise duly done, invalidate the act or thing done¹⁵.

Any notice required to be given to a counting agent by the returning officer may be delivered at, or sent by post to, the address stated in the notice of appointment¹⁶.

¹ I.e. at a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purpose, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante; but see the text and note 3 infra.

3 At elections where election agents may be appointed, except at a local government election for a principal area, any appointment authorised by the rule set out in the text may be made and the notice of appointment given to the returning officer by the candidate's election agent, instead of by the candidate: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 30(5); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 25(8), Sch 2 r 26(9), Sch 3 r 26(9); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 26(9); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 35(7). In the case of a London Assembly London members election, the reference in the text is to each individual candidate and the election agent of each list candidate (but not to a list candidate): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 26(1). As to party lists of candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 98; and as to individual candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 99.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, the reference in the text is to each individual candidate and each election agent for a group of party list candidates, in relation to each Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 35(3). For the meanings of 'Assembly constituency', 'Assembly electoral region' and 'regional election', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'individual candidate', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, and for the meaning of references to a group of party list candidates see PARA 237 note 23 ante. As to the appointment of election agents see PARA 238 et seq ante.

In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference in the text is to an individual candidate or the election agent (or sub-agent) of a registered party standing nominated or any person authorised in writing by such an agent or that candidate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 31(1). In the context of a European parliamentary election, for the meaning of 'registered party' see PARA 237 note 30 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to the submission by a registered party of lists of candidates to be members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') see PARA 235 ante.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 30(1)(a); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 12(1)(a); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(1), Sch 2 r 26(1), Sch 3 r 26(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 35(1)(a), (3)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 31(1)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 27(1)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 27(1)(a).

At a local government election or local authority mayoral election, the appointment of a polling agent may be by or on behalf of more than one candidate: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(2), Sch 2 r 26(2), Sch 3 r 26(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(2).

At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, each candidate may appoint only one polling agent to attend at each polling station for the purpose mentioned in the text: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 12(1)(a).

As to the offence of personation (which is also a corrupt practice) see PARA 733 post.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 30(1)(b); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 12(1)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(1)(b), Sch 2 r 26(1), Sch 3 r 26(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 35(1)(b), (3)(ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 31(1)(b); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(1)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(1)(b). In the case of a London Assembly London members election, the reference is to the attendance of counting agents at the local count: see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 26(1)(b).

At a local government election or local authority mayoral election, the appointment of a counting agent may be by or on behalf of more than one candidate: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(2), Sch 2 r 26(2), Sch 3 r 26(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(2). At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office each candidate may appoint only one counting agent to attend for the purpose mentioned in the text: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 12(1)(b). At a London Assembly London members election or London mayoral or European parliamentary election, for each local count one (but no more than one) counting agent of each registered party or individual candidate may be authorised by the terms of his appointment to require a recount at that count: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 26(2A) (added by SI 2004/227); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 26(2A) (added by SI 2004/227); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 31(2).

At a Welsh Assembly regional election, where no candidate or election agent is present on the completion of the counting or any recount of votes, the right conferred on that person (if he had been present) to request a recount under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 52 (see PARA 465 post) may be exercised by a counting agent for an individual candidate or a group of party list candidates so present provided that the counting agent has been appointed for these purposes by a person who also has the right to appoint a counting agent; but not more than one such counting agent for the same individual candidate or group of party list candidates may be appointed for these purposes in relation to the same Assembly constituency: Sch 5 para 52(3). Notice in writing of such an appointment, stating the name and address of the person appointed, must be given by the person making the appointment to the constituency returning officer and must be so given at the same time as notice is given to that returning officer of that person's appointment as counting agent under Sch 5 para 35(5), (6) (see the text and notes 8-12 infra): Sch 5 para 52(4).

6 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; as to returning officers for local government elections (including local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante; and as to the returning officer at a poll consequent on parish meeting see PARA 361 ante. In the case of European parliamentary elections, the appropriate returning officer is the local returning officer: see PARA 365 et seq ante. In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante). For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the appropriate returning officer in this context is, in relation to both a constituency and regional election, a constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante).

At a local government election or local authority mayoral election, not more than four polling agents may be appointed to attend at any particular polling station unless the returning officer by notice allows otherwise: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(3), Sch 2 r 26(3), Sch 3 r 26(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(3). If, at such an election, the number of polling agents appointed to attend at a polling station exceeds the permitted number, the returning officer must determine which agents are permitted to attend by lot and only the agents on whom the lot falls are deemed to be duly appointed: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(3), Sch 2 r 26(4), Sch 3 r 26(4); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(4); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(3). At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, each candidate may appoint only one agent for each purpose: see notes 4-5 supra.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 30(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(4), Sch 2 r 26(5), Sch 3 r 26(5); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(5); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 35(2), (4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 31(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(4). For the purposes of para 400 et seq post, references to polling and counting agents must be taken as references to agents whose appointments have been duly made and notified and, where the number of agents is restricted, who are within the permitted number: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 30(6); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 12(4); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(9), Sch 2 r 26(10), Sch 3 r 26(10); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(10); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 35(8); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 31(6); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules

2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(7); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(7). At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, each candidate may appoint only one agent for each purpose: see notes 4-5 supra.

At a local government election or local authority mayoral election, for the purposes of the calculation required as mentioned in the text, a counting agent who has been appointed for more than one candidate (as to which see note 4 supra) is a separate agent for each of the candidates by whom he has been appointed: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(5), Sch 2 r 26(6)(b), Sch 3 r 26(6); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(6); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(4). For the purposes of the calculation in relation to a London Assembly London members election, the calculation must also take into account a counting agent who has been appointed for more than one list candidate and is deemed for these purposes to be appointed for all the candidates on the list: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 26(6)(a).

In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, the reference is to the constituency returning officer, in relation to the Assembly constituency for which he is the returning officer, limiting the number of counting agents to being the same in the case of each individual candidate or election agent for a group of party list candidates, and limiting the number allowed to an individual candidate or election agent (except in special circumstances) to being not less than the number obtained by dividing the number of clerks employed on the counting by the total of the number of individual candidates and registered political parties which have submitted to a party list: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 35(4).

At a European parliamentary election, the reference is to the local returning officer limiting the number of counting agents to being the same in the case of each individual candidate or each registered party standing nominated, and limiting the number allowed to such an individual candidate or such a registered party standing nominated (except in special circumstances) to being not less than the number obtained by dividing the number of clerks employed on the verification of the ballot paper accounts or on the counting of the votes by the number obtained by adding the number of individual candidates and registered parties which stand nominated: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 31(3).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 30(3); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 12(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 25(6), Sch 2 r 26(7), Sch 3 r 26(7); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 26(7); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 35(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 31(4); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 27(5); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 27(5).

400. Sealing of ballot boxes.

Immediately before the commencement of the poll, the presiding officer¹ must show the ballot box empty to such persons, if any, as are present in the polling station, so that they may see that it is empty, and must then lock it up (if it has a lock) and in any case place his seal on it in such manner as to prevent its being opened without breaking the seal, and must place it in his view for the receipt of ballot papers, and keep it so locked and sealed (or keep it so sealed, as the case may be)².

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/401. Keeping of order in polling station; adjournment in case of riot.

401. Keeping of order in polling station; adjournment in case of riot.

It is the duty of the presiding officer¹ to keep order at his polling station². If a person misconducts himself in the polling station, or fails to obey the lawful orders of the presiding officer, he may immediately, by order of the presiding officer, be removed from the polling station by a constable in or near that station, or by any other person authorised in writing by the appropriate returning officer³ to remove him; and the person so removed may not, without the permission of the presiding officer, again enter the polling station during the day⁴. Any person so removed, may, if charged with the commission in the polling station of an offence, be dealt with as a person taken into custody by a constable for an offence without a warrant⁵. However, the powers of keeping order so conferred are not to be exercised so as to prevent a voter who is otherwise entitled to vote at a polling station from having an opportunity of voting at that station⁶.

Where the proceedings at any polling station are interrupted or obstructed by riot or open violence, the presiding officer must adjourn the proceedings until the following working day⁷ and forthwith give notice to the appropriate returning officer⁸. The hours of the poll on the day to which it is adjourned are the same as for the original day and references to the close of the poll are to be construed accordingly⁹.

402. Admission to polling station.

The presiding officer¹ must regulate the number of voters² to be admitted to the polling station at the same time³. He must exclude all other persons⁴ except the candidates (and, at elections where election agents are appointed, their election agents)⁵, the polling agents appointed to attend at the polling station⁶, the clerks appointed to attend the polling station⁷, the constables on duty, the companions of voters with disabilities and (in the case of a parliamentary election, or at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community) persons who are entitled to attend by virtue of any of the provisions⁸ which allow Electoral Commission representatives and accredited observers to attend electoral proceedings and observe working practices⁹.

Each voter must vote at the polling station allotted to him¹⁰ with the exception of constables on duty and persons employed by the appropriate returning officer¹¹ in connection with the election, who may be admitted to vote in person elsewhere than at his own polling station, but only on production and surrender of a certificate as to his employment which must be in the prescribed form, or a form to like effect¹². The certificate must be signed by an officer of police of or above the rank of inspector or by the returning officer, as the case may be¹³. The certificate when surrendered must forthwith be cancelled¹⁴.

The returning officer must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that every person attending at a polling station (otherwise than for the purpose of voting or assisting a voter who has an incapacity or as a constable on duty there) has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to such attendance¹⁵.

4 I.e. all persons other than the voters and, in the case of a parliamentary election, or at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community, the persons under the age of 18 who accompany them to the polling station: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 32(1) (as substituted: see note 9 infra); the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 30(1); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 30(1).

5 There is no provision for election agents at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office but, where a poll is taken on such a question, the candidates may be accompanied by their spouses or civil partners: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 14 (amended by SI 2005/2114). As to the appointment of election agents see PARA 238 et seq ante.

At a Welsh Assembly regional election, it is specified that not more than one party list candidate may be admitted at the same time to a polling station on behalf of the same group of party list candidates: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 37(2).

At a European parliamentary election, the reference is to the candidates and the election agents of any registered party standing nominated and any individual candidate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 33(1).

6 This provision implies that polling agents are appointed to attend specific polling stations. As to the appointment of polling agents see PARA 399 ante. Not more than one polling agent may be admitted at the same time to a polling station on behalf of the same candidate: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 32(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 27(2), Sch 2 r 28(2), Sch 3 r 28(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 28(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 30(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 30(3). At a Welsh Assembly election, it is specified that not more than one polling agent is to be admitted at the same time to a polling station on behalf of the same individual candidate or, at a regional election, on behalf of the same group of party list candidates: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 37(3). At a European parliamentary election, it is specified that not more than one polling agent is to be admitted at the same time to a polling station on behalf of the same registered party standing nominated and any individual candidate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 33(2). At a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting, a candidate may appoint only one polling agent: see PARA 399 ante.

7 See PARA 398 ante. In the case of a London Assembly London members election, technical assistants may attend as well as clerks: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 28(1).

As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante. As to the companions of voters with disabilities see PARA 407 post.

At a Welsh Assembly election, the list of people not to be excluded also includes, in the case of a constituency election, the constituency returning officer and, in the case of a regional election, the regional returning officer or the constituency returning officer for the Assembly constituency in which the polling station is situated: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 37(1). For the meanings of 'constituency returning officer' and 'regional returning officer' for the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

For the purposes of a London Authority election or European parliamentary election, the list of people not to be excluded also includes authorised representatives of the Electoral Commission (as to which see PARA 48 ante): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 27(1), Sch 2 r 28(1), Sch 3 r 28(1) (all as so amended); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 33(1).

10 As to the manner of voting at elections see PARA 368 ante.

11 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; as to returning officers for local government elections (including local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante; and as to the returning officer at a poll consequent on parish meeting see PARA 361 ante. In the case of European parliamentary elections, the appropriate returning officer is the local returning officer: see PARA 365 et seq ante. In the case of a London Authority election, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante).

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 32(3); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 27(3), Sch 2 r 28(3), Sch 3 r 28(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 28(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 37(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 33(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 30(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 30(4). There is no such provision at a poll consequent on a parish meeting.

For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 202(1). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. As to the regulations made see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 63(1), Sch 3 (Form F: certificate of employment). In relation to a local government election for a principal area see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of certificate of employment) and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of certificate of employment) (where such a poll is taken together with another relevant election or referendum); in relation to a local government election for a parish or community council, see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of certificate of employment) and r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of certificate of employment) (where such a poll is taken together with another relevant election or referendum); and, in relation to an Authority election, see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 4, Sch 5 (Form 14: certificate of employment). Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/403. Questions to be put to person applying for a ballot paper.

403. Questions to be put to person applying for a ballot paper.

The presiding officer¹ may, and, if required by a candidate or his election or polling agent², must, put to any person applying for a ballot paper or applying as proxy³ at the time of his application, but not afterwards, any of the questions that are so prescribed⁴. A ballot paper must not be delivered to any person required to answer any of the questions so prescribed unless he has answered the questions or question satisfactorily⁵. No inquiry, except as so authorised, is permitted as to the right of any person to vote⁶. Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for the questions that may be put to a person applying for a ballot paper⁷.

If any person knowingly and wilfully makes a false answer to any of the questions so prescribed, he is guilty of an indictable offence and may be punished accordingly⁸.

1 As to the presiding officer see PARA 398 ante.

2 There is no provision for election agents at parish or community council elections (see PARA 238 note 3 ante) or at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office. As to polling agents see PARA 399 ante. At a European parliamentary election, the reference is to a candidate or the election or polling agent of a registered party standing nominated or of a individual candidate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 36(1).

3 There is no provision for voting by proxy at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office. As to voting by proxy see PARA 371 et seq ante.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 35(1) (Sch 1 r 35 substituted by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 74); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 17(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 30(1), (2), Sch 2 r 31(1), (2), Sch 3 r 31(1), (2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 31(1), (2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 40(1), (3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 36(1), (2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 33(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 33(1). The function set out in the text may be discharged by a clerk appointed to assist the presiding officer: see PARA 398 ante.

The prescribed questions are set out, in relation to a parliamentary election, in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 35(1) (as substituted) and the questions that must be put by the presiding officer if the candidate or his election or polling agent so requires are marked therein by a letter 'R': Sch 1 r 35(1) (as so substituted). In the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante), the references to reading from the register that are made in the instructions to the presiding officer must be taken as references to reading from the notice: see Sch 1 r 35(2) (as so substituted).

In relation to a local government election for a principal area, the specified questions are set out in the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 33(1) and the questions that must be put by the presiding officer if the candidate or his election or polling agent so requires are marked therein by a letter 'R': Sch 2 r 33(1). In relation to a local government election for a parish or community council, the specified questions are set out in the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 33(1) and the questions that must be put by the presiding officer if the candidate or his election or polling agent so requires are marked therein by a letter 'R': Sch 2 r 33(1). In the case of an elector at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added), the references to reading from the register that are made in the instructions to the presiding officer must be taken as references to reading from the notice: see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 33(2); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 33(2). In relation to a poll consequent on a parish meeting where the poll is on a question of appointment to an office see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 17(1). In relation to a London Authority election see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 30(1), (2), Sch 2 r 31(1), (2), Sch 3 r 31(1), (2) (Sch 1 r 30(2), Sch 2 r 31(2), Sch 3 r 31(2) amended by SI 2005/2114). In relation to a local authority mayoral election see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 31(1), (2) (Sch 1 r 31(2) amended by SI 2005/2114).

In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the prescribed questions are set out in English and in Welsh: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 40(1), (3). Where at an ordinary election a voter is entitled to give two votes at the polling station and where the presiding officer has asked any of the questions that apply generally, further questions that may be asked are set out, in the case of a person applying for a ballot paper, in Sch 5 para 40(2); and, in the case of a person applying as proxy, in Sch 5 para 40(4)-(6) (Sch 5 para 40(5), (6) amended by SI 2005/2114).

In relation to a European parliamentary election, the prescribed questions are set out in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 36(1), (2) (Sch 1 r 36(2) amended by SI 2005/2114).

For the purposes of elections which take place in Wales see also the form of the questions in Welsh set out in the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/561, art 2, Schedule Pt I (Questions to be put to a person applying as an elector for a ballot paper, Questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper, Further questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper) (amended by SI 2005/2114); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/562, art 2, Schedule Pt I (Questions to be put to a person applying as an elector for a ballot paper, Questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper, Further questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper) (amended by SI 2005/2114). Where an election in Wales is held together with another election or referendum see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Questions to be put to a person applying as an elector for a ballot paper, Questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper, Further questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper) (amended by SI 2005/2114); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Questions to be put to a person applying as an elector for a ballot paper, Questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper, Further questions to be put to a person applying as a proxy for a ballot paper) (amended by SI 2005/2114). See also the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1373, arts 4-5, Sch 1 (Form 2: form of words prescribed by sub-paragraph (i) of rule 36(1)(a); Form 3: form of words prescribed by sub-paragraph (i) of rule 36(1)(b); Form 4: form of words for first question prescribed by rule 36(2)) (Form 4 amended by SI 2005/2114); and the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, arts 4-5, Sch 1 (Form 2: form of words prescribed by rule 35(1)(a)(ii); Form 3: form of words prescribed by rule 35(1)(b)(i); Form 4: form of words prescribed by rule 35(2)) (Form 4 amended by SI 2005/2114).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 74 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/404. Voting procedure.

404. Voting procedure.

In relation to a parliamentary election, or at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community¹, immediately before delivery of a ballot paper to a voter² who applies for one³:

- 470 (1) the number and name of the elector⁴ as stated in the copy of the register of electors must be called out⁵ unless the elector in question has an anonymous entry in the register⁶, in which case he must first show the presiding officer his official poll card and then only his number will be called out⁷;
- 471 (2) the number of the elector must be marked, on the version of the corresponding number list supplied to the polling station⁸, beside the number of the ballot paper to be issued to him⁹;
- 472 (3) a mark must be placed in the register of electors against the number of the elector to note that a ballot paper has been received but without showing the particular ballot paper which has been received¹⁰;
- 473 (4) as from a day to be appointed in relation to a parliamentary election¹¹, the voter must sign the corresponding number list mentioned in head (2) above¹² beside the number of the elector marked on the list in accordance with head (2) above¹³; and
- 474 (5) in the case of a person applying for a ballot paper as proxy, a mark must also be placed against his name in the list of proxies¹⁴.

The presiding officer at such an election must also keep a list of persons to whom ballot papers are delivered in consequence of an alteration to the register¹⁵ which takes effect on the day of the poll¹⁶.

In relation to other types of election¹⁷, a ballot paper must be delivered to a voter¹⁸ who applies for one and, immediately before delivery¹⁹:

- 475 (a) the ballot paper must be stamped with the official mark²⁰;
- 476 (b) the number and name of the elector²¹ as stated in the copy of the register of electors must be called out²²;
- 477 (c) the number of the elector must be marked on the counterfoil²³;
- 478 (d) a mark must be placed in the register of electors against the number of the elector to denote that a ballot paper has been received but without showing the particular ballot paper which has been received²⁴; and
- 479 (e) in the case of a person applying for a ballot paper as proxy, a mark must also be placed against his name in the list of proxies²⁵.

In relation to any type of election, the voter, on receiving the ballot paper, must forthwith proceed into one of the compartments in the polling station and there secretly mark his paper²⁶. The voter must then fold his paper up in such a way as to conceal his vote and he must then show to the presiding officer²⁷ the back of the paper, so as to disclose the official mark (or, in the case of a parliamentary election or local government election for a principal area, parish and community, so as to disclose the number and other unique identifying mark), and put the ballot paper so folded up in the ballot box in the presence²⁸ of the presiding officer²⁹. The voter must vote without undue delay and must leave the polling station as soon as he has put his ballot paper into the ballot box³⁰.

It is an offence to interfere or attempt to interfere with a voter when he is recording his vote³¹.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to the ordinary election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante; and as to ordinary elections of councillors for parishes or communities see PARA 207 et seq ante. As to London Authority elections see the text and notes 17-25 infra. For the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

2 For the purposes of the statutory provisions governing elections, a voter is defined as a person voting at an election and includes a person voting as proxy (but not necessarily a person voting by proxy): see PARA 110 note 2 ante. As to voting by proxy see PARA 371 et seq ante. To indicate that an elector or his proxy is entitled to vote by post and is for that reason not entitled to vote in person, the letter 'A' is placed against the name of that elector in any copy of the register, or part of it, provided for a polling station: see PARAS 382, 387 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 37(1) (Sch 1 r 37(1)-(3) substituted, and Sch 1 r 37(4)-(6) added, by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 75); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 35(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 35(1).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 75 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Furthermore, until a day to be appointed under the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 77(2), Sch 1 para 75 has no effect in so far as it relates to the substitution of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(d) and the addition of Sch 1 r 37(4): see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, arts 3, 6, Sch 1 para 12(d), Sch 2 para 1. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

4 For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(1)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(1)(a). In the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante), the reference in the text to the copy of the register of electors is to be read as a reference to the copy of the notice issued under s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added): see Sch 1 r 37(3)(a) (as so substituted); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(3)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(3)(a). See note 3 supra.

6 For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(a), (2) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(1)(a), (2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(1)(a), (2). See note 3 supra.

8 In the list mentioned, in relation to a parliamentary election, under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(e) (as added) or, in relation to a local government election for a principal area, under the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 26(3)(d) or, in relation to a local government election for a parish or community council, under the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 26(3)(d) (see PARA 396 ante).

The form of the corresponding number list to be prepared by a returning officer for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(e) (as added), Sch 1 r 37(1)(b) (as substituted) and Sch 1 r 37(1)(d) (prospectively substituted) (see the text and notes 11-13 infra) must be in the form set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 (Form L2: corresponding number list for use in polling station at parliamentary election taken alone) (added by SI 2006/2910): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 63A(2) (added by SI 2006/2910). When a parliamentary election is combined with another poll under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15 (as amended) (see PARAS 21-22 ante) or under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2) (provision for the combination of polls at elections for the return of elected mayors and at elections for the return of elected executive members: see PARA 26 ante) or under s 45(6)

(provision for the combination of polls at referendums with polls at any elections: see PARA 27 ante), the corresponding number list to be prepared by a returning officer for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 29(3)(e) (as added) must be in the form set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 3 (Form M2: corresponding number list for use in polling station when parliamentary election combined with a relevant election or referendum) (added by SI 2006/2910): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 63A(4) (added by SI 2006/2910). The regulation refers to polls that are combined under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2) or s 44(6), but it is submitted that a reference to s 45(6) is intended. The amendments effected by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, do not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

As to the form of the corresponding number list mentioned in the text used for the purposes of a local government election for a principal area, parish or community see PARA 396 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(1)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(1)(b). See note 3 supra.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(1)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(1)(c). In the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante), the reference in the text to placing a mark in the register of electors is to be read as a reference to placing a mark on the copy of the notice issued under s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added): see Sch 1 r 37(3)(b) (as so substituted); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(3)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(3)(b). See note 3 supra.

11 At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. As to the commencement of these provisions see note 3 supra.

12 See note 8 supra.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(d) (prospectively substituted: see note 3 supra). The provision set out in Sch 1 r 37(1)(d) (prospectively substituted) does not apply to a voter to whom Sch 1 r 38 (as amended) applies (ie a voter with an incapacity who votes with the assistance of the presiding officer: see PARA 406 post) or to a voter to whom Sch 1 r 39 (as substituted and amended) applies (ie a voter with an incapacity who votes with the assistance of a companion: see PARA 407 post): Sch 1 r 37(4) (prospectively added: see note 3 supra). See also note 11 supra.

14 Ibid Sch 1 r 37(1)(e) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(1)(d); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(1)(d). See note 3 supra.

15 Ie by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante).

16 Ibid Sch 1 r 41A (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(6), Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 38); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 41; Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 41.

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 38 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

17 Ie a local government election other than for a principal area, parish or community, a Welsh Assembly election or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'Assembly election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

18 For the purposes of the statutory provisions governing elections, a voter is defined as a person voting at an election and includes a person voting as proxy (but not necessarily a person voting by proxy): in relation to Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 124 note 5 ante; and in relation to European parliamentary elections see PARA 125 note 6 ante. To indicate that an elector or his proxy is entitled to vote by post and is for that reason not entitled to vote in person, the letter 'A' is placed against the name of that elector in any copy of the register, or part of it, provided for a polling station: see PARAS 382, 387 ante.

19 Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 19(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 32(1), Sch 2 r 33(1), Sch 3 r 33(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 33(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 42(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 38(1).

As to the official mark see PARA 392 ante.

21 For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 124 note 4 ante; and, in relation to European parliamentary election, see PARA 125 note 5 ante. As to the number of an elector see PARA 160 ante.

22 Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 19(1)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 32(1)(b), Sch 2 r 33(1)(b), Sch 3 r 33(1)(b); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 33(1)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 42(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 38(1)(b).

At an ordinary London Authority election, the same copy of the register of electors may be used for each election and one mark may be placed in that register to denote that a ballot paper has been received in respect of each election; except that, where a ballot paper has been issued in respect of one election only, a different mark must be placed in the register so as to identify the election in respect of which the ballot paper was issued: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 4 r 7. For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election, the same copy of the register of electors may be used for a constituency election and a regional election and one mark may be placed in that register under head (d) in the text or in the list of proxies under head (e) in the text to denote that a ballot paper has been received in respect of each election except that, where a ballot paper has been issued in respect of one election only, a different mark must be placed in the register or, as the case may be, list so as to identify the election in respect of which the ballot paper was issued: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 42(4). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

23 Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 19(1)(c); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 32(1)(c), Sch 2 r 33(1)(c), Sch 3 r 33(1)(c); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 33(1)(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 42(1)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 38(1)(c).

As to an ordinary Welsh Assembly election see note 22 supra.

25 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 32(1)(e), Sch 2 r 33(1)(e), Sch 3 r 33(1)(e); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 33(1)(e); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 42(1)(e); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 38(1)(e). As to an ordinary Welsh Assembly election see note 22 supra. There is no provision for voting by proxy at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office and accordingly head (e) in the text does not apply in that case.

26 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(5) (as added: see note 3 supra); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 19(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 32(2), Sch 2 r 33(2), Sch 3 r 33(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 33(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 42(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 38(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(4).

As to the mark (or, as the case may be, marks) to be made on a ballot paper see the directions for the guidance of the voters in voting; and PARA 396 note 13 ante. As to the grounds on which a ballot paper may be rejected during the count see PARA 434 et seq post; and as to the treatment of rejected votes see PARA 438 et seq post.

27 As to the presiding officer see PARA 398 ante.

28 The ballot paper can presumably be validly placed in the ballot box notwithstanding the absence of the presiding officer: see PARA 398 ante.

NOTE 8--SI 2001/341 Sch 3 Form L2 replaced: SI 2007/1025 Sch Form L2. SI 2001/341 reg 63A(2) amended: SI 2007/1025. SI 2001/341 Sch 3 Form M2 replaced: SI 2007/1025 Sch Form M2. The reference is now to polls that are combined under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44 or 45: SI 2001/341 reg 63A(3) (amended by SI 2007/1025).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/405. Challenge of voter.

405. Challenge of voter.

A person is not to be prevented from voting at a parliamentary election¹, or at local government elections for principal areas, parishes or communities², by reason only that a candidate³ or his election or polling agent⁴ declares that he has reasonable cause to believe that the person has committed an offence of personation⁵ or by reason only that the person is arrested on the grounds that he is suspected of committing or of being about to commit such an offence⁶.

In relation to any other type of election⁷, if, at the time a person applies for a ballot paper for the purpose of voting in person or after he has applied for a ballot paper for that purpose and before he has left the polling station⁸, a candidate or his election or polling agent⁹ declares to the presiding officer¹⁰ that he has reasonable cause to believe that the applicant has committed an offence of personation and undertakes to substantiate the charge in a court of law, the presiding officer may order a constable to arrest the applicant¹¹, and the order of the presiding officer is sufficient authority for the constable so to do¹². The person who has been challenged must not by reason of it be prevented from voting¹³. A person arrested is to be dealt with as a person taken into custody by a constable for an offence without a warrant¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

2 As to the ordinary election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante; and as to ordinary elections of councillors for parishes or communities see PARA 207 et seq ante. As to London Authority elections see the text and notes 7-14 infra. For the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

4 In the context of a local government election for a parish or community council, at which a candidate need not have an election agent (see PARA 238 note 3 ante), the reference is to a candidate's polling agent only: see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 34. As to the appointment of election agents generally see PARA 238 et seq ante; and as to polling agents see PARA 399 ante.

5 As to the offence of personation see PARA 733 post.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 36 (substituted by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 132); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 34; Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 34. The Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 s 24A (as added and amended) (arrest without warrant: other persons) does not permit a person other than a constable to arrest inside a polling station a person who commits or is suspected of committing an offence of personation: see PARA 733 post.

7 I.e. at an Authority election or an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purpose, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. For the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

8 As to voting procedure see PARA 404 ante.

9 There is no provision for election agents at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office. Consequently, in that context, the reference is to a candidate or his polling agent only: see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 18(1).

At a European parliamentary election, the reference is to a candidate or the election or polling agent of a registered party standing nominated or of a individual candidate: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 37(1).

10 As to the presiding officer see PARA 398 ante.

11 This power may be exercised only by the presiding officer and not by one of the clerks appointed to assist him: see PARA 398 ante.

12 Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 18(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 31(1), Sch 2 r 32(1), Sch 3 r 32(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 32(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 41(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 37(1).

The Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 s 26 (repeal of statutory powers of arrest: see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 927) does not apply to the power of arrest in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 36 (as substituted) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 25(1). As from a day to be appointed under the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 77(2), the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 25(1) is repealed by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(2), Sch 2. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/406. Votes marked by the presiding officer in assisting voters with incapacities.

406. Votes marked by the presiding officer in assisting voters with incapacities.

On the application of a voter¹ who is incapacitated by blindness or other disability or other physical cause (as the case may be)² from voting in the manner directed by the rules, or who declares orally that he is unable to read, the presiding officer³ must, in the presence of the polling agents⁴, cause the vote of the voter to be marked on a ballot paper in the manner directed by the voter, and the ballot paper to be placed in the ballot box⁵.

The name and number⁶ on the register of electors of every voter whose vote is marked in pursuance of this rule, and the reason why it is so marked, must be entered on a list which is called the 'list of votes marked by the presiding officer'⁷. However, in the case of a person voting as proxy for an elector, this is subject to the proviso that the number to be entered together with the name of the voter must be the number of the elector⁸.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for voting with the assistance of the presiding officer⁹.

1 For the purposes of the statutory provisions governing elections, a voter is defined as a person voting at an election and includes a person voting as proxy (but not necessarily a person voting by proxy): in relation to parliamentary and local government elections see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 124 note 5 ante; and in relation to European parliamentary elections see PARA 125 note 6 ante.

2 The reference to 'blindness or other disability' applies in relation to a parliamentary election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 38(1) (as amended)), a local government election for a principal area (see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 36(1)) and a local government election for a parish or community council (see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 36(1)). Otherwise, the reference is to 'blindness or other physical cause'. As to the meaning of 'disability' see PARA 372 note 8 ante.

3 As to the presiding officer see PARA 398 ante. This function of the presiding officer may be discharged by one of the clerks appointed to assist him: see PARA 398 ante.

4 As to polling agents see PARA 399 ante. The non-attendance of the polling agents does not invalidate any act or thing done, if the act or thing is otherwise duly done: see PARA 399 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 38(1) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 77); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 20(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 33(1), Sch 2 r 34(1), Sch 3 r 34(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 34(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 43(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 39(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 36(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 36(1).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 77 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

6 As to the number of an elector see PARA 160 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 38(2); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 20(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 33(2), Sch 2 r 34(2), Sch 3 r 34(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI

2002/185, Sch 1 r 34(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 43(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 39(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 36(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 36(2).

In the case of a person in respect of whom a notice has been issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante), Sch 1 r 38(2) (in the case of a parliamentary election), the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 36(2) (in the case of a local government election for a principal area) and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 36(2) (in the case of a local government election for a parish or community council) each applies as if instead of referring to the name and number of every voter on the register of electors it referred to the name and number relating to every voter in respect of whom a notice has been issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added): Sch 1 r 38(3) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(6), Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 35); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 36(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 36(3). The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 35 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

At an ordinary London Authority election, and at any London mayoral election, the same list of votes marked by the presiding officer may be used for each election and, where it is so used, an entry in that list must be taken to mean that the ballot papers were so marked in respect of each election, unless the list identifies the election at which the ballot paper was so marked: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 3 r 34(4), Sch 4 r 8. For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election where voters are entitled to give two votes at the polling station, the same list of votes marked by the presiding officer may be used for the constituency and regional elections at which the voters are entitled to vote and, where it is so used, an entry in that list is to be taken to mean that the ballot papers were so marked in respect of each election, unless the list identifies the election at which the ballot paper was so marked: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 43(4). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 38(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 33(3), Sch 2 r 34(3), Sch 3 r 34(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 34(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 43(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 39(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 36(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 36(2). There is no provision for voting by proxy at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office and accordingly the provision that is set out in the text does not apply in that case. As to voting by proxy see PARA 371 et seq ante.

9 As to polls at elections or referendums which are taken together see PARA 16 et seq ante.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/407. Companions assisting voters with incapacities.

407. Companions assisting voters with incapacities.

If a voter¹ at an election² makes an application to the presiding officer³ to be allowed, on the ground of blindness or other disability or other physical cause (as the case may be)⁴ or inability to read, to vote with the assistance of another person by whom he is accompanied (called the 'companion'), the presiding officer must require the voter to declare, orally or in writing, whether he is so incapacitated by his blindness or other disability or incapacity (as the case may be), or by his inability to read, as to be unable to vote without assistance⁵.

If the presiding officer is satisfied that the voter is so incapacitated, and is also satisfied by a written declaration made by the companion (called the 'declaration made by the companion of a voter with disabilities')⁶ that the companion is a qualified person and has not previously assisted more than one voter with disabilities to vote at the election, he must grant the application, and then anything required to be done to or by the voter in connection with the giving of his vote may be done to, or with the assistance of, the companion⁷. The name and number in the register of electors of every voter⁸ whose vote is given by a companion, together with the name and address of the companion, must be entered on a list (called the 'list of voters with disabilities assisted by companions')⁹. However, in the case of a person voting as proxy for an elector, this is subject to the proviso that the number to be entered together with the name of the voter must be the number of the elector¹⁰. The declaration made by the companion must be in the prescribed form¹¹ and must be made before the presiding officer at the time when the voter applies to vote with the assistance of a companion and must forthwith be given to the presiding officer who must attest and retain it¹². No fee or other payment is to be charged in respect of the declaration¹³.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for voting with the assistance of a companion¹⁴.

1 For the purposes of the statutory provisions governing elections, a voter is defined as a person voting at an election and includes a person voting as proxy (but not necessarily a person voting by proxy): in relation to parliamentary and local government elections see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 124 note 5 ante; and in relation to European parliamentary elections see PARA 125 note 6 ante.

2 I.e. at a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purpose, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

3 As to the presiding officer see PARA 398 ante. This function of the presiding officer may be discharged by one of the clerks appointed to assist him: see PARA 398 ante.

4 The reference to 'blindness or other disability' applies in relation to a parliamentary election (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 39(1) (as substituted and amended)), a local government election for a principal area (see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 37(1)) and a local government election for a parish or community council (see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 37(1)). Otherwise, the reference is to 'blindness or other physical cause'. As to the meaning of 'disability' see PARA 372 note 8 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 39(1) (Sch 1 r 39 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 13(1), (3); and the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 39(1) amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 78); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 21(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 34(1), Sch 2 r 35(1), Sch 3 r 35(1) (Sch 1 r 34, Sch 2 r 35, Sch 3 r 35 substituted by SI 2004/227); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 35(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 44(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 40(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(1).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 78, 80 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, the provision set out in the text applies only to voters with blindness and all references to other physical incapacities or an inability to read must be ignored in that case (although a voter who is unable to read may vote at such a poll with the assistance of the presiding officer: see PARA 406 ante). Also, it is not specified in such a case that the declaration is to be made orally or in writing: see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 21(1).

6 For these purposes, a person is a voter with disabilities if he has made such a declaration as is mentioned in the text; and a person is qualified to assist a voter with disabilities to vote if that person is a person who is entitled to vote as an elector at the election or is the father, mother, brother, sister, spouse, civil partner, son or daughter of the voter and has attained the age of 18 years: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 39(3) (as substituted (see note 4 supra); and amended by the Civil Partnership Act 2004 s 261(1), Sch 27 para 85(1), (4)); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 34(3) (as substituted (see note 4 supra); and amended by SI 2005/2114); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 35(3) (as substituted (see note 4 supra); and amended by SI 2005/2114); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 35(3) (as substituted (see note 4 supra); and amended by SI 2005/2114); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 35(3) (amended by SI 2005/2114); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 44(3) (amended by SI 2005/2114); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 40(3) (amended by SI 2005/2114); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(3). However, for the purposes of a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, it is specified that a person is qualified to assist a blind voter to vote if that person is either a person who is entitled to vote at the poll or the father, mother, brother, sister, spouse, civil partner, son or daughter of the blind voter and has attained the age of 18 years: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 21(3) (amended by SI 2005/2114). The written declaration made by the companion at such a poll is known as the 'declaration made by the companion of a blind voter': see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 21(2). See note 4 supra. For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 124 note 4 ante; and, in relation to European parliamentary election, see PARA 125 note 5 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 39(2) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 21(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 34(2), Sch 2 r 35(2), Sch 3 r 35(2) (all as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 35(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 44(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 40(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(2).

8 As to the number of an elector and the form and content of registers of electors see PARA 160 ante.

In the case of a person in respect of whom a notice has been issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante), Sch 1 r 39(4) (as substituted) (in the case of a parliamentary election), the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(4) (in the case of a local government election for a principal area) and the Local Elections

(Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(4) (in the case of a local government election for a parish or community council) each applies as if instead of referring to the name and number of every voter in the register of electors it referred to the name and number relating to every voter in respect of whom a notice has been issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added): Sch 1 r 39(4A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(6), Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 36); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(5); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(5).

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 36 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 39(4) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 21(4); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 34(4), Sch 2 r 35(4), Sch 3 r 35(4) (all as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 35(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 44(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 40(4); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(4). For the purposes of a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, the list referred to in the text is known as the 'list of blind voters assisted by companions': see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 21(4). See note 3 supra.

At an ordinary London Authority election, the same list of voters with disabilities assisted by companions may be used for each election and, where it is so used, an entry in that list must be taken to mean that the votes were so given in respect of each election, unless the list identifies the election at which the vote was so given: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 4 r 9. At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election, where voters are entitled to give two votes at the polling station, the same list of voters with disabilities assisted by companions may be used for the constituency and regional elections at which the voters are entitled to vote and, where it is so used, an entry in that list must be taken to mean that the votes were so given in respect of each election, unless the list identifies the election at which a vote was so given: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 44(8).

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 39(4) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 34(5), Sch 2 r 35(5), Sch 3 r 35(5) (all as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 35(5); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 44(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 40(4); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(4). There is no provision for voting by proxy at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office and accordingly the provision that is set out in the text does not apply in that case. As to voting by proxy see PARA 371 et seq ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 39(5)(a) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 21(5)(a); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 34(6)(a), Sch 2 r 35(6)(a), Sch 3 r 35(6)(a) (all as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 35(6)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 44(6)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 40(5)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 37(6)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 37(6)(a).

The prescribed form is set out, in relation to a parliamentary election, in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 13(1), (5)(a), (b); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 80). As to the commencement of the amendment made by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 5 supra. In relation to a local government election for a principal area see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities); and where such elections are taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities). In relation to a local government election for a parish or community council see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities); and where such elections are taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities). In relation to an Authority election see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 4, Sch 5 (Form 15: declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities) (Form 15 amended by SI 2004/227). In relation to a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a blind voter). In relation to a local authority mayoral election see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (Form 11: declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities) (amended by SI 2005/2114). In relation to a European parliamentary election see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities).

For the purposes of elections which take place in Wales see the form set out in Welsh, to be used as the applicant requires, in the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/561, art 2, Schedule Pt I (declaration to be made by the companion of a blind voter, datganiad a wneir gan gydymaith pleidleisiwr dall); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/562, art 2, Schedule Pt I (declaration to be made by the companion of a blind voter, datganiad a wneir gan gydymaith pleidleisiwr dall). Where an election in Wales is held together with another election or referendum see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities, ffurflen datganiad i'w wneud gan gydymaith pleidleisiwr gydag anabledau); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities, ffurflen datganiad i'w wneud gan gydymaith pleidleisiwr gydag anabledau). See also the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1373, art 5, Sch 1 (Form 5: Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities, ffurf ar gyfer y datganiad i'w wneud gan gydymaith pleidleisiwr/wraig ag anabledau; Form 6: Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities, ffurf ar ddatganiad i'w wneud gan gydymaith pleidleisiwr/wraig sydd ag anabledau (combined polls)); and the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, arts 4-5, Sch 1 (Form 6: Form of declaration to be made by the companion of a voter with disabilities, ffurflen datganiad i'w wneud gan gydymaith pleidleisiwr gydag anabledau).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/408. Tendered ballot papers.

408. Tendered ballot papers.

If a person who represents himself to be a particular elector¹ named on the register² (and not named in the absent voters list³) or who represents himself to be a particular person named in the list of proxies⁴ as proxy for an elector (and not entitled to vote by post as proxy⁵) applies for a ballot paper after another person has voted in person either as the elector or his proxy, the applicant, on satisfactorily answering the questions permitted by law to be asked at the poll⁶, is entitled to mark a ballot paper (called a 'tendered ballot paper') in the same manner as any other voter⁷. Additionally, but only in relation to a parliamentary election or a local government election for a principal area, parish or community⁸, if a person applies for a ballot paper representing himself to be a particular elector and he is named both on the register⁹ and in the postal voters list, or if such a person is named both as a proxy in the list of proxies and in the proxy postal voters list, and that person claims that he did not make an application to vote by post at the election or to vote by post as proxy (as the case may be)¹⁰, then that person, on satisfactorily answering the questions permitted by law to be asked at the poll, is entitled to mark a ballot paper (a 'tendered ballot paper') in the same manner as any other voter¹¹. Also, if before the close of the poll but after the last time at which a person may apply for a replacement postal ballot paper, a person either represents himself to be a particular elector named on the register¹² who is also named in the postal voters list or represents himself to be a particular person named as a proxy in the list of proxies who is also named in the proxy postal voters list, and claims that he has lost or has not received his postal ballot paper¹³, then that person, on satisfactorily answering the questions permitted by law to be asked at the poll, is entitled to mark a ballot paper (a 'tendered ballot paper') in the same manner as any other voter¹⁴.

A tendered ballot paper must be of a colour differing from the other ballot papers and, instead of being put into the ballot box, it must be given to the presiding officer¹⁵ and endorsed by him¹⁶ with the name of the voter and his number in the register of electors¹⁷, and set aside in a separate packet¹⁸. The name of the voter and his number on the register of electors¹⁹ must be entered on a list (called the 'tendered votes list') and, in the case of a parliamentary election, the voter must also sign the tendered votes list opposite the entry relating to him²⁰. However, in the case of a person voting as proxy for an elector, this is subject to the proviso that the number to be endorsed or entered together with the name of the voter is the number of that elector²¹.

1 For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 124 note 4 ante; and, in relation to European parliamentary election, see PARA 125 note 5 ante.

2 As to the registers of electors see PARA 156 et seq ante.

The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 40 (as amended) (in the case of a parliamentary election), the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 rr 38, 39 (in the case of a local government election for a principal area) and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 rr 38, 39 (in the case of a local government election for a parish or community council) each apply also to an elector who has an anonymous entry in the register of electors, subject to minor modifications (see notes 17, 19 infra) (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(4A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 14(1), (5)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(4)) and to an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante), subject to minor modifications (see notes 9, 12, 17, 19 infra) (Sch 1 r 40(4B) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(6), Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 37); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(5); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(5)). Accordingly, in each case, the reference in the text to an 'elector named on the register' must be read, in the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) as a reference to an elector in respect of whom such a notice has been issued: Sch 1 r 40(4B)(a) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(5)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(5)(a). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 37 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

3 As to the absent voters list see PARA 378 ante.

4 As to the list of proxies see PARA 378 ante.

5 As to the entitlement to vote by post as proxy see PARAS 382, 386 ante.

6 As to the questions that may be put to person applying for a ballot paper see PARA 403 ante. It would appear that the application is not complete until the questions have been answered and that the onus is on the applicant to demand that they be put: Lyons v Cunningham (1920) 55 ILT 35 at 38.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 11, 28, Sch 2 para 7, Sch 5); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 35(1), Sch 2 r 36(1), Sch 3 r 36(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 36(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 45(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 41(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 38(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 38(1). To indicate that an elector or his proxy is entitled to vote by post and is for that reason not entitled to vote in person, the letter 'A' is placed against the name of that elector in any copy of the register, or part of it, provided for a polling station: see PARAS 382, 387 ante. There is no provision for absent voting at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office and accordingly, in that case, if a person representing himself to be a particular elector named on the register applies for a ballot paper after another person has voted as the elector, the applicant, on satisfactorily answering the questions permitted by law to be asked at the poll, is entitled, subject to the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 22(2)-(3) (see the text and notes 15-20 infra), to mark a ballot paper (a 'tendered ballot paper') in the same manner as any other voter: Schedule r 22(1). As to voting by proxy see PARA 371 et seq ante; and as to the provisions relating to ballot papers generally see PARA 391 et seq ante.

8 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to the ordinary election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante; and as to ordinary elections of councillors for parishes or communities see PARA 207 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

9 The reference in the text to an elector named on the register must be read, in the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante) as a reference to an elector in respect of whom such a notice has been issued: Sch 1 r 40(4B)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(5)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(5)(a). See note 2 supra.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(1ZA), (1ZB) (Sch 1 r 40(1ZA)-(1ZC) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 38(1)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 38(2), (3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 38(2), (3).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 38 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(1ZC) (as added: see note 10 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 38(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 38(4). See note 10 supra.

12 The reference in the text to an elector named on the register must be read, in the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante) as a reference to an elector in respect of whom such a notice has been issued: Sch 1 r 40(4B)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(5)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(5)(a). See note 2 supra.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(1ZD) (Sch 1 r 40(1ZD), (1ZE) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 38(2)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 38(5); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 38(5). See note 10 supra.

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(1ZE) (as added: see note 13 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 38(6); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 38(6). See note 10 supra.

15 As to the presiding officer see PARA 398 ante. This function of the presiding officer may be discharged by one of the clerks appointed to assist him: see PARA 398 ante. If the applicant puts his vote in the ballot box instead of giving it to the presiding officer the vote is bad: York County East Riding, Buckrose Division, Case (1886) 4 O'M & H 110 at 115.

16 The omission to make the endorsement is not a fatal objection to the vote: Stepney Division, Tower Hamlets Case (1886) 4 O'M & H 34 at 43.

17 As to the number of an elector see PARA 160 ante. The reference to the name of the voter in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(2) (in the case of a parliamentary election), in the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(1) (in the case of a local government election for a principal area) and in the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(1) (in the case of a local government election for a parish or community council) must be ignored in the case of an elector who has an anonymous entry in the register of electors but otherwise a reference to a person named on a register must be construed as a reference to a person whose number appears on the register: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(4A)(a), (b) (as added: see note 2 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(4)(a), (b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(4)(a), (b). The reference in those same provisions (as they apply) to his number in the register of electors must be read, in the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante) as a reference to the number relating to him on such a notice: Sch 1 r 40(4B)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(5)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(5)(b). See note 2 supra. As to anonymous entries in a register of electors see PARA 174 ante.

18 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(2); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 22(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 35(2), Sch 2 r 36(2), Sch 3 r 36(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 36(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 45(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 41(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(1). A tendered vote is not counted by the returning officer: in relation to the counting of votes at a parliamentary or local government election (except a London Authority election) see PARA 432 post; in relation to a London Authority election see PARA 443 post; in relation to a local authority or London mayoral election see PARA 451 post; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 461 post; and in relation to a European parliamentary election see PARA 471 post. As to the adding of the vote on a scrutiny see PARA 842 post.

19 The reference to the name of the voter in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(3) (in the case of a parliamentary election), in the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(2) (in the case of a local government election for a principal area) and in the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(2) (in the case of a local government election for a parish or community council) must be ignored in the case of an elector who has an anonymous entry in the register of electors; but otherwise a reference to a person named on the tendered voters list must be construed as a reference to a person whose number appears on the list: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(4A)(a), (b) (as added: see note 2 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(4)(a), (b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(4)(a), (b). The reference in those same provisions (as they apply) to his number on the register of electors must be read, in the case of an elector who is added to the register in pursuance of a notice issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante) as a reference to the number relating to him on such a notice: Sch 1 r 40(4B)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(5)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(5)(c). See note 2 supra.

20 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(3) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 69, 81(1), (3)); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 22(3); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 35(3), Sch 2 r 36(3), Sch 3 r 36(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 36(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 45(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 41(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(2).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 81 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

At an ordinary London Authority election and at any London mayoral election, the same tendered voters list may be used for each election and, where it is so used, an entry in that list must be taken to mean that tendered ballot papers were marked in respect of each election, unless the list identifies the election at which a tendered ballot paper was marked: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 3 r 36(5), Sch 4 r 10. For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante. At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election, where voters are entitled to give two votes at the polling station, the same tendered voters list may be used for the constituency and regional elections at which the voters are entitled to vote and, where it is so used, an entry in that list must be taken to mean that tendered ballot papers were so marked in respect of each election, unless the list identifies the election at which a tendered ballot paper was so marked: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 45(5). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

21 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 40(4); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 35(4), Sch 2 r 36(4), Sch 3 r 36(4); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 36(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 45(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 41(4); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 39(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 39(3). There is no provision for voting by proxy at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office and accordingly the provision that is set out in the text does not apply in that case.

409. Spoilt ballot papers.

A voter¹ who has inadvertently dealt with his ballot paper at an election² in such manner that it cannot be conveniently used as a ballot paper³ may, on delivering it to the presiding officer⁴ and proving to his satisfaction the fact of the inadvertence, obtain another ballot paper in place of the ballot paper so delivered (called a 'spoilt ballot paper')⁵. The spoilt ballot paper must be immediately cancelled⁶.

1 For the purposes of the statutory provisions governing elections, a voter is defined as a person voting at an election and includes a person voting as proxy (but not necessarily a person voting by proxy): in relation to parliamentary and local government elections see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 124 note 5 ante; and in relation to European parliamentary elections see PARA 125 note 6 ante.

2 In a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purpose, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/B. VOTES GIVEN AT A POLLING STATION/410. Procedure on close of poll at a polling station.

410. Procedure on close of poll at a polling station.

As soon as practicable after the close of the poll at an election¹, the presiding officer² must, in the presence of the polling agents³, make up into separate packets, sealed with his own seal and the seals of such polling agents as desire to affix their seals⁴:

- 480 (1) each ballot box in use at his station, sealed so as to prevent the introduction of additional ballot papers and unopened (but, if the boxes are capable of being locked, with the key attached)⁵;
- 481 (2) the unused and spoilt ballot papers, placed together⁶;
- 482 (3) the tendered ballot papers⁷;
- 483 (4) the marked copies of the register of electors⁸ and of the list of proxies⁹;
- 484 (5) (in the case of a parliamentary election or a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council) the completed corresponding number lists¹⁰ or (in the case of any other election) the counterfoils of the used ballot papers¹¹;
- 485 (6) the certificates as to employment on duty on the day of the poll¹²; and
- 486 (7) the tendered votes list¹³, the list of voters with disabilities assisted by companions¹⁴, the list of votes marked by the presiding officer¹⁵, a statement of the number of voters whose votes are so marked by the presiding officer under the heads 'disability (or 'physical incapacity', as the case may be) and 'unable to read', the declarations made by the companions of voters with disabilities and (in the case of a parliamentary election or a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council) the list maintained by the presiding officer of persons to whom ballot papers were delivered in consequence of an alteration to the register which took effect on the day of the poll¹⁶.

The materials mentioned in head (4) above must be in one packet but must not be in the same packet as the materials mentioned in heads (5) and (6) above¹⁷.

The presiding officer must deliver the packets or cause them to be delivered to the appropriate returning officer¹⁸ to be taken charge of by him; but if the packets are not delivered by the presiding officer personally to the returning officer, the arrangements for their delivery require the approval of the returning officer¹⁹.

The packets must be accompanied by a statement (the 'ballot paper account') made by the presiding officer showing the number of ballot papers entrusted to him, and accounting for them under the heads of ballot papers issued and not otherwise accounted for, unused ballot papers, spoilt ballot papers, and tendered ballot papers²⁰.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for the procedure on the close of a poll²¹.

1 In the case of a parliamentary election, an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales and a European parliamentary election. Polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) are also considered and, for this purpose, the text should be read as if, for the reference to 'election', there were a reference to 'poll'. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 As to the presiding officer see PARA 398 ante. This function of the presiding officer may be discharged by one of the clerks appointed to assist him: see PARA 398 ante.

3 The non-attendance of the polling agents will not, if the act or thing is otherwise duly done, invalidate the act or thing done: see PARA 399 ante.

As to tendered ballot papers see PARA 408 ante. At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election, where electors have been entitled to give two votes at the polling station, separate packets must be made up and sealed for: (1) the tendered ballot papers relating to the constituency election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 48(1)(d)); and (2) the tendered ballot papers relating to the regional election (Sch 5 para 48(1)(e)).

8 In including, in the case of a parliamentary election or a local government election for a principal area, parish or community, any marked copy notices of alteration to the register issued under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante): Sch 1 r 43(1)(d) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(6), Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 39(a)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(1)(d); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(1)(d).

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 39, 69, 79 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 43(1)(d) (as amended: see note 8 supra); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 25(1)(d); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 38(1)(d), Sch 2 r 39(1)(d), Sch 3 r 39(1)(d); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 39(1)(d); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 42(1)(f), (2)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 44(1)(d); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(1)(d); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(1)(d). There is no provision for voting by proxy at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office and accordingly the reference to the list of proxies in head (4) in the text does not apply in that case. As to the list of proxies see PARA 378 ante.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 43(1)(da) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 31(1), (4)(a)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(1)(e); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(1)(e). The text refers to the lists prepared, in relation to a parliamentary election, under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 19A (as added) or, in relation to a local government election for a principal area, under the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 17 or, in relation to a local government election for a parish and community council, under the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 17 (the corresponding number list: see PARA 392 ante), including the parts which were completed in accordance with, respectively, the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(b) (as substituted) and Sch 1 r 37(1)(d) (prospectively substituted), the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 35(1)(b) and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 35(1)(b) (see PARA 404 ante), which are together referred to in the relevant elections rules as the 'completed corresponding number lists': Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 43(1)(da) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(1)(e); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(1)(e). As to the elections rules which relate to a parliamentary election, a local government election for a principal area and a local government election for a parish or community council see PARA 388 ante.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 31, 74(2), Sch 2 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007 (see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1); and the amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 31(4) has no effect to the extent that it relates to the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 37(1)(d) (prospectively substituted) (see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 3, Sch 1 para 14(p)).

11 Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 25(1)(e); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 38(1)(e), Sch 2 r 39(1)(e), Sch 3 r 39(1)(e); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 39(1)(e); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 48(1)(g)-(i), (2)(e), (f); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 44(1)(e). At an ordinary Welsh Assembly election, where electors have been entitled to give two votes at the polling station, separate packets must be made up and sealed for: (1) the counterfoils of the used ballot papers relating to the constituency election (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 48(1)(g)); and (2) the counterfoils of the used ballot papers relating to the regional election (Sch 5 para 48(1)(h)).

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 43(1)(e) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 31(1), (4)(b), 74(2), Sch 2); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 25(1)(e); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 38(1)(e), Sch 2 r 39(1)(e), Sch 3 r 39(1)(e); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 39(1)(e); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 48(1)(g)-(i), (2)(e), (f); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 44(1)(e); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(1)(f); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(1)(f). There is no provision for certificates as to employment on duty at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office and accordingly head (6) in the text does not apply in that case. As to certificates of employment on duty on the day of the poll see PARA 402 ante. As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 9 supra.

13 As to the tendered votes list see PARA 408 ante.

14 As to the list of voters with disabilities assisted by companions see PARA 407 ante.

15 As to the list of votes marked by the presiding officer see PARA 406 ante.

16 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 43(1)(f) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 13(1), (4); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 47, Sch 1 paras 31, 33, 39(b), 69, 79); Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 25(1)(f); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 38(1)(f), Sch 2 r 39(1)(f), Sch 3 r 39(1)(f) (all amended by SI 2004/227); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 39(1)(f); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 48(1)(j), (2) (g); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 44(1)(f); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(1)(g); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(1)(g). In the case of a parliamentary election or a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, the heading 'disability' replaces that of 'physical incapacity' in the statement of the number of voters whose votes are so marked by the presiding officer; and the list referred to in the text of persons to whom ballot papers were delivered in consequence of an alteration to the register which took effect on the day of the poll is a reference to the list maintained by the presiding officer, in relation to a parliamentary election, under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 41A (as added) or, in relation to a local government election for a principal area, under the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 41 or, in relation to a local government election for a parish and community council, under the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 41 (see PARA 404 ante); Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 43(1)(f) (as so amended); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(1)(g); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(1)(g). As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 8 supra.

At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, the provision set out in the text applies only to voters with blindness and all references to other physical incapacities must be ignored in that case, albeit that the statement of the number of voters whose votes are marked by the presiding officer contains the head 'physical incapacity' rather than 'blindness': see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 25(1)(f).

As to declarations made by the companions of voters with disabilities see PARA 407 ante.

17 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 43(2) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 31(1), (4)(c)); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 38(3), Sch 2 r 39(3), Sch 3 r 39(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 39(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 44(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 43(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 43(2). The provision set out in the text does not apply at a Welsh Assembly election because special provision is made for the number and contents of the packets: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 48(1), (2); and notes 6, 7, 9 supra. At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, there is no provision either for voting by proxy (see note 8 supra) or for certificates as to employment on duty (see note 9 supra) and accordingly the provision referred to in the text is limited in such a case to requiring that the marked copy of the register of electors must not be in the same packet as the counterfoils of the used ballot papers: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 25(2). At a London Authority election, the contents of the packets of: (1) the unused and spoilt ballot papers (placed together); (2) the tendered ballot papers; and (3) the counterfoils of the used ballot papers and the certificates as to employment on duty on the day of the poll, must not be combined with the contents of the packets made under the corresponding rule that applies at other Assembly elections, nor may the ballot paper account (as to which see the text and note 20 infra) be so combined: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 38(2), Sch 2 r 39(2), Sch 3 r 39(2). As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 9 supra.

18 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; as to returning officers for local government elections (including local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante; and as to the returning officer at a poll consequent on parish meeting see PARA 361 ante. In the case of European parliamentary elections, the appropriate returning officer is the local returning officer: see PARA 365 et seq ante. In the case of a London Authority election, and for the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which in relation to a London Authority election see PARA 218 note 8 ante; and for the meaning of which in relation to a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 18 note 2 ante). As to the functions of returning officers where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum see PARA 18 ante.

Where the Greater London returning officer determines, in accordance with the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 4 r 2(2) (see PARA 392 note 11 ante), that ballot papers are to be combined, ballot paper accounts must also be combined: Sch 4 r 11. For the meaning of 'Greater London returning officer' see PARA 218 note 7 ante.

The packets at a Welsh Assembly election must be accompanied by a separate statement relating to each Assembly election at an ordinary Welsh Assembly election where electors have been entitled to give two votes at the polling station, or, otherwise, by a statement relating to the Welsh Assembly election: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 48(4)(a), (b).

21 As to polls at elections or referendums which are taken together see PARA 16 et seq ante.

C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT

(A) ISSUE OF POSTAL BALLOT PAPERS

411. Returning officer's duty to issue postal ballot papers, etc.

The returning officer at a parliamentary election, or at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council¹, must, in accordance with regulations², issue to those entitled to vote by post³ a ballot paper⁴ and a postal voting statement in the prescribed form⁵, together with such envelopes for their return as may be prescribed⁶. The returning officer must also issue to those entitled to vote by post such information as he thinks appropriate about how to obtain translations into languages other than English of any directions to or guidance for voters sent with the ballot paper⁷, a translation into Braille of such directions or guidance⁸, graphical representations of such directions or guidance⁹, or the directions or guidance in any other form (including any audible form)¹⁰. In the case of a ballot paper issued to a person resident in the United Kingdom¹¹, the returning officer must ensure that the return of the ballot paper and postal voting statement is free of charge to the voter¹²; and, in any other case but in relation to a parliamentary election only, regulations may provide that the returning officer must so ensure¹³.

At any other election¹⁴, the returning officer¹⁵ must, in accordance with the statutory requirements¹⁶, issue to those entitled to vote by post a postal ballot paper¹⁷ and a declaration of identity in the appropriate form or forms to like effect¹⁸, together with such envelopes for their return (whether free of charge or otherwise) as may be so prescribed¹⁹.

Where the polls at elections are taken together, the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers in respect of each election may, if the returning officers agree, be taken together²⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to the ordinary election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante; and as to ordinary elections of councillors for parishes or communities see PARA 207 et seq ante. As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; and as to returning officers for local government elections see PARA 359 et seq ante.

2 In accordance with regulations made under the Representation of the People Act 1983. See note 5 infra. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

3 As to applications made for absent voting see PARA 372 et seq ante.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(1)(a) (Sch 1 r 24(1), (2) substituted, and Sch 1 para 24(3)-(5) added, by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 37); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 22(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 22(1).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 37 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(1). The form of the postal voting statement must include provision for the form to be signed and for stating the date of birth of the elector or proxy, as the case may be: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(3) (as added: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(3). As to the commencement of the amendments of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 4 supra. For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

At a parliamentary election taken alone, the form of the postal voting statement to be used is set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 66(a), Sch 3 (Form G: form of postal voting statement (for use at parliamentary elections)) (reg 66 amended, and Forms G-J substituted, by SI 2006/2910); at a parliamentary election where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are taken together with those proceedings at another election, the form of the postal voting statement to be used is set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 66(b), Sch 3 (Form H: form of postal voting statement (for use where there is a joint issue and receipt of postal ballot papers)) (reg 66 as so amended; and Form H as so substituted); and at a parliamentary election where the poll is taken together with the poll at another election, but where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are not, the form of the postal voting statement to be used is set out in reg 66(c), Sch 3 (Form J: form of postal voting statement (for use when a parliamentary poll is combined with another poll but the postal ballot papers are not combined)) (reg 66 as so amended; Form J as so substituted). The forms set out in Sch 3 (as amended) or forms substantially to the like effect may be used with such variations as the circumstances may require. reg 4(2). At a parliamentary election in Wales, the forms prescribed as the versions partly in Welsh and partly in English which must be used instead are set out in the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, art 6(1)(i), Sch 2 (Form 10: declaration of identity; Form 11: declaration of identity; Form 12: declaration of identity).

For the purposes of a local government election for a principal area, a postal voting statement must be in the appropriate form (or a form to like effect): see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of postal voting statement). Where such an election is taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of postal voting statement (for use where there is a joint issue and receipt of postal ballot papers); Form of postal voting statement (for use when a local government poll is combined with another poll but the postal ballot papers are not combined)). For the purposes of a local government election for a parish and community council, the appropriate form (or a form to like effect) must be used: see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of postal voting statement). Where such an election is taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of postal voting statement (for use where there is a joint issue and receipt of postal ballot papers); Form of postal voting statement (for use when a parish or community poll is combined with another poll but the postal ballot papers are not combined)). Where an election in Wales is taken together with the poll at a relevant election or referendum see the forms set out partly in Welsh and partly in English in the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233, art 4, Schedule Pt 2 (Form of declaration of identity, ffurflen adnabod); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234, art 4, Schedule Pt 2 (Form of declaration of identity, ffurflen adnabod).

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(1) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(1). As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 4 supra.

The requirement is only for the returning officer to issue the ballot papers in accordance with the statutory scheme and his responsibilities do not go beyond that: Knight v Nicholls [2004] EWCA Civ 68, [2004] 1 WLR 1653, [2004] LGR 524 (considering what is now the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22). As to the issue of delivery see further PARA 417 post.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(2)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(2)(a). As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 4 supra.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(2)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(2)(b). As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 4 supra.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(2)(c) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(2)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(2)(c). As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 4 supra.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(2)(d) (as substituted: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(2)(d); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(2)(d). As to the commencement of the amendment of the Representation of the People Act 1983 effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 see note 4 supra.

11 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(4) (as added: see note 4 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 22(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 22(4). As to the commencement of this provision see note 4 supra.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 24(5) (as added: see note 4 supra). As to the commencement of this provision see note 4 supra.

14 In an Authority election, an election under the local government Act (see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); and PARA 3 note 1 ante), an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, and a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante. For the meanings of 'Assembly election', 'constituency election' and 'regional election' in the context of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante. There is no provision for absent voting at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office.

15 As to returning officers for local authority mayoral elections see PARA 359 et seq ante. In the case of European parliamentary elections, the appropriate returning officer is the local returning officer: see PARA 365 et seq ante. In the case of a London Authority election, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which for these purposes see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which in relation to a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 18 note 2 ante). As to the functions of returning officers where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum see PARA 18 ante.

16 At an election to return a local authority mayor, the reference is to regulations made under the Representation of the People Act 1983: see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 21. At a London Authority election, the constituency returning officer must, as soon as practicable, send the specified items to those entitled to vote by post, at the addresses shown in the absent voters list (as to which see PARA 378 ante): see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 20(1), Sch 2 r 21(1), Sch 3 r 21(1) (Sch 1 r 20(1), Sch 2 r 21(1), Sch 3 r 21(1) all substituted by SI 2004/227). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the constituency returning officer must as soon as practicable send the specified items to those entitled to vote by post, at the address shown in the absent voters list or the list of postal proxies (as to which see PARA 378 ante): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 30(1). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the reference in the text is to the requirements set out in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2: see reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 26.

17 In the case of a person who at an ordinary Welsh Assembly election is entitled to give two votes by post, the reference to a ballot paper must be construed as a reference to both ballot papers: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 30(2).

18 For the purposes of a London Authority election, the appropriate form is set out in the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 5 (Form 8: declaration of identity (constituency and mayoral elections otherwise than at ordinary elections)) (amended by SI 2004/227). See also the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 5 (Form 9A: declaration of identity (GLA election combined with a relevant election or referendum)-(joint issue and receipt of postal ballots)) (added by SI 2004/227); and the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 5 (Form 9B: declaration of identity (GLA election combined with a relevant election or referendum)-(separate issue and receipt of postal ballots)) (added by SI 2004/227). Where the polls at an ordinary London Authority election are taken together, a joint declaration of identity must be issued in the appropriate form: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 4, Sch 4 r 4(b). As to the form prescribed for this purpose see Sch 5 (Form 9: declaration of identity (ordinary elections)) (amended by SI 2004/227).

However, in place of the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 5 (Form 8) PARA 2 (ie except in the case of an election for the return of London members) and Sch 5 (Form 9) PARAS 2-4, the form may include such alternative information as the Greater London returning officer may decide, relating to:

- 69 (1) the system of voting at the Greater London Authority ('GLA') election;
- 70 (2) how many votes a voter has at each GLA election; and
- 71 (3) the marks to be used and the manner in which they should be used, in order to ensure that a vote is counted for any candidate, and which complies with r 9, Sch 12 para 4 (as added) (requirements for notices for the guidance of voters: see PARA 396 ante), as though that information were to be included in a notice: Sch 1 r 20(3), (4), Sch 2 r 21(3), (4), Sch 3 r 21(3), (4) (Sch 1 r 20, Sch 2 r 21, Sch 3 r 21 all substituted by SI 2004/227). Where the Greater London returning officer has decided to provide such alternative information, he must notify the constituency returning officer of the information that is so to appear in the form: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 20(5), Sch 2 r 21(5), Sch 3 r 21(5) (all as so substituted). For the meaning of 'Greater London returning officer' see PARA 218 note 7 ante.

For the purposes of an election to return a local authority mayor, see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 Appendix of Forms (Form 5: declaration of identity) (Form 5 amended by SI 2004/225).

For the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election, the declaration of identity sent with the postal ballot paper to a postal voter must be: (a) at an ordinary election where a postal voter is entitled to give two votes and where the polls at the elections are not held together with the poll at another election, in the form set out in English and Welsh in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 3(a), Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration of identity referred to in PARAGRAPH 3(a)); (b) at an Assembly election where the poll at the election is not held together with the poll at another election (and where head (a) supra does not apply), in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 3 para 3(b), Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration of identity referred to in PARAGRAPH 3(b)); (c) at an Assembly election (whether or not at an ordinary election where a postal voter is entitled to give two votes) where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are taken together with those proceedings at another election under Sch 3 para 2 (issue and receipt of postal ballot papers when polls combined: see PARA 20 ante), in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 3 para 3(c), Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration of identity referred to in PARAGRAPH 3(c)); (d) at an ordinary election where a postal voter is entitled to give two votes, the polls at which are taken together with the poll at another election in any part of an Assembly constituency, but where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are not taken together under Sch 3 para 2, for use in that part of the constituency in which polls at more than one election are taken together, in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 3 para 3(d), Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration of identity referred to in PARAGRAPH 3(d)); and (e) at an Assembly election, the poll at which is taken together with the poll at another election in any part of an Assembly constituency, but where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are not taken together under Sch 3 para 2, for use in that part of the constituency in which polls at more than one election are taken together (and where head (d) supra does not apply), in the form set out in English and Welsh in Sch 3 para 3(e), Appendix of Forms (Form of declaration of identity referred to in PARAGRAPH 3(e)).

For the purposes of a European parliamentary election, the reference in the text is to the form prescribed by the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 28. Accordingly, at a European parliamentary election in England and Wales taken alone, the form of the declaration of identity for these purposes is set out in Sch 2 para 28(a), Appendix of Forms (Form B: declaration of identity); at a European parliamentary election in England and Wales where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are taken together with those proceedings at a relevant election or referendum, the form is set out in Sch 2 para 28(b), Appendix of Forms (Form C: declaration of identity); and at a European parliamentary election in England and Wales where the poll is taken together with the poll at a relevant election or referendum, but where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are not, the form is set out in Sch 2 para 28(c), Appendix of Forms (Form D: declaration of identity).

19 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 20(1), (2), Sch 2 r 21(1), (2), Sch 3 r 21(1), (2) (all as substituted: see note 16 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 21; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 30(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 26. As to the returning officer's duty to issue postal ballot papers, etc see the case law cited in note 6 supra. As to the marking of the envelopes and the addresses to be used see PARA 416 post.

412. Notification of requirement of secrecy at proceedings relating to the issue of postal ballot papers.

The returning officer at an election¹ must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that every person attending the proceedings in connection with the issue² of postal ballot papers³ has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to those proceedings⁴.

1 As to the returning officers and elections referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 14-15 ante. At a Welsh Assembly regional election, the functions connected with the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers are to be exercised in relation to each Assembly constituency in an Assembly electoral region by the returning officer for such a constituency: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 4. For the meanings of 'Assembly constituency' and 'Assembly electoral region' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

2 As to proceedings on the issue of postal ballot papers see PARAS 411 ante, 413 et seq post. For the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections, 'issue' includes the original and any subsequent issue: ibid Sch 3 para 1.

3 For these purposes, 'postal ballot paper' means a ballot paper issued to a postal voter; and 'postal voter' means an elector or proxy who is entitled to vote by post: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 64; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 26(1).

413. Time of issue of postal ballot papers, etc.

The postal ballot paper¹ and postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, the declaration of identity)² must be issued by the returning officer³ as soon as practicable after the registration officer⁴ has granted the application to vote by post⁵, except where a person is shown in the records kept of those entitled (for a defined period or for an indefinite period) to an absent vote at elections⁶ or to vote by post as proxy at elections⁷, in which two cases no postal ballot paper and postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) may be issued until after 5 pm on the eleventh day before the date of the poll⁸.

At a parliamentary or local government election, an elector or a proxy voter who is shown in the postal voters list or proxy postal voters list may make a request, at any time between the first issue of postal ballots⁹ and the close of the poll, that the returning officer confirm¹⁰: (1) whether a mark is shown in the marked copy of the postal voters list or proxy postal voters list in a place corresponding to the number of the elector to denote that a postal vote has been returned¹¹; and (2) whether the number of the ballot paper issued to the elector or his proxy has been recorded on either of the lists of provisionally rejected votes kept by the returning officer¹². Such a request must be made by any method specified¹³, and must include any evidence of the voter's identity requested¹⁴, by the returning officer¹⁵. Where a request is duly received in this way, the returning officer must satisfy himself that the request has been made by the elector or his proxy and, where he is so satisfied, provide confirmation of the matters under heads (1) and (2) above¹⁶.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(A) Issue of Postal Ballot Papers/414. Proceedings on the issue of postal ballot papers.

414. Proceedings on the issue of postal ballot papers.

No person may be present at the proceedings on the issue of postal ballot papers¹ at an election² other than the returning officer and his clerks³. The following procedure must be followed:

- 487 (1) each postal ballot paper issued in relation to a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election must be stamped with the official mark⁴;
- 488 (2) in the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the number of the elector⁵ as stated in the register must be marked on the corresponding number list⁶, next to the number and unique identifying mark of the ballot paper issued to that elector⁷; and, in the case of any other election, the number of the elector as stated in the register must be marked on the counterfoil attached to the ballot paper⁸;
- 489 (3) a mark must be placed, in the case of a parliamentary or local government election, in the postal voters list or proxy postal voters list and, in the case of a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, in the absent voters list⁹ or the list of postal proxies¹⁰, against the number of the elector to denote that a ballot paper has been issued to the elector or his proxy, but without showing the particular ballot paper issued¹¹; and
- 490 (4) the number of a postal ballot paper must be marked on the postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, the declaration of identity) sent with that paper¹².

Where the poll at one election is taken with the poll at another election, special provision is made¹³.

1 For the meaning of 'postal ballot paper' see PARA 412 note 3 ante.

2 As to the elections referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 14 ante.

3 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 67 (amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 5; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 29. As to the returning officers referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 15 ante; and in relation to the returning officer's functions connected with the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at a Welsh Assembly regional election see also PARA 412 note 1 ante.

In relation to a parliamentary or local government election, the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 67 (as amended) is without prejudice to the provisions of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 6A-6E (as added) (Electoral Commission representatives and accredited observers to attend electoral proceedings and observe working practices: see PARA 48 ante); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 67 (as so amended).

5 For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 124 note 4 ante; and, in relation to European parliamentary election, see PARA 125 note 5 ante. As to the number of an elector see PARA 160 ante.

6 As to the corresponding number list see PARA 392 ante.

7 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 72(2) (amended by SI 2006/2910). As to the number and unique identifying mark of the ballot paper referred to in the text see PARA 392 ante.

8 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 9(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 34(2). At a Welsh Assembly election, the name and number of the elector as stated in the register must be called out before such number is marked on the counterfoil: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 9(1).

9 For these purposes, 'absent voters list' means the list kept for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 10 or for the purposes of a European parliamentary election under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 5 (see PARA 378 ante); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 26(1).

10 For these purposes, 'list of postal proxies' means the list kept, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 12(8) or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 7(8) (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 386 ante); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 26(1).

416. Envelopes to be issued to postal voter.

An envelope marked with the letter 'B' (a 'covering envelope'¹) must be issued to a postal voter² by the returning officer at an election³ for the return of the postal ballot paper⁴ and the postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, the declaration of identity) issued to him⁵. The returning officer must also issue to a postal voter a smaller envelope (a 'ballot paper envelope'⁶) which must be marked with the letter 'A', the words 'ballot paper envelope' (and the words 'amlen papur pleidleisio', in the case of a Welsh Assembly election), and the number of the ballot paper or, as the case may be, ballot papers (unless, at a parliamentary or local government election, the envelope has a window through which the number on the ballot paper or ballot papers can be displayed)⁷.

In the case of a parliamentary or local government election, the address to which the postal ballot paper, postal voting statement and the envelopes are to be sent is, in the case of an elector⁸, the address shown in the postal voters list or, in the case of a proxy at such an election, the address shown in the proxy postal voters list⁹. In the case of a European parliamentary election, the address to which the postal ballot paper, declaration of identity and the envelopes are to be sent is, in the case of an elector¹⁰, the address shown in the absent voters list¹¹ or, in the case of a proxy at such an election, the address shown in the list of postal proxies¹².

Where the poll at one election is taken with the poll at another election, special provision is made for the marking of the envelopes used¹³.

1 'Covering envelope' means the envelope referred to in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 74, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 11 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 r 36 (as the case may be): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 64; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 26(1).

2 For the meaning of 'postal voter' see PARA 412 note 3 ante.

3 As to the returning officers and elections referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 14-15 ante; and in relation to the returning officer's functions connected with the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at a Welsh Assembly regional election see also PARA 412 note 1 ante.

4 Or ballot papers, as the case may be. There will be more than one ballot paper at a Welsh Assembly ordinary election or generally when the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at more than one election have been taken together (as to which see PARA 20 ante). For the meaning of 'postal ballot paper' see PARA 412 note 3 ante.

5 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 74(1), (2) (amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 11(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 r 36(1), (2). The text refers to: (1) the ballot paper and the postal voting statement which are issued to a postal voter, in the case of a parliamentary election, under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 24 (as substituted) or, in the case of a local government election, under the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 22 or the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 22; or (2) to the ballot paper and the declaration of identity which are issued to a postal voter under the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1), Sch 1 r 20(1), (2) (as substituted), r 3(2), Sch 2 r 21(1), (2) (as substituted) or r 3(3), Sch 3 r 21(1), (2) (as substituted) or, in the case of an election of a local authority mayor, under the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 21 or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 30(1) or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 para 26 (whichever is appropriate) (see PARA 411 ante). As to the postal voting statement and declaration of identity see PARA 411 ante.

6 'Ballot paper envelope' means the envelope referred to in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 74, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 11 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 r 36 (as the case may be): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 64; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 26(1).

7 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 74(3) (amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 11(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 36(3).

8 For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

9 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 72(7) (added by SI 2002/1871; and amended by SI 2006/752; SI 2006/2910).

Where a person has an anonymous entry in the register, the items specified in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 72(7) (as added and amended) must be sent (as the case may be) to the address to which postal ballot papers should be sent as shown in the record kept for the purposes of a parliamentary or local government election under the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 para 3(4) (see PARA 375 ante) or in the record kept under Sch 4 para 7(6) (see PARA 384 ante) or as given in pursuance of an application made under Sch 4 para 4(1) (as amended) (see PARA 376 ante) or made under Sch 4 para 7(4)(b) (see PARA 383 ante): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 72(8) (added by SI 2006/2910). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry', in relation to a register of electors, see PARA 174 ante.

No specific provision as to the address to which the postal ballot paper etc is to be sent is made in the case of a Welsh Assembly election.

10 For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to European parliamentary election, see PARA 125 note 5 ante.

11 For the meaning of 'absent voters list' for these purposes see PARA 414 note 9 ante.

417. Delivery of postal ballot papers by returning officer.

For the purposes of delivering postal ballot papers¹, the returning officer at an election² may use: (1) a universal postal service provider³; (2) a commercial delivery firm⁴; or (3) clerks appointed by a returning officer to aid a presiding officer⁵. Except where head (3) above applies, postage must be pre-paid on the envelopes addressed to the postal voters⁶; and where the address provided by the postal voter for the receipt of the postal ballot paper is within the United Kingdom⁷, return postage must be pre-paid on all covering envelopes also⁸. Where the services of a universal postal service provider or commercial delivery firm are to be used, envelopes addressed to postal voters must be counted and delivered by the returning officer with such form of receipt to be endorsed by that provider or firm as may be arranged⁹. The returning officer is required only to deliver the postal ballot papers in accordance with this statutory scheme and he is not required to deliver the postal ballot papers into the hands of the electors¹⁰.

418. Sealing up of counterfoils of postal ballot papers and security of special lists.

As soon as practicable after the issue of each batch of postal ballot papers¹, the returning officer at an election² must make up into a packet, in the case of a parliamentary election, the completed corresponding number lists³ or, otherwise, the counterfoils of those ballot papers which have been issued and he must seal such a packet⁴.

The returning officer at a parliamentary or local government election must, until the last covering envelope has been opened⁵, take proper precautions for the security of the marked copy of the postal voters list and the proxy postal voters list⁶.

The returning officer at a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election must, as soon as practicable after the last batch of postal ballot papers has been issued, make up into a packet the marked copy of the absent voters list⁷ and the list of postal proxies⁸ and he must seal such a packet⁹. Until the time when the last batch of postal ballot papers has been issued, the returning officer must take proper precautions for the security of the absent voters list and the list of postal proxies¹⁰.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(A) Issue of Postal Ballot Papers/419. Instructions for voting by post.

419. Instructions for voting by post.

In order to vote, a postal voter¹ is instructed to²:

- 491 (1) record his vote on the ballot paper³, according to the instructions given;
- 492 (2) put the ballot paper (or papers) in the small envelope⁴ marked 'A' and seal it;
- 493 (3) validate the postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, the declaration of identity) in the prescribed manner;
- 494 (4) put the envelope marked 'A', together with the postal voting statement or declaration of identity, as the case may be, in the larger envelope marked 'B' and return it without delay, so that it is received by the returning officer not later than the close of the poll⁵.

The voter is reminded that, at the election in question, he cannot vote in person at a polling station and that it is illegal to vote more than once (otherwise than as proxy) at the same election⁶.

Instructions are also given in the event of a postal voter inadvertently spoiling the ballot paper⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'postal voter' see PARA 412 note 3 ante.

2 These instructions appear on the form of the postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, the declaration of identity) (as to which see PARA 411 note 6 ante). The precise wording may vary according to the election in question.

3 As to the issue of postal ballot papers see PARA 411 et seq ante.

4 As to the envelopes used for postal voting see PARA 416 ante.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(A) Issue of Postal Ballot Papers/420. Spoilt postal ballot papers.

420. Spoilt postal ballot papers.

If a postal voter¹ has inadvertently dealt with his postal ballot paper² in such manner that it cannot conveniently be used as a ballot paper or (except in the case of a European parliamentary election) if he has inadvertently dealt with his postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, the declaration of identity) in such a manner that it cannot be conveniently used as such, he may return the spoilt ballot paper³ or statement or declaration, as the case may be, either by hand or by post to the returning officer⁴. Except in the case of a European parliamentary election, where a postal voter exercises this entitlement, he must also return the postal ballot paper or statement or declaration, as the case may be, whether spoilt or not, together with the ballot paper envelope⁵ and the covering envelope⁶ supplied for the return of the documents⁷.

On receipt of any such documents, the returning officer must issue another postal ballot paper (or, as the case may be, ballot papers) except where those documents are received after 5 pm on the day of the poll⁸, in which case (except in the case of a European parliamentary election) he may only issue another postal ballot paper (or, as the case may be, ballot papers) if the postal voter returned the documents by hand⁹. Any such postal ballot paper or postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, declaration of identity), whether spoilt or not, which has been returned must be immediately cancelled¹⁰; and, as soon as practicable after cancelling those documents, the returning officer must make up those documents in a separate packet and he must seal the packet¹¹. If, on any subsequent occasion, documents are cancelled in this way, the sealed packet must be opened and the additional cancelled documents included in it and the packet must be again made up and sealed¹².

The returning officer must enter in a list kept for the purpose (the 'list of spoilt postal ballot papers'): (1) the name and number of the elector¹³ as stated in the register (or, in the case of an elector at a parliamentary or local government election who has an anonymous entry, his electoral number alone)¹⁴; (2) the number of the replacement postal ballot paper (or papers) issued¹⁵; and (3) where the postal voter whose ballot paper is spoilt is a proxy¹⁶, his name and address¹⁷.

Where postal ballot papers for more than one election have been issued together, special provision is made as to the treatment of spoilt ballot papers¹⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'postal voter' see PARA 412 note 3 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'postal ballot paper' see PARA 412 note 3 ante. There will be more than one ballot paper at a Welsh Assembly ordinary election or generally when the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at more than one election have been taken together (as to which see PARA 20 ante). As to the issue of postal ballot papers see PARA 411 et seq ante.

3 'Spoilt ballot paper' means a ballot paper referred to in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 77(1) (as substituted), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 14(1) (as substituted) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 39(1) (as the case may be): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 64; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 1; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 26(1).

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 77(1) (reg 77(1), (2) substituted by SI 2006/752; and amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 14(1) (Sch 3 para 14(1), (2) substituted by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 39(1). As to the postal voting statement and declaration of identity see PARA 411 ante. As to the returning officers and the elections for which they are appointed see PARA 411 notes 1, 15 ante; and in relation to the returning officer's functions connected with the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at a Welsh Assembly regional election see also PARA 412 note 1 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'ballot paper envelope' see PARA 416 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'covering envelope' see PARA 416 ante.

7 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 77(2) (as substituted and amended: see note 4 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 14(2) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

8 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 77(3) (amended by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 14(3) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 39(3).

Specified provisions relating to the issue of postal ballot papers apply to the issue of replacement postal ballot papers: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 77(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 14(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 39(4). In relation to a parliamentary or local government election, the provisions so specified are the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 72 (as amended) (except reg 72(3)) (see PARA 414 ante) and, subject to reg 77(7) (as substituted) (see note 9 infra), regs 74-76; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the provisions so specified are the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 paras 9-13; and, in relation to a European parliamentary election, the provisions so specified are the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 34 (except para 34(3)) and, subject to Sch 2 para 39(7), Sch 2 paras 36-38 (see PARAS 416-418 ante).

In the case of a European parliamentary election, where a postal voter applies in person, the local returning officer may hand a replacement postal ballot paper to him instead of delivering it in accordance with the statutory scheme (as to which see PARA 417 ante): Sch 2 para 39(7). As to elections other than European parliamentary elections see note 9 infra.

9 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 77(3A) (added by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 14(3A) (added by SI 2006/884).

Except in the case of a European parliamentary election (as to which see note 8 supra), the returning officer, instead of delivering a replacement postal ballot paper in accordance with the statutory scheme (as to which see PARA 417 ante), may hand a replacement postal ballot paper to a postal voter who applies in person by 5 pm on the day before the day of the poll (and he may only hand a replacement postal ballot paper to a postal voter who applies in person after 5 pm on the day before the day of the poll): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 77(7) (substituted by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 14(7) (substituted by SI 2006/884).

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(A) Issue of Postal Ballot Papers/421. Lost postal ballot papers.

421. Lost postal ballot papers.

Where a postal voter¹, by the fourth day before the day of the poll at an election², claims either to have lost or not to have received: (1) his postal ballot paper³; or (2) at a parliamentary or local government election, the postal voting statement (or, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the declaration of identity)⁴; or (3) one or more of the envelopes supplied for their return⁵, he may apply (whether or not in person) to the returning officer⁶ for a replacement ballot paper⁷. The voter must include evidence of his identity with any such application⁸.

Except in relation to a European parliamentary election, where a postal voter exercises his entitlement to a replacement ballot paper, he must return the other documents which he has received and which have not been lost⁹. Any such postal ballot paper or postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) which has been returned must be immediately cancelled¹⁰; and, as soon as practicable after cancelling those documents, the returning officer must make up those documents in a separate packet and he must seal the packet¹¹. If, on any subsequent occasion, documents are cancelled in this way, the sealed packet must be opened and the additional cancelled documents included in it and the packet must be again made up and sealed¹².

Where the application for a replacement ballot paper is received by the returning officer before 5 pm on the day of the poll and the returning officer is satisfied as to the voter's identity and he has no reason to doubt that the postal voter has either lost or has not received the original postal ballot paper or the postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be), or one or more of the envelopes provided for their return, he must issue another postal ballot paper or, as the case may be, postal ballot papers¹³. However, except in the case of a European parliamentary election, where the application is received by the returning officer after 5 pm on the day before the day of the poll, he must only issue another postal ballot paper or, as the case may be, other ballot papers if the postal voter applied in person¹⁴.

The returning officer must enter in a list kept for the purpose (the 'list of lost postal ballot papers'): (a) the name and number of the elector¹⁵ as stated in the register (or, in the case of an elector at a parliamentary or local government election who has an anonymous entry, his electoral number alone)¹⁶; (b) the number of the replacement postal ballot paper (or papers) issued¹⁷; and (c) where the postal voter whose ballot paper is lost is a proxy¹⁸, his name and address¹⁹.

Where postal ballot papers for more than one election have been issued together, special provision is made as to the treatment of lost ballot papers²⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'postal voter' see PARA 412 note 3 ante.

2 As to the elections referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 14 ante.

3 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(1)(a) (reg 78(1) substituted by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 15(1)(a) (Sch 3 para 15(1) substituted by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 40(1). For the meaning of 'postal ballot paper' see PARA 412 note 3 ante. There will be more than one ballot paper at a Welsh Assembly ordinary election or generally when the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at more than one election have been taken together (as to which see PARA 20 ante). As to the issue of postal ballot papers see PARA 411 et seq ante.

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(1)(b) (as substituted (see note 3 supra); and amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). In relation to a European parliamentary election, there is no explicit provision made for the postal voter to claim that the declaration of identity was either lost or not received.

5 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to the envelopes mentioned in the text see PARA 416 ante. In relation to a European parliamentary election, there is no explicit provision made for the postal voter to claim that the envelopes mentioned in the text were either lost or not received.

6 As to the returning officers and the elections for which they are appointed see PARA 411 notes 1, 15 ante; and in relation to the returning officer's functions connected with the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at a Welsh Assembly regional election see also PARA 412 note 1 ante.

7 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(1) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(1) (as substituted: see note 3 supra); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 40(1). The scheme set out in the text provides a 'safety-net' for the voter, who necessarily takes the risk of non-delivery of his postal ballot paper: Knight v Nicholls [2004] EWCA Civ 68, [2004] 1 WLR 1653, [2004] LGR 524.

9 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(2A) (reg 78(2A)-(2C) added by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(2A) (Sch 3 para 15(2A)-(2C) added by SI 2006/884).

10 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(2B) (as added (see note 9 supra); and amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(2B) (as added: see note 9 supra).

11 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(2C) (as added: see note 9 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(2C) (as added: see note 9 supra).

12 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(2C) (as added: see note 9 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(2C) (as added: see note 9 supra).

13 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(3) (amended by SI 2006/752; SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(3) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 40(3). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, where the constituency returning officer issues another postal ballot paper (or, as the case may be, postal ballot papers) as mentioned in the text, the postal ballot paper which has been lost or not received is void and of no effect: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(7) (amended by SI 2006/884).

Specified provisions relating to the issue of postal ballot papers apply to the issue of replacement postal ballot papers: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(5); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(5); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 40(5). In relation to a parliamentary or local government election, the provisions so specified are the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 72 (as amended) (except reg 72(3)) (see PARA 414 ante) and, subject to reg 78(6) (as substituted) (see note 14 infra), regs 74-76; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the provisions so specified are the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 paras 9-13; and, in relation to a European parliamentary election, the provisions so specified are the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 34 (except para 34(3)) and, subject to Sch 2 para 40(6), Sch 2 paras 36-38 (see PARAS 416-418 ante).

In the case of a European parliamentary election, where a postal voter applies in person, the local returning officer may hand a replacement postal ballot paper to him instead of delivering it in accordance with the statutory scheme (as to which see PARA 417 ante): Sch 2 r 40(6). As to elections other than European parliamentary elections see note 14 infra.

14 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(3A) (added by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(3A) (added by SI 2006/884).

Except in the case of a European parliamentary election (as to which see note 13 supra), the returning officer at a parliamentary or Welsh Assembly election, instead of delivering a replacement postal ballot paper in accordance with the statutory scheme (as to which see PARA 417 ante), may hand such a replacement to a postal voter who applies in person by 5 pm on the day before the day of the poll (and he may only hand a replacement postal ballot paper to a postal voter who applies in person after 5 pm on the day before the day of the poll): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(6) (substituted by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(6) (substituted by SI 2006/884).

15 For the meaning of 'elector', in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, see PARA 110 note 2 ante; in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 124 note 4 ante; and, in relation to European parliamentary election, see PARA 125 note 5 ante. As to the number of an elector see PARA 160 ante.

16 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(4)(a) (amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(4)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 40(4)(a).

17 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(4)(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(4)(b) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 40(4)(b). In the case of a Welsh Assembly election, the number of the postal ballot paper which has been lost or not received must also be entered on the list: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(4)(b) (as so amended).

18 As to applications to vote by post or by proxy (or both) see PARA 372 et seq ante.

19 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(4)(c) (substituted by SI 2006/752); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(4)(c) (amended by SI 2006/884); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 40(4)(c).

20 See the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 78(2A) (as added); and the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 15(2A) (as added). As to the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers when polls are combined see PARA 20 ante.

420-430 Spoilt postal ballot papers ... Conclusion of postal ballot procedure

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(B) Receipt of Postal Ballot Papers/422. Persons entitled to be present at receipt of postal ballot papers.

(B) RECEIPT OF POSTAL BALLOT PAPERS

422. Persons entitled to be present at receipt of postal ballot papers.

No person may be present at the proceedings on the receipt of postal ballot papers at an election¹ other than²: (1) the returning officer and his clerks³; (2) a candidate⁴; (3) an election agent⁵ or any person appointed to attend in his place⁶ or, at a parish or community council election⁷, any person appointed by the candidate to attend at those proceedings⁸; (4) any agents who have been duly appointed⁹; and (5) in the case of a European parliamentary election, representatives of the Electoral Commission¹⁰.

For the purposes of head (4) above, each candidate¹¹ or each election agent¹² (as the case may be) may appoint one or more agents to attend the proceedings on the receipt of postal ballot papers up to the number he may be authorised by the returning officer to appoint¹³. The number authorised, however, must be the same for each person standing nominated¹⁴. Written notice of the appointment stating the names and addresses of the persons appointed must be given to the returning officer by the person with the power of appointment¹⁵ before the time fixed for the opening of the postal voters' ballot boxes¹⁶.

If an agent dies or becomes incapable of acting, the candidate (or election agent, as the case may be)¹⁷ may appoint another agent in his place and must forthwith give to the returning officer written notice of the name and address of the agent appointed¹⁸. Except in relation to a European parliamentary election, where candidates have the power of appointment, agents may be appointed and notice of appointment given to the returning officer by the candidate's election agent instead of by the candidate¹⁹. In relation to the receipt of postal ballot papers, references to agents²⁰ are to be taken as references to agents whose appointments have been duly made and notified and, where a restriction on the number of appointees applies²¹, who are within the number authorised by the returning officer²².

A candidate²³ may himself do any act or thing which any agent, if appointed, would have been authorised to do, or may assist his agent in doing any such act or thing²⁴. Where, in relation to the receipt of postal ballot papers, any act or thing is required or authorised to be done in the presence of the candidates or their agents, the non-attendance of any such persons or person at the time and place appointed for the purpose will not, if the act or thing is otherwise duly done, invalidate the act or thing done²⁵.

Where postal ballot papers for more than one election have been issued together, special provision is made as to the receipt of lost ballot papers²⁶.

1 As to the elections referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 14 ante. For the meaning of 'postal ballot paper' see PARA 412 note 3 ante. As to proceedings relating to the receipt of postal ballot papers see PARA 423 et seq post.

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 68 (amended by SI 2006/2910); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 6(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 30.

In relation to a parliamentary or local government election, the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 68 (as amended) is without prejudice to the provisions of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 6A-6E (as added) (Electoral Commission representatives and accredited observers to attend electoral proceedings and observe working practices: see PARA 48 ante); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 68 (as so amended).

3 Ibid reg 68(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 6(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 30(a). As to the returning officers and clerks referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 15 ante.

In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, a regional returning officer also may be present at the proceedings on the receipt of postal ballot papers: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 6(1)(b). See also PARA 412 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'regional election', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'regional returning officer' see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 68(b); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 6(1)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 30(b). For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

5 As to the appointment of election agents see PARA 238 et seq ante.

6 Except at a European parliamentary election, the candidate makes this appointment (see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 68(c); and the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 6(1)(d)(i)); in the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, the appointment is made either by an individual candidate or by any or all of a group of party list candidates (see Sch 3 para 6(1)(d)(ii)). For the meaning of references to a group of party list candidates, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

At a European parliamentary election, the appointment is made by the election agent or a sub-agent: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 30(c). As to the nomination of sub-agents for European parliamentary elections see PARA 248 ante.

7 There is no provision for election agents at parish or community council elections: see PARA 238 note 3 ante. As to the election of councillors for parish or community councils see PARA 207 et seq ante.

8 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 68(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 6(1)(d); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 30(c).

As to the appointment of such agents see the text and notes 11-25 infra.

10 Ibid Sch 2 para 30(e). As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to authorised representatives of the Electoral Commission attending electoral proceedings see PARA 48 ante.

11 At a Welsh Assembly election, the reference in the text is to each candidate in the case of a constituency election (see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 6(2)(a)) and each individual candidate in the case of a regional election (see Sch 3 para 6(2)(b)).

At a European parliamentary election, only agents or sub-agents of candidates may appoint: see note 12 infra.

12 In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, each election agent for a group of party list candidates may make the appointment: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 3 para 6(2)(b).

At a European parliamentary election, the election agent (or sub-agent) of each registered party standing nominated or each individual candidate may make the appointment: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 2 para 31(1). For the meaning of 'registered party' in the context of a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 30 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(B) Receipt of Postal Ballot Papers/424. Provision of postal ballot boxes and receptacles.

424. Provision of postal ballot boxes and receptacles.

The returning officer at an election¹ must provide a separate ballot box for: (1) the reception of the covering envelopes² when returned by the postal voters³ (the 'postal voters' ballot box')⁴; and (2) the reception of postal ballot papers⁵ (the 'postal ballot box')⁶. Each such ballot box must be marked 'postal voters' ballot box' or 'postal ballot box', as the case may be, and with the name of the constituency⁷ or electoral area or areas⁸ or local counting area⁹ for which the election or elections are held¹⁰. The postal ballot box must be shown to the agents¹¹ present on the occasion of opening the first postal voters' ballot box as being empty¹² and must then be locked by the returning officer (if it has a lock) and sealed with his seal and the seals of such of the agents as desire to affix their seals in such manner as to prevent the box being opened without breaking the seal¹³.

The returning officer must also provide: (a) the receptacle for rejected votes¹⁴; (b) the receptacle for postal voting statements (at a parliamentary or local government election) or the receptacle for declarations of identity (otherwise)¹⁵; (c) the receptacle for ballot paper envelopes¹⁶; (d) the receptacle for rejected ballot paper envelopes¹⁷; and (e) in relation to parliamentary and local government elections only: (i) the receptacle for rejected votes (verification procedure)¹⁸; and (ii) the receptacle for postal voting statements (verification procedure)¹⁹.

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(B) Receipt of Postal Ballot Papers/425. Return of postal ballot papers, etc to returning officer.

425. Return of postal ballot papers, etc to returning officer.

A postal ballot paper or postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, the declaration of identity)¹ is not taken to be duly returned at an election² unless it is returned in the prescribed manner and reaches either the returning officer³ or a polling station in the constituency⁴ or electoral area or areas⁵ or local counting area⁶ in question (as the case may be) before the close of the poll⁷.

Where a covering envelope⁸ (or an envelope which is stated to include a postal vote) is received by a returning officer (whether by hand or by post) before the close of the poll, he must, immediately on receipt, place it unopened in a postal voters' ballot box⁹. Where an envelope, other than a covering envelope issued by the returning officer, has been opened and it contains a ballot paper envelope¹⁰, postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) or ballot paper, the first-mentioned envelope, together with its contents, must be placed in a postal voters' ballot box¹¹.

Where a postal ballot paper or postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) has been returned to a polling station, the presiding officer¹² of that station must deliver, or cause to be delivered, any such paper or statement (or declaration, as the case may be) to the returning officer in the same manner and at the same time as he delivers, or causes to be delivered, the packets of ballot papers and other documents which he is required to prepare on the close of poll at a polling station¹³. However, except in relation to a European parliamentary election, the returning officer may collect, or cause to be collected, any postal ballot paper or postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) which the presiding officer of a polling station would otherwise be required in this way to deliver or cause to be delivered to him¹⁴; and, where the returning officer collects, or causes to be collected, any postal ballot paper or postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) in this way, the presiding officer must first make it (or them) up into a packet (or packets) sealed with his own seal and the seals of such polling agents¹⁵ as are present and desire to affix their seals¹⁶.

At a parliamentary election, or at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, where a postal vote has been returned in respect of a person who is entered on the postal voters list¹⁷, or where a proxy postal vote¹⁸ has been returned in respect of a proxy who is entered on the proxy postal voters list¹⁹, the returning officer must mark the list in the manner prescribed by regulations²⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'postal ballot paper' see PARA 412 note 3 ante. There will be more than one ballot paper at a Welsh Assembly ordinary election or generally when the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at more than one election have been taken together (as to which see PARA 20 ante). PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(B) Receipt of Postal Ballot Papers/426. Notice of opening of postal voters' ballot box and covering envelopes.

426. Notice of opening of postal voters' ballot box and covering envelopes.

The returning officer at an election¹ must give to the candidate² or to each election agent³ (as the case may be) not less than 48 hours' notice in writing of each occasion on which a postal voters' ballot box⁴ and the envelopes contained in it is to be opened⁵. Such a notice must specify the time and place at which such an opening is to take place⁶ and the number of agents who may be appointed⁷ to attend each opening⁸.

1 As to the returning officers and elections referred to in the text see PARA 411 notes 1, 14-15 ante; and in relation to the returning officer's functions connected with the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at a Welsh Assembly regional election see also PARA 412 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. At a Welsh Assembly election, the person to whom the notice mentioned in the text must be given is the candidate at elections for return as a constituency member (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 14(3), Sch 3 para 16(1)(a)); and, except in the case of an election to fill a vacancy in the seat of a constituency member, an individual candidate for return as a regional member (Sch 3 para 16(1)(b)). The notice is not given to a candidate in the case of a European parliamentary election (as to which see note 3 infra).

3 At a Welsh Assembly election, except in the case of an election to fill a vacancy in the seat of a constituency member, the reference in the text is to the election agent for each registered party standing nominated: see ibid Sch 3 para 16(1)(b).

At a European parliamentary election, the notice mentioned in the text must be given to each election agent, or where sub-agents have been appointed, each sub-agent: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 10, Sch 2 para 42(1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(B) Receipt of Postal Ballot Papers/427. Opening of postal voters' ballot box.

427. Opening of postal voters' ballot box.

Each postal voters' ballot box¹ at an election² must be opened by the returning officer³ in the presence of the agents⁴, if in attendance⁵. So long as the returning officer ensures that there is at least one sealed postal voters' ballot box for the reception of covering envelopes⁶ up to the time of the close of the poll, the other postal voters' ballot boxes may previously be opened by him⁷. The last postal voters' ballot box and the postal ballot box⁸ must be opened at the counting of the votes⁹ or, in the case of a European parliamentary election, at the verification of the ballot paper accounts¹⁰.

A returning officer at a parliamentary or local government election may on any occasion at which a postal voters' ballot box is opened¹¹ undertake verification of the personal identifiers¹² on any postal voting statement¹³ that has on a prior occasion been placed in the receptacle for postal voting statements¹⁴. Where a returning officer undertakes additional verification of personal identifiers¹⁵, he must remove as many postal voting statements from the receptacle for postal voting statements as he wishes to subject to additional verification¹⁶ and compare the date of birth and the signature on each such postal voting statement against the date of birth and signature contained in the personal identifiers record relating to the person to whom the postal ballot paper was addressed¹⁷. Where the returning officer is no longer satisfied that the postal voting statement has been duly completed, he must mark the statement 'rejected' and, before placing the postal voting statement in the receptacle for rejected votes (verification procedure)¹⁸, he must¹⁹: (1) show it to the agents and must permit them to view the entries in the personal identifiers record which relate to the person to whom the postal ballot paper was addressed, and if any of them object to his decision, he must add the words 'rejection objected to'²⁰; (2) open any postal ballot box and retrieve the ballot paper corresponding to the ballot paper number on the postal voting statement²¹; (3) show the ballot paper number on the retrieved ballot paper to the agents²²; and (4) attach the ballot paper to the postal voting statement²³. Whilst retrieving a ballot paper in this way²⁴, the returning officer and his staff must keep the ballot papers face downwards and must take proper precautions for preventing any person seeing the votes made on the ballot papers²⁵, and they must not be permitted to view the corresponding number list used at the issue of postal ballot papers²⁶. Following the removal of a postal ballot paper from a postal ballot box, the returning officer must lock and reseal the postal ballot box in the presence of the agents²⁷.

Where it appears to the returning officer at a parliamentary or local government election that a cancelled postal ballot paper²⁸ has been placed in a postal voters' ballot box, in the receptacle for ballot paper envelopes²⁹ or in a postal ballot box³⁰, he must, on at least one occasion on which a postal voters ballot box is opened³¹, also open any postal ballot box and the receptacle for ballot paper envelopes³², and: (a) retrieve the cancelled ballot paper³³; (b) show the ballot paper number on the cancelled ballot paper to the agents³⁴; (c) retrieve the postal voting statement that relates to a cancelled ballot paper from the receptacle for postal voting statements³⁵; (d) attach any cancelled postal ballot paper to the postal voting statement to which it relates³⁶; (e) place the cancelled documents in a separate packet and deal with that packet in the manner provided for in relation to spoilt postal ballot papers³⁷; and (f) unless the postal ballot box has been opened for the purposes of the counting of votes³⁸, re-lock the postal ballot box (if it has a lock) and reseal it in the presence of the agents³⁹. Whilst retrieving a cancelled ballot paper in this way⁴⁰, the returning officer and his staff must keep the ballot papers face downwards and must take proper precautions for preventing any person seeing the votes made on the ballot papers⁴¹, and they must not be permitted to view the corresponding number list used at the issue of postal ballot papers⁴².

420-430 Spoilt postal ballot papers ... Conclusion of postal ballot procedure

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(B) Receipt of Postal Ballot Papers/428. Opening of covering envelopes.

428. Opening of covering envelopes.

When a postal voters' ballot box¹ is opened at a parliamentary or local government election², the returning officer³ must count and record the number of covering envelopes⁴ (including any envelope which is stated to include a postal vote and any other envelope⁵ which has been found to contain voting documents)⁶; he must set aside for personal identifier verification⁷ a percentage, not less than 20 per cent, of the envelopes recorded on that occasion⁸; and he must open separately each covering envelope (including any envelope⁹ which has been found to contain voting documents)¹⁰.

Where the covering envelope does not contain the postal voting statement¹¹ separately, the returning officer must open the ballot paper envelope¹² to ascertain whether the postal voting statement is inside¹³. Where a covering envelope does not contain both a postal voting statement (whether separately or not) and a ballot paper envelope (or, if there is no ballot paper envelope, a ballot paper or ballot papers), the returning officer must mark the covering envelope 'provisionally rejected', attach its contents (if any) and place it in the receptacle for rejected votes¹⁴. Where this provision does not apply¹⁵ but where an envelope contains the postal voting statement of an elector with an anonymous entry¹⁶, the returning officer must set aside that envelope and its contents for personal identifier verification¹⁷.

As soon as practicable after the last covering envelope has been opened, the returning officer must make up into a packet the copy of the marked postal voters list and proxy postal voters list¹⁸ and he must seal the packet¹⁹.

When a postal voters' ballot box is opened at a Welsh Assembly²⁰ or European parliamentary election²¹, the returning officer²² must count and record the number of covering envelopes and then open separately each covering envelope (including any other envelope²³ which has been found to contain a ballot paper envelope, declaration of identity²⁴ or ballot papers)²⁵.

Where the covering envelope does not contain the declaration of identity separately, the returning officer must open the ballot paper envelope to ascertain whether the declaration of identity is inside²⁶. Where a covering envelope does not contain both a declaration of identity (whether separately or not) and a ballot paper envelope (or, if there is no ballot paper envelope, a ballot paper or ballot papers), the returning officer must mark the covering envelope 'provisionally rejected', attach its contents (if any) and place it in the receptacle for rejected votes²⁷.

Where, at any election²⁸, a covering envelope²⁹ contains both a postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) and a ballot paper envelope (or, if there is no ballot paper envelope, a ballot paper or ballot papers)³⁰, the returning officer at a parliamentary or local government election must satisfy himself that the postal voting statement³¹ is duly completed³² and the returning officer at a Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election must satisfy himself that the declaration of identity has been duly signed by the voter and authenticated by a witness who has signed the declaration and given his name and address³³. Where the returning officer is not so satisfied, he must mark the statement (or declaration, as the case may be) 'rejected', attach to it the ballot paper envelope (or, if there is no such envelope, the ballot paper or ballot papers), and show it to the agents (and, if any of them objects to his decision, he must add the words 'rejection objected to') before placing the statement (or declaration, as the case may be) in the receptacle for rejected votes³⁴. The returning officer must then examine the number (or numbers) on the postal voting statement (or, in the case of an election that is not a parliamentary or local government election, on the declaration of identity) against the number (or numbers) on the ballot paper envelope and, where they are the same, he must place the statement in the receptacle for postal voting statements (or the declaration in the receptacle for declarations of identity, as the case may be)³⁵ and the ballot paper envelope in the receptacle for ballot paper envelopes³⁶. Where the number (or numbers) on a valid postal voting statement (or on a valid declaration of identity, as the case may be) is (or are) not the same as the number (or numbers) on the ballot paper envelope or where that envelope has no number on it (or only one number when the declaration or statement, as the case may be, has more than one), the returning officer must open the envelope³⁷. Where the ballot paper envelope has been opened in this way or where it has been opened³⁸ in order to ascertain whether the postal voting statement (or declaration of identity, as the case may be) is inside³⁹, the returning officer must place: (1) in the postal ballot box⁴⁰, any ballot paper the number on which is the same as the number (or one of the numbers) on the valid postal voting statement (or on the valid declaration of identity, as the case may be)⁴¹; (2) in the receptacle for rejected votes, any other ballot paper, with the valid statement (or declaration, as the case may be) attached and marked 'provisionally rejected'⁴²; (3) in the receptacle for rejected votes, any valid postal voting statement (or valid declaration of identity, as the case may be) marked 'provisionally rejected' where there is no ballot paper or where, in the case of a statement or declaration (as the case may be) on which the number of more than one ballot paper appears, there is not a sufficient number of ballot papers and, in such a case, he must mark the statement or declaration (as the case may be) to indicate which ballot paper is missing⁴³; (4) in the receptacle for postal voting statements, any valid statement not disposed of under head (2) or head (3) above or, as the case may be, in the receptacle for declarations of identity, any valid declaration not disposed of under head (2) or head (3) above⁴⁴. Heads (1) to (4) above apply also where there is a valid postal voting statement (or valid declaration of identity, as the case may be) but no ballot paper envelope⁴⁵ (except in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, when only heads (1), (2) and (4) above apply⁴⁶).

Where, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, any postal voting statement contained in an envelope is set aside for personal identifier verification⁴⁷, the returning officer must satisfy himself that the postal voting statement is duly completed and as part of that process must compare the date of birth and the signature on the postal voting statement against the date of birth and signature contained in the personal identifier record⁴⁸ relating to the person to whom the postal ballot paper was addressed⁴⁹. Where the returning officer is not so satisfied, he must mark the statement 'rejected', attach to it the ballot paper envelope, or if there is no such envelope, the ballot paper, and place it in the receptacle for rejected votes (verification procedure)⁵⁰. However, before placing a postal voting statement in the receptacle for rejected votes (verification procedure), the returning officer must show it to the agents and must permit them to view the entries in the personal identifiers record which relate to the person to whom the postal ballot paper was addressed, and if any of them object to his decision, he must add the words 'rejection objected to'⁵¹. The returning officer must then examine the number on the postal voting statement against the number on the ballot paper envelope and, where they are the same, he must place the statement and the ballot paper envelope respectively in the receptacle for postal voting statements (verification procedure) and the receptacle for ballot paper envelopes⁵². Where the number on a valid postal voting statement is not the same as the number on the ballot paper envelope or where that envelope has no number on it (or only one number when the postal voting statement has more than one), the returning officer must open the envelope⁵³. Where there is a valid postal voting statement but no ballot paper envelope or where the ballot paper envelope has been opened⁵⁴, the returning officer must place⁵⁵: (a) in the postal ballot box, any ballot paper the number on which is the same as the number on the valid postal voting statement⁵⁶; (b) in the receptacle for rejected votes (verification procedure), any other ballot paper, with the valid postal voting statement attached and marked 'provisionally rejected'⁵⁷; (c) in the receptacle for rejected votes (verification procedure), any valid postal voting statement marked 'provisionally rejected' where there is no ballot paper⁵⁸ or, in the case of a statement on which the number of more than one ballot paper appears, where there is not a sufficient number of ballot papers (and, in such a case, he must mark the statement to indicate which ballot paper is missing)⁵⁹; (d) in the receptacle for postal voting statements (verification procedure), any valid statement not disposed of under head (b) or head (c) above⁶⁰.

In carrying out the opening of ballot paper envelopes and associated checking procedures in relation to a parliamentary or local government election⁶¹, the returning officer must keep the ballot papers face downwards and must take proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the votes made on the ballot papers⁶²; and he is not permitted to view the corresponding number list used at the issue of postal ballot papers⁶³.

420-430 Spoilt postal ballot papers ... Conclusion of postal ballot procedure

SI 2004/293 Sch 2 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 2 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/C. VOTES GIVEN BY POSTAL BALLOT/(B) Receipt of Postal Ballot Papers/430. Conclusion of postal ballot procedure.

430. Conclusion of postal ballot procedure.

In respect of any election¹, the returning officer² must keep two separate lists of rejected postal ballot papers³: (1) in the first list, he must record the ballot paper number of any postal ballot paper for which no valid postal voting statement (or for which no declaration of identity, as the case may be) was received with it⁴; (2) in the second list, he must record the ballot paper number of any postal ballot paper which is entered on a valid postal voting statement (or valid declaration of identity, as the case may be) where that ballot paper is not received with the statement or declaration (as the case may be)⁵.

Where the returning officer receives a valid postal voting statement (or valid declaration of identity, as the case may be) without the postal ballot paper (or papers or, as the case may be, all of the papers) to which it relates, he may, at any time prior to the close of the poll, check the list kept under head (1) above to see whether the number (or numbers) of a postal ballot paper to which the statement or declaration (as the case may be) relates is entered in that list⁶. Where the returning officer receives a postal ballot paper without the statement or declaration (as the case may be) to which it relates, he may, at any time prior to the close of the poll, check the list kept under head (2) above to see whether the number of that ballot paper is entered in that list⁷. The returning officer must conduct either such check as soon as practicable after the receipt of packets from every polling station in the constituency⁸ or electoral area or areas⁹ or local counting area¹⁰ in question (as the case may be) following the close of poll¹¹. Where the ballot paper number in the list matches that number on a valid postal voting statement (or valid declaration of identity) or, as the case may be, the postal ballot paper, the returning officer must retrieve that statement (or declaration, as the case may be) or paper¹². As soon as practicable after the completion of this procedure, the returning officer must make up into separate packets the contents of: (a) the receptacle of rejected votes¹³; (b) the receptacle for postal voting statements (at a parliamentary or local government election) or the receptacle for declarations of identity (otherwise)¹⁴; (c) the receptacle of rejected ballot paper envelopes¹⁵; (d) the lists of spoilt and lost postal ballot papers¹⁶; and (e) in relation to parliamentary and local government elections only: (i) the receptacle of rejected votes (verification procedure)¹⁷; and (ii) the receptacle of postal voting statements (verification procedure)¹⁸, and he must seal up the packets¹⁹. Any document in those packets marked 'provisionally rejected' must be deemed to be marked 'rejected'²⁰.

The returning officer must then take the appropriate steps under the provisions governing the receipt of postal ballot papers²¹ as though any document earlier marked 'provisionally rejected' had not been so marked and he must amend the document accordingly²².

D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES

(A) COUNTING AT PARLIAMENTARY OR CERTAIN LOCAL ELECTIONS

431. Arrangements for counting the votes at parliamentary and certain local elections.

As soon as practicable after the close of the poll, the returning officer at a parliamentary election and at certain local elections¹ must make arrangements for counting the votes in the presence of the counting agents²; and he must give notice to them in writing of the time and place at which he will begin to count the votes³.

No person other than: (1) the returning officer and his clerks⁴; (2) the candidates and one other person chosen by each of them (or, in the case of a poll consequent on a parish meeting, the candidates and their spouses or civil partners)⁵; (3) the election agents (at elections where election agents are appointed)⁶; (4) the counting agents⁷; and (5) (except in the case of a poll consequent on a parish meeting) persons who are entitled to attend by virtue of any of the provisions which allow Electoral Commission representatives and accredited observers to attend electoral proceedings and observe working practices⁸, may be present at the counting of the votes, unless permitted by the returning officer to attend⁹. A person not entitled to attend at the counting of the votes may not be permitted to do so by the returning officer unless he is satisfied that the efficient counting of the votes will not be impeded and he has either consulted the election agents¹⁰ or thought it impracticable to do so¹¹. The returning officer must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that every person attending at the counting of the votes (other than any constable on duty at the counting) has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to such attendance¹².

The returning officer must give the counting agents all such reasonable facilities for overseeing the proceedings, and all such information with respect to them, as he can give them consistently with the orderly conduct of the proceedings and the discharge of his duties in connection with them¹³. In particular, where the votes are counted by sorting the ballot papers according to the candidate for whom the vote is given and then counting the number of ballot papers for each candidate, the counting agents are entitled to satisfy themselves that the ballot papers are correctly sorted¹⁴.

10 At parish or community council elections, where there is no requirement for election agents to be appointed (see note 6 supra), the reference in the text to election agents should be read as a reference to the candidates: see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 44(3). However, at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, where there is no provision at all for election agents to be appointed (see note 6 supra), the returning officer is bound neither to consult anyone else nor to consider practicability: see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 26(3).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/(A) Counting at Parliamentary or Certain Local Elections/432. Counting the ballot papers and recording the number counted at parliamentary and certain local elections.

432. Counting the ballot papers and recording the number counted at parliamentary and certain local elections.

The returning officer at a parliamentary election and at certain local elections¹ must: (1) in the presence of the counting agents² open each ballot box and count and record the number of ballot papers in it³; and (2) count such of the postal ballot papers as have been duly returned and record the number counted⁴. A postal ballot paper must not be taken to be duly returned unless: (a) it is returned in the prescribed manner⁵ and reaches the returning officer or a polling station in the constituency or electoral area in question (as the case may be) before the close of the poll⁶; (b) the postal voting statement duly signed⁷ is also returned in the prescribed manner⁸ and reaches him or such a polling station before that time⁹; (c) the postal voting statement also states the date of birth of the elector or proxy, as the case may be¹⁰; and (d) in a case where steps for verifying the date of birth and signature of an elector or proxy have been prescribed¹¹, the returning officer (having taken such steps) has verified the date of birth and signature of the elector or proxy, as the case may be¹².

The returning officer must not count the votes given on any ballot papers until, in the case of postal ballot papers, they have been mixed with the ballot papers from at least one other ballot box¹³, and, in the case of ballot papers from a ballot box, until they have been mixed with the ballot papers from at least one other ballot box¹⁴. The returning officer must not count any tendered ballot paper¹⁵. While counting and recording the number of ballot papers and counting the votes, the returning officer must keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers and other unique identifying marks (where these apply) printed on the back of the papers¹⁶.

The returning officer must, so far as practicable, proceed continuously with counting the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, except that he may, in so far as he and the counting agents agree¹⁷, exclude the hours between seven in the evening and nine on the following morning¹⁸. During the time so excluded, the returning officer must: (i) place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such of the counting agents as desire to affix their seals¹⁹; and (ii) otherwise take proper precautions for the security of the papers and documents²⁰.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for counting the votes²¹.

There is no provision for voting by proxy at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, and accordingly the provisions set out in heads (2) and (a)-(d) in the text do not apply in that case. As to the returning officer's duty to record the return of a postal vote in respect of a person who is entered on the postal voters list, or a proxy postal vote in respect of a proxy who is entered on the proxy postal voters list, see PARA 425 ante.

5 For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 202(1). Accordingly, for the purposes of a parliamentary election, the manner in which a postal ballot paper or postal voting statement may be returned to a polling station is by hand (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 79(1) (amended by SI 2006/2910)); and the manner in which such a paper or statement may be returned to the returning officer is by post or by hand (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 79(2) (amended by SI 2006/2910)). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

For the purposes of a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, the manner in which any postal ballot paper or postal voting statement may be returned to the returning officer is by hand or by post and to a polling station it is by hand: Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 45(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 45(4). As to a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office see note 4 supra. As to the means by which a postal voter may validly make the returns mentioned in the text see further PARA 425 ante.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 73 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

The procedure set out in the text does not apply at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office. However, where two such polls have been taken together, the returning officer must separate the ballot papers relating to each poll and count and record the number of ballot papers relating to each poll (Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 27(1)(b)), and he must then mix together the whole of the ballot papers relating to the poll or each poll, as the case may be, which were contained in the ballot boxes (Schedule r 27(1)(c)).

At a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, the returning officer must keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers printed on the back of the papers while separating the ballot papers (ie rather than while counting and recording the number of ballot papers and counting the votes): see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 27(3). As to the number and other security marks which must be printed on the back of every ballot paper see PARA 392 ante.

433. Verification of the ballot paper account at parliamentary and certain local elections.

In the presence of the election agents (or, at elections where election agents are not appointed, the counting agents)¹, the returning officer at a parliamentary election and at certain local elections² must verify each ballot paper account³. He does this by comparing each ballot paper account with the number of ballot papers recorded by him⁴, and the unused and spoilt ballot papers⁵ in his possession and the tendered votes list⁶ (opening and resealing the packets containing the unused and spoilt ballot papers and the tendered votes list)⁷.

He must draw up a statement as to the result of the verification, which any election agent (or, at elections where election agents are not appointed, any counting agent⁸) may copy⁹.

Ballot papers rejected for marks of identification at parliamentary and certain local elections.

436. Ballot papers rejected for marks of identification at parliamentary and certain local elections.

Any ballot paper¹ on which anything is written or marked by which the voter can be identified, except the printed number and other unique identifying mark on the back, is void and must not be counted². The writing or mark must be such that the voter can be, and not merely might be, identified³. Ballot papers have been rejected because they were marked upon their faces by the presiding officer with the number on the register of the voter⁴.

A ballot paper on which the vote is marked elsewhere than in the proper place, otherwise than by means of a cross⁵, or by more than one mark, must not for such reason be deemed to be void⁶ if an intention that the vote is for one or other of the candidates clearly appears, and the way the paper is marked does not of itself identify the voter and it is not shown that he can be identified by it⁷. The mere fact that it is in handwriting does not of itself show the voter can be identified⁸.

The returning officer is not obliged to hold an inquiry to enable him to decide whether the voter can be identified by the mark⁹ but should receive evidence which is offered to him¹⁰.

As to the treatment of rejected votes see PARA 438 et seq post; and as to scrutiny, which may look at ballot papers and investigate how votes have been recorded, see PARA 837 et seq post.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 69, 92 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

A voter can presumably be identified by his initials, at least in relatively small electoral areas: see the decision in Re South Newington (Kingston-upon-Hull) Municipal Election Petition, Lewis v Shepperdson [1948] 2 All ER 503 at 507 per Birkett J. A ballot paper marked only with a cross on the back of the paper has been rejected for endangering the secrecy of the vote, even though it was contended that the voter had misinterpreted the instruction to mark the paper opposite the candidate's name (ie by positioning his mark purposely over the blind printed impression of the candidate's name which was evident to the rear face of the paper): Berwick Case, McLaren v Home (1880) 44 LT 289, 3 O'M & H 178.

4 Woodward v Sarsons (1875) LR 10 CP 733. In Clare, Eastern Division, Case (1892) 4 O'M & H 162, the returning officer had rejected ballot papers from which the counterfoil had not been detached; but quare whether the provision set out in the text supports rejection on grounds that the identification of the voter is on the counterfoil (rather than the ballot paper).

5 For example, where the name of the candidate is written in handwriting in place of the cross: see Ruffle v Rogers [1982] QB 1220, [1982] 3 All ER 157, CA. As to further examples of misplaced marks see PARA 437 post.

6 In the case of a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, and at polls consequent on a parish meeting on a question of appointment to office, either wholly or as respects that vote: see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 29(3); the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 47(3); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 47(3).

These provisions derive from one first enacted in the Representation of the People Act 1948 (repealed) and have the effect of overruling some of the earlier case law. Whether a mark on a ballot paper amounts to a vote for a particular candidate is a matter of fact: see PARA 854 note 4 post.

9 Wigtown District Burgh Case (1874) 2 O'M & H 215 at 225.

10 This is implicit from the closing words of the provisions quoted in the text to note 7 supra ('it is not shown that [the voter] can be identified by it'). See also Woodward v Sarsons (1875) LR 10 CP 733 at 749 per Lord Coleridge CJ: 'If there were evidence of an arrangement that the voter would place two marks, so as to indicate that it was he, that voter, who had used that ballot paper, then, by reason of such evidence, such double mark would be a mark by which the voter could be identified, and then the paper, upon such proof being made, should be rejected'.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/(A) Counting at Parliamentary or Certain Local Elections/437. Ballot papers rejected for uncertainty at parliamentary and certain local elections.

437. Ballot papers rejected for uncertainty at parliamentary and certain local elections.

A ballot paper which is unmarked or void for uncertainty is void¹ and must not be counted²; but where the voter is entitled to vote for more than one candidate at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, or at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question of appointment to office, a ballot paper is not to be deemed to be void for uncertainty in respect of any vote in relation to which no uncertainty arises and that vote is to be counted³. A ballot paper on which a vote is marked elsewhere than in the proper place⁴, or otherwise than by means of a cross⁵ or by more than one mark is not by reason of it to be deemed to be void⁶ if an intention that the vote is for one or other of the candidates clearly appears, and the way the paper is marked does not of itself identify the voter and it is not shown that he can be identified by it⁷. The following examples illustrate this rule.

A ballot paper may be well marked although the mark does not discolour the paper if from any circumstances the court can infer that the marks were intentionally made by the voter⁸. Where, at an election at which the voter may vote for one candidate only, a ballot paper carries a cross opposite the name of one candidate and a smudge which appears to have been caused by rubbing out a mark opposite the name of another candidate, this has been held to be a good vote for the former candidate⁹.

A ballot paper may be well marked for one candidate although a great portion of the cross is opposite the name of another candidate if the point of intersection of the crossing lines is in the space appropriate to the former¹⁰. A ballot paper may be well marked also where the point of intersection of the cross is outside any of the compartments reserved to indicate a vote for a candidate but where the trailing ends of the cross extend into one only of those compartments¹¹.

A ballot paper may be well marked even though it carries more than the minimum number of marks necessary to indicate a vote. For example, where there was a cross opposite the name of a candidate and other crosses which had the effect of obscuring that candidate's name altogether, this was held to be a good vote for that candidate¹²; but where the only mark upon the paper was a cross immediately upon the name of one of the candidates in such a way as to make it possible that the voter intended to strike that name out, the vote was disallowed¹³. At an election at which the voter could vote for one candidate only, where the names of two candidates had been struck out and no mark had been placed against the name of the remaining candidate, the ballot paper was held to be a valid vote for the last-mentioned candidate¹⁴. In an election where there were six candidates, and two were to be elected, the voter had placed a cross by the names of four candidates, and a tick by two; the paper was held to be valid, with the ticks being counted¹⁵. However, where a voter who was entitled to vote for five candidates had placed a distinct cross against each of five names and an encircled cross against a sixth name, the ballot paper was held to be invalid for showing six votes instead of the permitted five¹⁶.

Tearing the ballot paper is not of itself a fatal defect¹⁷ but a ballot paper of which half had been torn away so that only one candidate's name remained has been held to be bad although there was a cross opposite that candidate's name¹⁸.

For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; and for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

A vote is bad for uncertainty where it is upon the face of the ballot paper doubtful whether the voter intended to vote for one candidate or the other: Gloucester County, Cirencester Division Case (1893) 4 O'M & H 194 at 197. Treatment of rejected ballot papers at parliamentary and certain local elections.

438. Treatment of rejected ballot papers at parliamentary and certain local elections.

The returning officer at an election¹ must endorse the word 'rejected' on any ballot paper which is not to be counted² and must add to the endorsement the words 'rejection objected to' if an objection is made by a counting agent³ to his decision⁴. The returning officer must draw up a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected under the several heads of: (1) want of official mark⁵; (2) voting for more than one candidate or, as the case may be, for more candidates than the voter is entitled to⁶; (3) writing or mark by which a voter could be identified⁷; (4) unmarked or void for uncertainty⁸. In the case of a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, or at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question of appointment to office, such a statement must record also the number of ballot papers rejected in part and show them under the several heads (1) to (4) mentioned above⁹.

1 In the case of a parliamentary or local government election, except an Authority election (as to the count at which see PARA 442 et seq post), but including a poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on the question of appointment to any office. In the case of a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, or at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question of appointment to office, where a ballot paper is void in part but on which any vote is counted (see PARA 437 ante), the returning officer must endorse the words 'rejected in part' on the ballot paper and indicate which vote or votes have been counted: Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, Schedule r 29(4)(b); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 47(4)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 47(4)(b).

440. Recount at parliamentary and certain local elections.

A candidate¹ or (at elections where election agents are appointed) his election agent², may, if present when the counting or any recount of the votes is completed³, require the returning officer at the election⁴ to have the votes recounted or again recounted, but the returning officer may refuse to do so if in his opinion the request is unreasonable⁵. No step may be taken on the completion of the counting or any recount of votes until the candidates (and, at elections where election agents are appointed, the election agents⁶) present at its completion have been given reasonable opportunity to exercise the right of demanding a recount⁷.

As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

2 A candidate at a local government election for a parish or community council need not have an election agent (see PARA 238 note 3 ante) and there is no provision for election agents to be appointed at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office. Accordingly, in relation to such an election and such a poll, a candidate may exercise the right set out in the text: see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 5, Schedule r 28; and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 46. 441. Casting of lots in case of equality of votes at parliamentary and certain local elections.

Where, after the counting of the votes (including any recount) is completed¹, an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates, and the addition of a vote would entitle any of those candidates to be declared elected, the returning officer must forthwith decide between those candidates by lot, and proceed as if the candidate on whom the lot falls had received an additional vote².

(B) COUNTING AT ELECTIONS OF LONDON ASSEMBLY MEMBERS

442. Arrangements for counting the votes at elections of London Assembly members.

As soon as practicable after the close of the poll, the constituency returning officer at a London Authority election¹ for the return of constituency or London members of the London Assembly² must make arrangements for counting the votes in the presence of the counting agents appointed for the purposes of the election in question³ and (in the case of a London members election) for the separation and verification of the ballot papers⁴. The constituency returning officer must give to the counting agents notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin to count the votes⁵.

No person other than: (1) the constituency returning officer and his clerks⁶; (2) the candidates and their spouses or civil partners⁷; (3) the election agents⁸; (4) the counting agents⁹; and (5) any person authorised by the Electoral Commission to attend at the counting of votes as a representative of the Electoral Commission¹⁰, may be present at the counting of votes, unless permitted by the constituency returning officer to attend¹¹. A person not entitled to attend at the counting of votes may not be permitted to do so by the constituency returning officer unless he is satisfied that the efficient counting of the votes (and, in the case of a London members election, the efficient separation and verification of the ballot papers) will not be impeded¹² and he has either consulted the candidates or thought it impracticable to do so¹³.

The constituency returning officer must give the counting agents all such reasonable facilities for overseeing the proceedings, and all such information with respect to them, as he can give them consistent with the orderly conduct of the proceedings and the discharge of his duties in connection with them¹⁴. In particular, where the votes are counted by sorting the ballot papers according to the candidate (or, in the case of a London members election, the registered party, as the case may be¹⁵) for whom the vote is given and then counting the number of ballot papers for each candidate (or party, as the case may be), the counting agents are entitled to satisfy themselves that the ballot papers are correctly sorted¹⁶.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for counting the votes¹⁷.

SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Elections Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/(B) Counting at Elections of London Assembly Members/443. Counting the ballot papers and recording the number counted at elections of London Assembly members.

443. Counting the ballot papers and recording the number counted at elections of London Assembly members.

The constituency returning officer at a London Authority ordinary election¹ for the return of constituency or London members of the London Assembly² must: (1) in the presence of the counting agents appointed for the purposes of the constituency members election, the London members election and the London mayoral election³, open each ballot box and record separately the number of ballot papers used in each election⁴; (2) in the presence of the election agents appointed for the purposes of those elections⁵, verify each ballot paper account⁶; (3) count such of the postal ballot papers as have been duly returned and record separately the number counted at each election⁷; and (4) separate the ballot papers relating to the constituency members election or the London members election (as the case may be) from those relating to the other London Authority members election and the London mayoral election⁸. A postal ballot paper must not be taken to be duly returned unless it is returned and the declaration of identity⁹, duly signed and authenticated, is also returned, before the close of the poll, by hand to a polling station in the London Assembly constituency¹⁰ or by hand or by post to the constituency returning officer¹¹. In the case of a constituency members election, the constituency returning officer must not count the votes given on any ballot papers until, in the case of postal ballot papers, they have been mixed with the ballot papers from at least one ballot box¹² and, in the case of ballot papers from a ballot box, they have been mixed with the ballot papers from at least one other ballot box¹³. In the case of a London members election, as soon as completing the proceedings under heads (1) to (4) above, the constituency returning officer must mix together all of the ballot papers used in the Assembly constituency at the London members election and count the votes given on them¹⁴.

While counting and recording the number of ballot papers and counting the votes, the constituency returning officer must keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers printed on the back of the papers¹⁵. He must not count any tendered ballot paper¹⁶.

The constituency returning officer must so far as practicable proceed continuously with counting the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, except that he may, in so far as he and the counting agents¹⁷ agree, exclude the hours between five in the afternoon and ten on the following morning¹⁸. For the purposes of this exception, the agreement of a candidate or his election agent is as effective as the agreement of his counting agents¹⁹. During the time so excluded, the constituency returning officer must: (a) place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such of the counting agents as desire to affix their seals²⁰; and (b) otherwise take proper precautions for the security of the papers and documents²¹.

The constituency returning officer must verify each ballot paper account by comparing it with the number of ballot papers recorded by him, and the unused and spoilt ballot papers²² in his possession and the tendered votes list²³ (opening and resealing the packets containing the unused and spoilt ballot papers and the tendered votes list)²⁴. He must draw up a statement as to the result of the verification, which any election agent may copy²⁵.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for counting the votes²⁶.

444. Ballot papers rejected at elections of London Assembly members.

At a London Authority election¹ for the return of constituency or London members of the London Assembly², any ballot paper which does not bear the official mark³, or on which votes are given for more than one candidate⁴, or on which anything is written or marked by which the voter can be identified except the printed number on the back⁵, or which is unmarked or void for uncertainty⁶, is void and not counted⁷. However, a ballot paper on which a vote is marked elsewhere than in the proper place⁸, or otherwise than by means of a cross⁹, or by more than one mark¹⁰, is not for such reason void if an intention that a vote is for one only of the candidates clearly appears¹¹ and the way the paper is marked does not itself identify the voter and it is not shown that he can be identified by it¹².

The constituency returning officer¹³ must endorse the word 'rejected' on any ballot paper which is not to be counted and must add to the endorsement the words 'rejection objected to' if an objection is made by a counting agent¹⁴ to his decision¹⁵. The constituency returning officer must draw up a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected under the several heads of: (1) want of official mark¹⁶; (2) voting for more than one candidate¹⁷; (3) writing or mark by which the voter could be identified¹⁸; (4) unmarked or void for uncertainty¹⁹.

447. Procedure at conclusion of count at constituency members election.

Where, after the counting of the votes (including any recount) is completed at a London Authority election¹ for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly², an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates, and the addition of a vote would entitle any of those candidates to be declared elected, the constituency returning officer³ must forthwith decide between those candidates by lot, and proceed as if the candidate on whom the lot falls had received an additional vote⁴.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/(B) Counting at Elections of London Assembly Members/449. The calculation of the London figure for the allocation of seats at a London members election.

449. The calculation of the London figure for the allocation of seats at a London members election.

The Greater London returning officer ('GLRO')¹ must make arrangements for making the allocation of seats at a London Authority election² for the return of London members of the London Assembly³ in the presence of the election agents of the individual candidates⁴ (including, in respect of any list candidate, the election agent for that party list)⁵; and the GLRO must give to those agents notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin the allocation⁶. No person other than: (1) the GLRO and his clerks⁷; (2) the candidates⁸; (3) the election agents⁹; and (4) the nominating officers for those registered political parties¹⁰ standing nominated at the election¹¹, may be present at an allocation unless permitted by the GLRO to attend¹². A person not entitled to attend an allocation may not be permitted to do so by the GLRO unless the GLRO is satisfied that the efficiency of the allocation will not be impeded¹³ and he has either consulted the election agents or thought it impracticable to do so¹⁴.

As soon as the GLRO has received from every constituency returning officer¹⁵ the contents of the statement showing the total number of votes cast and rejected (including the number of votes given for each registered party by whom a party list was submitted and for each individual candidate)¹⁶, he must calculate the figure (the 'London figure') for each registered party by which a party list has been submitted for that election and for each individual candidate¹⁷. The seats are then allocated in accordance with the rules¹⁸. If, at a contested election, proof is given to the GLRO's satisfaction before the result of the election is declared that one of the persons named as an individual candidate in the ballot papers, or whose name appears on a party list, has died, then the GLRO must make the calculation of the London figure without regard to that candidate¹⁹. As soon as the GLRO has ascertained the result of the calculation, he must inform such of the election agents for the candidates as are then present of the relevant figures²⁰ and must give them a reasonable opportunity to satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of the calculation²¹.

73 (2) in respect of each party by whom a party list has been submitted, the number of successful candidates to be constituency members who were the subject of that party's authorisation under Sch 2 r 6(4) (as substituted) (authorised description: see PARA 263 ante) and whose particulars on the ballot paper included the party's registered emblem or, as the case may be, one of the party's registered emblems (Sch 2 r 47(5)(b));

75 (4) any recalculation required by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(6), Sch 2 para 8(3) (allocation of second and subsequent seats: see PARA 345 ante), or carried out in the circumstances mentioned in Sch 2 para 8(8) (two or more registered parties or individual candidates having an equal number of votes in the case of the last seat to be allocated: see PARA 345 ante) (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 47(5)(d)); and 76 (5) the number of persons whose names have been omitted from a party list, or who, pursuant to the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4, Sch 2 para 8(10) (person included on a list submitted by a registered political party returned as the Mayor of London or as a London Assembly member: see PARA 345 ante), are to be treated as ceasing to be on a party list (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 47(5)(e)).

Where information of the description mentioned in head (5) supra is given, the GLRO must provide the persons to whom it was given with a statement containing the names of the persons concerned and, with respect to each such person, the name of the party from whose list his name has been omitted or treated as omitted, and the reason therefor: Sch 2 r 47(4).

(C) COUNTING AT ELECTIONS OF A LOCAL AUTHORITY MAYOR OR LONDON MAYOR

450. Attendance at count at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

As soon as practicable after the close of the poll, the returning officer at a mayoral election¹ must make arrangements for counting the votes in the presence of the counting agents appointed for the purposes of the election². The returning officer must give to the counting agents notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin to carry out the counting of the votes³. In the case of a local authority mayoral election, he must also give to the counting agents notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin any count of the second preference votes⁴.

No person other than: (1) the returning officer and his clerks⁵; (2) the candidates and their spouses or civil partners⁶; (3) the election agents⁷; (4) the counting agents⁸; and (5) in the case of a London mayoral election, any person authorised by the Electoral Commission to attend at the counting of the votes⁹ as a representative of the Commission¹⁰, may be present at the counting of the votes, unless permitted by the returning officer to attend¹¹. A person not entitled to attend at the counting of the votes may not be permitted to do so by the returning officer unless he is satisfied that the efficient counting of the votes will not be impeded and he has either consulted the election agents or thought it impracticable to do so¹². The returning officer must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that every person attending at the counting of the votes (other than any constable on duty at the counting) has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to such attendance¹³.

The returning officer must give the counting agents all such reasonable facilities for overseeing the proceedings, and all such information with respect to them, as he can give them consistently with the orderly conduct of the proceedings and the discharge of his duties in connection with them¹⁴. In particular, where the votes are counted by sorting the ballot papers according to the candidate for whom the vote is given and then counting the number of ballot papers for each candidate, the counting agents are entitled to satisfy themselves that the ballot papers are correctly sorted¹⁵.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for counting the votes¹⁶.

1 As to returning officers for local government elections (including London Authority elections and local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante. Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/ (C) Counting at Elections of a Local Authority Mayor or London Mayor/451. The first count at election of local authority mayor; the local count at election of London Mayor.

451. The first count at election of local authority mayor; the local count at election of London Mayor.

At the first count at a local authority mayoral election or at the local count at a London mayoral election¹, the returning officer² must: (1) in the presence of the counting agents³ open each ballot box and count and record the number of ballot papers used in the election⁴; (2) count such of the postal ballot papers as have been duly returned and record the number counted⁵; and (3) in the case of a London mayoral ordinary election, separate the ballot papers relating to the mayoral election from those relating to the constituency members election and the London members election⁶. A postal ballot paper must not be taken to be duly returned unless it is returned in the appropriate manner⁷ and reaches the returning officer or a polling station in the London Assembly constituency or local authority electoral area in question (as the case may be) before the close of the poll⁸, and unless the declaration of identity⁹, duly signed and authenticated, is also returned in the appropriate manner¹⁰ and reaches him or such a polling station before that time¹¹.

At a local authority mayoral election, the returning officer must not count the votes given on any ballot papers until, in the case of postal ballot papers, they have been mixed with the ballot papers from at least one other ballot box¹², and, in the case of ballot papers from a ballot box, until they have been mixed with the ballot papers from at least one other ballot box¹³. At a London mayoral election, the constituency returning officer must mix together all of the ballot papers used at that election in the Assembly constituency¹⁴. Once the ballot papers have been mixed as required, the returning officer must then, where the election is contested by more than two candidates, count the first preference votes given on them¹⁵ and, where the election is contested by only two candidates, count the votes given on them¹⁶. The returning officer must not count any tendered ballot paper¹⁷. While counting and recording the number of ballot papers and counting the votes, the returning officer must keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers printed on the back of the papers¹⁸.

The returning officer must, so far as practicable, proceed continuously with counting the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, except that he may exclude the hours between five in the afternoon and ten on the following morning¹⁹. However, in the case of a London mayoral election, this exception applies only in so far as the returning officer and the counting agents agree, for which purposes the agreement of a candidate or his election agent is as effective as the agreement of his counting agents²⁰, and, in the case of an ordinary election, only with the prior consent of the Greater London returning officer²¹.

During the time so excluded, the returning officer must: (a) place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such of the counting agents as desire to affix their seals²¹; and (b) otherwise take proper precautions for the security of the papers and documents²².

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for counting the votes²³.

For the purposes of a London mayoral ordinary election, the constituency returning officer, when recording the number of ballot papers used, must record separately the number of ballot papers used in each election: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 41(1)(a). At an ordinary London Authority election where the Greater London returning officer has decided that the ballot papers are to be placed in separate ballot boxes according to whether the votes given on them are cast in the election under the constituency members election rules, the London members election rules or the mayoral election rules (see r 3, Sch 4 r 6(1); and PARA 396 note 4 ante), the ballot boxes from each polling station must be opened together, and the ballot papers counted together: Sch 4 r 12(1). 6 Ibid Sch 3 r 41(1)(d).

7 The manner in which any postal ballot paper or declaration of identity may be returned to the returning officer at a local authority or London mayoral election is by hand or by post and to a polling station (in the London Assembly constituency or local authority electoral area in question, as the case may be) it is by hand: ibid Sch 3 r 41(4) (substituted by SI 2004/227); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 41(5). Verification of the ballot paper account at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

452. Verification of the ballot paper account at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

In the presence of the election agents¹, the returning officer at the first count at a local authority mayoral election or at the local count at a London mayoral election² must verify each ballot paper account³. He does this by comparing each ballot paper account with the number of ballot papers recorded by him⁴, and the unused and spoilt ballot papers⁵ in his possession and the tendered votes list⁶ (opening and resealing the packets containing the unused and spoilt ballot papers and the tendered votes list)⁷.

He must draw up a statement as to the result of the verification, which any election agent may copy⁸.

1 In relation to a London mayoral ordinary election, the text refers to the election agents appointed for the purposes of the constituency members election, the London members election and the mayoral election: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(3), Sch 3 r 41(1)(b). As to the appointment of election agents at local authority or London mayoral elections see PARA 238 et seq ante.

2 As to returning officers for local government elections (including London Authority elections and local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante. In the case of a London mayoral election, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which in relation to a London Authority election see PARA 218 note 8 ante). As to the ballot paper account see PARA 410 ante. At an ordinary London Authority election where the Greater London returning officer has decided that the ballot papers are to be placed in separate ballot boxes according to whether the votes given on them are cast in the election under the constituency members election rules, the London members election rules or the mayoral election rules (see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3, Sch 4 r 6(1); and PARA 396 note 4 ante), the ballot boxes from each polling station must be opened together, and the ballot papers verified together: Sch 4 r 12(1). 452 Verification of the ballot paper account at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor

NOTES 3, 7, 8--SI 2002/185 reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 41 now Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1024, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 47.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/ (C) Counting at Elections of a Local Authority Mayor or London Mayor/453. Rejected ballot papers at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

453. Rejected ballot papers at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

At the first count at a local authority mayoral election or at the local count at a London mayoral election¹, any ballot paper which does not bear the official mark², or on which anything is written or marked by which the voter can be identified except the printed number on the back³, or which is unmarked or void for uncertainty as to the first preference vote⁴, is void and not counted⁵. However, a ballot paper on which a vote is marked elsewhere than in the proper place⁶, or otherwise than by means of a cross⁷, or by more than one mark⁸, is not for such reason void if, at an election at which more than two candidates remain validly nominated, an intention that votes are given, by way of a first preference vote, for not more than one of the candidates clearly appears⁹ or if, at any other election, an intention that a vote is for one only of the candidates clearly appears¹⁰, and (in each case) the way the paper is marked does not itself identify the voter and it is not shown that he can be identified by it¹¹. A ballot paper which is not otherwise void and on which not more than one first preference vote is marked (whether or not a second preference vote is marked) is valid as respects that vote, and counted accordingly¹².

The returning officer¹³ must endorse the word 'rejected' on any ballot paper which is not to be counted and must add to the endorsement the words 'rejection objected to' if an objection is made by a counting agent¹⁴ to his decision¹⁵. The returning officer must draw up a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected under the several heads of: (1) want of official mark¹⁶; (2) voting for more than one candidate as to the first preference vote¹⁷; (3) writing or mark by which the voter could be identified¹⁸; (4) unmarked or void for uncertainty as to the first preference vote¹⁹. As soon as practicable after completion of such a statement in relation to a London mayoral election, the constituency returning officer must inform the Greater London returning officer of its contents²⁰.

In the case of a London mayoral election, the words 'or void for uncertainty as to the first preference vote' do not appear (see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 42(1)(b)), although they do appear as one of the heads under which a statement must be made, showing the number of ballot papers rejected (see Sch 3 r 42(5); and head (4) in the text).

As soon as practicable after the conclusion of the first count at a local authority mayoral election¹ (including any recount)², the returning officer³ must draw up a statement showing: (1) the total number of ballot papers used⁴; (2) the total number of rejected ballot papers⁵; and (3) at an election contested by more than two candidates, the number of first preference votes given to each candidate⁶ and the total number of first preference votes given⁷ or, at an election contested by only two candidates, the number of votes given for each candidate⁸. 457. Procedure at conclusion of local count at a London mayoral election.

As soon as practicable after the conclusion of the local count at a London mayoral election¹ (including any recount)², the constituency returning officer³ must draw up a statement showing: (1) the total number of ballot papers used⁴; (2) the total number of rejected ballot papers⁵; and (3) at an election contested by more than two candidates, the number of first preference votes given for each candidate⁶ and the total number of first preference votes given⁷ or, at an election contested by only two candidates, the number of votes given for each candidate⁸. As soon as practicable after completion of the statement, the constituency returning officer must inform the Greater London returning officer ('GLRO')⁹ of its contents¹⁰ and, as soon as practicable after the GLRO has authorised him to do so, the constituency returning officer must inform such of the candidates¹¹ and their election agents¹² as are then present of its contents and the contents of the statements previously prepared showing the number of ballot papers rejected under the various heads¹³ and give public notice of the contents of those statements¹⁴.

The GLRO must make arrangements for making the central calculation in the presence of the election agents and he must give to those agents notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin the calculation¹⁵. No person other than the GLRO and his clerks¹⁶, the candidates¹⁷, the election agents¹⁸, any person authorised by the Electoral Commission to attend at the counting of the votes as a representative of the Commission¹⁹ and, at an ordinary election, the nominating officers permitted to be present at the allocation of seats for London members of the Assembly²⁰, may be present at a calculation, unless permitted to do so by the GLRO²¹. A person not entitled to attend a calculation may not be permitted to do so by the GLRO unless he is satisfied that the efficiency of the calculation will not be impeded²² and he has either consulted the election agents or thought it impracticable to do so²³.

As soon as the GLRO has received from every constituency returning officer the required statements containing the information regarding the totals of ballot papers used and rejected and the number of votes given to each candidate²⁴, he must, in relation to an election contested by more than two candidates, ascertain the total of the first preference votes given in the Assembly constituencies to each candidate²⁵ and, in relation to an election contested by only two candidates, ascertain the total number of votes given in the Assembly constituencies to each candidate²⁶. As soon as the GLRO has ascertained the result of the calculation, he must inform such of the election agents as are then present of the relevant figures²⁷ and must give them a reasonable opportunity to satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of the calculation²⁸.

Where an election is contested by only two candidates and the total number of votes given for each of them is unequal, the person to be returned as the Mayor of London is the candidate to whom the majority of the votes is given²⁹. However, where an election is contested by only two candidates and the total number of votes given for each of them is equal, the person to be returned as the Mayor is the person whom the GLRO decides by lot³⁰ is to be returned as the Mayor³¹. In either such case, the declaration of the person to be returned as the Mayor then must be made³².

Where an election is contested by more than two candidates, the GLRO must, if a candidate has an overall majority of first preference votes³³, make the required declaration of the result³⁴. However, if no candidate has an overall majority of first preference votes³⁵, the GLRO must direct every constituency returning officer at the election to ascertain the number of second preference votes given in the election for each of the remaining candidates by voters who did not give their first preference vote to any of those candidates³⁶.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/ (C) Counting at Elections of a Local Authority Mayor or London Mayor/458. The count of second preference votes at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

458. The count of second preference votes at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

The returning officer at a local authority mayoral election or at a London mayoral election¹ must count the number of second preference votes for each of the candidates remaining in the contest given by voters who did not give their first preference vote to any of those candidates². A ballot paper which is not otherwise void³ and on which not more than one second preference vote is marked is valid as respects that vote and must be counted accordingly if, but only if, a valid first preference vote has also been marked⁴.

The provisions which govern the first count at a local authority mayoral election or the local count at a London mayoral election in respect of: (1) attendance at the count⁵; (2) the restriction on counting tendered ballot papers⁶; (3) counting procedure⁷; (4) the rejection of ballot papers⁸; (5) requesting a recount⁹; and (6) in relation to a London mayoral election only, attendance at the central calculation¹⁰, are applied with modifications in relation to the count of second preference votes¹¹.

The returning officer is not required to re-examine any decision taken on any question arising in respect of a ballot paper¹².

At a London mayoral election, as soon as practicable after the second preference votes have been counted, the constituency returning officer must inform the Greater London returning officer¹³ of the number of second preference votes cast for each of the candidates remaining in the contest¹⁴.

1 As to returning officers for local government elections (including London Authority elections and local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante. In the case of a London mayoral election, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which in relation to a London Authority election see PARA 218 note 8 ante). Procedure at conclusion of count of second preference votes at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

459. Procedure at conclusion of count of second preference votes at elections of a local authority mayor or London Mayor.

The appropriate returning officer at a local authority mayoral election or at a London mayoral election¹ must add the number of second preference votes given in the election for each of the candidates remaining in the contest by voters who did not give their first preference vote to any of those candidates to the number of first preference votes given for that candidate, to give his total number of preference votes (the 'second calculation')².

As soon as practicable after the completion of this operation, the returning officer must provide such of the election agents for those candidates³ who remain in the contest as are then present with a copy of the relevant figures⁴ or, in the case of a local authority mayoral election, the statement of figures⁵ and must give them a reasonable opportunity to satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of the calculation⁶. If, after the second calculation, the total number of votes given for two or more candidates remaining in the contest is equal, the person to be returned as the elected mayor is the person whom the returning officer decides by lot⁷ is to be returned as the elected mayor⁸.

1 As to returning officers for local government elections (including London Authority elections and local authority mayoral elections) see PARA 359 et seq ante. In the case of a London mayoral election, the appropriate returning officer in this context is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which in relation to a London Authority election see PARA 218 note 7 ante). As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante; and as to elections for the return of London Mayor see PARA 206 et seq ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

2 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(3), Sch 3 r 49(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 47(1).

In the case of a London mayoral election, the text refers to the Greater London returning officer complying with the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4, Sch 2 para 4(5), (6) (see PARA 346 ante) as soon as he has received from every constituency returning officer the number of second preference votes cast for each of the candidates remaining in the contest as required by the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 48(5) (see PARA 458 ante).

In the case of a local authority mayoral election, the text refers to the returning officer complying with the Local Government Act 2000 s 42(3), Sch 2 para 3(6) (see PARA 346 ante). For the purposes of a local authority mayoral election, the returning officer must then draw up a statement showing: (1) the total number of first preference votes given for each candidate (Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 47(2)(a)); (2) the total number of second preference votes given for each of the candidates remaining in the contest after the count of the first preference votes (Sch 1 r 47(2)(b)); (3) the total number of votes given for each of those candidates (Sch 1 r 47(2)(c)); and (4) the number of ballot papers that were: (a) valid as respects a first preference vote given for a candidate who did not remain in the contest after the count of the first preference votes (Sch 1 r 47(2)(d)(i)); and (b) rejected for the purposes of the count of second preference votes on the ground that they were unmarked or void for uncertainty as to the second preference vote (Sch 1 r 47(2)(d)(ii)).

For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. As to the rejection of ballot papers at local authority or London mayoral elections see PARA 453 ante.

3 As to the appointment of election agents at local authority or London mayoral elections see PARA 238 et seq ante.

4 For the purposes of a London mayoral election, the 'relevant figures' means the number of second preference votes given in each of the Assembly constituencies for each of the candidates remaining in the contest and the calculation undertaken by the Greater London returning officer for the purpose of ascertaining the total number of first and second preference votes given to each of those candidates: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 49(3).

(D) COUNTING AT NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR WALES CONSTITUENCY AND REGIONAL ELECTIONS

460. Time of count at a Welsh Assembly election; attendance at count.

As soon as practicable after the close of the poll, the constituency returning officer at a Welsh Assembly election¹ must make arrangements for counting the votes in the presence of the counting agents appointed for the purposes of the election². The returning officer must give to the counting agents notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin to carry out the counting of the votes³. At an ordinary election where there are polls at a regional election and at constituency elections in the Assembly electoral region⁴ for which the regional election is held, the Secretary of State⁵ may direct that the count⁶ in respect of each such election must not begin before such time as is specified in the direction between the hours of nine in the morning and noon on the day following the close of polls for those elections⁷.

No person other than: (1) the constituency returning officer and his clerks⁸; (2) the candidates and their spouses or civil partners⁹; (3) the election agents¹⁰; (4) the counting agents¹¹; and (5) in the case of a regional election, the regional returning officer¹², may be present at the arrangements made for counting the votes¹³ or at the counting of the votes, unless permitted by the constituency returning officer to attend¹⁴. A person not entitled to attend at the arrangements made for counting the votes or at the counting of the votes may not be permitted to do so by the constituency returning officer unless he is satisfied that the efficient counting of the votes will not be impeded and he has either consulted the election agents or thought it impracticable to do so¹⁵. The returning officer must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that every person attending at the counting of the votes (other than any constable on duty at the counting) has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to such attendance¹⁶.

The constituency returning officer must give the counting agents all such reasonable facilities for overseeing the proceedings, and all such information with respect to them, as he can give them consistently with the orderly conduct of the proceedings and the discharge of his duties in connection with them¹⁷. In particular, where the votes are counted by sorting the ballot papers according to the candidate for whom a vote is given, in the case of a constituency election, or according to the individual candidate¹⁸ or registered political party¹⁹ for which a vote is given, in the case of a regional election, and then counting the number of ballot papers for each such candidate or party, the counting agents are entitled to satisfy themselves that the ballot papers are correctly sorted²⁰.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for counting the votes²¹.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/(D) Counting at National Assembly for Wales Constituency and Regional Elections/461. The count at a Welsh Assembly election.

461. The count at a Welsh Assembly election.

Where voters¹ have been entitled at an ordinary Welsh Assembly election² to give two votes in an Assembly constituency³, the constituency returning officer must⁴: (1) in the presence of the counting agents appointed for the purposes of each election open each ballot box and count and record separately the number of ballot papers in those boxes for each election⁵; (2) in the presence of the election agents⁶ appointed for the purposes of each election verify each ballot paper account⁷; (3) count such of the postal ballot papers as have been duly returned and record separately the number counted for each election⁸; and (4) separate the ballot papers relating to the constituency election from those relating to the Assembly regional election⁹. A postal ballot paper must not be taken to be duly returned unless it is returned and the declaration of identity¹⁰, duly signed and authenticated, is also returned, before the close of the poll, by hand to a polling station in the same Assembly constituency or by hand or by post to the constituency returning officer¹¹. Following completion of the proceedings described in heads (1) to (4) above, the constituency returning officer must in respect of the ballot papers relating to each election mix together all the ballot papers used at that election and count the votes given on them¹².

The constituency returning officer must not count any tendered ballot paper¹³. While counting and recording the number of ballot papers and counting the votes, the constituency returning officer must keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers printed on the back of the papers¹⁴. The constituency returning officer must, so far as practicable, proceed continuously with the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, except that he may, in so far as he and the counting agents appointed for the purpose of the election in question agree, exclude the hours between seven in the evening and nine on the following morning¹⁵. For the purposes of this exception the agreement, in the case of a constituency election, of a candidate¹⁶ or his election agent or, in the case of a regional election, an individual candidate or his election agent or the election agent for a group of party list candidates¹⁷, is as effective as the agreement of his counting agents¹⁸. During the time so excluded, the constituency returning officer must: (a) place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such of the counting agents as desire to affix their seals¹⁹; and (b) otherwise take proper precautions for the security of the papers and documents²⁰.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for counting the votes²¹.

The constituency returning officer¹, in order to verify the ballot paper account², must compare each ballot paper account with the number of ballot papers recorded by him³, and the unused and spoilt ballot papers⁴ in his possession and the tendered votes list⁵ (opening and resealing the packets containing the unused and spoilt ballot papers and the tendered votes list)⁶.

He must draw up a statement as to the result of the verification, which any election agent appointed for the purposes of that election may copy⁷. 463. Rejected ballot papers at a Welsh Assembly election.

Any ballot paper at a Welsh Assembly election¹ which does not bear the official mark², or on which more than one vote is given³, or on which anything is written or marked by which the voter can be identified except the printed number on the back⁴, or which is unmarked or void for uncertainty⁵, is void and not counted⁶. However, a ballot paper on which a vote is marked elsewhere than in the proper place⁷, or otherwise than by means of a cross⁸, or by more than one mark⁹, is not for such reason void if an intention as to how the vote is to be given clearly appears, and the way the paper is marked does not itself identify the voter and it is not shown that he can be identified by it¹⁰. At a Welsh Assembly regional election¹¹, a ballot paper on which a vote is marked for a particular party list candidate on the party list of a registered political party¹² must, if otherwise valid, be treated as a vote for that party, whether or not there is also a vote marked for that party¹³.

The constituency returning officer¹⁴ must endorse the word 'rejected' on any ballot paper which is not to be counted and must add to the endorsement the words 'rejection objected to' if an objection is made by a counting agent¹⁵ to his decision¹⁶. The constituency returning officer must draw up a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected under the several heads of: (1) want of official mark¹⁷; (2) giving more than one vote¹⁸; (3) writing or mark by which the voter could be identified¹⁹; (4) unmarked or void for uncertainty²⁰.

466. Procedure at conclusion of count at a Welsh Assembly constituency or regional election.

At a Welsh Assembly constituency election¹, where, after the counting of the votes (including any recount) is completed², an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates and the addition of a vote would entitle any of those candidates to be declared elected, the constituency returning officer³ must forthwith decide between those candidates by lot, and proceed as if the candidate on whom the lot falls had received an additional vote⁴.

At the conclusion of the count of ballot papers in an Assembly constituency⁵ at a Welsh Assembly regional election⁶, the constituency returning officer must, in accordance with any directions given by the regional returning officer⁷, certify: (1) the number of ballot papers counted by him and the total number of votes given for each individual candidate or registered political party⁸; and (2) the number of rejected ballot papers under each head shown in the statement of rejected ballot papers⁹, and forthwith convey that information to the regional returning officer¹⁰. Where the regional returning officer has received the information required to be conveyed to him from each constituency returning officer for an Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region¹¹, he must certify the totals of the numbers referred to in heads (1) and (2) above for the electoral region¹². A constituency returning officer, after he has conveyed to the regional returning officer the information required to be conveyed under heads (1) and (2) above, may give public notice of the information so conveyed (in such manner as he considers appropriate)¹³ unless the regional returning officer directs that the constituency returning officer may only give such notice after the regional returning officer has given the notice that he is required to give in declaring the results at a regional election¹⁴.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/(D) Counting at National Assembly for Wales Constituency and Regional Elections/467. Ascertainment of results at a contested Welsh Assembly regional election.

467. Ascertainment of results at a contested Welsh Assembly regional election.

At a contested Welsh Assembly regional election¹, the regional returning officer² must make arrangements for ascertaining the results of the poll³ as soon as practicable after he has given the certification of the results of the count⁴ and received the notification of the successful constituency candidate⁵ from each constituency returning officer⁶ for an Assembly constituency⁷ in the Assembly electoral region⁸. At a contested regional election, the regional returning officer must also give notice in writing to the election agents⁹, and to each constituency returning officer for an Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region for which the election is held, of the place at which he will begin to ascertain the results of the poll (together with such other information as he considers appropriate)¹⁰.

No person other than: (1) the regional returning officer and his clerks¹¹; (2) the candidates¹²; (3) the election agents¹³; or (4) the constituency returning officer for any Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region for which the election is held¹⁴, may be present at the ascertainment of results, unless permitted by the regional returning officer to attend¹⁵. A person not entitled to attend at the proceedings may not be permitted to do so by the regional returning officer unless that officer is satisfied that the efficient counting of the votes will not be impeded and he has either consulted the election agents or thought it impracticable to do so¹⁶. The regional returning officer must give the election agents all such reasonable facilities for overseeing the proceedings, and all such information with respect to them, as he can give them consistently with the orderly conduct of the proceedings and the discharge of his duties in connection with them¹⁷.

The regional returning officer must provisionally ascertain the results of the poll and notify that provisional ascertainment to such of the following persons as are present, namely an individual candidate or his election agent¹⁸, and the election agent for a group of party list candidates¹⁹ or (in his absence) one of those candidates²⁰. Where such notification has been given to any person, he may require the regional returning officer to provisionally ascertain those results again but the regional returning officer may refuse to do so if in his opinion the request is unreasonable²¹. Subject to these provisions²², the regional returning officer must be treated as having ascertained the results of the poll following a provisional ascertainment if there is no further provisional ascertainment, after the first one²³ or, if there is more than one provisional ascertainment, after the final one²⁴. If, in ascertaining the results of the poll the regional returning officer draws lots²⁵, he must proceed as if the individual candidate or registered political party on whom the lot falls had received an additional vote²⁶.

468. Attendance at verification of ballot paper accounts at a European parliamentary election.

As soon as practicable after the close of the poll, the local returning officer at a European parliamentary election¹ must make arrangements for the verification of the ballot paper accounts² in the presence of the counting agents³; and he must give to the returning officer⁴ and the counting agents notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin such verification⁵.

No person other than: (1) the returning officer, the local returning officer and his clerks⁶; (2) the candidates and their spouses or civil partners⁷; (3) the election agents⁸; (4) the counting agents⁹; and (5) representatives of the Electoral Commission¹⁰, may attend the verification of the ballot paper accounts, unless permitted by the local returning officer to attend¹¹. A person not entitled to attend at the verification of the ballot paper accounts may not be permitted to do so by the local returning officer unless he is satisfied that the efficient verification of the ballot paper accounts will not be impeded¹². The local returning officer must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that every person attending at the verification of the ballot paper accounts (other than any constable on duty at the counting) has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to such attendance¹³.

The local returning officer must give the counting agents all such reasonable facilities for observing the proceedings, and all such information with respect to them, as he can give them consistent with the orderly conduct of the proceedings and the discharge of his duties in connection with them¹⁴.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for the verification of the ballot paper accounts¹⁵.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/ (E) Counting at European Parliamentary Elections/469. The verification of ballot paper accounts at a European parliamentary election.

469. The verification of ballot paper accounts at a European parliamentary election.

The local returning officer at a European parliamentary election¹ must, in the presence of the counting agents²: (1) open each ballot box and count and record the number of ballot papers in it and verify each ballot paper account³; and (2) count such of the postal ballot papers as have been duly returned and record the number counted⁴. A postal ballot paper must not be deemed to be duly returned unless it is returned in the manner prescribed⁵ so as to reach the local returning officer or any polling station in the local counting area⁶ in question before the close of the poll and the declaration of identity⁷ duly signed and authenticated is also returned in that manner before that time⁸.

While counting and recording the number of ballot papers, the local returning officer must keep the ballot papers with their faces downwards⁹; and he must not count any tendered ballot paper¹⁰. The local returning officer must verify each ballot paper account by comparing it with the number of ballot papers recorded by him¹¹, the unused and spoilt ballot papers¹² in his possession and the tendered votes list¹³ (opening and resealing the packets containing the unused and spoilt ballot papers and the tendered votes list) and he must draw up a statement as to the result of the verification, which any counting agent may copy¹⁴. The hours during which this procedure is to be carried out are to be determined by the local returning officer¹⁵, who must take proper precautions for the security of the ballot papers and documents¹⁶. On completion of the procedure, he must: (a) place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election in packets under his own seal and the seals of such counting agents as desire to affix their seals (unless he proceeds immediately to the counting of the votes)¹⁷; (b) otherwise take proper precautions for the security of the papers and documents¹⁸; and (c) inform the returning officer of the total number of ballot papers counted¹⁹.

Where the poll at an election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum, special provision is made for the verification of the ballot paper accounts²⁰.

470. Attendance at counting of votes at a European parliamentary election.

The local returning officer at a European parliamentary election¹ must make arrangements for counting the votes in the presence of the counting agents²: (1) in the case of a general election of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs')³, before or after the material time⁴ (and in either case so that the requirement to notify the returning officer of the local result⁵ is satisfied as soon as practicable after the material time)⁶; and (2) in the case of a by-election⁷, as soon as practicable after the close of the poll⁸. He must give to the counting agents and the returning officer notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin to count the votes⁹.

No person other than: (a) the returning officer, the local returning officer and his clerks¹⁰; (b) the candidates and their spouses or civil partners¹¹; (c) the election agents¹²; (d) the counting agents¹³; and (e) representatives of the Electoral Commission¹⁴, may be present at the counting of the votes, unless permitted by the local returning officer to attend¹⁵. A person not entitled to attend at the counting of the votes may not be permitted to do so by the local returning officer unless he is satisfied that the efficient counting of the votes will not be impeded and he has either consulted the election agents or thought it impracticable to do so¹⁶. The local returning officer must make such arrangements as he thinks fit to ensure that every person attending at the counting of the votes (other than any constable on duty at the counting) has been given a copy in writing of the statutory provisions relating to the requirement of secrecy that apply to such attendance¹⁷.

The local returning officer must give the counting agents all such reasonable facilities for overseeing the proceedings, and all such information with respect to them, as he can give them consistently with the orderly conduct of the proceedings and the discharge of his duties in connection with them¹⁸. In particular, where the votes are counted by sorting the ballot papers according to the registered party¹⁹ or individual candidate²⁰ for whom the vote is given and then counting the number of ballot papers for each registered party or individual candidate, the counting agents are entitled to satisfy themselves that the ballot papers are correctly sorted²¹.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(vi) Contested Elections/D. COUNTING OF THE VOTES/ (E) Counting at European Parliamentary Elections/471. The count at a European parliamentary election.

471. The count at a European parliamentary election.

The local returning officer at a European parliamentary election¹ must, where the ballot papers and other documents have been placed in packets following completion of the procedure to verify the ballot paper accounts², open the packets of ballot papers other than unused, spoilt³ and tendered ballot papers⁴ and, in any case, mix together all of the ballot papers other than unused, spoilt and tendered ballot papers⁵.

While counting the votes, the local returning officer must keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers printed on the back of the papers⁶. He must not count any tendered ballot paper⁷. The local returning officer must so far as practicable proceed continuously with counting the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, except that he may, in so far as he and the counting agents⁸ agree, exclude the hours between seven in the evening and nine on the following morning⁹. For the purposes of this exception the agreement of an individual candidate¹⁰ or the election agent of a registered party¹¹ is as effective as the agreement of the counting agents of that counting agent or party¹². During the time so excluded the local returning officer must: (1) place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such of the counting agents as desire to affix their seals¹³; and (2) otherwise take proper precautions for the security of the papers and documents¹⁴.

In the case of a general election of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs')¹⁵, if the counting of the votes has commenced before the close of the polling in the member state whose electors are the last to vote in the election¹⁶, the local returning officer or his clerks must not disclose the number of votes given for each registered party and individual candidate to anyone other than the returning officer or his clerks until after that time, and the counting of the votes is deemed not to have been completed until after that time¹⁷.

Any ballot paper at a European parliamentary election¹ which does not bear the official mark², or on which votes are given for more than one registered party³ or individual candidate⁴ or for a registered party and an individual candidate⁵, or on which anything is written or marked by which the voter can be identified except the printed number on the back⁶, or which is unmarked or void for uncertainty⁷, is void and not counted⁸. However, a ballot paper on which a vote is marked elsewhere than in the proper place⁹, or otherwise than by means of a cross¹⁰, or by more than one mark¹¹, is not for such reason deemed to be void if an intention that the vote is to be for one or other of the registered parties or individual candidates clearly appears, and the way the paper is marked does not itself identify the voter and it is not shown that he can be identified by it¹². A ballot paper on which a vote is marked for a particular candidate on a party's list of candidates must, if otherwise valid, be treated as a vote for that party, whether or not there is also a vote for that party¹³.

The local returning officer¹⁴ must endorse the word 'rejected' on any ballot paper which is not to be counted and must add to the endorsement the words 'rejection objected to' if an objection is made by a counting agent¹⁵ to his decision¹⁶. The local returning officer must draw up a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected under the several heads of: (1) want of official mark¹⁷; (2) voting for more than one registered party or candidate¹⁸; (3) writing or mark by which the voter could be identified¹⁹; (4) unmarked or void for uncertainty²⁰.

474. Recount at a European parliamentary election.

A candidate¹, the election agent of a registered party² or individual candidate³ or a duly authorised counting agent⁴ may, if present when the counting of the votes at a European parliamentary election⁵ is completed (or, if later, when it is deemed to be completed⁶) or any recount of the votes is completed, require the local returning officer⁷ to have the votes recounted or again recounted but the local returning officer may refuse to do so if in his opinion the request is unreasonable⁸.

No step may be taken on the completion of the counting (or, if later, its deemed completion) or any recount of votes until any persons who are present at its completion (or, if later, its deemed completion) have been given a reasonable opportunity to exercise the right to request a recount⁹.

The calculation and the allocation of seats at a European parliamentary election.

476. The calculation and the allocation of seats at a European parliamentary election.

The returning officer at a European parliamentary election¹ must make arrangements for making the calculation and allocation of seats². No person other than: (1) the returning officer and his clerks³; (2) the election agent of each registered party⁴ standing at the election or a person acting on his behalf⁵; (3) each candidate on the list of such a party⁶ and the candidate's spouse or civil partner⁷; (4) the election agent of each individual candidate⁸ or a person acting on his behalf⁹; (5) each individual candidate and the candidate's spouse or civil partner¹⁰; and (6) representatives of the Electoral Commission¹¹, may be present at that calculation and allocation unless permitted by the returning officer to attend¹². The returning officer must give to the election agent of each registered party standing at the election¹³, and each individual candidate¹⁴, notice in writing of the place at which he will conduct the calculation and allocation of seats¹⁵ and of the time after which he will begin those proceedings¹⁶.

As soon as practicable after the returning officer has been informed of the contents of the statements showing the number of votes given for each registered party and individual candidate, prepared¹⁷ by local returning officers¹⁸ in his region¹⁹, he must calculate the total number of votes given to each registered party and individual candidate in all of the local counting areas²⁰ wholly or partly contained within the electoral region, as shown in those statements²¹.

The returning officer must then allocate the seats in accordance with the rules²². The returning officer must give the persons entitled to be present reasonable facilities for satisfying themselves that the results of the calculation and allocation which he is required to make are accurate²³. In particular, a person entitled to be present may require the returning officer to make a calculation or allocation again but the returning officer may refuse to do so if in his opinion the request is unreasonable²⁴. At a by-election at which there is only one vacancy²⁵, the rules governing the allocation of seats²⁶ have effect as though they provided that the party or individual candidate to whom the majority of the votes have been given is to be declared to be elected²⁷.

(vii) Uncontested Elections

477. The procedure at uncontested elections.

At a parliamentary¹ or Welsh Assembly constituency election², if the statement of persons nominated³ shows only one person standing nominated, that person is declared to be elected in accordance with the appropriate rules⁴.

If, after any withdrawals under the appropriate rules⁵ at a local government election⁶, the number of persons remaining validly nominated for the electoral area⁷ or London Assembly constituency⁸ does not exceed the number of councillors or London Assembly constituency members to be elected, such person or persons must be declared to be elected in accordance with the appropriate rules⁹. If the number of persons remaining validly nominated at an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, after any withdrawals under the appropriate rules¹⁰, does not exceed the number of seats available for allocation, the seats are allocated in accordance with the appropriate rules¹¹.

If the number of candidates remaining at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office, after any withdrawals, does not exceed the number of persons to be elected, such candidates are deemed to be elected and the returning officer must as soon as possible give public notice of the abandonment of the poll¹² which must: (1) refer to the meeting at which the poll was demanded and the offices in respect which the poll was demanded¹³; (2) set out the full names, home addresses and (if required) descriptions of the candidates¹⁴; (3) indicate which of those candidates has withdrawn¹⁵; (4) state that no poll will be taken¹⁶; and (5) list the candidates deemed to be elected¹⁷. The returning officer must send a copy of that notice to each of the candidates and the chairman of the meeting at which the poll was demanded¹⁸.

If, after any withdrawals under the appropriate rules at a local authority or London mayoral election¹⁹, only one candidate remains validly nominated, that person is declared to be elected in accordance with the appropriate rules²⁰.

At a Welsh Assembly regional election²¹, if the statement of persons standing nominated shows more persons standing nominated than the number of seats for that Assembly electoral region²², and where each person is included on the same party list²³, those persons are declared to be elected in accordance with the appropriate rules²⁴ in the order that they are included on that list (starting with the highest) up to the number of seats for the Assembly electoral region²⁵.

If the statement of persons nominated at a European parliamentary election²⁶ shows a number of candidates (whether on a registered party's list²⁷ or individual candidates²⁸) which is the same as, or less than, the number of seats to be filled, those candidates are declared to be elected in accordance with the appropriate rules²⁹.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(viii) Final Proceedings/A. PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/479. Return to the writ and record of returns in parliamentary elections.

479. Return to the writ and record of returns in parliamentary elections.

The returning officer at a parliamentary election¹ must return the name of the member elected at a parliamentary election by endorsing on the writ a certificate in the proper form². Any rule of law or enactment as to the effect of, or manner of dealing with, the return of a member to serve in Parliament applies to the certificate³.

On receiving a receipt, the returning officer may deliver the writ with the certificate endorsed on it to an official designated for that purpose by a universal postal service provider who is providing a universal postal service⁴ for the area in which the election is being held or to his deputy, provided that the official or deputy is at that time within the area concerned⁵. The designated official or his deputy must send the writ so endorsed by the first post, free of charge, under cover to the Clerk of the Crown⁶ with the words 'Election Writ and Return' endorsed on it⁷.

From the certificate on each writ returned to him, the Clerk of the Crown must enter the name of the member returned in a book to be kept by him at the Crown Office⁸ (known as the 'return book'). The return is not completed until it reaches his hands so that he can act upon it; he transmits what is in substance a copy of the return book to the Clerk of the House of Commons⁹. The Clerk of the Crown must also enter in the return book any alteration or amendment made by him in the certificate endorsed on any writ¹⁰. The return book kept by the Clerk of the Crown is open to public inspection at reasonable times and any person may, on payment of a reasonable fee, take copies from the book¹¹.

SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Elections Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(viii) Final Proceedings/A. PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/480. Return or forfeiture of candidate's deposit at parliamentary election.

480. Return or forfeiture of candidate's deposit at parliamentary election.

A candidate's deposit at a parliamentary election¹ is forfeited to the Crown if a poll is taken and, after the counting of the votes by the returning officer² (including any recount) is completed, the candidate is found not to have polled more than one-twentieth of the total number of votes polled by all the candidates³.

Otherwise, the deposit must be returned, not later than the next day⁴ after that on which the result of the election is declared, to the person making it or to his personal representatives⁵. For these purposes, a deposit is to be treated as being returned on a day if a cheque for the amount of the deposit is posted on that day⁶. However, if the candidate is not shown as standing nominated in the statement of persons nominated or if the poll is countermanded or abandoned by reason of his death⁷, the deposit must be returned⁸ as soon as practicable after the publication of the statement or after his death, as the case may be⁹. If, at a general election, a candidate is shown as standing nominated in more than one constituency¹⁰ in the statements of persons nominated, not more than one of the deposits is to be returned and, if necessary, the Treasury must direct which it is to be¹¹.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to parliamentary elections see PARA 196 et seq ante; and as to deposits made in relation to such an election see PARA 266 ante.

2 As to the returning officers appointed for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq ante; and as to the count at such elections see PARA 432 et seq ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 53(1), (4) (Sch 1 r 53(4) amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 13(b)). Votes rejected by the returning officer are not included in the number of votes polled: see PARA 478 ante.

3 For the purposes of this provision, a day is to be disregarded if it would be disregarded under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 2 (as amended) (see PARA 203 note 1 ante) in computing any period of time for the purposes of the timetable for an election of the kind in question: Sch 1 r 53(2A)(a) (Sch 1 r 53(2A) added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 83(b)). Accordingly, as to the computation of time for these purposes see PARA 203 note 1 ante. Bank holidays in Scotland or Northern Ireland which are not also bank holidays in England and Wales are disregarded for the purposes of parliamentary general elections but not for by-elections: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 53(2A)(a) (as added).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(viii) Final Proceedings/B. LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS/481. Declaration of result at local government election.

B. LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS

481. Declaration of result at local government election.

In a contested local government election¹, when the result of the poll has been ascertained, the returning officer² must forthwith: (1) declare to be elected the candidate or candidates to whom more votes have been given than to the other candidates, up to the number of councillors (or constituency members of the London Assembly, as the case may be) to be elected³; (2) give notice of the name of each such candidate to the proper officer of the council for which the election is held⁴; and (3) give public notice⁵ of the name of each candidate elected and of the total number of votes given for each candidate, whether elected or not, together with the number of rejected ballot papers under each head shown in the statement of rejected ballot papers⁶.

In an uncontested election⁷, the returning officer must, as soon as practicable after the latest time for the delivery of notices of withdrawals of candidature⁸: (a) declare to be elected the person (or persons, as the case may be) remaining validly nominated⁹; (b) give notice of the name of each such person to the proper officer of the council for which the election is held¹⁰; and (c) give public notice of the name of each such person¹¹.

At any election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, each constituency returning officer must inform the proper officer of the London Authority of the result of the election for the constituency¹².

1 le excluding elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly (as to which see PARA 483 post) and elections for the Mayor of London (as to which see PARA 485 post). For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to contested local government elections see PARA 368 et seq ante.

2 As to returning officers at local government elections see PARA 359 et seq ante. In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante).

SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Elections Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (4) THE BALLOT/(viii) Final Proceedings/B. LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS/484. Return or forfeiture of candidate's deposit at London Authority election of London or constituency members.

484. Return or forfeiture of candidate's deposit at London Authority election of London or constituency members.

The deposit required to be made by a candidate at an election for the return of constituency members or London members of the London Assembly¹ is forfeited to the Greater London Authority² if a poll is taken and: (1) in the case of a constituency members election, after the counting of the votes by the constituency returning officer³ (including any recount) is completed⁴, the candidate is found not to have polled more than one-twentieth of the total number of votes polled by all the candidates⁵; or (2) in the case of a London members election, after the declaration of the result⁶, the candidate or registered party⁷ is found not to have polled more than one-fortieth of the total number of votes polled by all the candidates and registered parties⁸.

Otherwise, the deposit must be returned, not later than the next day⁹ after that on which the result of the election is declared, to the person making it or to his personal representatives¹⁰. For these purposes, a deposit is to be treated as being returned on a day if a cheque for the amount of the deposit is posted on that day¹¹. However, if the candidate is not shown as standing nominated in the statement of persons nominated¹² or if, in the case of a constituency members election, the poll is countermanded or abandoned by reason of his death¹³ or if, in the case of a London members election, proof of his death has been given to the Greater London returning officer¹⁴ before the allocation of seats¹⁵, the deposit must be returned¹⁶ as soon as practicable after the publication of the statement or after his death, as the case may be¹⁷.
